Reg. No. 86, Resident, Hyderabad.—Feb. 93.—50.

Reg. No. 774, Resident, Hyderabad.—Nov 93.—387.

PART I.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

Personnel.

No changes occurred in the offices of the Resident, the First Assistant Resident and Secretary for Berar, and the Second Assistant Resident and Assistant Secretary for Berar, which were held throughout the year by Mr. T. Chichele Plowden, C.S.I., I.C.S., Mr. G. R. Irwin, I.C.S., and Mr. O. V. Bosanquet, I.C.S., respectively. In Berar Colonel K. J. L. Mackenzie, C.I.E., I.S.C., held the office of Commissioner throughout the year, and Mr. F. S. Bullock, I.C.S., held the office of Judicial Commissioner up to the 29th March 1893, when he proceeded on furlough, being relieved by Colonel H. C. A. Szczepanski, Deputy Commissioner, 1st class, who was appointed to officiate for him.

Survey and Settlement.

2. The work done falls under two heads—(1) the re-settlement of 55 izara and 4 Government villages in the Wun district; (2) the revision survey of 210 Government and 1 jagir village in the Malkapur taluk, Buldana district, and of 95 Government and 5 jagir villages in the Khamgaon taluk of the Akola district. Under the first head 57,459 acres have been measured, 48,698 acres classed, and 56,551 boundary-marks inspected. Under the second head 9,667 acres have been actually measured, 473,826 acres confirmed, and 483,493 boundary-marks inspected. The employment of indigenous agency and the retention of the Bombay system of partial remeasurement have both proved satisfactory. The cost of revision survey has fallen from Rs. 30-7-6 to Rs. 21-4-8 per acre. The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 35,140-9-7 as compared with Rs. 28,259-7-5 in 1891-92.

Waste lands.

3. Eight villages having lapsed to Government during the year, the number of leased villages fell from 466 to 458, the acreage from 853,212 to 841,209, and the rental from Rs. 86,993 to Rs. 86,741.

Course of Legislation.

4. The following Acts of the Governor-General in Council were, subject to certain modifications, extended to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the year 1892 :—

The provisions of the Repealing and Amending Act (XII of 1891) so far as they affect the Indian Registration Act (III of 1877) as applied to Hyderabad Assigned Districts.

The Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889).

The Indian Treasure Trove Act (VI of 1878).

The following rules were issued by the Governor-General in Council :—

1. The Berar Forest Law Amendment Law, 1891.

2. Rules to regulate Legal Practitioners in the Court of the Judicial Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts, and in Courts subordinate to that Court.

The following rules were issued by the Resident :—

1. Instructions under section 16 of the Indian Merchandise Marks Act, IV of 1889, as applied to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts.

2. Rules under the Agriculturists' Loans Act (XII of 1884).

Police.

5. The total strength of the force now stands at 560 officers and 2,349 men, in all 2,909, as compared with 2,877 last year. The number of deaths fell from 48 to 36. Excluding gazetted officers, 1,263 men had fire-arms, 966 swords only, or swords and batons, and 672 batons only.

Crime.

6. Excluding 326 cases rejected as false, the number of cognizable offences increased from 8,480 to 8,825, or, excluding nuisance cases, from 5,209 to 5,880, i. e., by 12·8 per cent. Murders fell from 41 to 29, cases of grievous hurt from 85 to 62, but dakaitis increased from 34 to 39, robberies from 60 to 64, housebreakings from 1,121 to 1,369, and thefts from 2,303 to 2,637. There was thus an increase again in the year in the more serious forms of crime. The value of property (stolen) involved increased from Rs. 2,39,536 to Rs. 2,39,763, while recoveries fell from Rs. 80,449 to Rs. 65,836. Convictions too fell from 55 to 51 per cent. The number of non-cognizable cases rose from 7,069 to 7,319. Process issued against 14,882 persons as compared with 14,496 last year, and the number of persons convicted fell from 3,839 to 3,696.

Criminal justice.

7. Excluding cases pending at the beginning of the year, 12,292 cases were brought to trial before the magistracy. The total number of persons under trial, including those involved in cases pending from the previous year, was 22,239 as compared with 21,202 in 1892. Of these 22,015 or 99 per cent. were disposed of, as against 98·2 per cent. last year, the percentage of convictions being 39·6 as against 41·6 in 1892. In the Sessions Court in 1890 32 cases were disposed of involving 50 persons: in 1891 the number rose to 71 cases and 129 persons. In the year under report the number again rose to 100 cases and 242 persons. Of these last 109 or 45 per cent. were convicted, as against 68·2 per cent. last year, while the days spent in trial rose from 80 to 140. The average duration of cases before the magistracy was 75 days against 63 in 1891: before the Sessions Court it rose from 47·2 to 58. The appeals before Deputy Commissioners rose from 388 to 445, and disposals from 384 to 435. In the Sessions Court appeals fell from 238 to 210 and disposals from 216 to 202. In the Judicial Commissioner's Court they fell from 106 to 91 and 106 to 90 respectively, the average duration being 20 days.

Prisons.

8. The total jail population in 1892 was 2,807 against 2,520 in 1891, and the number of admissions 1,524 against 1,349, the average daily population having risen since 1890 from 895 to 1151·6 in 1892, an increase of 28·6 per cent. Of the admissions 180 had been previously convicted. Offences against jail discipline rose from 492 to 660, and in July an outbreak occurred in the Akola Jail in which four prisoners were killed and six wounded; but no prisoners escaped during the year, and two recaptures were effected. The mark system worked well. The number of admissions into hospital rose from 403 to 669, and deaths from 11 to 20. The total cash earnings, inclusive of outstanding credits, fell again from Rs. 12,800 to Rs. 10,916, and the average earnings of each prisoner from Rs. 14-1-0 to Rs. 10-1-9. The gross cost of maintaining and guarding the prisoners rose from Rs. 61,086 to Rs. 76,613, and the average cost per man from Rs. 61-12-0 to Rs. 66-9-0. In 1890 the average cost was Rs. 67-3-0.

Civil justice.

9. The total number of courts open was 43 as against 40 last year; the number of suits instituted was 26,208 against 22,590 in 1891, and the number disposed of was 27,649 as against 22,728. The value of the claim insolved in suits disposed of rose from Rs. 25,16,013 to Rs. 33,22,270. In contested cases the average duration rose from 114·7 to 119·8 and in uncontested cases from 51·4 to 58·7. Applications for execution rose from 27,785 to 29,278, of which 24,155 were disposed of, the amount realised being Rs. 2,93,643 against Rs. 2,77,238 in 1891. The number of applications for declaration of insolvency rose from 26 to 36, but only 7 applications were granted as against 8 last year. Court and process fees realized an income of Rs. 4,12,643 as against Rs. 3,41,384 in 1891. Including appeals pending from the previous year, there were 1,676 for disposal, of which 938 were disposed of during the year.

Registration.

10. There were 63 offices open for work and a sub-registrar to every 310·84 square miles. The number of registrations rose from 28,868 to 31,162, and the value of property transferred from Rs. 77,58,336 to Rs. 92,14,049. Refusals to register fell from 221 to 214. Total receipts rose from Rs. 70,549 to Rs. 75,734. Expenditure rose from Rs. 38,126 to Rs. 47,548, and the yearly surplus fell from Rs. 32,422 to Rs. 28,185. In 1890-91 the surplus was only Rs. 28,256. The accumulated surplus now stands at Rs. 3,68,634. With two exceptions all sub-registrars' offices worked at a profit.

Municipalities.

11. There were eight municipalities as in the previous year, administered under the Berar Municipal Law. Their total income fell from Rs. 2,09,956 to Rs. 2,07,997 and their expenditure from Rs. 2,39,328 to Rs. 1,94,787.

Local Boards.

12. The Berar Rural Boards Law continued in force in seventeen taluks and five districts as in the preceding year. The total income, including balances, amounted to Rs. 10,66,431, and the expenditure to Rs. 6,290,57, of which Rs. 1,72,640 or 27·4 per cent. was spent on primary education.

Agriculture.

13. The total area of the province, excluding the Melghat, shows an increase of 121 acres, due principally to revision of survey figures. The culturable area rose from 8,028,052 acres to 8,072,883, the area occupied from 7,635,595 to 7,659,046, and the area unoccupied from 392,457 to 413,837. The unculturable area fell from 698,741 acres to 625,921, the decrease of 72,821 acres being due to the transfer of 27,808 acres to the Forest Department, to inclusion by survey of 31,586 acres in culturable, and to the actual occupation and cultivation of 13,427 acres. The total area cropped rose from 6,665,008 to 6,805,091, an increase of 140,083 acres. The area under kharif rose from 4,956,245 to 4,975,492 acres, and that under rabi from 1,684,706 to 1,808,063, while "under grass" and "others," the area fell from 1,049,090 and 24,057 to 9,38,530 and 21,536 acres respectively. The area irrigated rose from 43,316 to 43,448 acres. Of this 40,953 were under wells.

Rainfall.

14. The average rainfall for the year was 59·31 inches, or 16·50 higher than the quinquennial average. The rainfall in the preceding year was only 39·29 inches. A late monsoon retarded sowing, continuous rain prevented weeding, and both kharif and rabi suffered in consequence.

Veterinary.

15. The number of mares covered was 151 as compared with 228 in the previous year. There were 10,501 deaths among cattle, and 10,742 recovered from disease : but the figures cannot be relied on.

Prices of produce and labour.

16. Prices of produce rose considerably. Prices of labour underwent local variations only.

Agricultural stock.

17. The returns show a falling-off, except in respect of sheep and ploughs, but the figures are not susceptible of check.

Takavi.

18. The amount advanced rose from Rs. 30,980 to Rs. 39,225. Of this Rs. 10,500 was advanced for wells.

Forest.

19. The Berar Forest Law, 1886, came into force from the 15th June 1892. The area under the Forest Department was 4,233 square miles (2,71 0,944 acres) or 23·9 per cent. of the area of the province. Progress was made in the demarcation of boundaries. The area successfully protected rose from 720,190 to 763,545 acres. Working plans in hand covered 1,776 square miles, of which those for 915 have been completed. Forest offences rose from 373 to 928 : of these 605 were compounded. The area available for grazing was 2,848 square miles : the grazing fees amounted to Rs. 1,69,753. New roads with a length of 44 miles were completed and 385 miles maintained at a cost of Rs. 25,802, including the cost of nine new wells. The income of 15 months from the 1st April 1892 to 30th June 1893 was Rs. 5,38,509, the charges Rs. 3,05,665, the surplus Rs. 2,32,844. The surplus for 1891-92 (12 months) was Rs. 3,12,820. The decrease was largely due to increased expenditure on roads an dbuildings and to short sales in consequence of heavy rains.

Manufacture.

20. Cotton weaving and oil mills at work during the year were one and two respectively ; the number of cotton presses and ginning factories increased from 27 and 48 to 28 and 58 respectively.

Trade.

21. The volume of rail-borne trade was less than in the previous year by 21·8 per cent. This fall was probably due to poor harvests. The exports were to imports as 53·8 to 46·2. Seventy-seven per cent. of the exports and 40 per cent. of the imports related to Bombay, and 18 and 48 per cent to the Central Provinces. The road-borne trade amounted to 240,737 maunds of imports and 359,694 of exports. The cost of registration was Rs. 5,129-10-6.

Public Works.

22. The disbursements from all sources on public works during the year 1892-93 amounted in the aggregate to Rs. 18,16,967. The grants and expenditure under imperial civil works services amounted, respectively, to Rs. 37,400 and Rs. 26,308, the short expenditure of Rs. 11,092 being chiefly due to the postponement of the erection of the new court-house at the Hyderabad Residency, and, to a small extent, to savings on works. The grant and expenditure under the provincial services of Berar amounted to Rs. 12,12,637 and Rs. 12,11,770, respectively, the lapse under this head being only Rs. 867. Rs. 53,453 were spent on the accommodation of the troops of the Hyderabad Contingent located at Bolarum, Raichore, Mominabad, Ellichpur, Aurungabad, Jalna and Hingoli; Rs. 2,19,872 on revenue, judicial, ecclesiastical, jail, police, educational, medical and miscellaneous buildings; Rs. 5,30,456 on communications in Berar, and Rs. 1,84,609 on miscellaneous public improvements. The grants under incorporated and excluded local funds amounted, severally, to Rs. 4,32,995 and Rs. 43,455; while the expenditure amounted to Rs. 3,46,349 and Rs. 41,566, respectively.

Railways.

23. The following statistics belong to the Berar State Railways. The receipts during the year on the Khamgaon line amounted to Rs. 65,548, and the expenditure, including working charges, to Rs. 34,640, leaving a net profit of Rs. 30,908 or 6·33 per cent. on the capital outlay of Rs. 4,88,610. The receipts on the Amraoti line amounted to Rs. 1,05,762, and the expenditure, including working charges, to Rs. 57,124, leaving a net profit of Rs. 48,638, equivalent to 10·81 per cent. on the capital outlay of Rs. 4,50,039.

Revenue and Finance.

24. The gross revenue of the province during the year 1892-93 amounted to Rs. 1,16,15,094 and the total disbursements to Rs. 1,08,03,495. Omitting the receipts and disbursements of the incorporated and excluded local funds, the provincial surplus was Rs. 7,74,562 compared with a surplus of Rs. 11,84,297 for the year 1891-92. The amount paid to His Highness the Nizam during the year 1892-93 was Rs. 8,31,039, being a portion of the surplus of the previous two years. The accrued surplus in favor of His Highness the Nizam on 31st March 1893 was Rs. 39,77,187. Of the gross income, Rs. 98,54,486 were derived from provincial revenues, Rs. 9,02,672 from incorporated and Rs. 8,57,936 from excluded local funds. The provincial contract showed a deficit of Rs. 3,05,508, and was recouped from the unexpended balance at credit of the Resident in his previous contract account. The net accrued balance, therefore, in favor of the Resident at the close of 1892-93, inclusive of Rs. 5,00,000 allowed for any extraordinary emergencies in accordance with paragraph 4 of the Government of India Financial Department Resolution No. 5957, dated 5th November 1887, was Rs. 9,06,798. As compared with the previous year the receipts showed an increase under almost every revenue head. The only important exceptions were Land Revenue, Excise and Forest under Civil, and 10. Ordnance Establishments, &c., under Military. Under Land Revenue the decrease was nominal and chiefly due to circumstances which threw a portion of collections on to the succeeding year. The decrease in the excise revenue was apparently due to the introduction of the revised system of excise administration in the Ellichpur district and the sadar taluk of the Amraoti District, which probably affected the bids for country spirits in other districts also. The decrease under forest was chiefly attributable to the introduction of the new forest law and working plan restrictions, to the abnormally wet season, and to the outbreak of cholera in the Melghat. The exceptionally large decrease under 10. Ordnance Establishments, &c., in 1892-93, as compared with the actuals of 1891-92, was on account of Snider Rifles of Infantry Regiments, Hyderabad Contingent, returned to arsenal during the latter year and their value credited in the accounts of that year. As regards the expenditure, there was an increase under nearly every head. The expenditure under the following heads showed decreases, viz., 3. Land Revenue, 26. Scientific and other Minor Departments, 27. Territorial and Political Pensions and 10. Ordnance Establishments, &c. The decrease under Land Revenue occurred under "Allowances to District and Village Officers," apparently in consequence of non-appearance of claimants. The decrease under Scientific and other Minor Departments was chiefly due to the vacancy during the greater portion of the year of the appointment of Veterinary Superintendent, the current duties being performed by an officer of another department on a small allowance, and to less expenditure having been incurred on account of the census. The decrease under Territorial and Political Pensions was due to payment of arrear charges during 1891-92.

The decrease under 10. Ordnance Establishments, &c., was due to the adjustment in 1891-92 of the cost of Martini-Henry rifles supplied to the Infantry Regiments, Hyderabad Contingent.

Vital Statistics. 25. Deaths recorded in the year were 82,124 against 115,558 in the previous year, showing a decrease of 33,434, which may be largely attributed to the healthiness of the year and the non-prevalence of cholera and bowel-complaints. The death-rate fell from 40·6 to 28·8 per mille. The birth-rate similarly fell from 42·8 to 39·9, the number of births registered being 113,640 against 121,755 in the previous year.

Medical relief. 26. In civil hospitals there was an increase of 3,398 patients; in all 47,776 were treated: in charitable dispensaries an increase of 9,942 patients; in all 2,48,315 were treated. The expenditure in the former fell from Rs. 52,482 to Rs. 49,694, and that on the latter from Rs. 56,826 to Rs. 52,374. In civil hospitals the major operations numbered 174, and minor 2,253; in charitable institutions 223 and 8,637. The balance including that for the previous year amounted to Rs. 80,173-12-4.

Sanitation. 27. Good work was done during the year in connection with sanitation, both in municipalities and districts. The total income of all municipalities was Rs. 2,22,152, of which 61·1 per cent. was spent on sanitary works as compared with 48·6 per cent. in the previous year. Attention was paid also to conservancy in all municipalities. In districts some important works of sanitary importance were executed by the Public Works Department.

Vaccination. 28. Additional vaccinators were entertained for the Melghat. Lanoline was abandoned in September and calf lymph exclusively adopted. Primary vaccination rose from 98,403 to 101,774, and revaccinations from 30,453 to 44,108. The percentage of success was 94·7 and 24·8, or 73·5 on the whole. The cost was Rs. 17,234-7-10, or 2 annas 7 pies per case as in 1891-92.

Education. 29. Notwithstanding that the year under report was characterised by an excessive rainfall, the condition of the schools, except perhaps in Wun and Ellichpur, remained unaffected, and the progress of education was on the whole satisfactory. There was an increase in the number of schools and of scholars, both male and female, in almost all the classes of schools; the increase in the number of aided schools being especially satisfactory. The high schools achieved an unprecedented success by passing 25 boys at the matriculation examination out of 30 sent up, while the middle and primary schools and the training college did well on the whole at the annual examinations. The condition of the aided indigenous schools improved greatly, while the grants made to them by Government increased by about Rs. 2,500. The number of girls attending school, and the results of their examinations, were more satisfactory than in the previous year. The number of Muhammadan and low caste boys increased, and larger numbers passed at the annual examination. There was little or no progress made in the two schools in the province established for the education of European and Eurasian children. Education amongst the aborigines also shows a slight falling-off. As regards technical education the industrial school established at Akola by the American Mission continues to show good work, some of the boys being trained as carpenters and blacksmiths. As to physical education there were 27 more gymnasia established during the year under report, while the number visited by the circle teachers increased by 50. On the whole the year was one of steady and equable progress.

PART II.

HYDERABAD ASSIGNED DISTRICTS.

CHAPTER I.

PHYSICAL AND POLITICAL GEOGRAPHY.

SECTION I.

Physical Features of the Country, Area, Climate and Chief Crops

General description and boundaries.

The Hyderabad Assigned Districts are composed entirely of the valley lying between the Satpura range of mountains in the north, and the Ajanta range in the south. The Gawilgarh hills, a range belonging to the Satpura mountains, form the geographical boundary on the north; the length of the range is about 160 miles and the average breadth from 20 to 25 miles. On the east the frontier of Berar is marked accurately by the Wardha river down to its confluence with the Penganga, and on the south by the Penganga for about two-thirds of the frontier's length. On the west the border of Berar is merely an artificial line cutting across a broad valley from the Satpura mountains to the hills on which stands Ajanta, and proceeding southward over these hills until it turns eastward by a sharp angle near Jalna. The province is half-surrounded on the east, north and north-west by the Central Provinces, on the west lies the Khandesh District of the Bombay Presidency, whilst to the south and south-west are the dominions of His Highness the Nizam.

Mountains and elevated tracts.

2. The mass of hill country which walls in Berar on the north is called the Gawilgarh range, from the fort of that name which stands on one of the highest mountain buttresses that directly overlook the plain. These hills take their rise at the confluence of the Purna and Tapti rivers, and running nearly east terminate at a short distance beyond the sources of the Tapti and Wardha. On the southward side they rise abruptly from the extensive plain of Berar, the average height of which is 1,000 feet above the level of the sea, and tower above it to the height of two and three thousand feet. The descent to the bed of the Tapti is equally rapid, although the northern is less elevated than the southern side of the range. The outline of the land is generally flat, but much broken by ravines and by groups of flattened summits and isolated conoidal frusta. The summits and the flat land are generally remarkably destitute of trees, but thickly covered by long grass. In the Melghat the crest of the Satpura attains an average elevation of 3,400 feet above the sea. The highest summit, Bairat, about six miles from the sanitarium of Chikalda, is 3,989 feet. The main height of the lower hills bordering upon the Tapti is about 1,650 feet.

Plains.

3. Setting aside the Melghat mountain tract as abnormal, there are two distinct sections of Berar, the Payanghat or low-land country, bounded on the north by the Gawilgarh hills, and on the south by the outer scarps of the Ajanta range; and the Balaghat or upland country above the Ajanta ridge sloping down southward beyond the ghats or passes which lead up it. The Payanghat is a wide valley running up eastward between this ridge and the Gawilgarh hills, varying in breadth from forty to fifty miles, and broader toward the end than at its mouth. It contains all the best land in Berar; it is full of deep rich black alluvial soil, of almost inexhaustible fertility, and it undulates sufficiently to maintain a natural system of drainage, which is probably very favourable to the productive powers of the land. But there is nothing picturesque about this broad strip of alluvial champaign country; it is very destitute of trees, except near the villages close under the hills; and beside the Purna it has hardly a perennial stream. The aspect of the country above the passes which lead to the Balaghat is quite different. The trees are finer and the groves more frequent than in the valley below; water is more plentiful and nearer to the surface. But the whole face of the Balaghat has no uniform features; it stretches into downs and dales where it is most open; then it gets broken up into flat topped hills and steep ravines; while in its eastern section the country is still more sharply accidented by a splitting up of the main-hill-range, causing a variety of low-lying plains, high plateaus, fertile bottoms and rocky wastes.

Prevailing soils.

4. The surface soil is, to a great extent, a rich black vegetable mould. Where this surface soil does not exist, there is muram and trap with a shallow, upper crust of inferior light soil. Sometimes the under-lying muram is covered at various depths by a not unproductive reddish-coloured earth. Where the land along the main streams has been much cut up by drainage, the loam deposit is of a light colour, and is sometimes intermixed with the under-lying light-coloured saline earth mixed with gravel and lime nodules; this soil is of a much less fertile description. The pure loam deposits are called "malai," and are much prized.

Forests.

5. The Gawilgarh hills, from their summits to their skirts, are almost wholly covered with trees; there is also much low wood on the slopes and ridges of the Ajanta range through all its branches, and in the ravines which furrow the Balaghat uplands. But in Berar there is no great extent of real forest containing valuable timber trees. The principal forest is in the Melghat tract of the Satpuras, where the Gangra valley contains some magnificent young forests, more especially along the cliffs and channels of the deep river Gorga. From the Sipna river east-ward, and extending over the tract between that river and the Kopra, as well as to the east and north-east of the Kopra, is the teak producing area of the Gangra valley. It includes a parallelogram of about 15 miles from east to west, and the same distance from north to south, or about 225 square miles.

Rivers.

6. The principal rivers are the Tapti, the Purna, the Wardha, and the Penganga. The outer range of the Gawilgarh mountains sends its rainfall down to the Berar valley, and these waters feed the Purna, but the inner high lands drain north to the Tapti. The Ajanta hills despatch one perennial tributary to the Purna, but the large rivers of the Balaghat flow south and south-east descending into the Penganga. The Tapti is the only first class river, but the Wardha is by far the most important. It commands the contingents of almost every considerable stream, and collects water all over the eastern and southern slopes of the country. Of rivers which maintain a fair running stream all the year round there is only one in the valley of Berar, the Purna; all the rest cease to flow towards the end of dry weather, though their beds may be jolted with pools of water.

Lakes.

7. The whole province has only one natural lake, the salt lake of Lonar, which is situated in the Mehkar taluka of the Buldana district. The lake is a most striking natural curiosity, apparently the crater of some long extinct volcano.

Minerals.

8. The mineralogy of the province is only remarkable for the saline deposits of the Purna valley and of the Lonar lake, and for the coal in the Wun district upon the Wardha river. Iron ore is very plentiful throughout large tracts on the eastern side of Berar, especially in the hills about Karinja, and among the low ranges close to Amraoti or the north-east. It is not worked by the natives, and the proportion of iron to the ore, has not been scientifically determined.

Area.

9. The area of the province is distributed as follows into cultivated (irrigated and unirrigated) and waste, culturable and unculturable. The figures are taken from the Revenue Report of the year 1892-93 :—

District.	Cultivated area.	Waste.		Total.
		Culturable.	Unculturable.

Total ...	7,743,621	679,428	2,925,435	11,348,484

Climate.

10. The climate of Berar probably differs very little from that of the Deccan generally, except that in the Payanghat valley the hot weather may be exceptionally severe. It sets in early, for the freshness of the short cold season vanishes with the crops, when the ground has been laid bare by carrying the harvest; but the heat does not much increase until the end of March. From the 1st May until the rains set in, about the middle of June, the sun is very powerful, and there is by day severe heat, but without the scorching winds of Upper India. The nights are comparatively cool throughout, probably because the direct rays of the sun have their effect counteracted by the retentiveness of moisture peculiar to the black soil, and by the evaporation which is always going on. During the rains the air is moist and cool.

Staple crops.

13. The staple crops are cotton and jowari, which cover nearly 70 per cent. of the cultivated area. Other chief products are wheat, gram, til, bajri, tur, linseed, lac and tobacco.

The following table gives the distribution of the various principal crops during the past three years:—

No reliable crop experiments have been conducted recently, from which an estimate of the produce of the province can be calculated; it is hoped that this information will be available in a few years from experiments now being annually carried out under the supervision of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture.

Jowari is the main staple food of the province, though wheat is also consumed to a considerable extent by the well-to-do portion of the population; cotton, oilseeds, and the surplus wheat are nearly all exported.

Actual famine is unknown in Berar, but a partial failure of the monsoon may locally affect small areas and cause occasional distress.

SECTION II.

Historical Summary.

14. The summary under this head in the Administration Report for 1882-83 is here reproduced.

The history of Berar is sketched in the Gazetteer of that province (pages 111 to 137), from which the following summary is taken.* We know that the greater part of the Deccan, up northward so far as the Nerbudda, was subject for some centuries to Rajput princes of the Chalukia race, whose capital was at Kalyan near Kulburga from about 1000 A.D. to 1200 A.D. And Ramdeo, who was conquered and slain by Ala-ud-din, was the last of the Yadava line of Kings, who reigned not without fame at Deogarh, the modern Dowlatabad, down to the end of the 13th century A.D. So we may be allowed to guess that Berar was at one period under the sway of Kalyan, or of Deogarh, probably of both successively, though the south-eastern district of the old province may have belonged to the kingdom ruled by the ancient Hindu Rajas at Warangal. Remains of ancient Hindu architecture help to attest the received hypothesis that the province must long have formed part of that principal Rajput kingdom which occupied the heart of the Deccan. But local tradition tells of independent Rajas who governed Berar from Ellichpur, which is said to take its name from one of them, called Raja I'l. The same authority states, what may possibly be corroborated by architectural relics which have yet to be examined by the competent antiquarian, that the princes or governors of Berar immediately before the Muhammadan invasion were Jains.

Muhammadan period.

15. In A. D. 1294, Ala-ud-din, nephew and son-in-law to the Delhi Emperor Feroz Ghilzi, made his first expedition to the Deccan. After defeating the Yadava Prince Ramdeo, at Deogarh, he is said to have been bought out of the country by a heavy ransom, accompanied by the cession of Ellichpur. Soon after his return to Upper India he murdered his uncle and usurped the Delhi throne. Throughout his reign the Deccan was plundered by successive bands of Muhammadans from the north; but at his death the Hindus seem to have recovered the provinces previously subject to Deogarh. However, this insurrection was crushed in 1318-19 by Moobarak Ghilzi, when he flayed alive the last Hindu Prince of Deogarh; and Berar has ever since been nominally under the dominion of Muhammadan rulers. Under them it has always kept its distinct name; and there is reason to believe that from the first it formed a separate provincial charge, of course with constant change of boundaries. On the death of the notorious Emperor Mahomed Toghlak, who has been described as resembling a modern administrator run stark mad—for attempting in the 14th century all sorts of civilized improvements after a most barbarous fashion—the southern provinces fell away from his house, and for 250 years maintained their independence of the Delhi sovereignty. This was in 1351.

Bahmani Dynasty.

16. For the next 130 years Berar remained under the dominion of the kings called Bahmani, because the founder of their line was either a Brahman or a Brahman's servant. This man ruled all the Deccan under the title of Ala-ud-din Hasan Shah, and divided his kingdom into four provinces, of which Mahur, Ramgarh, and part of Berar formed one. Perhaps it was then that the boundaries of Berar proper were extended, and the whole province called by that name, for Ramgarh and Mahur both belonged to the independent kingdom of Berar when it was afterwards set up. In those days boundaries were always changing, and Berar seems to have been a troublesome border-country with debatable frontiers on the north and east, exposed to attack by the highland chiefs of the Sautpuras and by the wild tribes across the Wardha; it may be described roughly as stretching from the Sautpura range southward to the Godavery river, from Khandesh and Dowlatabad eastward to the Wardha river.

Imad Shah Dynasty.

17. The annals of Ferishta afford constant proof that under the Bahmani Kings Berar was an important province, with a separate army governed by nobles of high rank and reputation. On the utter collapse of this dynasty in 1526, we find it one of the five kingdoms into which the Deccan have virtually split up, fairly embarked on a period of independence under the Imad Shahi Princes, whose capital was Ellichpur. The founder of this dynasty had been, it is said, a Canarese Hindu taken in war, whom Khan Jehan, Governor of Berar, promoted to high office. He rose to the title of Imad-ul-Mulk, and the command of the Berar forces. But he bequeathed to his successors no share either of his good fortune or ability: an attack by the allied kings of Bijapur and Ahmednagar gave Berar to the latter in 1572.

* In this summary no attempt has been made to do more than extract and connect leading passages. For the sake of convenience in respect to typography, inverted commas to denote quotation are not used, though there are scarcely a dozen sentences which do not come from the source indicated, viz., the Berar Gazetteer. Those who consult the original article by Mr. (now Sir) A. C. Lyall, Bengal Civil Service, will see that it is not easy to abridge.

Ahmednagar Dynasty.

18. The Ahmednagar dynasty, however, was not destined long to hold possession of the prize. At home it could do nothing to quell civil broils and allay dangerous feuds: even when the famous Chand Bibi became Queen Regent, there was no chance of upholding a tottering State. Prince Murad of Delhi, Akbar's son, appeared before Ahmednagar. He raised the seige on receiving formal cession of Berar to the Moghul empire; and here ends the connection of this province with the Deccanee kingdoms, which were gradually swallowed up by the Moghuls. They had already absorbed Malwa, Guzerat and Khandesh; Ahmednagar followed in 1607 or thereabouts. It has been truly said of the absorption of these principalities that "might was their right, and they succumbed to the law which had generated them."

In those ages the whole Deccan swarmed with adventurers from every nation in Asia, and from the African coast of the Indian Ocean. These men and their descendants settled in the towns, their chiefs occupied most of the high military and civil offices; but, in Berar at least, the Muhammadans appear to have left the Hindus in undisturbed possession of the soil. And although the hereditary revenue authorities, the deshmukhs and deshpandias, who were chief officers of districts with much influence and profit, are said to have been instituted by the early Muhammadan kings; yet in Berar these places and perquisites have from time immemorial been in the hands of Hindus. There are now in the province several Muhammadan families of deshmukhs, but these are all believed to be converted Hindus. Of the principal Maratha families enumerated by Grant Duff as holding good position under the Bahmani monarchy, that of Jadon Rao is the only one belonging to Berar. In lineage and historical repute it yields to none—even if its claim to descent from the ancient Yadava Rajas of Deogarh be discredited—and the line has not yet ended.

Moghul period.

19. The cession of Berar to the Emperor Akbar by the Ahmednagar Government took place in 1596. In 1599 the great Emperor himself came down to Burhanpore and organized his recent conquests. Ahmednagar was taken; and all the country recently annexed, including Berar, was placed under Prince Daniel (the Emperor's son) as Viceroy; Berar retaining its separate formation as an imperial subah, of which the extent and revenue are pretty accurately known from the Ain-i-Akbari.

The death of Akbar in 1605 distracted for a time the attention of the Moghul Government from their new province in the Deccan; and Malik Ambar, who represented Nizam Shahi independence at Dowlatabad, recovered the greater part of Berar. This man, an Abyssinian by race, is well known as the great revenue administrator of the Upper Deccan, because he first made a regular assessment by fixing the Government share in the estimated produce commuted to money value, says Grant Duff; but the hereditary revenue officers of Berar say that the assessment was on the quality of land, at so much per biga. Malik Ambar is still held in lively remembrance by the old families who have preserved the traditions of customary finance, and the word kamil tankhwa or standard rent-roll of the province, has been very recently defined by a deshmukh to mean the full assessment of every cultivated biga according to Malik Ambar's settlement, said to have been made in 1612.

Malik Ambar held his own in these parts until he died in 1628; although much weakened by the defection from his cause of Lukji Jadon Rao, deshmukh of Sindkhed, in Berar, whose family has already been mentioned. In 1630 this powerful noble went over to the Moghuls, who about that time recovered all Berar, and established the imperial authority; and the Jadon family steadily maintained its allegiance to the Moghul Emperor and his Viceroy through all the winds and currents of two stormy centuries, until its last representative lost lands and liberty by an act of doubtful disloyalty to the Nizam in 1853.

Shah Jahan divided his Deccan dominions into two governments, of which one comprised Berar, Paenghat, Jalna, and Khandesh; but these were soon reunited under one head. The revenue assessment was reorganized by Todar Mal, and the fasli era was introduced from 1637-38. In 1638 the Viceroy was Shaista Khan, nephew to the famous mistress of Jehanghir, Nur Jahan, who made the fortunes of her family. This is he who had dealings twenty years afterwards with Tavernier, was very slow to pay the jeweller for goods sold, and after all gave him an order on the Aurungabad treasury, where the treasurer mulcted him in discount.

It is very difficult, and would not be very profitable, pursue the separate thread of Berar provincial history through the tangled coil of Deccan warfare from A. D. 1650, when Aurangzebe became Viceroy of the Deccan, until the hour when he died at Ahmednagar in A. D. 1707. Berar underwent its share of fire and sword, Maratha plundering and Moghul rack-renting; for the Emperor's long wasting wars soon broke down his revenue system; his finances were ruined by exactions of the Marathas and their pillage of his country; so that the cultivators must have suffered heavily towards the end of his reign.

But in A. D. 1666 we find from old revenue papers that Chanda and Deogarh* were both included in the subah of Berar; tribute was collected from the zemindars of those tracts, that is, the Gond Rajas, and carried to the treasury at Aurungabad. And we know that Bakht Buland, the Deogarh Raja, turned Mussulman to obtain Aurangzebe's support, though he afterwards took advantage of the Emperor's distress to ravage all the country on both sides of the Wardha, while Chanda shook off its tributary yoke by the same opportunity. From 1670 A. D. the Maratha forays became frequent and destructive. You may still see on the crest of the southern hills the ruins of redoubts and stone gateways which were set up about A. D. 1671 to stop the Maratha inroads down these passes into the rich valley below. In that year Sivaji's general, Pratap Rao, plundered so far east as Karinjah, and first exacted from the village officers a pledge to pay chauth. In 1704 things had got to their worst; the Marathas swarmed throughout Berar like "ants or locusts" and laid bare whole districts, being joined by large numbers of the people. Zulfikar Khan, one of Aurangzebe's best captains, whom the Marathas always avoided in the field, drove them out of the province and relieved the Governor, who had been hemmed in at Ellichpur and thoroughly cowed. But they returned incessantly, levying chauth and sardeshmukhi, with alternative of fire and sword, cutting off the sources of revenue, and wearing out the disorganized armies of the empire.

After Aurangzebe's death, the Marathas consolidated their predominance, and chauth and sardeshmukhi were formally granted by the Saiyad Ministers of Farokhsir in 1717 upon the six and a half subahs of the Deccan. But in 1720 Chin Khalich Khan, Viceroy of the Deccan, under the title of Nizam-ul-Mulk, won his independence by three victories over the imperial lieutenants, or rather over the armies commanded by the partizans of the Saiyad Ministers, who governed in the Emperor's name. Nizam-ul-Mulk had been joined by the Subahdar of Berar. The first battle was near Burhanpore in A. D. 1721, the second at Balapur, soon after; and the last decisive victory was taken in August A. D. 1724, at Shaker-Khelda, called Fate-Khelda † from that day, in the present Buldana District. From this date Berar has always been nominally subject to the Hyderabad dynasty. The Bhonslas posted their officers all over the province, they occupied it with their troops, they collected more than half the revenue, and they fought among themselves for possession of the right to collect; but, with the exception of a few parganas ceded to the Peshwa, the Nizam through all his misfortunes has constantly maintained his title as de jure sovereign of this country, and it was always admitted by the Marathas. Those misfortunes must be passed over here for want of space with only a mere allusion. A brief account of them is given in the article we are extracting from, and which tells also of the struggle for territory and revenue between Maratha and Moghul that commenced in 1737 under Raghoji Bhonsla, the founder of his family's independence, and ended by the same Raghoji signing, at Deogaon in 1803, after the Maratha chiefs had been completely defeated by General Wellesley, a treaty which resigned all claim to territory and revenue west of the Wardah; Narnala and Gawelgarh remaining in his possession, with a small tract afterwards exchanged.

The material and even moral injury caused to this province by the wars of the 18th century must have been wide and deep. Described in the Ain-i-Akbari as highly cultivated and in parts populous, supposed by M. deThevenot in 1667 to be one of the wealthiest portions of the empire, it fell on evil days before the close of the 17th century. Cultivation fell off just when the finances were strained by the long wars; the local revenue officers rebelled; the army became mutinous; and the Marathas easily plundered a weak province, when they had divided its sinews by cutting off its trade. Wherever the Emperor appointed a jagirdar the Marathas appointed another, and both claimed the revenue; while foragers from each side exacted forced contributions; so that the harassed cultivator often threw up his land, and helped to plunder his neighbour. The Maratha by these means succeeded in fixing his hold on this province; but its resources were dilapidated, and its people must have been seriously demoralized by a regime of barefaced plunder and fleecing, without attempt at principle or stability.

By the partition treaty of Hyderabad (dated 1804), the whole of Berar, including districts east of Wardha—but excluding certain tracts left with the Nagpur chiefs and the Peshwa—was made over in perpetual sovereignty to His Highness the Nizam. The forts of Gawelgarh and Narnala remained subject to Nagpur. Certain tracts about Sindkhed and Jalna, in the south-west corner of the present Berar province, were restored by Scindia to the Hyderabad State; and thus after two centuries an independent Mussulman dynasty again ruled in the Deccan up to the skirts of the Sautpuras.

The peace of Deogaon had put a stop to actual warfare in Berar; but the people continued to suffer intermittently from the inroads of Pindaris, and incessantly from misgovernment. The province had been restored to the Nizam just at the time when confusion in his dominions was at its worst. The Nizam's territories are, writes General Wellesley (January 1804), "one complete chaos from the Godavery to Hyderabad." And again: "Sindkhed is a nest of thieves. The situation of this country is shocking; the people are starving in hundreds; and there is no government to afford the slightest relief."

The war of 1817-18 did not seriously affect the tranquility of Berar, though there was fighting with the Maratha States in the east and west, and against the Pindaris beyond the Sautpuras. After the conclusion of this war a fresh treaty was made in 1822, which settled the frontier of Berar, and conferred upon the Nizam all the country west of the Wardha. The tracts lying east of that river were at length formally ceded to Nagpur, but the districts taken by the Peshwa in 1795, and those which had been left to the Bhonsla in 1803, were all restored to the Hyderabad State. Thus, the parganas across the Wardha of Ashti, Arwi, and Amnair, which had belonged to Berar from very early days, were at length separated from this province; but the forts of Gawelgarh and Narnala were recovered, with the subjacent parganas of Akot, Argaon, and others, and all the hill-range known as the Melghat. The Peshwa restored Umarkhed and other tracts in the south-east; while all claims by the Marathas on the Nizam for chauth were for ever extinguished.

From the report of Sir H. Russell, Resident at Hyderabad, we learn that in 1820 the troops in Berar amounted nominally to 26,000, an extravagant number, which proves the disorder of the country and the improvidence of its rulers. The report says further that this province is naturally the most fertile part of the Nizam's dominions, but that it has suffered severely from Pindaris and from the depredations of Naiks and Bheels, insomuch that the net revenue collected is not now (1815-20) more than half the sum which the province was estimated to yield at the close of the war in 1803. This is just what Wellesley predicted in 1804. "Unless the Subah" (he writes)" be forced to reform his military establishment, take my word for it that the average of the Nizam's receipts (from Berar) for the next ten years will be even less than those of the last ten." And Wellesley goes on to point out, with characteristic sagacity, how the sudden cessation of arms in the Deccan must for the time even aggravate civil disorder under a native government. Large bodies of troops are disbanded, who become gangs of plunderers too strong for the weak police, while the spread of British annexation establishes rigid irresistible order all round, and drives all the brigands of India within the narrow limits of Native States which they can ravage with impunity. So Berar was harried from time to time by bands of men under leaders who set up in defiance of the Government on various pretexts, but always with the real object of plundering. Sometimes, the British Irregular Forces had to take the field in opposition. On one occasion they had to face a body of 4,000 men collected by a man who called himself Appa Sahib, the ex-Raja of Nagpur. The rebels were driven off; but Brigadier Onslow died on the field from a fall with his horse. This was in May 1849. In June, Brigadier Hampton's cavalry by forced marches got Appa Sahib's banditti within reach of their sabres; after a sharp and spirited action, in which the Brigadier was dangerously wounded, Appa Sahib was captured, and his followers dispersed.

Throughout these troubles the behaviour of the Hindu deshmukhs and other pargana officers was most significantly treasonable against the Nizam's Government. They did their best to thwart his commanders and to abet the pretenders, although the rebel bands plundered and ravished wherever they went.

It may here be mentioned that the last fight of this kind in Berar was at Chichamba near Risod, in 1859, when a plundering party of Rohillas was pursued by a detachment of the Hyderabad Contingent into the village. Being thus driven to bay behind walls, they resisted an assault by the fatigued Contingent infantry, and Captain Mackinnon was there killed.

After the old war-time came the "cankers of a calm world." For then began the palmy days of the great farmers-general at Hyderabad, who flourished like green bay trees. Messrs. Palmer and Company overshadowed the Government, and very nearly proved too strong for Sir C. Metcalfe, when he laid the axe to the root of their power; they had made large loans at 24 per cent. to the Nizam's Government, for the maintenance of that very numerous cavalry which (as has been already mentioned) was organized at the instance of the British Resident for the protection of Berar. Then Poorun Mull, a mighty money-lender of Hyderabad, got most of Berar in farm; but in 1839 he was turned out of his districts by the Nizam's Minister, under pressure from the British Resident. Poorun Mull refused to quit hold of his security for advances made, and showed fight when Messrs. Pestanji sent agents to take his place—for after all the Nizam had only changed his banker. However, Poorun Mull had to give up; but he presented to the Hyderabad Government an account showing balance due to him of two millions sterling, which the ministry altogether refused to pay, proving, by a different system of book-keeping, that Poorun Mull was deeply in debt to the treasury.

Messrs. Pestanji and Company had no better luck in the sequel. These were enterprising Parsi merchants, who in 1825-26 made, according to their own statement, the first considerable exportation of cotton from Berar to Bombay. They gave liberal advances to cotton-growers, set up cotton-screws at Khamgaon and other places, and took up generally the export of produce from the Nizam's country. In 1841, large assignments of revenue in Berar for reimbursement of advances to the State were made to them by Chandu Lal; but in 1843 that Minister resigned, having conducted the State to the verge of bankruptcy, and Pestanji had to deal with another cabinet. He claimed about forty lakhs of rupees. Nevertheless, in 1845 he was ordered to give up his Berar districts; and on his refusal, his collecting agents were attacked at Parbani, Balapur and Akola. Sixteen of his men were killed at the place first named, so he was forced to evacuate the assignments; while his subsequent importunities for payment seem to have been staved off by exchequer bills and cheques on native bankers which all proved inconvertible currency.

Messrs. Pestanji and Company had made large and liberal advances to land-tenants in Berar; they had thus restored cultivation over wide tracts, and rekindled the lamp in many deserted villages. Among Berar agriculturists they have left a very good reputation.

All these proceedings may have damaged the State's credit, as Raja Chandu Lal's financing had hampered its revenue; for in 1843, and in several succeeding years, the pay of the Nizam's irregular force maintained under the treaty of 1800 had to be advanced by the British Government. In 1850 it had fallen again into heavy arrears. There were other unsatisfied claims of the British Government on the Nizam; and his whole debt amounted to forty-five lakhs in 1853. The bankruptcy of the Hyderabad Government disorganized their administration; the non-payment of the troops continued to be a serious political evil. Therefore, in 1853, a new treaty was concluded with the Nizam, under which the existing Hyderabad Contingent force is maintained by the British Government, in lieu of the troops which the Nizam had been previously bound to furnish on demand in time of war; while, for the payment of this contingent, and other claims on the Nizam, districts yielding a gross revenue of fifty lakhs of rupees were assigned to our Government. And the districts in Berar—Penghat and Balaghat—which this treaty assigned to British management, are now popularly understood to form the province of Berar, although they do not at all coincide in extent with the boundaries of that province under the Nizam, still less with the imperial subah.

The territory made over to the British under this treaty comprised, besides the Assigned Districts, as they now exist, the districts of Dharaseo and the Raichore Doab. It was agreed that accounts should be annually rendered to the Nizam, and that any surplus revenue should be paid to him. His Highness was released from the obligation of furnishing a large force in time of war; the Contingent ceased to be part of the Nizam's Army, and became an auxiliary force kept up by the British Government for the Nizam's use.

The provisions of the treaty of 1853, however, which required the submission of annual accounts of the Assigned Districts to the Nizam, were productive of much inconvenience and embarrassing discussions. Difficulties had also arisen regarding the levy of the 5 per cent. duty on goods under the commercial treaty of 1802. To remove these difficulties, and at the same time to reward the Nizam for his services in 1857, a new treaty was concluded in December 1860, by which the debt of fifty lakhs due by the Nizam was cancelled; the territory of Surapur, which had been confiscated for the rebellion of the Raja, was ceded to the Nizam; and the districts of Dharaseo and the Raichore Doab were restored to him. On the other hand, the Nizam ceded certain districts on the left bank of the Godavery, traffic on which river was to be free from all duties, and agreed that the remaining Assigned Districts in Berar, together with other districts, making up a gross revenue of Rs. 32,00,000 (£320,000) should be held in trust by the British Government for the purposes specified in the treaty of 1853; but that no demand for accounts of the receipts and expenditure of the Assigned Districts should be made. Certain territorial exchanges were also made, with the object of bringing under British administration those lands within these districts which were held in jagir for payment of troops, or which were allotted for the Nizam's privy purse.

The history of the Assigned Districts since 1853 is marked by no important political events beside the changes made under the treaty of 1861. Its smooth course was scarcely ruffled even by the cyclone of 1857; whatever fires may have been smouldering beneath the surface, the country remained calm, measuring its behaviour not by Delhi, but by Hyderabad. In 1858, Tantia Topi got into the Sautpura hills, and tried to break across southward that he might stir up the Deccan; but he was headed at all outlets, and never got away into the Berar valley.

The management of these districts by the Nizam's officers had been worse than the contemporary administration of the adjoining Nagpur territory, which was during a long minority under British regency, and which continued to be well governed until it lapsed. Consequently, a stream of emigrants had flowed toward the Nagpur country across the Wardah from Berar. "And thus" (writes Sir R. Temple in 1867) "the condition of Berar when the province was assigned to British management, though weakly, and needing restorative measures, was not beyond the hope of speedy recovery. And fortunately the means of restoration were at hand; for the soil was famed far and wide among the peasantry for its fertility; and its repute, always high, was further enhanced by the fact of so much of it having remained fallow of late years—a circumstance which was supposed to ensure a rich return to those who reclaimed the waste and raised the first crops on virgin culture. The neighbouring districts were full of families who had emigrated thither from Berar, and who with the usual attachment of the people to their original patrimony, were, anxious to return on any suitable opportunity. Thus hundreds of families and thousands of individuals immigrated back into Berar. Many villages in the Nagpur country lost many of their hands in this way, and were sometimes put to serious straits. Some apprehension was even caused to the Nagpur officials. But of course the natural course of things had its way, and Eastern Berar became replenished. This was only one mode out of several, which it would be tedious to detail, whereby the cultivation of Berar was restored and augmented.

"But there shortly supervened the consequences of the American war, which indeed stimulated many parts of India, but which (if the metaphor is admissible) positively electrified Berar. Before this, cotton had been one out of many staples. It now became the prevailing, absorbing, predominating product. Much of other sorts of culture was displaced to make room for it. The people imported quantities of food-grain from the Nagpur country, in order that they might have the more land whereon to raise the remunerative cotton crop. The staple, too, is one that requires much manual toil in weeding, picking, ginning, packing, and the like. Hence there arose a great and urgent demand for rural labour, which of course operated to raise the standard of wages. A great exportation of cotton to Bombay was soon established. The importation of foreign produce was far from proportionate; consequently, much of the return for this cotton consisted of cash and bullion. This circumstance, making money cheap, tended to raise the prices of all things. Another effect was that the labouring and producing classes, especially the agriculturists, were rapidly enriched.

"At the very same time, the construction of railway works throughout the whole length of the province was at its full swing, not only causing the employment of all labour, skilled and unskilled, that could be got on the spot, but also introducing a large foreign element which settled temporarily, at least, in the province. Thus the value of labour, and the rates of prices generally, were still further enhanced.

"In other parts of India, the operation of these or similar causes has been perceptible, but in many parts it has been partial only; in others its force may have been detracted from by other influences. But in Berar it was universal, extending from one end of the province to the other; and there was nothing whatever to counteract its force. It is this sort of universality which constitutes, perhaps, the peculiarity of the process in these districts.

"This state of things has rendered the people generally prosperous, progressive, and contented. Some classes do unfortunately suffer therefrom. This, though perhaps it may be mitigated, cannot altogether be helped. Those who suffer will naturally complain, but that the accession to provincial prosperity has been vast and rapid is unquestionable. The most sanguine anticipations of the growth of the province in importance have been more than realized, and there is everything in favour of its further increase."

To this historical summary the following details taken from the report of Census of 1881 were added in the Administration Report for1882-83 :—

"The area occupied by cultivators (11,346 square miles) has increased by nearly 50 per cent since 1867. The land revenue has increased from Rs. 44,43,799 to Rs. 63,23,619, or by 42·3 per cent. in the same period. The returns show increase in farm stock, the number of cattle, sheep and goats and of carts. The area occupied per head of the agricultural population has increased from 3·70 acres in 1867 to 3·97 acres in 1880-81. By the side of this improvement in the welfare of the classes who own or cultivate land, it is noticed, that 'the good wages enjoyed by the landless field laborers in ordinary years are evidenced by the fact that they are sufficient to attract outsiders into the province at harvest time.' Summing up the signs of material prosperity, the compiler of the last Census Report remarks :—'It may be said that the people of Berar are able to draw from the Province itself an ample food supply in jowari and wheat. They are able, in addition to the clothing they themselves manufacture, to expend from ten to twelve rupees per family on imported piece-goods; they are able to spend a considerable sum on luxuries ; they are called on to pay as provincial taxes only Rs. 2-2-0 per family of five per annum if agriculturists, and Rs. 3-6-0 per family if non-agriculturists (Census Report, pages 229—232).

"The history of the last decade can hardly be passed over without the remark that, though Berar escaped the great plague of famine which prevailed in Southern and Western India during the years 1876-1878, the poorer classes in the province undoubtedly suffered much hardship at that time, and the cattle died by thousands for want of fodder. Of late years moreover, there has been successive mortality among people from epidemics of cholera."

The ten years that have passed since the above was written, have, on the whole, been years of prosperity for the province. There has been no famine or scarcity during this period, and the retail price of jowari, the staple food of the community, has not in any year averaged less than 42 lbs. to the rupee. Epidemics of cholera have continued to cause great mortality, generally appearing in an intense form every other year (1883, 1885, 1887 and 1889 were all particularly unhealthy); but the population has increased during the decade by 224,818 souls, or over 8 per cent. The area occupied by cultivators now amounts to 7,743,621 acres, or about 12,100 square miles, and it may be said that all the land that can profitably be tilled, and has not been reserved in connection with the requirements of the province in respect of forests and grazing lands, has been taken up. There has been a further increase in the land revenue of Rs. 1,05,629. There has been a large increase, also, in agricultural stock, the number of cattle being reported at 205,600 head more than in 1882-83. The value of the rail-borne trade of Berar was last year:—

	Rs.
Exports	3,62,39,698

giving a balance in favor of the province of Rs. 1,30,12,732. The prosperity of the country may be gauged, also, by the amount of capital that has been invested in cotton ginning and other factories using steam power. In 1882 the total number was 17 (16 cotton presses and 1 oil press). There are now 32 cotton presses, and, including these, there are altogether 97 factories in the province employing steam-driven machinery.

SECTION III.

Form of Administration.

20. The administration is conducted, under the orders of the Resident at Hyderabad, by a Revenue and Fiscal Commissioner, and a Judicial Commissioner. The Revenue Commissioner is the head of the Local Administration in the province, subject to the control of the Resident. The Judicial Commissioner superintends, administratively, the working of the Courts of Justice in all their branches, subject to the orders and instructions of the Resident; and his Court is the High Court for the province.

Heads of Departments.

21. Separate departments are managed and supervised by special officers.

The Inspector-General of Police has also, in his charge, the departments of Jails, Registration and Stamps.

The Sanitary Commissioner is also Inspector-General of Dispensaries and Superintendent of Vaccination.

The Educational Department is in charge of the Director of Public Instruction who is assisted by an Inspector.

The Director of Land Records and Agriculture is also in charge of Survey and Settlement Operations, and has under him an Assistant Director and a Survey Officer.

The Forest Department is under the management of a Conservator.

The Sessions Judge, whose head-quarters are at Amraoti, holds sessions othere and at Akola.

The province shares with the Central Provinces the services of a Veterinary Superintendent who is charged with the superintendence of horse-breeding operations and the investigation and prevention of cattle diseases.

The Postal Department is in charge of the Deputy Post-Master General for the Central Provinces and Berar, located at Nagpur. There is a Superintendent and two Inspectors of Post Offices for the province.

The Telegraph Department is under the Superintendent of Telegraphs for the Nagpur Division, whose head-quarters are at Jubbulpur.

In the Public Works Department the Superintending Engineer is located at Bolarum, and he is also Secretary to the Resident in that Department. He has an Assistant Secretary.

For purposes of Public Works the province is formed into three divisions—East Berar, West Berar and South Berar, each of which is in charge of an Executive Engineer. There are also five Assistant Engineers.

Executive divisions and staff.

22. The province is divided for all other purposes of administration into six districts. The Deputy Commissioners in charge of these districts are aided in the discharge of their executive and judicial functions by 15 Assistant Commissioners and 20 Extra Assistant Commissioners, who exercise magisterial, civil and revenue powers. Three or more Attachés from the staff of the Resident at Hyderabad are also, as a rule, deputed for employment in general administrative work in the province and strengthen the staff of Assistant Commissioners: and assistance is also rendered in petty magisterial work by Special or Honorary Magistrates, of whom there are altogether 20.

A Superintendent of Police is attached to each district. There are three Assistant Superintendents.

The management of the Forests of the six districts is divided between 1 Deputy Conservator, 1 Assistant Conservator and 5 Extra Assistant Conservators, working under the Deputy Commissioners of the districts.

The District Jails are in charge of the Civil Surgeon at the head-quarters of each district.

The administration of the Local Funds, the construction and maintenance of roads and works connected with water-supply, the establishment, maintenance and supervision of primary education, the management of fairs and the like in each district are vested in a District Board acting under the supervision and control of the Deputy Commissioner. Its members are partly elected and partly appointed by the Resident.

Each district has a Deputy Educational Inspector and there is a Deputy Inspector for Hindustani Schools for the whole province.

Sanitation is attended to by a District Sanitary Board, of which the Sanitary Commissioner, the Deputy Commissioner and the Executive Engineer are members.

A Deputy Superintendent of Excise has lately been appointed to the province.

Sub-divisions of districts.

23. The six districts are sub-divided into 22 taluks, each under the charge of a Tahsildar who collects the Government revenues, has charge of a sub-treasury and exercises magisterial powers, having under him a staff of karkuns or clerks. The Tahsildar is not usually burdened with civil work; but his Assistant who is called the Naib Tahsildar is in some localities entrusted with powers to hear petty suits for money within a limited area.

There is for each taluk a Taluk Board working under the District Board and forming the elective body by which the members of the District Board, other than those appointed by the Commissioner, are selected.

Village officers.

24. The last link in the chain of official organisation consists of the village officers, whose work is supervised by special assistants of the Tahsildar, called Munsarims, of whom three are attached to each taluk with the exception of Khamgaon where there are two and Melghat where there are none.

At the head of the village is the Patel, whose office is usually hereditary, and he is assisted by a Patwari or Accountant, who is also generally a hereditary incumbent.

In small villages the Patel has both Revenue and Police duties. He is agent for the collection of the State revenue and is Superintendent of the Jaglias or Village Police, who, though not organised under the Police Department, have many miscellaneous duties to perform, as village messengers, watchmen, guardians of boundary-marks, etc., which are outside the functions of the Regular Police. The Patel must give information of all crimes, and in cases of necessity may arrest persons.

In some of the large villages a "Police Patel" is appointed separately from the "Revenue Patel." In that case the former has charge of the village pound, and gets certain allowances from the cattle pound fees.

The Patwari, besides the duty of preparing the annual jamabundi, or statement showing the occupant, area, rental and crop of every field in his circle, has to keep all the village papers and accounts, and to register the applications for land, the "razinamas" giving up land, and the papers showing transfers which he has to produce as vouchers for the changes shown in the holdings in the yearly jamabundi; he is also responsible that every payment of revenue is duly written up in the receipt book, which every registered land occupant holds.

Both the Patel and Patwari are remunerated by a fixed percentage on the land revenue at the following scale :—

On the 1st Rs. 1,000 of land revenue	5 per cent.	Both Patels and Patwaris are remunerated at the same scale.
„ 2nd „ 1,000 „	4 „
„ 3rd „ 1,000 „	3 „
„ 4th „ 1,000 „	2 „
and at one per cent. on any further amount.

For miscellaneous and stationery charges :—

SECTION IV.

Character of Land Tenures; System of Survey and Settlement.

Survey and settlement.

25. The whole Province, with the exception of the hill taluka tract of the Melghat, which was excluded from survey, and some uncultivated tracts in the Wun and Basim Districts, which were surveyed merely in blocks without classification of soil, has been measured, classified, and assessed field by field under the Bombay Survey and Settlement Rules. These operations of survey and settlement extended over 17 years, having begun in March 1861, and ceased in November 1878. The total expenditure on survey operations from first to last amounted to Rs. 22,27,875, making an average cost of Rs. 134 per square mile. The annual increase in the revenue, resulting from the operations, is stated to have been Rs. 15,12,003, equivalent to a yearly return of 69 per cent. of the outlay. The settlement was sanctioned for a term of 30 years.

The Melghat has since been subjected to a forest survey, and excellent maps have been prepared of the whole tract; the settlement of this large taluka, where at present land revenue is payable on the yoke of oxen, is now under consideration.

In almost all of the villages of the Wun and Basim Districts, formerly surveyed in blocks, culturable land has been divided off into numbers, classed and assessed, and is now ready to be given out for occupation.

The first settlements introduced in 1862, expired in 1891, and revision operations are now in progress. The old work of measurement and classification having been thoroughly tested and found trustworthy, is being confirmed, and the present operations are confined to corrections, consequent on changes that have occurred during the last 30 years, together with a thorough inspection of boundary-marks. The work consequently proceeds at a very rapid pace, and the cost to Government will be proportionally less. Proposals for the revised assessment in three talukas have been submitted to Government, and now await sanction. The last of the old settlements introduced in 1876 will expire in 1905. The system of settlement being ryotwari, each occupant of land registered on the Government returns stands to the Government in nearly the same relation as a Zemindar in the North-West Provinces; the Patel being the lumberdar. Each registered occupant is at liberty to sublet his land, but any such arrangement is private, and finds no place in the revenue records.

The holder on his own account of a field or survey number, whether an individual or a body of co-sharers or co-occupants, is called the registered occupant. He holds on condition of paying the assessment and other dues. Being in arrears at once renders liable to forfeiture, not only the right of occupancy, but all rights connected with it, viz., those over trees and buildings.

On the other hand, no occupant is bound to hold his land more than one year. If he does not like it, as long as he gives due notice according to the law, i.e., in due form and at a fixed convenient season (so that the land may be available for cultivation to a successor), he is free to relinquish his holding, or any part of it comprising an entire survey number, or recognized portion of a survey number. But he must pay up the revenue for the year. A transfer of occupancy by sale or otherwise is also subject to the same conditions, for it is in effect a relinquishment by the registered holder and an assent by a new comer to take the holding in his place, and the Government is not bound by the transfer till the current year's revenue is paid up. Though the occupant is thus at liberty to diminish his holding according to his own pleasure, he is nevertheless free to maintain it for ever if he chooses. At the close of the 30 years' settlement, he must accept the revised assessment just as in any other Indian Settlement, and if he does not approve of the revised settlement, he may relinquish the land. The occupant of a field or number which is appropriated to agriculture may do anything he pleases in the way of improvement, and may erect farm and agricultural buildings. But he must not apply it to any purpose other than agriculture without the permission of the Deputy Commissioner.

Land tenures.

26. The land tenures of the province may be divided into—

(1) ordinary land tenure,

(2) exceptional tenures.

The ordinary land tenure is by cultivation occupancy. The exceptional tenures are known as jagir, izara and inam. The tenures by cultivation occupancy may be thus classified :—

(a) Registered occupants holding direct from Government, the fields being registered in their names ;

(b) Persons possessing interests similar in kind to those of the registered occupants, and

(c) Tenants.

A registered occupant of a field is known as a khatedar subject to certain restrictions ; the occupant is absolute proprietor of his holding, may sell, let or mortgage it, or any part of it, cultivate it or leave it waste, so long as he pays the assessment.

Co-sharers and co-occupants possess interests similar in kind to those of a khatedar. The term co-sharer is applied with reference to a whole field ; the co-sharer is a partner of the khatedar in a whole field, working with him on the joint stock or co-operative system. The term co-occupant is applied with reference to a part only of a field ; the co-occupant separately cultivates a specific part of a field, in all respects as if he were the khatedar thereof.

A co-sharer is known in Marathi as 'sharakatdar,' 'bhagindar,' 'hissedar,' 'taksimdar,' or 'saodia.' If claiming his share through another co-sharer, and not directly from the khatedar, the prefix 'pot,' e.g., 'pot hissedar,' &c., is used. Two exceptional varieties of co-sharers are known as the 'ang-bhagindar' and the 'bail-bhagindar.' The former gets his share from his personally working in the common field, the latter from supplying bullocks. The latter tenure is, however, rare. The 'ang-bhagindar' tenure is restricted to the less wealthy, whose means do not run to the possession of bullocks. There are three varieties of tenants :—

(a) The tenant paying money rent, (b) the tenant paying rent in kind on the batai system, and (c) the 'pot laonidar,' a tenant at will, who pays rent either in money or in kind, his landlord meeting the revenue demand.

The batai sub-tenure was formerly, and is still, very common in Berar. The usual terms of the batai contract are that the registered occupant pays the rent, making over the land entirely to the sub-tenant, from whom he receives half the produce. The sub-tenant has to find seed, labour, oxen, and all cultivating expenses. Tenures of payment of rent in kind are dying out and becoming replaced by money rent payments, the chief reason being that land has fallen into the hands of classes who do not cultivate, and who are thus obliged to let to others. The money-lenders can now sell up a cultivator living on his field and give a lease for it ; formerly they could hardly have found a tenant.

Jagir tenure.

(3) The term 'jagir' means any rent free holding of one or more whole villages ; almost every jagir title was given by the Delhi Emperor or the Nizam, one or two only by the Peshwa, but not one full grant derives from the Bhonsla Dynasty, which never arrogated to itself that sovereign prerogative. The jagir villages of Berar are 224 in number, and occupy an area of 382,069 acres, or more than one-thirtieth of the province. They occur in every taluka.

Izardár.

(4) The izardar is the lessee of an integral waste village farmed out to him by the Government on a lease which may be granted for any term not extending beyond the next settlement of the taluka in which the village is situated. For the first three years no rent is paid. For the fourth year either one-fifth or one-tenth of the full assessment is paid, according as the village belongs to the first or second class of waste villages. In the fifth year the rent is doubled, in the sixth year trebled, and so on until the full revenue assessment is reached. The object of the lease being to encourage the breaking up of land for cultivation, tracts containing valuable timber are excluded, quarrying or mining is prohibited, special arrangements are made in the lessee's favour in the case of an excess of unculturable land, and special rules are laid down with regard to grazing, the lessee making his own arrangements with his tenants, disputes between them being decided by the Civil Courts. During the currency of the lease, he is patel and patwari of the village, and at its expiry, when the village is liable to be surveyed and to have its assessment revised, the offices of patel and patwari are offered to him, and he is recorded as khatedar of all land then in his own occupation. Such are the rules of 1880 which are now in force, but under the former rules of 1865, the term of lease was limited to 30 years only, and the lessee had the option, on the termination of his lease, of electing proprietary right, and thus constituting the village his property in perpetuity, subject to the payment annually to Government of one-half of a fair assessment, liable to revision every 30 years, upon the whole of the cultivated and culturable area. Many of the izardars whose leases have expired have already availed themselves of this privilege. The total number of izara villages is now 457, of which 398 are situated in the Wun, and 59 in the Basim District.

Inamdar.

(5) The term 'Inam' is applied to fields just as jagir is to villages. Inams were sometimes granted for religious or charitable objects, and were sometimes personal by origin. They are thus described in the Berar Gazetteer (pages 103-4):—

"Grants to religious or charitable institutions by the sovereigns or their deputies are very numerous, none of them date from a time earlier than the 17th century, and most of them are under the seal of Aurangzeb to Muhammadans. Land has been made over rent free for the support of many musjids, Hindu temples, holy places, tombs, dharamsalas (or hospitals) and shrines innumerable. Money payments from certain revenues have been allotted, and the right to collect dues from specified villages. Where the grants were for religious rites, liturgies, or menial services at an institution, they have shown a tendency perceptible even in Christian countries, to merge into personal estates, vesting in an ecclesiastical family or community. The services have become obsolete, and the buildings decayed. These grants or inams are now continued on condition of service and maintenance of buildings. Other grants are personal by origin. It was very common for the Moghal rulers, and for the Mahrattas, while they had power, to make petty allotments of rent free land for the maintenance of persons whose piety, poverty, or learning gave them some claim. Waste land was usually granted, often on a life-tenure only, but a little interest got the rent-free estate continued to heirs; and tenures of this sort are among the oldest in the province. There seems to have been a tacit understanding that grants of this kind, once bestowed, should not lapse."

SECTION V.

Civil Divisions.

27. The districts into which the province is divided and the taluks comprised in each are shown below, together with their respective area, population and revenue:—

SECTION VI.

Details of last Census.

Population.

28. The census was taken on the 26th February 1891, when the population was found to be 2,897,491. The census of 1881 was taken on the 17th February, and the increase of population in the interval of ten years and nine days has been 224,818, or 8·41 per cent. The annual rate of increase has been 8·11 per mille. If the same rate of increase is maintained during the next decade, the population in 1901 will amount to 3,141,240; but the rate of increase during the period preceding the last census from 1867 was 8·50 per mille, and it therefore appears that the annual rate is diminishing. It seems probable that it will continue to diminish as the province gradually approaches its containing limit. The rate of increase at the present time implies a daily increment of about 64 persons, or upwards of 2,000 every month.

Of the actual increase since 1881, it is probable that about 145,000 is due to natural growth or the excess of births over deaths, and about 80,000 to the excess of immigration over emigration. The number of immigrants between 1881 and 1891 has been roughly estimated at 100,000, and the number of emigrants at 20,000.

Density.

29. The number of persons per square mile is 163; in 1881 it was 151. The province generally is more thickly populated than the neighbouring State of Hyderabad, where the density is 140, than the Central Provinces on the east, where the density is 125, and than the Khandesh district of the Bombay Presidency on the west, where it is 134.

The population of each district is as follows:—

Amraoti	...	...	...	655,645
Akola	...	...	...	574,782
Buldana	...	...	...	481,021
Wun	...	...	...	471,613
Basim	...	...	...	398,181
Ellichpur	...	...	...	135,798

The population and density in each taluk is shown in the following table:—

Taluk.		Population.	No. of persons per square mile.	Taluk.		Population.	No. of persons per square mile.
Ellichpur	...	146,215	311·6	Balapur	...	101,673	178·7
Amraoti	...	183,508	273·2	Basim	...	177,250	169·4
Akot	...	137,720	266·4	Mehkar	...	153,046	151·8
Jalgaon	...	97,616	248·9	Chikhli	...	150,098	148·6
Morsi	...	152,374	244·8	Darwha	...	156,580	147·5
Daryapur	...	122,552	242·6	Yeotmal	...	124,429	136·9
Chandur	...	198,106	231·7	Mangrul	...	82,446	129·7
Khamgaon	...	99,785	225·2	Pusad	...	138,485	108·6
Malkapur	...	177,877	224·7	Wun	...	84,678	98·4
Murtizapur	...	121,657	199·3	Kelapur	...	105,926	97·9
Akola	...	137,988	186·7	Melghat	...	47,031	28·5

The first twelve taluks given in the order of density of population in the above table comprise the central plain of the province, and the next nine the hilly region on the south; the last taluk where the population is very sparse is the Melghat, a portion of the Satpura range of mountains on the north. With the exception of Amraoti the most thickly populated taluks are those which lie at the foot of the Satpura range.

Variation in taluks since 1881.

30. In sixteen taluks there has been an increase and in six a diminution of population since 1881. The proportional variation is shown in the following table:—

	Variation per cent. in each taluk.		Variation per cent. in each taluk.
Kelapur ...	+ 34·39	Murtizapur ...	+ 10·02
Darwha ...	+ 17·92	Mangrul ...	+ 8·28
Morsi ...	+ 17·49	Chikhli ...	+ 7·20
Mehkar ...	+ 16·61	Malkapur ...	+ 5·56
Wun ...	+ 16·54	Khamgaon ...	+ 3·75
Chandur ...	+ 15·44	Daryapur ...	+ ·45
Yeotmal ...	+ 15·38	Akola ...	− 1·03
Basim ...	+ 12·40	Ellichpur ...	− 1·23
Amraoti ...	+ 12·27	Akot ...	− 4·53
Pusad ...	+ 10·74	Balapur ...	− 5·15
Melghat ...	+ 10·26	Jalgaon ...	− 7·68

The chief increase has been in the east and south of the province, and the diminution has occurred in the central taluks and those at the foot of the mountains, where, with the exception of Amraoti, the population is most dense.

House accommodation.

31. The number of persons to each occupied house varied in the towns from 4·1 in the Akot taluk to 6 in Mehkar, and in the villages from 4·3 in Akot to 5·9 in Pusad. The most accommodation per head was found in the Akot and Jalgaon taluks, where also the decrease of population was large.

The number of houses per square mile varied from 5 in the Melghat taluk to 68·5 in Ellichpur.

Areality.

32. The areality number of square miles to each inhabited village or town and the mean proximity of villages are given in the following table:—

Taluk.	Number of squaremiles per town and village.	Mean proximity in miles.
Daryapur	2·02	1·53
Ellichpur	2·11	1·56
Akot	2·24	1·61
Murtizapur	2·28	1·62
Jalgaon	2·39	1·66
Akola	2·51	1·70
Amraoti	2·54	1·71
Malkapur	2·65	1·75
Chandur	2·76	1·78
Morsi	2·92	1·84

Khamgaon	3·28	1·95
Balapur	3·36	1·97
Kelapur	3·44	1·99
Chikhli	3·60	2·04
Pusad	4·07	2·17
Melghat	4·98	2·40

Towns.

33. There are 39 places which by reason of population or of a municipal constitution are reckoned towns. A large majority of the towns and larger villages are in the Amraoti district. There are three towns with a population exceeding 20,000, viz., Amraoti 28,946, Ellichpur 26,637, and Akola 21,470. In the taluks of Ellichpur and Amraoti the proportion of urban population exceeds 33 per cent.; Khamgaon has 27 per cent., and Balapur nearly 22 per cent. In the districts of Basim, Buldana and Wun, the urban proportion is small.

Immigration.

34. Of the total population 450,915 or 15·56 per cent. were born outside the province. In 1881 the number of immigrants was 435,933 or 16·31 per cent., and the indigenous population has therefore increased at a higher rate than the foreign element. Of the immigrants, 216,488 were born in the Central Provinces, 110,905 in Hyderabad territory, and 59,805 in the Bombay Presidency. The largest immigration was into the taluks of Chandur, Yeotmal, Wun, Kelapur, Amraoti, Morsi and Pusad. The number of emigrants cannot be exactly stated, but it may be estimated at a little more than 100,000. Among the immigrants males predominate, and females among the emigrants.

Religions.

The following table shows the distribution of the population by religion:—

Religion.	Total.	Percentage on total population.
Hindu	2,531,791	87·37
Musalman	207,681	7·16
Animistic	137,108	4·73
Jain	18,952	·65
Christian	1,359	·046
Parsi	412	·014
Sikh	177	·006
Others	11	·0003

Thirty-six per cent. of the Muhammadans and 32 per cent. of the Jains are found in the towns. The Animistic mostly belong to the Melghat taluk and to the district of Wun. Hindus form a large proportion of the population everywhere except in the Melghat, where they amount to only 18 per cent.

Sexes.

35. Of the sexes the males are in excess, the proportion being 942 females to 1,000 males. In the urban population there are 919 females to 1,000 males and in the rural population the proportion is 945 to 1,000. In districts the least disparity between the sexes is shown in Buldana, where the proportion is 965 to 1,000, and in taluks, Wun shows the highest proportion of females, viz., 977 to 1,000.

The statistics of age show that the returns under this head are very unreliable. Except among the few who are well educated, the age is returned in certain popular figures or round numbers.

Civil condition.

36. Fifty-six per cent. of the males and 58 per cent. of the females are married, and 6 per cent. of the males and 16 per cent. of the females are widowed. Among the chief religions, the highest proportion of married is shown by the Hindus and the lowest by the Muhammadans. Hindus and Jains marry very young, but among Muhammadans and the Animistic the large majority of marriages take place after the sixteenth year. Of the population generally there is an extraordinary paucity of spinsters in comparison with bachelors above the age of nine years. The proportion of widows is highest among the higher castes; out of 1,000 Brahmin females 255 are widows.

Infirmities.

37. The number of the population afflicted with infirmities is given in the following table:—

	Males.	Females.
Insane	280	198
Deaf-mutes...	317	213
Blind	3,380	3,388
Lepers	2,886	812
Total afflicted ...	6,863	4,611

Comparing the returns with those of 1881, the proportions to 100,000 of each sex are as follows:—

	In 1881.		In 1891.
	Males.	Females.	Males.	Females.
Insane	36	26	19	14
Deaf-mutes	104	81	21	15
Blind	330	402	226	241
Lepers	215	60	193	58

The figures for the insane are probably unreliable, and the same may be said of the deaf-mutes in 1881. The proportion of blind persons is not remarkable for India, but that of lepers is high, though there has been some diminution since 1881. Among the local divisions leprosy is conspicuous in the taluk of Mulkapur, where there are 385 of both sexes afflicted. Among castes the Gosawis have high proportions of both blind and lepers.

Education.

38. The statistics of education show that there has been some improvement since 1881. Of 1,000 males there are now 916 against 938 at the preceding census who were entirely illiterate. The Jains are well educated, and Muhammadans are more advanced than Hindus, but the Animistic are supremely illiterate. In the taluks of Amraoti and Ellichpur 1 male in 8 can read and write or is under instruction; in the Melghat 1 in 48. Of those who have a knowledge of English there were in the province 2,493 males and 225 females. Among the castes the Parbhus are the most conspicuous for some education; 76 per cent. of their number are literate or learning, and of the literate 32 per cent. know English.

Languages.

39. Marathi is the mother-tongue of 79·5 per cent. of the total population, but it is scarcely spoken in the Melghat taluk, where the chief language is Korku. In the Ellichpur taluk 18 per cent. of the people speak Urdu; Gondi and Telugu are common in Kelapur.

Castes.

40. The caste index in the census report gives a list of more than 300 main castes, and of more than 3,000 sub-divisions, of which returns were made. The Kunbis are by far the most numerous of all castes, and the Mahars and Malis rank second and third numerically. In the Chikhli taluk Kunbis form 40·6 per cent. of the population; in Kelapur Gonds are most numerous and form 20·3 per cent. of the population; in the Melghat there are very few Kunbis, and Korkus form 67·2 per cent. of the population.

Means of livelihood.

41. The following table shows the proportional distribution per cent. of the population according to occupation or means of livelihood:—

	Total.	Male.	Female.
Class A. Government ...	3·05	3·61	2·47
„ B. Pasture and agriculture	69·76	68·43	71·18
„ C. Personal services ...	2·50	2·60	2·38
„ D. Preparation and supply of material substances	13·88	14·34	13·39
„ E. Commerce, transport and storage ...	2·84	3·31	2·34
„ F. Professions ...	1·38	1·64	1·10
„ G. Indefinite and independent	6·59	6·07	7·14

The distribution of the urban and rural populations is as follows:—

	Urban.	Rural.		Urban.	Rural.
Class A. ...	5·48	2·71	Class E. ...	8·95	1·97
„ B. ...	35·66	74·61	„ F. ...	3·55	1·07
„ C. ...	4·86	2·16	„ G. ...	9·30	6·20
„ D. ...	32·20	11·28

Three-fourths of the rural population it is seen are entirely supported by agriculture, and it is to be noted that this number does not include those who combine agriculture with some other occupation. The proportion of the urban population dependent upon agriculture is also high, but many of the smaller towns are merely overgrown villages of a distinctly rural character.

The following table shows the agricultural element of each district. The figures indicate the number of persons, inclusive of men, women and children, who are dependent upon agriculture out of every 1,000 of the general population of the district:—

	Amraoti.	Akola.	Ellichpur.	Buldana.	Wun.	Basim.

SECTION VII.

Changes in the Administration.

42. No changes occurred in the office of the Resident, the First Assistant Resident and Secretary for Berar and the Second Assistant Resident and Assistant Secretary for Berar, which were held throughout the year by Mr. T. Chichele Plowden, C.S.I., I.C.S., Mr. G. R. Irwin, I.C.S., and Mr. O. V. Bosanquet, I.C.S., respectively. In Berar Colonel K. J. L. Mackenzie, C.I.E., I.S.C., held the office of Commissioner throughout the year, Mr. F. S. Bullock, I.C.S., held the office of Judicial Commissioner up to the 29th March 1893, when he proceeded on furlough, being relieved by Colonel H. C. A. Szczepanski, Deputy Commissioner, 1st Class, who was appointed to officiate for him.

CHAPTER II.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE LAND.

SECTION I.

Survey and Settlement.

43. The work done during the year fell under two heads as in the previous year, viz., the resettlement of the izara villages in the Wun and Kelapur taluks of the Wun district, and revision survey of the remaining Government villages of the Malkapur and Khamgaon taluks of the Buldana and Akola districts respectively. The Assistant Director's party finished 55 izara and 4 Government villages in the Wun district, and the Survey Officer's party 210 Government villages and one jagir village in the Malkapur taluk, and 95 Government and 5 jagir villages in the Khamgaon taluk, being a total of 365 villages for both parties. The following statement shows the work of each party compared with that of the previous year:—

The work of the Assistant Director's party shows a falling-off of 505 numbers and 11,015 acres under measurement, and of 759 numbers and 17,349 acres under classification. During the period before the monsoon in 1891-92, the Yeotmal party consisted of 12 measurers; it was afterwards reduced to 9, which is the present number. The monsoon of 1891 was very late and the men were kept out in the field almost to the beginning of August. The result of this was that there were arrears in the monsoon work, but the field work gained. Thus during April, May, June and the greater part of July, 12 measurers were at work in 1891-92, while in the year under report only nine men were at work for April, May and up to the middle of June at the latest. Under similar circumstances the number of classers was reduced from 4 to 3, and in addition to this one of the three men was so frequently sick that he did very little work during the months of December, January and February; hence the falling-off in the classification area. A total loss of 240 days during the year from sickness largely contributed to reducing the outturn of the party.

Establishment.	Measurement.			Confirmed numbers.			Days spent in training.
	No. of days.	Acres.	Average.	No. of days.	Acres.	Average.
Paid classers and measurers...	379	5,427	14·3	1,069	276,299	258·4	...
Taluka classers.... ...	144	2,269	15·7	346	87,699	253·4	...

Work done during 1891-92...	844	23,371	27·7	567	152,288	268

The taluka classers and munsarims (the indigenous agency of the province) worked exceedingly well, their average of outturn in no way falling short of that of the professional men. Compared with last year, there is a decrease of 360 days under the head of "days spent in training," and considering that eight munsarims have been employed during the year, I think that the number of days under this heading has been reduced as low as possible. The total outturn of work, amounting to 483,493 acres, is a very large one. No comparison can be made with the work done during the previous year, although it is shown in the foregoing table, inasmuch as the return for the year under report is for a full field season of seven months, whereas in the previous year the work done was for only five months, but notwithstanding the longer season the area under measurement is considerably less during the year under report, which is accounted for by the fact that ten villages had to be entirely remeasured last year in order to test the accuracy of the old work.

The test work done by the Assistant Director's party is shown in the following table, and is very satisfactory. The larger portion of the work was done by the nimtandar, as the Assistant Director was absent from the party and was only at work for two months.

Officer.	Measurement.		Boundary-mark inspection.		Classification.

The total test work done by the Survey Officer's party is shown in the following and is very satisfactory. It amounts to 18·1 per cent. on measurement and 7·1 per cent. on boundary marks :—

Officer.	Villages.	Measurement.		Boundary-mark inspection.
		Number of fields.	Area in acres.	Number of fields.	Area in acres.

Total 1891-92 ...	84	205	3,118	745	12,397

The total expenditure incurred on the erection of boundary-marks was Rs. 4,805-5-0, of which Rs. 3,305-5-0 was for Wun and Rs. 1,500 for Basim, Rs. 1,689-2-0 of the total amount expended is recoverable, being the cost of boundary-marks erected in Government villages.

The total work done and the total expenditure during the year under report are contrasted with the figures of the previous year in the following statement :—

SECTION II.

Waste Lands.

44. The following table shows the total number of leased villages, together with their area and rental at the close of the year, compared with the figures of the previous year :—

	Number.		Acreage.		Rental.
	1891-92.	1892-93.	1891-92.	1892-93.	1891-92.	1892-93.

Of the 398 villages shown in the table against the Wun district, 309 are held under the waste land rules of 1865, 48 under the rules of 1876, and 41 under the rules of 1880. In this district eight villages were made khalsa—seven by resumption for non-payment of Government dues, and one was partly purchased, half of it having lapsed to Government. The acreage of the leased villages in the Wun district is 697,453 acres, and the revenue demand is Rs. 72,719. Of the 59 villages in the Basim district, 56 are held under the waste land rules of 1865, one under the rules of 1876, and two under the rules of 1880. The area of the villages is 142,825 acres, and the assessment Rs. 13,972-8-0.

SECTIONS III AND IV.

Wards and Government Estates.

45. There are no wards or Government estates in the province.

CHAPTER III.

PROTECTION.

SECTION I.

Legislating Authority.

46. There are three Legislative Authorities in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts, which are not regarded as part of British India:—

(1) The Imperial Parliament.

(2) The Legislative Council.

(3) The Governor-General in Council.

The Imperial Parliament has not passed any special law for Berar or Beraris. It has only dealt with Berar along with Native States in statutes affecting such states generally. Besides statutes dealing with the powers of the Legislative Council, the following may be mentioned as statutes dealing with Native States and the residents of Native States:—

39 and 40 Victoria, Chapter 46, relating to Slave Trade, 44 and 45 Victoria, Chapter 58, dealing with the Army.

"The general powers of the Legislative Council to legislate for persons beyond the limits of British India rest on the following statutes, namely, 24 and 25 Victoria, Chapter 67, Section 22; 28 Victoria, Chapter 17, Section 1; and 32 and 33 Victoria, Chapter 98, Section 1.

Under them the Council may make Laws and Regulations for:—

(a) Servants of the Government in allied Native States (24 and 25 Victoria, Chapter 67, Section 22);

(b) European British subjects in allied Native States (28 Victoria, Chapter 17, Section 1); and

(c) Native Indian subjects anywhere (32 and 33 Victoria, Chapter 98, Section 1).

In addition to these general powers, the Governor-General in Council is invested with special powers:—

(a) Under the Statute 3 and 4 Will. IV, Chapter 85, Section 73, (saved by 24 and 25 Victoria, Chapter 67, Section 22), to make Articles of War for Her Majesty's Indian Army wheresoever serving; and

(b) Under the Statute 47 and 48 Victoria, Chapter 38, to make laws for all persons employed or serving in or belonging to Her Majesty's Indian Marine service, whose vessels are within the limits of "Indian Waters," as defined in the Statute.

A list of the Acts of the Legislative Council applicable to Native States is given at pages 6, 7 and 8 of Macpherson's Lists of British Enactments in force in Native States—Southern India, from which the above is quoted. That list is brought down to 1888. The following is a list of the Acts applicable to Native States, and affecting the Hyderabad Assigned Districts, passed during the decennial period (1883 to 1892) now under review:—

Number and year of Act.	Subject.
IV of 1883*	Amending Railway Act of 1879.
XIII of 1885	Telegraphs.
II of 1886	Income Tax.
VI of 1886	Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration.
X of 1886	Indian Penal Code Amendment.

* Repealed by Act X of 1890.

Number and year of Act.	Subject.
I of 1887	General clauses.
X of 1887	Native Passenger Ships.
XIV of 1887	Indian Marine.
IV of 1888	Reserve Forces.
I of 1889	Metal Tokens Act so far as it amends the Indian Penal Code.
IV of 1889	Merchandize Marks Act so far as it amends Chapter XVIII of the Indian Penal Code.
II of 1890 *	An Act to amend the Administrator-General's Act, 1874, and other Acts.
IX of 1890	Indian Railways Act, 1890.
XVI of 1890	Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Act, 1886, Amendment.
II of 1891	Christian Marriage Amendment.
X of 1891	Indian Penal Code Amendment.
II of 1892	Christian Marriage Validation.

The Governor-General in Council has, to borrow the words of the preamble to Act XXI of 1879, "power and jurisdiction by treaty, capitulation, agreement, grant, usage, sufferance, and other lawful means within divers places beyond the limits of British India," and the Hyderabad Assigned Districts is one of these places. This power has been recognized by Sections 4 and 5 of that Act, and under this power he (Governor-General in Council) issues orders which constitute what may be called the territorial, as distinguished from the personal, Law of Berar. The Governor-General in Council exercises this power :—

(1) by extending laws enacted by the British Indian Legislatives with or without modifications.

(2) by making special local laws.

Lists of these extended and local laws up to 1888 are given at pages 26 to 54 and pages 55 to 59 of Macpherson's Lists of British Enactments in force in Native States—Southern India.

The following lists show what Acts have been extended and what Local Laws have been passed during the decennial period under review :—

5. The Berar Patel and Patwaris Law, 1886, new Sub-section to Section 8 added (1886).
6. The Hyderabad Assigned Districts Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Law, 1888.
7. The Hyderabad Assigned Districts Courts Law, 1889.
8. The Hyderabad Assigned Districts Small Cause Courts Law, 1889.
9. Addendum to Berar Patel and Patwaris Law (1889), (certain words added after "Hyderabad Assigned Districts").
10. Hyderabad Assigned Districts Courts Law, Section 22-A added (1889) and certain corrections made.
11. Sub-section added to Section 6 of Berar Patel and Patwaris Law, 1886 (1890).
12. Some words added to Section 2 of Berar Patel and Patwaris Law and the word "Deputy Commissioners" defined (1891).
13. The Berar Forest Law Amendment, 1891.
14. The Berar Rural Boards Law, 1885, modified (1892).

A Land Revenue Code for the Hyderabad Assigned Districts based on the Bombay Land Revenue Code has also been drafted and submitted for the consideration of the Governor-General in Council.

There has therefore been considerable legislative activity during the decennial period.

Course of Legislation.

Acts introduced and repealed.

47. The following Acts of the Governor-General in Council were, subject to certain modifications, extended to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the year 1892:—

The provisions of the Repealing and Amending Act (XII of 1891) so far as they affect the Indian Registration Act (III of 1877) as applied to Hyderabad Assigned Districts.

The Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889).

The Indian Treasure Trove Act (VI of 1878).

The following rules were issued by the Governor-General in Council:—

1. The Berar Forest Law Amendment Law, 1891.

2. Rules to regulate Legal Practitioners in the Court of the Judicial Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts, and in Courts subordinate to that Court.

The following rules were issued by the Resident:—

1. Instructions under section 16 of the Indian Merchandise Marks Act, IV of 1889, as applied to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts.

2. Rules under the Agriculturists' Loans Act (XII of 1884).

SECTION II.

Police.

Strength.

48. In consequence of an increase of 5 officers and 24 men during the year, the total sanctioned strength of the police at the close of 1892 stood at 560 officers and 2,349 men, or a total of all ranks of 2,909, including gazetted officers. The rules regarding enlistment were subjected to some alteration during the year, one of the chief features in the revision being the permission granted to District Superintendents to enrol a certain number of men of ascertained good character from the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. This measure removed to some extent the difficulty experienced in previous years of keeping the force up to its full strength. The proportion of police to the area and total population of the province during the year was 1 to every 6·0 square miles and 1 to 997 persons.

Composition and health of the force.

49. Judging from the total number of deaths, viz., 36 against 48 in 1891, the health of the force was better during the year under report. Omitting 44 vacancies at the close of the year, the details of the force according to race or caste and religion were as follows:—

	Officers.	Men.
Christians	13	8
Muhammadans	203	936
Brahmins	174	452
Rajputs	41	206
Sikhs	5	10
Hindus of all other castes	118	699

Conduct and discipline.

50. The conduct and discipline of the force are shown by the following details of rewards and punishments:—

Punishments.

	1891.	1892.
Judicial	38	46
Departmental	381	251
	419	297

Rewards.

	1891.	1892.
By promotion	12	10
By grants of money	46	36

Resignations and entertainments.

51. The total number of men who left the force from all causes was 386, against 378 in the previous year. Of these 72 retired on pension or gratuity, 187 resigned, 63 were dismissed, 26 discharged, 2 deserted, and 36 died. As regards service they were, exclusive of 464 recruits, 1,399 men with service ranging from one year to ten years, and 995 men with service of ten years and upwards.

Equipment.

52. Excluding gazetted officers the number of men provided with firearms was 1,263, with swords only or swords and batons 966, and with batons only 672.

State of crime.

53. The following statement compares the offences of the year under report with those of the previous year:—

	1891.	1892.
Class I.—Offences against the State and public tranquillity	142	105
„ II.—Serious offences against the person ...	330	317
„ III.—Serious offences against person and property or property only	1,396	1,636

Heinous crime.

54. With the exception of murder and grievous hurt there has been a general increase in the forms of serious crime as compared with the previous year. Although murders and cases of grievous hurt decreased by 12 and 23 respectively, there were five more cases of dakaiti and four of robbery, while house-breaking and thefts increased by 248 and 330 respectively.

Theft.

55. The following figures show the number of thefts classified according to the value of property stolen:—

SECTION III.

Criminal Justice.

Tribunals.

59. In addition to the Courts of the Judicial Commissioner and Sessions Judge, the following Courts exercised jurisdiction in Berar under the operation of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts Courts Law of 1889 :—

6 Deputy Commissioners with powers under section 30 of the Criminal Procedure Code.
21 First Class Magistrates.
22 Second Class Magistrates.
10 Third Class Magistrates.
15 Special Magistrates.
2 Benches of Magistrates.

76 Total

Besides the above Courts, the Superintendents of Police in the cantonments of Hingoli, Aurungabad, Jalna and Mominabad in the dominions of His Highness the Nizam, have been invested with the second class magisterial powers, and their Courts have been placed under the control of the Judicial Commissioner during the past year for the first time.

60. The table below shows the number of offences reported during the past two years and the manner of their disposal :— Amount of crime.

Years.	Offences reported.	Cases dismissed under Section 203, Criminal Procedure Code.		Cases struck off as false.		Cases returned as true.		Cases brought to trial.
		No.	Per cent.	No.	Per cent.	No.	Per cent.	No.	Per cent.
1891 ...	18,724	3,094	16·5	978	5·2	14,652	78·3	12,306	55·7
1892 ..	19,137	2,986	15·6	964	5·04	15,187	79·3	12,292	64·2

The number of offences reported increased by 413 or 2·2 per cent. during the year under review. The increase is due to normal fluctuations, and, perhaps also to high prices of grain and consequent distress among the poorer classes, in some of the districts in Berar.

There was only a decrease of 14 cases in the number of offences struck off the register. The number of cases dismissed under section 203, Criminal Procedure Code, shows a decrease of 108, while that returned as true shows an increase of 535 over that of the preceding year. The above figures indicate that the measures taken to impress on District Magistrates the necessity of insisting upon an adequate examination into the truth of complaints by all Magistrates vested with the power of taking cognizance of offences on complaint have worked well.

61. The subjoined table compares the various classes of offences returned as true during the past two years :— Classification of offences.

The following statement compares the various classes of offences returned as true during the year 1892 in the Hyderabad Contingent stations :—

Kind of offences.	No. of offences.
Offences against public tranquillity ...	... 2
Do. relating to weights and measures ...	... 1
Do. affecting the human body ...	... 27
Do. against property	... 38
Do. not included in the above ...	... 5
Do. under special and local laws ...	... 65
Total	... 138

The feature in the year's criminal returns is the increase of offences against property, which is marked. It consists mainly of petty thefts and may be traced to the reported rise in prices of food-grains which occurred in most districts. Offences against the human body also show a considerable rise, but are generally of a petty character. The slight falling-off in offences against public tranquillity is accounted by the opening of the civil courts to disputes between landlords and tenants in the izara villages.

Persons brought to trial.

62. The total number of persons under trial during the year, including the number pending at the close of last year, was 22,239 as compared with 21,202 in 1891. Of these 22,015, or 99 per cent., were disposed of as under :—

Died, &c.	726 or 3·3 per cent.
Discharged or acquitted	12,186 or 54·8 do.
Convicted	8,806 or 39·6 do.
Committed or referred	297 or 1·5 do.

The result for the Hyderabad Contingent stations is as enumerated below :—

Died, &c.	12 or 4·7 per cent.
Discharged or acquitted	84 or 32·7 do.
Convicted	161 or 62·6 do.

Average duration.

64. The average duration of the cases disposed of by Magistrates of all denominations for the year under report was 7·5 against 6·3 in the previous year.

Special jurisdiction of Deputy Commissioners.

65. The number of cases disposed of by Deputy Commissioner, in exercise of their enhanced powers under section 30 of the Criminal Procedure Code has fallen from 64 to 48 in the year under report. The total number of persons concerned in these was 119, of whom 27 were convicted and the rest were acquitted or discharged.

Summary trials.

66. The number of summary trials has risen by 66, and the number of persons tried by 166.

Trials of European British subjects.

67. Three European British subjects were tried last year. In one case a railway guard was charged with having tampered with a parcel and removed therefrom currency notes of the value of Rs. 600, and was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 500. The appellate court upheld the sentence of imprisonment, but reduced the fine to Rs. 100. In the other two cases the accused were tried for criminal force and assault. In one case the trial resulted in the offender being convicted and in the other in the acquittal of the accused.

Details of punishments.

68. The table below shows the total number of punishments inflicted by the various classes of Courts :—

Class of tribunals.	Year.	Total No of persons punished.	Person sentenced to						Persons ordered to find or give security or recognizance to keep the peace or sureties for good behaviour.	Persons imprisoned in default of security for good behaviour.

Fines.

69. The number of persons fined was 7,573, and of this number 98·3 per cent. were fined in sums less than Rs. 50, while in the previous year the number of persons fined was 7,624. The total amount of fines imposed rose from Rs. 63,165 to Rs. 70,880. The total sum realized was Rs. 61,459, of which Rs. 4,274 was paid by way of compensation.

The figures for the military stations show the total amount of fines imposed by those Courts to be Rs. 786, of which Rs. 732 were realized. The amount paid as compensation was Rs. 55.

Witnesses.

70. The following table shows particulars as to witnesses who attended the Criminal Courts during the past two years :—

	1891.		1892.
	No.	Percentage.	No.	Percentage.
Discharged after 1st day's attendance	33,537	79·1	32,516	76·5

Detained for more than 3 days	889	2·1	846	2·0
Total ...	42,374	100·	42,479	100·

The number of witnesses who attended the Courts of the Hyderabad Contingent stations during the year was 435. Of these 391 were discharged on the first day of their appearance and 44 were allowed to go unexamined.

Sessions Court.

71. There were 98 cases involving 242 persons during the year under report, as compared with 71 cases involving 129 persons in 1891, disposed of. The increase of the work may be judged by the number of witnesses who were examined in 1892, which was double that of 1891, and by the fact that the actual number of days spent in trying sessions cases in 1892 was 140, as compared with 80 days in the preceding year.

The following statement shows the number of persons dealt with by the Sessions Court during the two years 1891 and 1892 :—

Year.	Persons disposed of.	Persons acquitted.		Persons convicted.		Died, escaped or transferred.
		Number.	Percentage.	Number.	Percentage.	Number.	Percentage.
1892 ...	242	133	55·0	109	45·0	...	...

There were only two cases involving two persons that were left pending at the close of the year. The percentage of acquittals is 55 as compared with 27·9 in 1891, and of convictions 45 as compared with 68·2. The result of trials in the Sessions Court is not satisfactory when 133 persons out of 242 are acquitted. The higher percentage of acquittals and the low percentage of convictions are explained by the Sessions Judge to be due to "the unnecessary committals of 16 persons in the Mominabad cases, 11 persons in Pangra dakaiti (Buldana), 11 persons in the Dhanora bigamy case (Akola), 11 persons in the Sasti dakaiti (Akola), and 10 in the Saorgaon dakaiti (Akola). Most of these cases were committed only on uncorroborated confessions of an accused person. All these were big cases and all ended in acquittal."

All cases were tried with the aid of assessors, except 6 in which a plea of guilty was recorded. The Judge agreed with the assessors in 85 cases, and in 5 cases differed from one assessor, and in only two cases differed from both. No European British subject was tried by the Court of Sessions. The average duration of cases rose from 47·2 to 58 days, chiefly owing to a remand in the Mominabad cases, which took a long time. The Sessions Judge had 13 confirmation cases as compared with 26 in 1891.

Appeals.

72. The following table shows the appellate work in the Courts of the Judicial Commissioner, the Sessions Judge and of Deputy Commissioners:—

Courts.	Appeals for disposal, including pending.		Appeals disposed of.		Pending.
	1891.	1892.	1891.	1892.	1891.	1892.
Judicial Commissioner's Court	106	91	105	90	1	1
Civil and Sessions Judge's Court	238	210	216	202	22	8
Deputy Commissioners' Courts	388	445	384	435	4	10
Total ...	732	746	705	727	27	19

The percentage of confirmations and rejections was 74·4 as compared with 89·2 in last year. In the Sessions Court the percentage of confirmations and rejections was 71·3 as compared with 73·7 in 1891, the total number of appeals being 202 as compared with 216 in the preceding year. The average duration of appeals was 20·9 days for the province against 26·6 in 1891.

SECTION IV.

Jails.

Jail population.

73. The total jail population at the opening of the year was 1,104 against 864 in the previous year. The total number of admissions was 2,827, compared with 2,805 in 1891, while the direct admissions were 1,524 against 1,329. The daily average strength of all prisoners rose from 990·78 to 1151·87.

At the close of 1890, there were 864 prisoners in jail. Thus in two years the population has risen by 333 or by 38·5 per cent., or taking the daily average population it was 895 in 1890, 990·7 in 1891 and 1151·6 in 1892, an increase of 256·6 or 28·6 per cent. for the two years, and of 16·2 per cent. for 1892 over 1891.

No. of convicts and their disposal.

74. Excluding under-trial and civil prisoners, the following figures show the number of convicts and their disposal:—

Remained at the end of 1891	1,022
Received from other jails	261
Imprisoned during the year	1,524
Total ...	2,807

These were disposed of as follows—

Transferred to other jails	228
Released on appeal	140
Released on expiry of sentence	1,116
Released under remission rules	121
Released by order of Government	Nil.
Escaped	Nil.
Executed	5
Died	20
Remained at the end of the year	1,147

Classification of convicts

75. The daily average strength of the convict population rose from 922·81 to 1089·02. Of those admitted during the year 1,430 were males and 94·06 females. One was a European and 4 were native Christians, 231 were Muhammadans, 1,287 were Hindus and Sikhs, and one was a Jain. There were 11 convicts under 16 years, 1,270 between the ages of 16 and 40 years, 217 between 40 and 60, and 17 above the age of 60. Of the female convicts, 69 were married, 3 unmarried, 20 were widows, and 3 prostitutes.

Previous occupation of convicts.

76. The following figures show the occupations followed by the male convicts previous to their admission into jail:—

	1891.	1892.
Persons employed under Government or municipal or other local bodies	73	84
Professional persons	2	8
Persons in service or performing personal offices ...	161	159
Persons engaged in agriculture or with animals ...	669	828
Persons engaged in trade or commerce	118	132
Persons employed in mechanical arts, manufactures and engineering operations, &c.	77	89
Miscellaneous operations not otherwise classed ...	138	130
	1,238	1,430

Nature and length of sentence.

77. The following are details regarding the nature and length of sentence of the convicts during the past two years:—

	1891.	1892.
Very short sentences—Not exceeding 1 month ...	382	513
Short sentences—Above 1 and not exceeding 3 months.	219	268
Medium sentences—Above 3 months and not exceeding 2 years	512	597
Long sentences—Above 2 years (not including death sentences)	232	140

In addition to the foregoing, 6 persons were sentenced to death.

Previous convictions.

78. Of the convicts admitted into jail during the year, 180 had been convicted previously to their admission into jail compared with 228 in the previous year. Of this number, 98 were convicted once, 36 twice, and 45 more than twice. Of 11 convicts admitted during the year, only one had been previously convicted.

Escapes and recaptures.

79. One was Lingah, a Secunderabad convict, who escaped from the Amraoti Jail on the 18th July 1891. He was recaptured by the Secunderabad Cantonment Police on 6th January 1892.

Offences and punishments.

80. The number of breaches of jail rules rose from 492 in 1891 to 660 during the year under report. Fifteen of these were dealt with by the magistracy and the remainder departmentally.

Education of convicts.

81. Of the convicts admitted into the jails and subsidiary jails during the year, 92 could read and write, 83 could read only, while 1,349 were illiterate. Only one female could read and write, the remaining 93 being illiterate.

Convict officers.

82. Out of a total of 104 convicts employed as prison officers, 97 were males and 7 females, against 106 and 5 respectively in the previous year. Fifty-nine males and one female were reduced of this number or otherwise punished, against 60 males in the previous year.

Mark system.

83. The working of the mark system continued to be satisfactory, 121 convicts being released during the year with remissions awarded under it. The maximum remission gained by any one convict was 484 days.

Occupation of convicts.

84. The following figures show the average number of convicts kept to labour on working days and details as to their employment, &c., as compared with the previous year:—

	1891.	1892.
Employed under Government or municipalities ...	73	84
Professional persons...	2	8
Persons in service	161	159
Engaged in agriculture or with animals	669	828
Engaged in commerce or trade	118	132
Engaged in mechanical arts, manufactures, &c. ...	77	89
Miscellaneous not otherwise classed	138	130
Total ...	1,238	1,430

Manufactures.

85. The special forms of industry in the two central jails at Amraoti and Akola are in the former lithographing forms for public departments, and in the latter weaving and dyeing police uniform material.

The figures below show the results of jail manufactures for the past three years:—

	1890. Rs. a. p.	1891. Rs. a. p.	1892. Rs. a. p.
Total cash earnings ...	17,576 2 0	12,800 7 0	4,712 2 0
Average earnings per head sentenced to labour ...	20 9 0	14 1 0	4 5 0
Average earnings per head employed on manufacture..	65 10 0	37 15 0	9 14 0

The large fall in the average earnings per head is accounted for by the lithographic department having worked at a cash loss when the cost of tools and plant is included, and by the high prices of indigo which prevailed during the year.

Health.

86. The following statistics show the state of health of the prisoners for the past three years:—

		1890.	1891.	1892.
Daily average strength		894·1	989·2	1150·6

Warder guard system.

88. The reserve warder guard system was introduced into all the jails during the year and worked satisfactorily. Military pensioners or discharged sepoys of short service have for the most part been secured for the guards. All are commanded by men with military training.

Outbreak in the Akola Jail.

89. An unfortunate occurrence has to be reported this year, viz., an outbreak of life convicts in the Akola Jail, which took place in the evening of the 11th July 1892 at the time of locking-up. There was an unusual collection of life-convicts in the jail at the time awaiting transportation. Most of them were dangerous characters from Hyderabad territory, convicted of border dakaiti, and belonged to tribes who lead an open-air life, and to whom the idea of incarceration for life would be hateful beyond measure. There was laxity on the part of the convict-warder and of the paid establishment in securing the gates in the wards and the main passage. The convicts by a pre-arrangement made a rush for the main gate, but were driven back by the guard of the Hyderabad Contingent, who fired on them. They then possessed themselves of tools and dug through the wall, but having been heard these were met there also. As soon as 20 men could be got together, the Deputy Commissioner, the District Superintendent of Police, and the Inspector-General entered the jail, and after some difficulty suppressed the outbreak. Three prisoners were killed and seven more wounded, of whom one died subsequently.

SECTION V.

Civil Justice.

Tribunals.

90. The number of Courts actually open at the close of the year 1892, as compared with those open at the close of 1891, is given in the following table :—

Average duration.

96. The average duration of contested cases has slightly risen from 114·7 to 119·8 days, and of uncontested cases from 51·4 to 58·7.

Execution of decrees.

97. The total number of applications for execution of decrees was 29,278 against 27,785 in the previous year. Of this number the Courts disposed of 24,155 or 82·5 per cent. The results of the two years compared are as under :—

	Percentage. 1892.	1891.
Completely executed	15·4	15·8
Partially executed	12·2	10·8
Struck off without execution ...	67·9	62·0
Transferred	4·5	11·4

In 3,716 cases satisfaction was obtained in full
„ 2,945 do do do in part.
„ 16,405 cases the applications were wholly infructuous.
1,089 applications were transferred, and 5,123 were pending at the close of the year.

The total value of decrees executed during the year was Rs. 2,93,643-5-9 against Rs. 2,77,238-0-0 in the previous year. Of this Rs. 9,670-8-9 were paid voluntarily and Rs. 2,83,972-13-0 were realized by coercive process. The proportion released voluntarily is for the province 3 per cent. of the whole.

In 63 per cent. of the 1,502 cases in which moveable property was attached, sale followed. Immoveable property was attached in 557 instances, but subsequently realized. There were 999 sales of such property.

Including two remaining from last year, there were 79 civil debtors in prison during the year. Of these 77 were released during the year and two were remaining at its close.

98. There were 36 applications under chapter XX of Act XIV of 1882 for a declaration of insolvency against 26 in the previous year. Only seven applications were granted as against eight in 1891. No penal proceedings were taken under section 355 of the Civil Procedure Code. Insolvency.

99. The total amount of court and process fees amounted to Rs. 4,12,643 in the year under report as against Rs. 3,41,384-14-0 in the preceding year Court and process fees.

100. The statement appended below shows the work of the appellate courts during the year :— Appellate work.

Class of appellate tribunals.		Balance of 1891.	Instituted in 1892.	Received otherwise.	Total for disposal.	Total disposed of omitting transfers.	Total pending.
Chief Appellate Court of Districts.	Appeals from decrees...	87	253	21	361	213	130

	Miscellaneous cases ...	104	189	3	296	261	35

The average duration of regular appeals for the province has risen from 192·7 to 245·3. In the Judicial Commissioner's Court the average durations were 269·2 in regular appeals and 162·6 in miscellaneous as against 347 and 236·6 in the preceding year. In the Civil and Sessions Judge's Court the average duration has risen from 148·6 to 264·6 in regular appeals, and from 120·1 to 162·6 in miscellaneous appeals.

101. The Cantonment Courts in the Hyderabad Contingent stations of Aurangabad, Jalna, Mominabad and Hingoli have been placed under the control of the Judicial Commissioner during the past year for the first time. Cantonment Courts.

The number of suits instituted during the year in these Courts was 314 as specified below :—

Aurangabad	164
Jalna	73
Mominabad	17
Hingoli	60

The following are the results of cases contested in the different Courts:—

Court.	Judgment for plaintiff.	Judgment for defendant.
Aurungabad	47	17
Mominabad	2	...
Hingoli	22	9

The total value of the suits disposed of in 1892 amounted to Rs. 17,999-6-3, and the average value is Rs. 68-15-5. The average cost of each suit comes to Rs. 4-15-0. Of the 47 applications for execution of decrees, 34 were disposed of during the year, 20 were completely executed, 11 were partially executed, and in 3 no execution was effected. The total income of these Courts arising from court and process fees amounted to Rs. 2,387-6-8.

SECTION VI.

Registration.

Number of offices.

102. The report submitted by the Inspector-General at the close of the year under report, being the full report ordered to be submitted at the end of every three years, a comparison of the results of the working of the Registration Department for the triennial period, from 1st April 1890 to 31st March 1893, is now made. No change of any importance occurred during this period, except that three entirely new offices were opened, and two rural sub-registrars, who were remunerated by a commission on fee receipts, were replaced by salaried men.

Registration work.

103. Steady progress has been made in the work of registration on the whole during the last nine years, as shown in the following table :—

Years.	Compulsory.	Optional.		Wills, &c.	Total registrations.
		Immoveable.	Moveable.
1884-85 ...	16,800	6,007	2,196	46	25,049
1885-86 ...	17,717	6,698	2,156	61	26,638
1886-87 ...	17,017	6,008	1,195	68	25,082
1887-88 ...	18,089	6,152	1,962	87	26,290
1888-89 ...	19,679	6,411	1,988	73	28,151
1889-90 ...	23,234	6,499	1,932	101	31,766
1890-91 ...	21,519	4,812	1,845	113	28,289
1891-92 ...	22,129	4,762	1,840	137	28,868
1892-93 ...	24,081	5,028	1,937	116	31,162

This will be easily observed if the foregoing statistics are divided into triennial periods as follows :—

Triennial periods.	Compulsory.	Optional.		Wills, &c.	Total registrations.
		Immoveable	Moveable.
1st—1884-85 to 1886-87 ...	17,171	6,237	2,115	58	25,589
2nd—1887-88 to 1889-90 ...	20,334	6,354	1,960	87	28,735
3rd—1890-91 to 1892-93 ...	22,576	4,867	1,874	122	29,439

The number of compulsory registrations in 1892-93 was larger than in the previous year. In 1889-90 there was a very large and sudden growth in compulsory registration followed by a reaction ; but the figures of 1892-93 have overtopped those of the abnormal year 1889-90.

The aggregate value of property transferred by registration has risen from Rs. 77,58,336 to Rs. 92,14,049, being an increase of 18·7 per cent. while the rate of increase in the number of documents registered in the same period was only 10·1 per cent. The following statement shows the number and value of each class of instrument registered in the province during the past three years :—

SECTION VIII.

Local Boards.

Constitution.

108. With the exception of the Wun district and the Melghat taluk of the Ellichpur district, the Rural Boards Law was in force throughout the whole of the province. The Law was, however, applied to the Wun district with effect from the 1st April 1893. So that during the ensuing year the Melghat taluk will be the only tract in Berar in which the Law is not in operation. By the amendment of certain provisions of the Law certain areas, which were not under its operation previously, merged during the year under report into the area subject to the authority of the District Boards. The number of Boards working during the year was the same as in the preceding year, viz., of Taluk Boards 17 and of District Boards 5. The area subject to the authority of the District Boards was 12155·5 square miles against 12,128 square miles in the preceding year. The increase is due to the amendment of the Law as explained above. The population within the area subject to the authority of the Boards is 2,228,841 souls.

Elections.

109. There were 299 candidates for 72 vacancies in the Taluk Boards, or an average of four candidates for each vacancy. The number of persons entitled to vote was 2,564; but of this number only 3,739 or 14·56 actually voted.

Income.

100. The year opened with a balance in hand of Rs. 7,46,446. The income of the year from the different sources, as shown below, amounted to Rs. 3,19,985, making a total at the disposal of the District Boards of Rs. 10,66,431 :—

	Rs.
I.—Land revenue	3,080
VI.—Provincial rates	1,53,143
XII.—Interest	788
XIII.—Post office	16
XVII.—Police	22
XIX.—Education	69,219
XXI.—Scientific and other minor departments ...	1,474
XXV.—Miscellaneous	7,608
XXXII.—Civil Works	6,893
Contributions	71,953
Debt	5,789
Total ...	3,19,985

The closing balance of 1891-92 was Rs. 3,39,098, whereas the opening balance of 1892-93 is shown to have amounted to Rs. 7,46,446. The difference is due to—(1) the inclusion in the opening balance of the aggregate balances at the credit of local committees, which ceased to exist from the 1st April 1892; (2) to some portion of the moneys payable to the District Fund under section 22, sub-section (1), clauses b, c, d, e, f and k, not having been transferred to the credit of the District Fund in the accounts of the year at the time when the district reports for 1891-92 were submitted; and (3) to the working balance of the Jaglia and Local Cess having been transferred on 1st April 1892 to the credit of the Board in pursuance of the directions in Comptroller's Circular No. XLVI (L.F.D.), dated 4th March 1892.

As regards the receipts as detailed above it may be stated that they do not include the money payable to the District Fund under section 22, sub-section (1), clauses b, c, d, f and k, of the Berar Rural Boards Law, as the moneys payable to the District Fund has not been communicated to the Deputy Commissioners in time.

Expenditure.

111. The following table shows particulars of the expenditure incurred during the year by the District Boards :—

	Rs.
Post Office.
District post establishment	6,052
Mail cart service	2,160
Administration.
Office establishment	21,615
Office contingencies	3,307

CHAPTER IV.

PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION.

SECTION I.

Agriculture.

Area of the Province.

113. The following table shows the distribution of the area of the province, omitting the Melghat taluk, for the past three years :—

	1891-92.	1892-93.	Difference.
1. Number of villages ...	6,680	6,680	...
2. Total area in acres ...	10,296,226	10,296,347	+ 121
3. Area not included in any survey number, such as village site, tanks, rivers, &c. ...	200,826	200,905	+ 79
4. Area demarcated as State-forests ...	370,387	371,488	+ 1,101
5. Do. babul-buns	15,749	15,751	+ 2
6. Do. ramnas ...	34,064	35,389	+ 1,325
7. Do. other district reserved forest ...	187,359	217,386	+ 30,027
8. Fields assigned for free grazing ...	704,858	700,247	— 4,611
9. Do. for village purposes...	56,190	56,377	+ 187
10. Unculturable lands not included in any of the foregoing	698,741	625,921	— 72,820
11. Balance assessed and available for cultivation ...	8,028,052	8,072,883	+ 44,831
12. Occupied	7,635,595	7,659,046	+ 23,451
13. Not occupied	392,457	413,837	+ 21,380

There was an increase of four khalsa villages, one of demarcated State-forests, and three of integral waste villages, while villages, leased under the waste land rules, decreased by eight. The total number of villages remained the same.

Land Records and Agriculture.

114. The work of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture fell under two heads, viz., (1) the re-settlement of the izara villages in the Wun and Kelapur taluks of the Wun district, and (2) the revision survey of the remaining Government villages of the Mulkapur taluk of the Buldana district and of some villages of the Khamgaon taluk of the Akola district. In both directions fair progress was made. Details of the work done will be found in Chapter II, Section I, of this Report.

Cultivated area.

115. The total area assessed and available for cultivation rose from 8,028,052 in 1891-92 to 8,072,883 acres in the year under report, showing a net increase of 44,831 acres. The area occupied was 7,659,046 acres and that not occupied 413,837 acres showing an increase of 23,451 and 21,380 acres respectively. The area shown as unculturable land decreased by 72,820 acres owing to transfer in the Wun district of 1,264 acres to "demarcated State-forests," of 449 acres to "ramnas," of 26,095 acres to "other district forest reserves," 6,685 acres to "occupied" land, of 31,586 to culturable, and of 6,742 from parampok to cultivation in izaraa palamput villages. The total area under crop rose from 6,665,008 to 6,805,091 acres, an increase of 140,083 acres. The area under kharif rose from 4,956,245 to 4,975,492 acres and that under rabi from 1,684,706 to 1,808,063 acres, while the area "under grass" and "others" fell from 1,049,090 and 24,057 to 938,530 and 21,536 acres respectively.

116. The acreage under each of the principal kinds of crop is shown in the following table and compared with the figures of the previous year :— Crops cultivated.

	1891-92.		1892-93.
	Area.	Proportion.	Area.	Proportion.

Total ...	6,292,978	...	6,478,152	...

117. The area under irrigation rose from 43,316 to 43,448 acres, while that under rice fell from 22,023 to 18 acres. The wide difference in the figures for rice is due apparently to all rice whether grown as a rain weather crop or not being included under irrigation in previous years. Irrigation.

SECTION II.

Weather and Crops.

118. The total rainfall for the whole province was 59·31 inches, or 16·50 inches higher than the quinquennial average. The rains set in very late in June; nevertheless the fall in that month was only 88 cents. below the quinquennial average. In July the rainfall was about normal, but in August and September the excess over the quinquennial average amounted to nearly 13 inches, and in October to nearly 2 inches. During the months from November to March, the total rainfall was 6·91 inches against the quinquennial average of 4·6. Owing to the monsoons having begun late, sowing operations were considerably retarded; and later on, after the rains had set in, weeding operations could not be proceeded with, owing to continuous rain. The consequence was that the kharif crops suffered to a greater or less extent. Rivers were flooded, and the fields on their banks were damaged. Rainfall.

119. The rainfall during the months from November to March was also unusually heavy, and this, added to occasional hail storms in different parts of the province, caused considerable damage to the rabi crops, and also to a portion of the kharif that had been harvested. Effects of the rainfall.

120. The average price of wheat was 12 seers and 5 chataks per rupee and 7 chataks less than in the preceding year. The average price of jowari, the staple food, rose from 21 seers 13 chataks to 17 seers and 6 chataks. In 1890 this grain sold at 26 seers and 3 chataks. Gram per rupee sold for 13 seers and 14 chataks and rice at 8 seers and 5 chataks against 15 seers and 8 seers and 10 chataks respectively in the preceding year. The average labor wage rates during Prices of produce and labour.

the year were: skilled 0-12-3; unskilled 0-3-11; cart and bullock 0-14-0; camels each 0-12-10; donkeys per score 3-10-6; bullocks per pair 0-10-8. In the Akola district the wages of skilled labor fell from 14 annas to 12 annas. In the Amraoti district the hire of a cart and pair of bullocks rose from 12 annas to 1 rupee and in the Akola district it fell from 1 rupee to 14 annas. The hire of camels fell by 7 annas per camel in Amraoti and 8 annas per camel in Akola. Donkeys per score were obtainable in the Amraoti district at a lower rate by 6 annas and the rate for bullocks per pair was 2 annas higher in Amraoti and 1 anna less in Basim.

Agricultural stock

121. No details are given regarding the agricultural stock of the province as the figures are not susceptible of check.

Veterinary.

122. Since the late Veterinary Superintendent of Berar left the province in September 1890, this department was without a professional head, the work being entrusted to an Assistant Commissioner who carried on the duties of the office. On the 29th November 1892, Veterinary Captain Short was appointed Superintendent of the Veterinary Department for the Central Provinces and Berar, but as the time has been too limited to admit of any correct details of the work done being obtained, none are given here.

Horse breeding.

123. The total number of mares covered during the year was 151 against 228 in the previous year.

Takavi.

124. The total amount advanced under the land improvement rose from Rs. 30,980 in 1891-92 to Rs. 39,225 during the year under report; of this Rs. 10,500 were advanced for the construction of wells.

SECTION III.

SECTION IV.

Forests.

126. No change occurred in the staff of the Forest Department, which was the same as in the previous year. Staff.

127. The following two tables show the distribution of the forest area during the year under report. The alterations are mainly due to the Berar Forest Law of 1886 having been brought into force with effect from the 15th of June 1892, which involved changes in classification:— Forest area.

	On 1st April 1892.	Added during year.	Excluded during year.	On 30th June 1893.
	Sq. m.	Sq. m.	Sq. m.	Sq. m.

The forests in Berar now are:—

	Acres.	Square miles.	Percentage of area of Berar.
State forests "A" reserved for timber and fuel ...	846,738	1,322	7·5
" B " " fodder and thatching grass.	40,652	63	0·3
" C " " pasture	1,023,301	1,598	9·0
" D " temporarily pending settlement.	800,253	1,250	7·1
Total ...	2,710,944	4,233	23·9

128. The boundaries of the class A State-forests, where they do not follow features like rivers or roads, &c., are as a rule demarcated by cut lines and stone boundary-marks with a post bearing a serial number, but in some of the later reservations (as noted last year) a 30-50 feet line has been cut and the settlement field marks have been maintained. The aggregate length of these boundaries is 1,011 miles, and Rs. 807 were spent on new work and Rs. 426 on repairs. The boundaries are reported as in good order, and the erection of numbered stone-pillars is being pushed on in Wun and Akola. The B State-forests are generally demarcated by cut lines and settlement field marks; the latter being repaired by the lessees, the former by direct agency, at a cost during the year of Rs. 249. These boundaries are reported as in good order. The "C" State-forests are demarcated by settlement field marks only, and somewhat less than one-fourth of the marks were repaired during the year at a cost of about Rs. 1,247. A scheme for maintaining the boundaries of "C" State-forests by contracts with the headmen of the villages concerned is nearly completed for all divisions. Boundaries.

129. Breaches of the Forest Law rose from 373 in 1891-92 to 928 during the year under report. Of this number 319 were prosecuted and 605 compounded. Prosecutions.

Fire protection.

130. The results of fire protection for the past two years are shown below :—

Berar Forest Law.

131. The Berar Forest Law of 1886 is now in full operation and the old classification has now been abandoned.

Working Plans.

132. At the beginning of the year 915 square miles of State-forests now in class C were managed under Working Plans. Working Plans dealing with 12 square miles of "A" forests have been approved of during the year, and the preparation of Working Plans for "A" forests 889 square miles and "C" forests 60 square miles have been begun, leaving about 2,207 square miles of forests of all classes as yet untouched. Rs. 216 is the special charge on account of Working Plans. The Working Plans have been greatly delayed and their preparation complicated by the want of proper maps. The provisions of the plans in force were carried into effect, but it is noted that it will be necessary to revise the statement of fellings in the Buldana C forest which form three working circles (total area 295 square miles), so as to provide for the wants of the main towns and also insure a sale for the outturn. In Wun the working is well reported on. In Basim the extreme poverty of the area open to felling during the year is the main feature mentioned.

Grazing.

133. The grazing has been regulated as follows :—

		Square miles.	Total.
State-forest A.	(1) Closed to grazing ...	1,138
	(2) Open for the rainy season ...	106
	(3) Open whole year save to browsers	78
		——	1,322
State-forest B.	(4) Closed to grazing ...	...	63
State-forest C and D.	(5) Closed to grazing ...	14
	(6) Open to grazing ...	2,834

The total amount of grazing fees realized was Rs. 1,69,753, being at the rate of Rs. 0-1-4 per acre.

Natural reproduction.

134. Natural reproduction shows a marked advance, particularly in the Bairagarh and Gugamal Reserves of the Ellichpur Division, where continuous protection from fire and grazing have been extended to forests of class A. The growth where the soil is good is rapidly improving; but where, as in the Chirod Forest of Amraoti, "light grazing" has been allowed for a succession of years, the ten years of nominal protection has done no good.

Cultural operations.

135. The period reported on covers two seasons for sowing, and it is noted that 3,557 acres have been operated on with an expenditure of Rs. 1,520 or roughly 7 annas an acre. It is too early to report on the result of these operations, though the only areas of 1892 visited did not in August 1893 promise success. Rs. 864 were spent on nurseries in Wun, which are doing well, and Rs. 480 in petty cultural operations in the Melghat, planting up compounds, maintaining nurseries for trees, and on the Ellichpur date plantation, &c., all of which are doing well.

Communications and buildings.

136. During the fifteen months in the year under report the charges on the above compare as follows with those of the previous year :—

	1891-92. Rs.	1892-93. Rs.
Roads	14,324	24,632
Buildings	4,450	18,219
Wells and other works ...	... 275	2,344

showing a very satisfactory increase in all three of these most important branches of work.

The outturn of work during these years was—

			1891-92.	1892-93.
Cart roads, new ...	Miles	...	32	44
	Rupees	...	9,358	18,110
Do. repaired.	Miles	...	326	385
	Rupees	...	4,966	6,023
New buildings ...	Number	...	6	31
	Rupees	...	757	13,697
Repairs to buildings	Number	...	67	85
	Rupees	...	3,893	4,522
New wells ...	Number	...	...	9
	Rupees	...	...	1,170
Miscellaneous ...	Rupees	...	275	1,174

The outturn of road work was larger than in any previous year.

The Western Gugumal road, 16 miles, and Kuapati and Chopan roads in Bairagarh, 17 miles, run through very difficult country, which fully accounts for the increased cost per mile.

Yield and working.

137. The following figures contrast the outturn of the financial year 1891-92 with that of the forest year, i.e., July to June 1892-93 (a comparison which is sound as subtracting the abnormal months April to June 1892, when cholera was prevalent in the Melghat. The results are :—

Financial results.

138. The revenue of the year (15 months) was realized as follows :—

	1891-92, 12 months.	1892-93. 15 months.	1892-93. Increase.	1892-93. Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

Miscellaneous sources	612	2,743	2,131	...
Total ...	5,11,185	5,38,509	30,270	2,946

Allowing for the period during which it was collected, the revenue fell off under every head. It is satisfactory to observe that at the close of the year the revenue from timber and bamboos was steadily rising as compared with the same period in 1892.

139. The expenditure of the year contrasts as follows with that of 1891-92:—

Mines and Quarries.

SECTION VI.

Manufactures.

141. The manufactures of the province are, as stated in the previous report, chiefly confined to twist and yarn, coarse cotton cloth and petty unskilled handicrafts. Silk weaving is carried on at Kholapur in the Amraoti district, where pitambars are woven and edgings of silk to native cloths are made in some places. Cotton carpets are woven at Akola and Ellichpur; saries, turbans khadis, and blankets are manufactured in several parts of the province; khadi of different textures and colors are woven at Ellichpur and Wun. Nut-crackers are made at Deulghat in the Buldana district.

Besides the cotton weaving mill at Badnera and two oil mills, one at Amraoti and the other at Shegaon, the cotton presses and ginning factories worked by steam power are by far the most important industries in the province. The mill at Badnera produced 995,862 lbs. of twist and yarn and 912,217 lbs. of cloth, against 999,683 lbs. and 918,734 lbs., respectively, in the preceding year, showing a decrease of 3,821 lbs. under the former and an increase of 6,517 lbs. under the latter. The number of persons employed in the mill during the year under report was 770, as compared with 925 in the previous year. Besides meeting local wants, the produce was exported chiefly to the Bombay Presidency, Central Provinces, and the Nizam's territory.

Oil mills.—The oil mill at Amraoti turned out 13,205 gallons of oil and 1,143 tons of oil-cakes, while the Shegaon oil mill extracted 77,059 gallons of oil and 706 tons of calla.

There are altogether 28 cotton presses and 58 ginning factories as against 27 and 48 respectively of 1891-92, under the management of private firms and joint stock companies.

SECTION VII.

Trade.

Registration.

142. No change took place in the registration arrangements for the year, the annual returns for the rail-borne trade being furnished as usual by the Examiner of Guaranteed Railway Accounts, Bombay. The registration of the road-borne trade, which was discontinued in 1886, was resumed under the orders of the Government of India, and the work was commenced in 1891 and ten selected nakas were established on the borders of the Central Provinces.

Rail-borne Trade.

Total trade.

143. The total traffic of the year is contrasted with that of the previous year and the average of five previous years is given in the following statement :—

Description of trade.	Quantity in maunds.			Value in rupees.
	Average of five years ending 1891-92.	1891-92.	1892-93.	Average of five years ending 1891-92.	1891-92.	1892-93.

The volume of trade was 21·8 per cent. below that of previous year, and 4·6 per cent. less than the average; in value there has been a fall of only 10 per cent. on the previous year's figures, whilst the total value is still 5 per cent. below the average. The total trade is made up of 46·2 per cent. of imports and 53·8 per cent. of exports. The diminution in volume is due chiefly to a falling-off in the exports, which are 30 and 10 per cent. respectively less than those of the previous year and the average; the imports have also fallen by 7·6 per cent., but are 3·2 per cent. above the average. The decrease in the value of imports compared with last year and the average amounts to 5·8 per cent. and 3·3 per cent. respectively. The fall in the value was mainly due to a decrease in the imports of jute and provisions. The value of the exports has also fallen off by 13·2 per cent. and 6·5 per cent. respectively, and was almost entirely due to the decrease in the export of cotton and grain.

External trade.

144. The following table shows the total import and export trade of Berar with the adjoining provinces during the year 1892-93, as compared with that of the preceding year and the average :—

Imports.

145. The Berar trade is almost entirely confined to the Bombay Presidency and the Central Provinces. 77 per cent. of the exports are to Bombay, whilst Berar receives 40 per cent. of its imports from the same port or presidency. The Central Provinces are responsible for 48 per cent. of the Berar imports and the export trade with those provinces has also developed, and now amounts to 18 per cent. of the total exports. The imports from the Central Provinces are still above those from the Bombay Presidency. Trade in imports with the North-Western Provinces and Oudh has increased, and that with Bengal has developed considerably and now reaches almost 5 per cent. of the whole; this is doubtless due to the opening up of direct communication by rail.

There has been a considerable decrease in the imports owing to smaller consumption in presses and ginning factories. The cotton crop was a short one, and the general depression of trade affected the working of the mills. A further falling-off in the import of rice from the Central Provinces accounts for the slight decrease under this head. There has been an increase of 20,000 maunds in the import of kerosine oil, which is the only item of importance of the kind. The variations in the other articles of trade are small and do not call for comment

Export.

146. The following table shows the export trade of the province for the past two years:—

The unfavorableness of the season had a marked effect on the cotton crop, and has caused a large decrease in the exports. The season too was marked by more serious and rapid fluctuations in prices than any since the years of the American war. Owing to the large American crop of 1891-92 having depressed prices at home, rupee prices at the commencement of the season were unusually low and remained so until rumours arrived of the smallness of the American crop of 1892-93. The rise that then set in continued until the prolonged strike in Lancashire checked the demand, when a small decline was established. Contrary to expectation, rates continued to fall, and the depressed state of the market owing to the fall in the value of silver effectually barred business during the hot weather. The exports in grain and pulse have dropped to the average figure; the abnormal rise that took place in the trade of grain in the previous year owing to scarcity in other provinces could not, of course, be maintained. In oil-seeds also there is a large falling-off in the total amount exported owing to the unfavorable season. The variations under other articles are small and unimportant. Generally then the trade of the year was chiefly remarkable for the large decrease in exports owing to the unfavorableness of the season.

Road-borne trade.

147. The total trade amounts to 240,737 maunds of imports, and 359,694 maunds of exports. The chief trade was in the articles shown in the following table :—

	Imports, (Maunds.)	Exports. (Maunds.)
Cotton	31,893	46,996
Grain and pulse	72,465	59,768
Oil-seeds	30,677	224,666

Cotton was chiefly exported at Pardi, a village situated about 18 miles from the large market of Hinganghat. The chief item in the import of grain was rice, of which we received 48,058 maunds. Among oil-seeds, by far the largest trade was in linseed, the export of this article alone amounting to 149,290 maunds. The import of salt was considerable, 45,277 maunds.

The total expenditure for the registration of the rail and road-borne trade of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the year under report amount to Rs. 5,129-10-6, as shown below :—

SECTION VIII.

Public Works.

Total expenditure.

148. The total expenditure from all sources on public works in the Hyderabad Administration during the year under review amounted to Rs. 18,16,967, as noted below :—

	Rs.
Imperial Civil Works	26,308
Provincial Services	12,11,770
Incorporated Local Funds	3,46,349
Excluded Local Funds	41,566
Khamgaon State Railway	34,640

IMPERIAL CIVIL WORKS.

Imperial Civil Works.

149. The total budget grant for the year was Rs. 37,400; the expenditure amounted to Rs. 26,308.

The following table shows the final grants compared with the expenditure:—

Heads.	Final grant. Rs.	Expenditure Rs.
Original works	18,050	17,318

Establishment	6,925	6,103
Tools and plant	425	398
Suspense	...	—8,704
Total ...	37,400	26,308

The short expenditure is chiefly due to the erection of the new court-house at the Hyderabad Residency having been postponed and to a small extent to savings on works.

The expenditure on original works and repairs, classified under different departments, is shown below:—

	Original Works. Rs.	Repairs. Rs.
Residences for Administration and Secretariat Offices	13,908	8,401
Post Offices	1,362	2,573

Works provided for in budget.

Item No. 1.—Enlarging the offices at the Hyderabad Residency. This work, for which an estimate amounting to Rs. 19,935 was sanctioned in May 1891, was completed during the year at a total cost of Rs. 18,966, of which two-thirds were debitable to provincial revenues.

Item No. 2.—Constructing a new court-house at the Hyderabad Residency. No expenditure was incurred on this work, it being subsequently decided to retain the existing court-house for the present, owing to the cost of a new building being much more than had been originally contemplated. The money provided in budget was otherwise utilized as far as possible.

The following works were completed during the year, viz.:—

	Estimate. Rs.	Total cost. Rs.
Providing pigeon hole almirahs in Civil Office, Hyderabad Residency (two-thirds debitable to provincial revenues)	1,465	1,380
Draining the compound of the Hyderabad Residency	1,184	1,118

21. Surplus	12,19,902	...	12,19,902	8,11,599	...	8,11,599

Omitting excluded local funds, items 8 and 19, the surplus of the year under review was Rs. 7,74,562 as compared with a surplus of Rs. 11,84,297 of the previous year.

The year under review is the fourteenth in which the system has been in force of assigning a certain percentage of the provincial revenues to the Resident for Civil, Public Works and Railway expenditure. The proportion for the first four years was 54 per cent., and thereafter up to 1886-87, 52 per cent. This was subsequently reduced to 50 per cent. for a period of five years commencing from the year 1887-88, but as this percentage was found insufficient, the Government of India, on the representation of the Resident, increased the assignment of revenue from 50 to 51 per cent. with effect from 1889-90 to 1891-92—vide Department of Finance and Commerce Resolution No. 4347, dated 26th August 1889. On further consideration, and with reference to the transactions of previous years, the percentage was fixed at 50 per cent. for five years beginning with the year 1892-93. Vide Government of India Financial Department No. 4391-A, dated 27th October 1892.

The balance at credit of the Resident under the new contract scheme, on the 31st March 1893, was Rs. 9,06,798 as shown below:—

REVENUE AND RECEIPTS.

The variations under revenue and receipt heads are explained below:—

A.—Principal Heads of Revenue.

I.—Land Revenue.

Below the estimate ... ... Rs. 2,87,482
Do. actuals of 1891-92 ... ... „ 1,37,240

Minor heads.	1891-92.	1892-93.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Ordinary revenue	63,81,648	62,39,518	...	1,42,130
Miscellaneous	18,110	19,918	1,808	...
Miscellaneous (local) ...	...	3,082	3,082	...
Total ...	63,99,758	62,62,518	4,890	1,42,130

The decrease in 1892-93 is nominal, and chiefly due to circumstances which have thrown a portion of collections to the succeeding year.

II.—Opium.

Below the estimate ... ... Rs. 17,395
Do. actuals of 1891-92 ... ... „ 5,377

Minor heads.	1891-92.	1892-93.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Opium pass fees ...	1,87,950	1,82,350	...	5,600
Miscellaneous	32	255	223	...
Total ...	1,87,982	1,82,605	223	5,600

The revenue under this head represents the duty levied by the Opium Agent at Malwa on opium imported to Berar, also the recovery in Berar of certain small sums on account of fines. The falling off was due to the quantity of opium imported in 1892-93 being less than that imported in 1891-92.

IV.—Stamps.

Better than the estimate ... ... Rs. 70,946
Do. actuals of 1891-92 ... „ 53,999

Minor heads.	1891-92.	1892-93.	Increase	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Sale of general stamps	3,51,738	3,45,899	...	5,839

Miscellaneous	54	116	62	...

The increase, as compared with the actuals of 1891-92, principally occurs under sale of court fee stamps, and is apparently due to the increase in Civil Litigation.

V.—Excise.

Do. actuals of 1891-92 ... ... „ 1,24,155

Minor heads.	1891-92.	1892-93.	Increase.	Decrease.

Total ...	16,90,390	15,66,235	620	1,24,775

The decrease is apparently due (1) to the introduction of the revised system of Excise Administration into the Ellichpur district, and the Sadar taluk of the Amraoti district, which has probably affected the bids for country spirits in other districts also, and (2) to the security of the contractor for the Ellichpur district and for the Sadar taluk of the Amraoti district having been given in Government promissory notes instead of in cash.

The increase under the heads "fees, fines and forfeitures, provincial" and local, is chiefly due to the inclusion of cattle pound receipts under this head which were hitherto credited to excluded local funds. These receipts are now credited to police in accordance with the procedure followed in other provinces; the decrease under the head miscellaneous, provincial, is due to larger quantity of stores having been returned to the Bombay Arsenal by the Berar Police during 1891-92 than in the year 1892-93.

The exceptionally large decrease in 1892-93, as compared with the actuals of 1891-92, occurs under the head 10. Ordnance Establishments, &c., and is on account of return during the latter year of the Snider rifles of Infantry Regiments, Hyderabad Contingent, their value being credited in the accounts of that year.

ADJUSTING HEADS.

Credit Adjustments.

Provincial.

Contributions from Local to Provincial.

These represent contributions towards the cost of executing certain public works of provincial importance in which, however, local funds are interested. The transactions are necessarily of a very fluctuating nature, being dependent upon the public works undertaken. There must of necessity be considerable variations between the accounts of different years.

Local.

Contributions from Provincial to Local.

The principal item under this head is the provincial contribution towards the cost of primary education. This does not vary to any appreciable extent from year to year. The difference between the accounts of the two years is due to an account adjustment made in 1891-92 in connection with the reconstitution of the road cess fund, and consists of the transfer of the opening balance of this fund from provincial to local in the accounts of that year.

DISBURSEMENTS.

The charges for 1892-93 aggregate Rs. 99,82,596, as against Rs. 98,07,962 for the previous year, resulting in a net increase of Rs. 1,74,634, as shown in the following statement:—

Net increase ...	...	...	...	...	...	...	1,74,634

Under civil expenditure the principal increases and the heads under which they occur are as follows:—

Heads of account.	Rs.	Remarks.
11. Forest	30,865	Due chiefly to remunerative expenditure on tool, roads, buildings and wells, also to works of improvement and in the establishment charges, &c.
18. General Administration...	20,788	Chiefly under general establishment, local, due partly to inclusion under this head of Deputy Commissioner's local fund establishment charges which were hitherto debited incorrectly to land revenue and partly to the share of the local boards establishment chargeable to town and bazaar cess funds having been for the first time from 1891-92 treated as a part of district fund charge.
19-A. Law and Justice—Courts of Law ...	10,813	Due chiefly to the creation of the new appointment of Cantonment Magistrate, Jalna and Aurangabad, during the latter portion of 1891-92.
19-B. Law and Justice—Jails	19,879	Due to the revision of the jail warder establishment with effect from 1st July 1892, and to the increase in the cost of rations caused partly by an increase in the jail population and partly by higher prices of food grains. There was also a larger purchase of raw materials for manufactures.
20. Police	63,155	Partly due to the cattle pound charges debited to this head for the first time from 1892-93 in accordance with the procedure followed in the other provinces instead of debiting to town fund as hitherto, and partly to the addition to the police force and the revision of the grading and pay of inspectors.
22. Education	34,636	Mainly due to the inclusion of the charges of the taluka fee fund which were formerly kept outside the Government accounts; also to increase in grants-in-aid.
24. Medical	9,394	Due to the inclusion of the local fund expenditure on account of hospitals and dispensaries (local), which was formerly met from excluded local funds; also to purchase of tents for Sanitary Commissioner.

Head of account.	Rs.	Remarks.
29. Superannuation Allowances and Pensions ...	28,631	Due to additions to the pension establishment.
30. Stationery and Printing..	11,633	Due to a larger supply of stationery obtained from the Superintendent of Stationery, Bombay, by the Residency Press, Hyderabad, and the Jail Press at Amraoti.
32. Miscellaneous ...	73,235	Due to the district board charges being treated as incorporated local funds charges from 1892-93; also to increase in charges on account of loss by exchange on local transactions, a fluctuating head dependent upon the rate of exchange.
45. Civil Works ...	2,41,437	The increase is under provincial as well as local; in the former case it is due to certain new works undertaken during the year, and in the latter to several excluded local funds having merged into the district fund which is an incorporated local fund

ARMY—HYDERABAD CONTINGENT.

The following comparison gives the detail of the increase and decrease in the military expenditure during the year 1892-93 as compared with 1891-92 :—

Total ...	37,84,243	36,15,975	1,88,126	3,56,394

(a) Inclusive of Rs. 8,284 being invalid pensions of Europeans formerly shown under Grant 18.
(b) Exclusive of Rs. 8,284—vide remark above.

Grant 1.—Army and Garrison Staff. Increase Rs. 6,115.

The difference is chiefly under salaries of Station Staff, and is due to the additional cost of the appointment of the Station Staff Officer, Bolarum, which has been raised from 2nd to the 1st class with effect from 1st January 1892.

Grant 3.—Regimental Pay, Allowances and Charges. Increase Rs. 9,268.

The increase under this grant is chiefly due to the squadron, wing and contract allowances having been drawn during 1891-92 from 1st April, while in 1892-93 for the whole year, and Regimental mess allowances in 1891-92 from 1st August, while in 1892-93 from 1st March 1892 and is also due to the reliefs of Infantry Regiments, Hyderabad Contingent, having taken place during 1892-93, when hutting money and marching batta were drawn for the troops.

Grant 4.—Commissariat Establishments. Increase Rs. 87,826.

The increase under this grant chiefly occurs under compensation for dearness of provisions and gram due to the rise in the prices of articles, and under cost of cutting and carting grass due to the adjustment of arrear charges of previous years, and also under purchase of animals due to the purchase of a certain number of Regimental Transport ponies for corps of the Hyderabad Contingent during 1892-93.

Grant 5.—Stud and Remount Establishments. Increase Rs. 16,770.

During 1892-93, a larger number of remounts than in the year 1891-92 were purchased.

Grant 6.—Clothing Establishments. Decrease Rs. 44,172.

During 1892-93, troops of the Hyderabad Contingent received no clothing hence the decrease.

Grant 9.—Medical Establishments Increase Rs. 5,765.

The increase of Rs. 5,765 is principally under pay of medical subordinates, extra medical charges and cost of medicines and medical stores obtained on indent, and is due to increase of pay to a senior apothecary promoted to 1st grade and extra medical charges during Infantry reliefs, and to a larger supply of medical stores than in previous years having been obtained during 1892-93 for hospitals, Hyderabad Contingent, under sanction of the Principal Medical Officer, Hyderabad Contingent.

Grant 10.—Ordnance Establishments. Decrease Rs. 3,08,918.

The decrease of Rs. 3,08,918 under Ordnance Establishment is attributable to the supply of new arms (Martini-Henry) and ammunition during 1891-92 to certain Infantry Regiments, Hyderabad Contingent.

Grant 14.—Miscellaneous. Increase Rs. 3,608.

The increase under this grant occurs under camp of exercise. Rs. 12,065 were adjusted in 1892-93 against Rs. 3,426 in 1891-92. In 1891-92 charges for mess allowance and contingencies, Station Staff, were adjusted under this grant, while in 1892-93 under Regimental Pay allowances and charges. There has been a less expenditure in 1892-93 under travelling allowances of officers than in previous year. Hence the net increase of Rs. 3,608.

Grant 16.—Rewards for Military Services. Decrease Rs. 879.

The increase in 1891-92 is due to the payment in that year of arrears of allowances to the members of the Order of British India, while in 1892-93 only ordinary payments were made.

Grant 18.—Military Pensions to Natives. Increase Rs. 17,724.

The excess expenditure is due to the net increase to the pension list.

Grant 19.—Widows Pension. Decrease Rs. 2,416.

Prior to May 1892 pensions of widows were paid in sterling converted at the yearly rate of exchange, and from May 1892 they have again been fixed in rupees. Hence the decrease in 1892-93.

Revenue and Finance other than Provincial.

f. Inclusive of Rs. 1,007 transferred to the District Fund, the same being the balance at debit of the Civil Station Fund at the close of 1891-92.

Withdrawal of surplus cash balance.

171. The surplus cash balance of the Berar Treasuries for the season 1893 was originally estimated at Rs. 64,80,000. The actual surplus, however, exceeded the estimate by Rs. 3,17,000, as it was subsequently found feasible to transfer this sum. The whole surplus aggregating Rs. 67,97,000 was paid into the branches of the Bank of Bombay at Akola and Amraoti for transfer free of remittance charge to Bombay to credit of the Hyderabad Administration, in accordance with the Bank's agreement.

The amounts transferred thus are as follows:—

CHAPTER VI.

VITAL STATISTICS AND MEDICAL RELIEF.

SECTION I.

Births and Deaths.

System of registration.

175. There was no change in the system of registration, which remained the same as in previous years.

Births.

176. The total number of births registered in the province, excluding the Melghat, during the year was 113,640 or 8,115 less than in the previous year. The proportion of births to population was 39·9 per thousand of the population compared with 428 in the previous year. There was a decrease of births in all the districts except Akola, in which the rate stood at 43·7, being the highest in the province; while the lowest rate was in Basim and Wun, being 36·5 and 33·1 respectively. Among the population of the town and rural circles the birth-rate was 37·9 and 35·6 respectively, as compared with 40·5 and 43·1 in 1891 and 36·1 and 39·1 the mean for the previous five years.

Still-births.

177. The number of still-births registered was 4,774 compared with 5,213 in 1891. Of these there were 2,798 males and 1,976 females, or 141 male to every 100 female still-births.

Deaths.

178. The total number of deaths registered in the province was 82,124 or 33,434 less than in the previous year. This is ascribed to the healthiness of the year under report, there having been less cases of cholera and bowel-complaints. Of the total number of deaths 43,507 were males and 38,617 females, being in the ratio of 112 males to every 100 females. The mortality among males was greater in every district than amongst females. The death-rate in proportion to population was 28·8 per 1,000 as compared with 40·6 in the previous year and 35·4 the mean of the previous five years. The death-rate in districts ranged from 33·2 in Ellichpur to 24·0 in Wun, the rate in the latter having been abnormally low. The mortality rate for towns was 29·8 compared with 28·8 for rural circles. The highest mortality was in March, April, September and October, and the lowest in May, June, July. The greatest mortality was among infants under one year, in which the average death-rate was 241·8 per 1,000, while among children under five years the average rate was 59·8. The period of greatest immunity was between the age of ten and under fifteen, the rate being 6·3 per 1,000. At the age of sixty and upwards the mortality was 73·3 per 1,000. From ten and under forty the female deaths exceeded those of males, while at all other ages the male deaths predominated.

The following table shows the number of deaths registered according to class and the ratio per 1,000 of population during the past two years;—

Class.	1891.			1892.
	Population.	Deaths registered.	Deaths per 1,000 of population.	Population.	Deaths registered.	Deaths per 1,000 of population.
Hindus	2,516,494	103,845	41·2	2,516,494	72,518	28·6

The statement below compares the number of deaths registered from different causes during the year under report with the figures for 1891 and the mean for the past ten years:—

Causes of death.	Mean for 10 years.		1891.		1892.

SECTION II.

Immigration and Emigration.

179. There are no means available for obtaining accurate statistics relating to immigration and emigration. But the Deputy Commissioner, Akola, reports that in his district a register is kept in each village, wherein are shown the persons who come into and who leave the village. The Deputy Commissioner, Wun, reports that at the close of the year there was a steady outflow, particularly of the lower classes, from the Wun and Kelapur taluks. Most of these were, I understand, inhabitants of the izara villages. The pressure of the times was too much for them and they went. As to immigration, the Deputy Commissioner, Akola, says that there is scarcely a village, however small, which does not attract up-country men, who, crowded out from the north-west, earn livelihood as field watchmen and laborers.

SECTION III.

Medical Relief.

Civil Hospitals.

Civil hospitals.

180. There are eight State hospitals, one at each head-quarter station and at Chikalda and Kulumkher, wholly supported by Government. These institutions are for the benefit of Government servants, but the general public are not refused either medical aid or medicines if applied for.

Medical staff.

181. The medical staff of the province remained the same as in the previous year.

Patients treated.

182. The total number of both in and out-door patients treated at the civil hospitals rose from 42,081 in 1890 to 44,378 in 1891 and 47,776 in the year under report, being an increase of 3,398. The attendance of out-door patients increased during the past two years in all the hospitals. This uniformity however did not occur among the in-door patients comparing the number treated. Taking the total however the number of in-patients has been increasing year by year. The number treated in 1890 was 1,926; in 1891, 2,077, an increase of 151; and in 1892, 2,090, an increase of 13. The daily average attendance of in-patients was 60·73, while accommodation was available for 135 beds. Against a total number of 2,090 in-patients treated there were 42 deaths, or a ratio of 2·01 per cent. of the total treated, against 2·88 in the previous year. A large proportion of the deaths however were due to patients being brought in at the last stage, or about the last stage of the disease they suffered from.

Of the total number of patients treated, 27,052 were men, 6,514 were women and 14,210 children. Of these 698 were Europeans, 1,181 Eurasians, 27,200 Hindus, 15,517 Muhammadans and 3,180 other classes.

Diseases treated.

183. A summary of the chief diseases treated for three years is given below. The diseases for the year under report are entered in order of greatest prevalence.

	1892.	1891.	1890.
Malarial fevers ...	10,099	8,731	9,861
Worms	3,736	3,423	3,295
Ulcers	3,512	3,334	3,169
Diseases of the eye ...	3,018	3,361	2,513
Diseases of the skin ...	2,686	2,876	2,752
Dyspepsia ...	1,534	1,665	1,567
Rheumatic affections	1,222	1,080	816
Diseases of the ear...	1,206	990	939
Diarrhœa ...	1,178	1,200	870
Diseases of the connective tissues ...	1,170	1,064	846
Diseases of the nervous system ...	1,008	1,029	945
Dysentery ...	895	1,218	1,022
Debility	774	639	496
Cholera	370	206	1

The first six diseases, with one exception in 1890, when the admission for eye diseases ranked fifth instead of fourth, were constant in greatest order of prevalence. Rheumatism, diseases of the ear, of the connective tissue and nervous system, and debility and cholera, rose in numbers yearly. Compared with 1891, there was a decrease in eye and skin diseases, dyspepsia, diarrhœa, diseases of the nervous system, and dysentery; and an increase under the other heads of disease. Fevers give the largest increase and the largest number of admissions. The unusually heavy rainfall during the year 1892 no doubt favoured the prevalence of fever of malarial origin.

Operations.

184. The number of major operations increased from 79 in 1890 to 153 in 1891 and 174 in 1892. The number of minor operations rose from 1,427 in 1890 to 1822 in 1,891 and 2,253 in 1892.

Charitable Dispensaries.

186. The year opened and closed with a total of 36 charitable dispensaries. There was no change also as regards their classification. No. of charitable dispensaries.

187. The total number of patients treated rose from 235,189 in 1890 to 238,373 in 1891, and to 248,315 in the year under report. In-patients increased from 1,149 in 1890 to 1,460 in 1891, and to 1,768 in 1892. There were in all 163 beds available for this class of patients; the daily number occupied was 49. Out-patients rose from 234,040 in 1890 to 236,913 in 1891 and to 246,547 in 1892. Of the total number of patients treated 115,573 were men, 39,265 women and 93,477 children, or a daily average attendance of 813,296 and 629 respectively, as compared with 746,277 and 608 in 1891. The ratio per cent. of total daily average attendance was men 47, women 17 and children 36, against 46, 17 and 37 respectively in the previous year. Female attendance was, as usual, the highest at Mehkar, and in 11 dispensaries it exceeded the average, Mehkar heading the list with 42, followed by Risod with 23, the next highest. The lowest percentage, 7, was at Chandur Bazar. Patients treated.

188. The following abstract compares the principal diseases treated in 1891 and 1892 in order of highest prevalence :— Diseases treated.

The difference between the closing balance of 1891, and the opening balance of 1892 is due to the absorption of balances into the municipal funds of Akola, Khamgaon, Akot and Amraoti.

SECTION IV.

Sanitation.

191. The total income of all the municipalities was Rs. 2,22,152, of which 61·1 per cent. was expended on sanitary works, as compared with 48·6 per cent. in the previous year. Much attention was paid to conservancy in all municipalities, the expenditure under this head amounting to 23·8 per cent. of income, and ranged from 88·7 per cent. in Ellichpur to 13·3 per cent. at Akola. As regards sanitation in districts, the sanitary works executed by the Public Works Department and in progress are shown below:—

SECTION V.

Vaccination.

Staff.

192. The vaccination establishment was increased by two vaccinators, both for the Melghat.

Lanoline paste.

193. The year's work was started by the use of lanoline paste, which was manufactured at Amraoti and supplied to all the vaccinators, since which nothing but calf lymph has been used.

Work done.

194. The following table shows the total number of vaccine operations performed in the province for the past three years:—

* Dispensary vaccination transferred to special establishment since July 1892.

There was an increase of 752 primary operations in 1891-92, and 3,371 in 1892-93. Re-vaccinations increased by 13,942 in 1891-92 and by 13,655 in the year under report. The following table shows percentages of results obtained by the special vaccination establishment compared for three years :—

	Results in primary vaccination, percentage of operations.			Results in re-vaccination, percentage of operations.			Results in total operations, percentage.

The cause of the lower percentage of success both in primary and re-vaccination in the year under report is due to the late rains in autumn and also to the heavy rains in January and March,

Cost.

195 The total expenditure on vaccination, and the cost per head of each successful case, compared for the past three years, are shown below :—

Years.	Total expenditure.	Total successfully vaccinated.	Average cost of each successful case.

1892-93	17,234 7 10	107,251	0 2 7

Attitude of the people.

196 There is little or no opposition to primary vaccination in any part of the province. What little there is, is mostly in the municipal towns among the Marwaris and Muhammadans. Even the inhabitants of the Melghat are not now opposed to vaccination.

CHAPTER VII.

INSTRUCTION.

SECTION I.

General System of Public Instruction.

Controlling agencies.

197. In 1862, a few Marathi and Anglo-Marathi schools were established in Berar and placed under the district officers, and in 1866 a department of public instruction was organized under the control of a Director, who was to be assisted by an officer called Educational Inspector. The latter appointment wa , however, kept in abeyance for some time, and in its stead four Deputy Educational Inspectors, one for each of the four districts into which the province was then divided, were appointed, and on the formation of two new districts in 1868 their number was increased to six. Two European Inspectors were appointed, one in 1867 and the other in 1868 ; but in 1873 a Bombay Civilian was appointed Educational Inspector for the whole province on progressive pay, the minimum being equal to the sum of the salaries of the two former Inspectors. In 1874 a Muhammadan gentleman was appointed Deputy Educational Inspector for the Hindustani schools in the province. The number of primary schools and the work of inspection having much increased, two Sub-Deputy Educational Inspectors were subsequently appointed, one in 1885 and the other in 1890.

After the death of Dr. Sinclair, the first Director of Public Instruction, in 1875, the department was placed under a native gentleman, and the supervising agency now consists exclusively of native officers, viz., a Director of Public Instruction, an Educational Inspector, seven Deputy Educational Inspectors, and two Sub-Deputy Educational Inspectors.

The Director of Public Instruction exercises a general supervision over all the educational institutions and operations of the province, makes all appointments of places above Rs 10, except those of gazetted officers and some other higher officers, viz., the Head Masters of high schools, Deputy Educational Inspectors, and Principal Training College, whose appointments are sanctioned by the Resident and published in the Residency Orders. The appointments of teachers on 10 rupees and under are made by the Educational Inspector in Anglo-Vernacular schools, and by the District or Municipal Boards in primary schools under the general control of the Director. The Director prescribes studies for schools of all classes with the approval of the Resident, prepares budget-estimates of the provincial grant, and controls expenditure under all the heads. He examines the high schools and the training college, which are immediately under him, with the assistance of other officers in the department, and inspects as many of the middle and primary schools in the province as he can. He is assisted in these inspections by the Educational Inspector, who acts under his direct orders, and who is in special charge of the Middle or Anglo-Vernacular schools. The District Boards have direct control over the primary schools in all places except some municipal towns, viz., Akola, Khamgaon, Amraoti and Ellichpur. The District Boards and the Municipal Committees of the towns above mentioned are assisted by Deputy Inspectors, who examine the schools according to the standards and conduct the ordinary correspondence regarding them. All correspondence with the Director of Public Instruction regarding the management of these schools, and all instructions for the guidance of the Deputy Inspectors pass through the Deputy Commissioners or District Boards, though the Deputy Inspectors do correspond direct with the Director on miscellaneous subjects, such as accounts, bills, indents, &c. In the work of inspection the Deputy Educational Inspectors of Akola, Buldana, and Amraoti Districts are assisted by the Sub-Deputy Educational Inspectors.

To promote among the people a more active interest in the cause of public instruction, school committees were formed in 1874, and now all Vernacular and some Anglo-Vernacular schools have committees, each consisting of a president and (at least) two members. Their business is to exercise a general supervision over the affairs of the school, and to try and make it popular. The interest taken and the assistance given by these committees are increasing day by day.

Public schools under public management.

198. No college has yet been established in Berar, as the province has hitherto been considered too small to feed such an institution, but there are scholarships tenable in the arts and science colleges of the Bombay Presidency by candidates from the Berar high schools, who obtain the highest number (not less than 40 per cent.) of marks at the Bombay matriculation examination. The high schools at Akola and Amraoti stand at the head of the educational scheme, and are maintained from provincial revenues. In each of these institutions the pupils are taught a four years' high school course ending with matriculation. Below the high schools are 24 middle or Anglo-Vernacular schools, which foster the rising demand for instruction in English at the principal towns, and feed the lowest classes of the high schools. These institutions also are supported from provincial revenues. Some of them teach merely three years' middle school course, and are purely middle class schools. To others are attached primary classes in which the pupils complete a course of four years in their vernacular tongue, and are then taught English. To some of these institutions temporary high school classes are attached when the people pay in advance one year's full salary of a teacher fully qualified to teach the highest standard of the middle school course. At the basis of the system come the primary vernacular or village schools, the main object of which is to impart sound elementary instruction in the vernacular. For maintaining and extending such schools, a cess originally of one per cent., but afterwards increased to 3 pies or $\frac{1}{4}$ of an anna on each rupee of land revenue, is levied. The amount thus realized is supplemented by a grant from general revenues. This amalgamated fund, with the fees realized in the primary schools, is made over to the District Boards, whose duty it is to maintain these schools. Some of the municipalities contribute the whole or a part of the expenditure incurred in maintaining the schools in their towns.

Female education.

199. Schools for girls, as well as those for boys, are now maintained from the District Fund. Formerly the principle laid down by the Government of India, that in starting female schools the initiative must be taken by the people, was entirely misinterpreted, and consequently there were in 1882-83 only 12 female schools, public and private, with 494 pupils. But, under the orders of the Resident, girls' schools are now treated just like boys' schools, and maintained from the District Fund. Some female teachers trained in the Bombay Presidency have also been appointed, and scholarships have been attached to the Municipal schools at Akola and Amraoti. The consequence is that, on the 31st March 1893, there were 52 schools with 2,124 pupils. It is hoped that female education will spread still more widely in future.

Training of teachers.

200. The Vernacular Training College at Akola has been started with the object of supplying qualified Berari masters for lower primary schools It consists of a Marathi branch and a Hindustani branch ; 60 stipendiary scholars being attached to the former, and 15 to the latter. The training consists of two courses, each of one year's duration, and practical teaching in the practising school. The passed students are eligible for appointments up to Rs. 15 a month.

A scheme for training teachers for secondary schools has been introduced, and a class of stipendiary pupil-teachers attached to one of the high schools under an able and experienced teacher.

Additional facilities for the training of teachers for primary schools have also been provided by entertaining stipendiary pupil-teachers in selected primary schools in all the districts except Akola, in which there is a training college.

The higher appointments in the department are filled mostly by graduates and under-graduates of the Bombay or Calcutta University.

Scholarships and exhibitions.

201. Scholarships and exhibitions are attached to all classes of Government schools. The best pupils from the District Board or Municipal Vernacular schools can obtain exhibitions either in the training institutions or Anglo-Vernacular schools; the brightest scholars from the latter can get exhibitions tenable in the high schools, and the three best matriculates from the high schools can get every year Berar scholarships tenable in any of the colleges, Government or private, affiliated to the Bombay University. Thus all these institutions are linked together.

Fees.

202. Fees are charged to all pupils in Government secondary schools in Berar, except scholars and exhibitioners, and a small percentage of poor pupils. In District Board and Municipal primary schools fees are charged to all pupils, except a certain percentage of the children of poor parents, the children of the aborigines, and of Mahars, Mangs and other low-castes. The fees levied in the high and Anglo-Vernacular schools are paid into Government treasuries and credited to Government, and those collected in the Vernacular schools are credited to the District or Municipal Fund; but in every case the amount is finally expended for the benefit of the class of schools in which it is collected. Re-admission fees are charged to all boys learning English.

Physical education.

203. Physical education has received adequate attention. The total number of school gymnasia in the province on the 31st March 1893 was 475, the one attached to the Training College at Akola being the best. All the pupils of the college are regularly trained, and at their annual and certificate examinations are tested in this branch. All the masters trained under the present system are therefore good gymnastic teachers. Each district has at least two gymnastic teachers, who look after physical education in their circles under the supervision of the Deputy Educational Inspectors. As Akola and Amraoti contain a large number of schools, each of the towns has a gymnastic teacher of its own. Drilling has been brought into general use, and a scheme for the allotment of prizes for proficiency in gymnastics has been sanctioned and introduced into all schools.

Schools under private management.

204. The work of education in Berar was for a long time carried on solely by Government agency, as there were no indigenous educational institutions worthy the name when the province was brought under the British Administration. Liberal rules for grants-in-aid have been introduced, and every encouragement is now held out to private enterprise in the matter of education. Schools under private management are growing with the general progress of education, though for want of permanency and efficiency they are as yet much below the schools under public management. Schools under private management are now divided into two classes, viz.—public institutions, which conform to the curriculum prescribed by Government, are inspected by Government Inspectors, and receive grants-in-aid from Government; private institutions, technically so called, form the other class. The number of these private schools is growing smaller every year. The schools under private management were not entered in the annual returns before 1869. On the last day of the year 1868-69 their number was reported to be 112, with 2,370 pupils; while on the 31st March 1893, the number was 723 with 14,789 scholars. During 1892-93, 659 schools were aided with money grants, or prize books, or both.

There is at Akola a private industrial school started by the American Mission. This institution is doing useful work.

Moral training.

205. The duty of attending to moral training has been made imperative in all classes of schools. The masters are alive to the importance of this branch of education, and in some schools sheets containing moral precepts or maxims are hung up. Care is taken that in reading lessons children understand the moral significance. Conduct registers have been introduced into the high schools and inter-school rules in all classes of schools. The "monitorial system" has also been introduced into some schools.

Schools and scholars.

206. The scheme of education thus briefly sketched found 35 Government schools with 1,881 pupils on its introduction in June 1866. At the close of the year 1892-93, there were 1,376 public and private schools with 53,422 pupils. The number of schools under public management was 653, attended by 38,633 pupils. Of these, 69 per cent. were Kunbis and other Hindus, 14 per cent. Brahmins, and about 17 per cent. Muhammadans. There is now a school for every 12·8 square miles; and 22·9 per cent. of the male population and about one per cent. of the female population of school-going age are at school. Although (as the last Census Report says) there has been a substantial diminution of illiteracy in the province during the last 10 years, the demand and necessity for further extension of the educational operations is great.

SECTION II.

Education.

The nature of the year and the results of its operations.

207. The year was remarkable for its excessive rainfall, which damaged the crops more or less almost everywhere; but this did not seem to affect the condition of the schools in any of the districts except perhaps Wun and Ellichpur; and the progress of education was, on the whole, satisfactory in the province. There was an increase in the number of schools and of scholars, both male and female, in almost all the classes of schools, the increase in the numbers of aided schools for boys and of their scholars being especially satisfactory. The high schools achieved an unprecedented success by passing 25 boys at the matriculation examination; and the middle schools, primary schools, and the training college did well on the whole at the annual examinations. The condition of the aided indigenous schools greatly improved, and Government grants made to them increased by about 2,500 rupees. The number of girls attending schools increased, and the results of their examinations were more satisfactory than in the previous year. The numbers of Muhammadan and low-caste boys increased, and larger numbers of these boys passed at the annual examinations.

Number of schools and scholars.

208. The following statement shows the number of different classes of schools and scholars on the 31st March 1893 and on the corresponding date of the previous year:—

Distribution of schools and scholars according to districts.

209. The following table shows the number of schools for boys in each of the six districts, the average number of square miles to every school, and the proportion of male pupils to the male population of school-going age:—

District.	Area in square miles.	Male population.	Total number of schools for boys.	Total number of boys.	Average number of square miles to every school.	Percentage of male scholars to male population of school-going age.
Akola	2,659	297,011	337	13,842	7·8	31·06
Buldana	2,809	244,799	247	8,814	11·3	24·0
Basim	2,956	204,798	133	4,091	20·7	13·3

In Akola, Amraoti, Buldana and Basim, schools for boys have increased, and consequently the average number of square miles to every school has decreased more or less. In Wun the number of schools has remained unchanged, but in Ellichpur the number has decreased, and therefore the average number of square miles to every school has increased. The percentage of male scholars to the male population of school-going age has increased in every district except Ellichpur, in which the excessive and untimely rainfall and the other unfavourable circumstances of the year are reported to have been felt most. There has been no change in the relative positions of the several districts in regard to the progress of education, and they remain the same as in previous years.

University education.

210. Of the students holding Berar scholarships in the colleges of the Bombay Presidency, one passed the P. E. examination. The total number of these scholars on 31st March 1893 was six. Of the students from the Berar high schools who did not hold Berar scholarships on the 31st March 1893, seven passed the first B. A. examination, one the "Intermediate" examination, one the L. C. E. examination and one the L L. B. examination.

Matriculation examination.

211. The results of the matriculation examination were very satisfactory. Out of 30 candidates sent up from the two high schools 25 were successful. Twelve of the passed students, three of whom hold the three Berar university scholarships, joined Arts Colleges in the Bombay Presidency.

Secondary schools.

212. The following table gives the usual particulars of attendance and cost of all the secondary schools in the province:—

Primary schools.

213. During the year under report, 8 new primary schools for boys under public management were opened, and 7 closed. The following statement compares the statistics of boys' schools at the close of the year 1891-92 and 1892-93 :—

Aided schools.

214. Of the total number of schools aided by fixed monthly grants, one was closed during the year under report. There thus remained only four of such schools, with an aggregate grant of Rs. 102 per mensem. The total number of pupils on roll on 31st March 1893 was 273, and during the year 72 pupils passed in the primary standards.

Indigenous schools.

215. The following table gives the statistics of indigenous schools :—

Training of teachers for primary schools.

216. The total number of students in the Training College and the pupil-teachers in the other schools was 92, against 85 in 1891-92. Of the former figure, 29 passed in the first year's course and 20 in the certificate examination : 31 of the passed students obtained employment during the year.

Training of teachers for secondary schools.

217. A class of four men had been formed for this purpose. These men were examined during the year. All of them passed and obtained employment. A fresh class with five men has again been started.

Drawing.

218. Candidates were sent up from the two local high schools and the Akola Training College for the 1st Grade Examination of the Bombay School of Arts. Of that 15 obtained certificates.

Industrial training.

219. There is only one Industrial school : it belongs to the American Mission, and it is located at Akola. The number of pupils on the 31st March 1893 was 23, the average number on rolls monthly during 1892-93 was 22·19, and the average daily attendance was 18·66. Distribution of pupils, according to caste, was as follows :—19 were Christians, 2 Hindus and 2 Muhammadans. Three of the boys were learning carpentering and three blacksmithing.

Female education.

220. As stated in the last report, progress in female education is very slow. The following statement shows the present condition of female education in the province :—

* Includes the number of girls who passed the several standards in boys' schools.

The number of institutions has remained unchanged; but there is an increase in the total number of pupils, in the average number on roll monthly, and in the average daily attendance. There is also an increase in the number of girls attending boys' schools. There is an aggregate increase of 60 in the number of passes. This increase belongs to the first, second, third and sixth standards, there being a decrease in the fifth standard. The number of passes in the fourth standard has remained unchanged, and this year 6 girls have passed in the sixth standard against none in the previous year. The average daily attendance during the year under report is 66·4 per cent. of the average number on roll, against 65·9 per cent. during the preceding year.

Education of Europeans and Eurasians.

221, The number of schools for Europeans and Eurasians has remained unchanged. As in 1891-92, there were two schools at the close of the year, viz., the Catholic school at Amraoti and the Anglican school at Akola. On the 31st March last there were 21 boys and 35 girls in the Amraoti school, against 22 boys and 31 girls at the close of the previous year. The average daily attendance was 40. The school was examined by the Educational Inspector in April last, when the highest standard taught to the girls was the sixth and to the boys the fourth. Out of 17 boys examined, 12 passed in the first four standards, and 22 girls passed out of 28 examined in six standards. The school at Akola contains only six children—three boys and three girls. The Educational Inspector who examined the school in April last reports that the most advanced boys were studying under standard I. The school seemed to have made little progress during the year. Three boys were presented under standard I and two passed.

Education of Muhammadans.

222. The following table gives the statistics of Government, District Board and Municipal Hindustani schools :—

				No. of pupils examined and passed under standards I to VII in 1892-93.

		Total ...	4,550	91	59
Total for..		1891		1,943	1,353
		1892		1,853	1,162

The total number of Hindustani schools in the province increased by two during the year under report. The total number of pupils, as shown in the statement, has risen from 4,422 to 4,550, the number of boys having increased by 56 and of girls by 72. In this table Muhammadan boys attending other than Hindustani or Anglo-Hindustani schools have not been included. If we add 38 Muhammadan boys attending high schools, 15 attending the Training College and 2,090 studying in the Marathi and Anglo-Marathi schools, and deduct 247 non-Muhammadans in Hindustani schools, the total number of Muhammadan pupils in all classes of schools under public management will be 6,446 against 6,214 of the last year. The number of Muhammadan pupils in schools under private management was 951 against 1,061 the previous year. Thus the total number of Muhammadan pupils under instruction at the close of the year under report was 7,397 against 7,275 on the last day of the previous year.

Education of aborigines.

223. There is only one school at Chikalda for the aboriginal races. On the 31st March 1893, the total number of aboriginal pupils in the province was 123 against 130 in the previous year. There is a slight decrease both in the number examined and the number passed, the numbers being 33 and 22 respectively, against 34 and 27 in the preceding year. The highest standard in which boys passed during the year was the fourth.

Education of low-castes.

224. The education of low-castes shows a steady progress. The total number of pupils under instruction in the schools under public management at the end of each of the five years ending 1892-93 being 1,423, 1,474, 1,599, 1,682 and 1,810. The number of low-caste pupils who were attending schools under private management on 31st March 1893 was 563. A total of 477 pupils were examined under Standards I to VII, and of this 297 passed; the corresponding figure for 1891-92 are 413 and 268.

Private schools.

225. Private schools, technically so called, are not examined by Inspecting Officers, and do not conform to the curriculum of either Government or aided schools. They do not therefore receive aid from Government. On the 31st March 1893 there were reported to be three private schools with 53 scholars, against eight schools and 144 scholars at the close of the preceding year.

Physical education.

226. The total number of gymnasia rose from 448 to 475 and the number visited by the circle teachers rose from 411 to 461.

Caste of pupils.

227. The following is a comparative statement for the last five years of the pupils in Government, District Board, and Municipal schools classified according to race or creed:—

Year.	Christians.		Hindus.										Muhammadans.		Parsis.		Others.		Total.

Popular contributions and fee receipts.

228. The amount contributed by the people for educational purposes rose to Rs. 9,37-9-0 as against Rs. 6,669-10-0 in 1891-92. The fee receipts remained almost the same as shown below:—

Schools.		1891-92. Rs.	a.	p.	1892-93. Rs.	a.	p.

Income and expenditure.

229. The total income of the department amounted to Rs. 4,39,131 against Rs. 4,37,560 in 1891-92. Of the former figure Rs. 2,40,954 were from provincial revenues and 1,98,177 from local sources. The total expenditure came to Rs. 4,37,545 against Rs. 4,34,888 in 1891-92.

SECTION III.

Literature and the Press.

Text Book Committee.

230. At the beginning of the year the Text-Book Committee had six books on hand for review, and six books were sent to them for opinion during the year. The Committee reported on two books during the year. The other books are under the consideration of the members of the Committee.

Book depôts,

231. There has been no change in the number of book depôts during the year under report. There was one Central Book Depôt at Akola and 29 Branch Book Depôts attached to Government or District Board schools in towns and large villages in all the districts. The stock account of the depôt is as follows:—

	Amount. Rs.	a.	p.
Cost of the balance of stock on 31st March 1892 ...	27,045	13	2
Add cost of books and maps printed and purchased during the year	13,676	11	6
Deduct cost of books and maps sold during the year	15,679	11	8
Cost of the balance of stock on 31st March 1893 ...	25,042	13	3

Literature.

232. The number of books registered under Act XXV of 1867 during the year under report was 21, against 13 in the previous year. Six of these were issues of the Berar School Paper, and ten were the issues of Dyuan Sangraha, a literary magazine. The others were (1) Geography of Berar, (2) School Discipline, (3) National Congress of India, (4) Jagannath Kathasar, and (5) Meaning of words and sentences in the Berar First Book.

Presses.

233. The number of presses remained the same as in 1891-92, viz., 9.

Public libraries.

234. Six libraries or reading rooms were opened and two closed during the year, and consequently the number on the 31st March 1893 was 40, against 36 on the last day of the preceding year.

SECTION IV.

Literary Societies.

Public libraries.

235. On the 31st March 1893 there were 40 public libraries, against 14 at the close of the year 1882-83. The institutions at Akola and Amraoti are the most flourishing, as the numbers of their subscribers, the amounts of their income, and the numbers of books contained in them are the largest in the province.

Monsoon lectures at Akola.

236. The Secretaries of the Akola Library have organized for the last five years during the monsoons a series of lectures on literary, social and historical topics, which are mostly delivered by the educated men in the town. In some other towns of Berar where there are libraries, such as Amraoti, Ellichpur and Yeotmal, lectures are occasionally delivered, but no attempt has been made to organize a series.

Amraoti Suhrit Samaja.

237. At Amraoti there is an association of young men called Suhrit Samaja or assembly of friends. This has been founded with the object of effecting mutual educational improvement. The members subscribe to some newspapers, and meet every morning or evening for reading. Essays on various topics are frequently read and discussed, and sometimes lectures are delivered at their meetings at the old house formerly occupied by the Native General Library in the town. The Suhrit Samaja was established on the 1st March 1891.

The Berar High School gathering.

238. The ex-students of the Berar high schools meet at Akola and Amraoti in alternate years during the Holi holidays. At this gathering, lectures on literary and social subjects are delivered by some old students of the high schools.

Jalsai-Imdad-i-tahsil-i-Ulum-i-Mussulmani Berar.

239. At Akola there is a Mahomedan association called "Jalsai-Imdad-i-tahsil-i-Ulum-i-Mussalmani Berar" which has been established in order to encourage English education among Muhammadans. They annually give four scholarships of Rs. 4 each, tenable by Muhammadan pupils in the Amraoti High School and in the Anglo-Urdu schools at Akola and Amraoti.

The Educational Conference.

240. A conference of educational officers is held every year in November at Akola and Amraoti alternately. The inspecting officers hold separate meetings. They discuss educational questions generally, compare notes of their inspections, suggest improvements, and consider the questions that are sent to them by the Teachers' Association for decision. If they think that any change is necessary in the curriculum, the system of teaching, or the management of schools, they submit their suggestions to the Director of Public Instruction. The Teachers' Association discuss the methods of teaching, suggest improvements in them, decide what books should be read by the members of the body in the course of the next year, bring their difficulties to the notice of the inspecting officers and the Director, and in short endeavour to do every thing that will tend to their own improvement and to improvement in the methods of teaching and the condition of their schools. In this assembly lectures also are delivered, essays read, and classes taught by able and experienced teachers.

Circle gatherings of village schoolmasters.

241. All the village school-masters in the province cannot and are not of course expected to attend the meetings of the Teachers' Association at Akola or Amraoti, mentioned in the preceding paragraph. They therefore meet at central places in each district. In the Akola district these gatherings are held in 14 central places; Buldana has 7 centres, Basim 5, Amraoti 10, Wun 6, and Ellichpur 8. Gatherings are held at all these places thrice a year. The presidents of these meetings generally attend the great gathering at Akola or Amraoti, and the proceedings of the smaller gatherings are conducted on the lines laid down by the larger gathering.

SECTION V.

Arts and Sciences.

241-A. There is nothing to be recorded under this head.

CHAPTER VIII.

ARCHÆOLOGY.

242. Nor is there anything to be said under this head beyond what has been stated in previous reports.

CHAPTER IX.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SECTION I.

Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction.

243. The Hyderabad Assigned Districts are included in the Diocese of Madras. A Chaplain of the Church of England resides at Amraoti, and visits the other stations as well as Hingoli, a station of the Hyderabad Contingent. Churches exist at Amraoti, Akola, Ellichpur, and Hingoli; all built partly by subscriptions and partly by grant from Government.

SECTION II.

Ecclesiastical.

244. There is nothing to be recorded under this head.

SECTION III.

Stationery.

245. There is nothing to be recorded under this head.

A.-2.—CHARACTER OF THE SURFACE.

Nature of different tracts.	Name, area, and physical description of each tract.	Whether situated in British or Native territory.	Prevailing soils—Minerals and products.
Mountains and elevated tracts.	The Hyderabad Assigned Districts are composed entirely f the valley lying between the Satpura range of mountains in the north and the Ajanta range in the south. The mass of hill country which walls in Berar on the north is called the Gavilgadh range, from the fort of that name which stands on one of the highest mountain buttresses that directly overlook the plain. The length of the range is about 160 English miles, and the average breadth from 20 to 25 miles. These hills take their rise at the confluence of the Purna and Tapti rivers, and, running nearly east and by north, terminate at a short distance beyond the source of the Tapti and Wardha. On the southward side they rise abruptly from the extensive plain of Berar, the average height of which is 1,000 feet above the level of the sea, and tower above it to the height of two and three thousand feet. The descent to the bed of the Tapti is equally rapid, although the northern is less elevated than the southern side of the range. The outline of the land is generally flat, but much broken by ravines and by groups of flattened summits and isolated conoidal frusta. The summits and the flat land are generally remarkably destitute of trees, but thickly covered by long grass. In Melghat the crest of the Satpura attains an average elevation of 3,400 feet above the sea. The highest summit, Bairat, is 3,989 feet. The main height of the lower hills bordering upon the Tapti is about 1,650 feet.	Hyderabad Assigned Districts.	The surface soil is, to a very great extent, a rich black vegetable mould. Where this surface soil does not exist there is moorum and trap with a shallow upper crust of inferior light soil. Sometimes the underlying moorum is covered at various depths by a not unproductive reddish colored earth. The mineralogy of the province i only remarkable for saline deposits of the Purna valley and of the Lonar lake, and for the coal in the Wun district upon the Wardha river. Iron ore is plentiful on the eastern side, especially in the hills near Karanja and among the low range close to Amraoti on the north-east. The staple crops are cotton and jowari. Other chief products are wheat, gram, til, bajri, tur, linseed, lac and tobacco.
Plains ...	Setting aside the Melghat mountain tract, there are two distinct sections, the Paynghat or low land country bounded on the north by the Gavilgadh hills, and on the south by the outer scraps of the Ajanta range, and the Balaghat or upland country above the Ajanta ridge sloping down southward beyond the ghats or passes which lead to it. The Paynghat valley contains all the best land; it is full of deep rich black alluvial soil of inexhaustible fertility, and it undulates sufficiently to maintain a natural system of drainage.
Forests ...	The principal forest is in the Melghat tract of the Satpura where the Gangra valley contains some magnificent young forests, more especially along the cliffs and channels of the deep river gorges. From the Sipna river eastward, and extending over the tract between that river and the Kopra, as well as to east and north-east of the Kopra, is the teak producing area of the Gangra valley. It includes a parallelogram of about 15 miles from east to west, and the same distance from north to south, or about 225 square miles.
Rivers ...	The principal rivers are the Tapti, the Purna, the Wardha, and the Painganga. The Tapti is the only first class river, but the Wardha is by far the most important. It commands the contingents of almost every considerable stream, and collects water all over the eastern and southern slopes of the country.
Lakes ...	The whole province has only one natural lake, the salt lake of Lonar, which is situated in the Mehkar taluka of the Buldana district. The view of the lake is very striking. It is formed by a ridge of hills about 400 feet high, and it is perfectly circular. Its bottom is bordered by regular rings of palms, tamarind, babul and apple trees, and the sides are well wooded. In some places there are old temples and ruins of other monuments, and there is an ample spring of sweet water running from a crevice in the southern ridge with a beautiful temple at the fountain head. The area of the bottom of the lake is 344 acres and 38 guntas, and the circumference from the top is about 5½ miles.
Marshes ...	None of any consequence.

*Fractions of a rupee should be omitted except in the columns showing the average annual cost of educating each pupil.

†The percentages required for 2 (a), 2 (b), 2 (c), are to be calculated from the figures given in columns 7 (a), 7 (b), 7 (c), respectively of General Table IV.

‡The annual cost is calculated on the direct expenditure only. The average cost of educating each pupil is obtained by dividing the direct expenditure by the average number on the rolls monthly during the year.

§ The average cost of each pupil in Local Fund and Municipal schools is to be obtained from the figures given in General Table VII.

"Berar Vaktrutwo-tejak Sabha," Amraoti.	The object of the institution has been to encourage and foster the habit of delivering public lectures on popular and current literary and scientific subjects, and thereby to revive and to improve upon the rather neglected or forgotten art of speech among the native societies.	Not stated ...	Not stated ...	1	1874	This sabha or society has been established in connection with the Amraoti City Library, and is considered a part of the institution. The balances, if any, after deducting the expenses, are carried to the library's account. But when the expenses exceed the income they are paid from the library fund.
"Suhrit Samaja" ...	At Amraoti there iss an association of young men called "Suhrit Samaja" or assembly of friends. This ha been founded with the object of effecting mutual educational improvement. The members subscribe to some newspapers, and meet every morning or evening for reading. Essays on various topics are frequently read and discussed, and sometimes lectures are delivered at their meetings at the old house formerly occupied by the Native General Library in the town. The "Suhrit Samaja" was established on the 1st March 1891.	do	do	...	1891
Do. ...	The ex-students of the Berar High Schools meet at Akola and Amraoti in alternate years during the Holi holidays. At this gathering lectures on literary and social subjects are delivered by some old students of the high schools.	do	do	...	...
"Jalsai-Imdad-i-tahsil-i-Ulum-i-Mussulma-in Berar."	At Akola there is a Mahomedan association called "Jalsai-Imdad-i-tahsil-i-Ulum-i-Mussalmani Berar" which has been established in order to encourage English education among Mahomedans. They annually give four scholarships of Rs. 4 each, tenable by Mahomedan pupils in the Amraoti High School and in the Anglo-Urdu schools at Akola and Amraoti.	do	do	...	...

PART I.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

Personnel of the Administration.

The office of Resident was held throughout the year 1893-94 by Mr. T. Chichele Plowden, C.S.I. The office of First Assistant and Secretary for Berar to the Resident was held up to the 19th April 1893 by Mr. G. R. Irwin; from the 20th April to the 13th October 1893 by Mr. O. V. Bosanquet; and thereafter by Mr. A. L. P. Tucker. The office of Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts was held throughout the year 1893-94 by Colonel K. J. L. Mackenzie, C.I.E. Mr. F. S. Bullock, the permanent Judicial Commissioner of the Province, was on furlough up to the 22nd November 1893, and held charge of his office during the remainder of the year.

Survey and settlement.

2. The survey and settlement operations now in progress have to deal with 13,350 square miles: the revision settlement operations will cover 12,000 square miles; the survey and settlement of leased villages and waste lands deal with 950 square miles; and the initial settlement of the Melghat, 400 square miles. Two survey parties were employed during the year under report, and their total expenditure came to Rs. 36,464. One of the parties was employed on revision work in the Khamgaon, Jalgaon and Balapur taluks of the Akola district, and finished 444,993 acres at a cost of Rs. 22-3-5 per square mile; and the other party was employed in leased villages in the Wun, Kelapur and Darwha taluks of the Wun district and the Pusad and Mangrul taluks of the Basim district. This party measured 71,838 acres and classed 73,436 acres, the cost per square mile being Rs. 182-8-11. At close of the year under report proposals for the revision settlement of the Khamgaon, Jalgaon and Mulkapur taluks were under the consideration of the Government of India, but with the exception of some subsidiary questions, orders have since been passed thereon, as well as for the settlement of leased villages in the two taluks named above of the Basim district and all the four taluks of the Wun district. Preliminary proposals for the settlement of the Melghat were also discussed and settled.

Waste lands.

3. As will be seen from paragraph 16 post of this summary, culturable assessed waste lands formed 4·41 per cent. (i.e., 501,085 acres) of the total area of the province. By far the larger portion of this area, i.e., 476,917 acres, belonged to the Wun district and the Melghat taluk of the Ellichpur district. The area of unoccupied land newly occupied during the year was 19,325 acres, and that of occupied land relinquished was 6,938 acres.

Leased villages.

4. The number of leased villages at the end of the year was 506 with an aggregate area of 922,883 acres, of which 121,945 acres had remained unoccupied. The remaining area was occupied and bore an assessment of Rs. 1,13,518.

Course of legislation.

5. The Bombay Boilers Inspection Act, II of 1891, and portions of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, were applied to the province during the year under report, and an addition was made to the Berar Rural Boards Law. Rules were issued under the Sea Customs Act and the Indian Factories Act, XV of 1881; the rules previously issued under the Registration Act, III of 1877, and the Berar Rural Boards Law were modified or added to.

Police.

6. The Police force of the province was slightly increased during the year. Its strength consisted of 9 gazetted officers, 555 subordinate officers and 2,363 constables, or one policeman to six square miles and 992 of the population. The aggregate expenditure on the force amounted to Rs. 5,52,961.

7. The total number of cognizable offences (exclusive of nuisance cases) fell from 5,880 in 1892 to 5,737 in 1893, the decrease being spread over all classes of offences. Of the cases that occurred, 72·7 per cent. were investigated by the police, and the percentage of police cases in which conviction was obtained was 66·6 against 59·7 in 1892. The number of persons arrested and summoned was 8,447. The proportion of stolen property recovered was 27·2 per cent. Non-cognizable offences also fell from 7,319 in 1892 to 6,745 in 1893.

8. There was less crime in the Berar Railway Police jurisdiction than in 1892, and it was more successfully dealt with.

Criminal justice.

9. Exclusive of the local High Court and the Sessions Court, the number of tribunals at the close of the year was 72. The number of offences reported was 17,616 against 19,137 in 1892, but only 82·2 per cent. were returned as true, and 64·4 per cent. brought to trial. The number of persons tried was 21,623 against 22,239 in 1892; of these 98·2 per cent. were disposed of (57·9 per cent. by discharge or acquittal, 35·7 per cent. by conviction, and the rest otherwise). Of the persons convicted, 10 were sentenced to death, 71 to transportation, 2,851 to rigorous imprisonment, and 13,643 to fines; other punishments were inflicted on the rest. The average duration of cases tried by Magistrates was 7·7 days against 7·1 in 1892. The number of witnesses was 39,667, of whom over 79 per cent. were discharged after one day's attendance. The number of persons tried by the Sessions Court was 124, of whom 62·1 per cent. were convicted. All cases except those in which the accused pleaded guilty were tried with the aid of assessors. The total number of appeals for disposal was 727, of which nearly 93 per cent. were disposed of.

Jails.

10. During the year under report (1893) no alteration took place in the status of any of the six jails in the province. The average general jail population was higher than in any previous year except 1880, the total admissions being 3,275, and the discharges 3,093, and the daily average strength 1,284. Of the total admissions, 1,639 (244 Muhammadans, 1,391 Hindus, and 4 of other classes) were imprisoned during the year; 12 per cent. had been previously convicted. The percentage borne by the daily admissions into hospital to average strength was 2·73. Of the average number of convicts under sentence of labor nearly 49 per cent. were employed on manufactures and the rest were either unable to work or were employed on jail duties. The total net cost of the jails was Rs. 61,822, and the net cost per head of average strength, Rs. 48-3-0.

Civil justice.

11. The number of Civil Courts open was the same as in 1892, viz., 43. The number of suits instituted was 27,193, of which 86·9 per cent. were for money or moveable property, 5·4 per cent. for immoveable property, 5·2 were mortgage suits, and the balance, i.e., 2·5, belonged to other classes. Including pending and re-admitted suits, the total number for disposal was 34,455, of which 27,787 or nearly 78 per cent., involving an aggregate value of Rs. 32,40,763, were disposed of. The average value per suit was Rs. 126, and the costs came to 13·9 per cent. of the value. Of the suits disposed of nearly 94·5 per cent. were of value not exceeding Rs. 500, and the average value in their case was Rs. 78·5. Nearly 75 per cent. of the suits were disposed of without contest, their average duration being 57 days, while in contested cases the duration was 106 days. The major portion of the work was done by Assistant and Extra Assistant Commissioners, whose share came to over 91 per cent. of the cases decided. As regards execution of decrees, the number of applications came to 32,235, of which 50 per cent. proved infructuous; full or partial satisfaction was obtained in 22·6 per cent., and the rest were either transferred or pending at the close of the year. The court and process fees came to Rs. 4,39,463, and the surplus of process fees (i.e., process fees minus cost of service) amounted to Rs. 35,322. The number of appeals disposed of was 1,582, the average duration being 128 days in regular appeals and 115 days in miscellaneous appeals.

Registration.

12. The number of registration offices was the same as in 1892-93, viz., 63. The total number of registrations was 35,183, a figure higher than any reached hitherto, and the total value of property transferred by them was Rs. 1,06,78,417. Of the number of instruments registered 94 per cent. related to immoveable property, the aggregate value involved being Rs. 1,02,82,286. The receipts of the Registration Department came to Rs. 88,080, and the expenditure was 55·4 per cent. of receipts against about 63 per cent. in 1892-93, leaving a net surplus of Rs. 39,282.

Municipalities.

13. Three new municipalities having been established at the beginning of the year their total number was 11. The aggregate income of these bodies amounted to Rs. 3,83,399, inclusive of a loan of Rs. 1,20,000 from Government. Their aggregate expenditure amounted to Rs. 3,66,930.

Local Boards.

14. Owing to the extension of the Berar Rural Boards Law to the Wun district, the only rural tract in which it is not now in force is the Melghat taluk of the Ellichpur district. The aggregate area in which the law is in force is roughly 16,000 square miles, with a population of 2,693,533 souls. There are 6 District Boards and 21 Taluk Boards. The income of the Boards during the year under report amounted to Rs. 6,52,812, of which 13·62 per cent. was contributed by provincial revenues, and the balance was derived from local sources. The expenditure aggregated Rs. 7,79,268, of which 49·5 per cent. was spent on public works, 25·22 per cent. on education, 11·13 per cent. on establishments, 7·9 per cent. on superannuation allowances and pensions, and the balance, i.e., 6·25 per cent., on post offices, medical institutions, and other heads.

Military.

15. There is only one place in the province, viz., Ellichpur, at which a military force is stationed. During the year under report the force consisted of a detachment of the Hyderabad Contingent, having a strength of 128 artillery and 813 infantry.

Agriculture.

16. Of the total area of the province, viz., 17,735 square miles, 72·83 per cent. is culturable assessed land, of which 68·42 per cent. is in occupation, and the balance, i.e., 4·41 per cent., waste. Thus the culturable occupied and the culturable unoccupied lands stood in the proportion of 94 to 6, but if the Melghat taluk (which is principally forest and in which the similar proportion is 25·2 to 74·8) be excluded, the proportion is 97 to 3, and taking into account only the khalsa villages outside the Melghat the proportion is 98·66 to 1·34. The total culturable assessed land in occupation in the whole of the province was 7,766,167 acres, of which 12·6 per cent. was under grass and the balance, i.e., 87·4 per cent., under crops—61·9 per cent. under kharif, 25·2 per cent. under rabi, and 0·3 per cent. under garden and miscellaneous crops. The principal crops grown were, as usual, jawari, cotton, wheat, linseed, gram and tur, and they occupied respectively 31, 32·2, 13·7, 8·5, 3·8 and 2·8 per cent. of the cropped area. The area under irrigation forms only a small portion—48,787 acres.

Rainfall.

17. The average rainfall over the province amounted to nearly 37 inches, i.e., two inches below the normal fall. It was unseasonable in Akola and Wun and in parts of the Basim district, and deficient in the Ellichpur district, and the crops in those districts suffered in consequence.

Agricultural stock and horse-breeding.

18. The statistics regarding agricultural stock show some fluctuations, but the figures are not susceptible of check. The number of mares covered by Government stallions was 106, but trustworthy information regarding the stock produced by them is not available.

Loans to cultivators.

19. The amount advanced to agriculturists was Rs. 43,609—Rs. 39,450 under the Land Improvement Loans Act and Rs. 4,159 under the Agriculturists Loans Act.

Cattle disease and veterinary.

20. The number of attacks during the year under report amounted to 16,859, of which 5,217 were cases of anthrax, 2,440 of rinderpest, 4,347 of hoof and mouth disease. Of the number attacked 56 per cent. recovered and 44 per cent. died.

Prices of produce and wages of labor.

21. As will be seen from paragraphs 98 and 99, on pages 30 and 31 of this report, there was a general fall in the prices of produce, but the wages of labor remained the same as in 1892-93.

Arboriculture.

22. At the close of the year under report the number of nurseries maintained was 80 and of avenues planted 325 miles. The gross expenditure incurred during the year on arboricultural operations came to Rs. 42,933 and the receipts to Rs. 3,216.

Forests.

23. The total area of State-forests was 4,157 square miles or 23·4 per cent. of the total area of the province, against 4,233 square miles at the close of 1892-93, the decrease being due to rectification of errors and the disforestation of certain forest lands. With the exception of 19 miles in the Wun district all forest boundaries have been demarcated. The aggregate area under fire protection was 1,389 square miles, of which 97·2 per cent. was successfully protected, the cost of protection being Rs. 8-9-7 per square mile against Rs. 7-3-2 in 1892-93. Working plans for 952 square miles were complete at the close of the year, and others for 1,920 square miles were in hand, leaving the rest of the area to be dealt with. The total amount spent on forest works was Rs. 37,708—Rs. 22,225 on roads, Rs. 13,302 on buildings, Rs. 1,296 on water-supply, and the balance on miscellaneous works. The forest revenue of the year was Rs. 4,79,475, and the expenditure Rs. 2,64,318, the gross and net revenue per square mile thus being Rs. 115 and Rs. 52 respectively.

Manufactures.

24. The manufactures of the province are chiefly confined to twist and yarn, coarse cotton cloth and petty unskilled handicrafts. Besides the cotton weaving mill at Badnera and two oil mills, one at Amraoti and the other at Shegaon, the cotton presses and ginning factories worked by steam power are by far the most important industries in the province. The mill at Badnera produced 1,631,881 lbs. of twist and yarn, and 914,336 lbs. of cloth. Besides meeting local wants, the produce was exported to Delhi, Agra and the Central Provinces. The oil mill at Amraoti turned out 12,455 gallons of oil and 1,088 tons of oil cakes, while the Shegaon oil mill extracted 51,332 gallons of oil and 469 tons of oil cakes. There are altogether 36 cotton presses and 63 ginning factories, as against 28 and 58 respectively in 1892-93, under the management of private firms and joint stock companies.

Rail-borne trade.

25. Imports amounted to 4,053,000 maunds (value Rs. 2,00,45,000) and the exports to 3,760,000 maunds (value Rs. 4,83,60,000). Both imports and exports (except as regards quantity) considerably exceeded those of 1892-93. The bulk of the trade—both imports and exports—was with Bombay and the Central Provinces. The principal articles imported were cotton manufactured, grain and pulse, metals, oils, provisions, salt, spices and sugar, while the principal articles of export were cotton raw, cotton manufactured, and oil-seeds.

Road-borne trade.

26. Road-borne trade is registered only at ten selected stations on the borders of the Central Provinces. The total imports were 446,942 maunds and the exports, 204,044 maunds. The chief articles both of import and export were cotton, grain and pulse, oil-seeds and sugar. The cost of registration amounted to Rs. 4,938 during 1893-94.

Public works.

27. The total amount spent on public works from all sources during 1893-94 was Rs. 18,67,020, distributed thus:—Imperial services Rs. 33,924; provincial services Rs. 10,99,662; local funds Rs. 3,70,435; railways Rs. 88,294; and contribution works Rs. 2,74,705. Provincial and local fund expenditure thus amounted to Rs. 14,70,097, of which 5·8 per cent. was spent on military works and the balance, i.e., 94·2 per cent., on civil works, and was distributed as follows:—Civil buildings 26·6 per cent., communications 54·3 per cent., and miscellaneous public improvements 13·3 per cent. Details of the works executed will be found in part II, paragraphs 126—132 post of this report. The principal contribution work is the Secunderabad water works, estimated to cost Rs. 7,08,598, the outlay during the year under report being Rs. 1,10,582.

Railways.

28. As stated in the preceding paragraph the expenditure on railways, i.e., the Amraoti and the Khamgaon State lines, amounted to Rs. 88,294; and the net earnings of the two lines were 9·58 and 4·46 per cent. respectively on capital outlay.

Revenue and finance.

29. The gross revenue of the province during the year 1893-94 amounted to Rs. 1,25,18,275, and the total disbursements to Rs. 1,16,97,708. Omitting the receipts and disbursements of the Incorporated and Excluded Local Funds, the provincial surplus was Rs. 7,35,912, compared with a surplus of Rs. 7,74,562 for the year 1892-93. The amount paid to His Highness the Nizam during the year 1893-94 was Rs. 6,50,000, being a portion of the surplus of the previous years; and the accrued surplus in favor of His Highness the Nizam on 31st March 1894 was Rs. 40,63,099. Of the gross income, Rs. 1,01,74,746 were derived from Provincial Revenues, Rs. 9,40,130 from Incorporated and Rs. 14,03,399 from Excluded Local Funds. Rs. 94,38,834 of the Provincial revenues,

Rs. 13,18,744 of the Excluded Local Funds, and the whole of the Incorporated Local Funds revenue were utilized. The provincial contract shows a deficit of Rs. 2,12,980, and is recouped from the balance at credit of the Resident in his previous contract account. The net accrued balance therefore in favour of the Resident at the close of 1893-94, inclusive of Rs. 5,00,000 allowed for any extraordinary emergencies in accordance with paragraph 4 of the Government of India Financial Department Resolution No. 5957, dated 5th November 1887, was Rs. 6,93,818. As compared with the previous year, the receipts show an increase under almost every revenue head. The only important exceptions are Opium, Law and Justice—Courts of Law, and Education under Civil, and 14. Miscellaneous Services under Military. The receipts of the State Railways and Public Works Departments also show considerable decreases. The decrease under Opium is due to the lesser quantity of opium imported into Berar during the year. The decrease under Law and Justice—Courts of Law chiefly occurs under magisterial fines, a fluctuating head of account not subject to regular influences. The decrease under Education in 1893-94 as compared with the actuals of 1892-93 is chiefly due to the Taluk Fee Fund receipts, which were formerly kept outside the Government accounts, having been credited in the accounts of the latter year. Under 14. Miscellaneous Services the decrease is nominal, as the actuals of 1892-93 under the same head included exceptional cash recoveries of service payments in previous years. The decrease in the State Railways receipts is due to the falling-off in merchandise traffic on both the railways, and that in the Public Works Department receipts is chiefly due to an account adjustment made in 1892-93 in connection with the Buldana sadar station and town water-works. As regards expenditure there has been an increase under nearly every head. The expenditure under the following heads shows decreases, viz., 19-A. Law and Justice—Courts of Law, 38. State Railways, 45. Civil Works, 5. Stud and Remount Establishments, &c., 14. Miscellaneous Services, and 19. Widows' Pensions, &c. The decrease under Law and Justice—Courts of Law occurs under the head Judicial Commissioner, and is due to the appointment of a lower grade officer to officiate as Judicial Commissioner during several months of the year. The decrease under State Railways is due to the falling-off in traffic. The decrease under Civil Works is owing to the larger expenditure incurred on the Akola water-works from provincial funds in 1892-93 than in the year under review. The decrease under Stud and Remount Establishments, &c., is due to the purchase of a lesser number of remounts. The decrease under Miscellaneous Services is attributable to a lesser expenditure on account of camp of exercise than in the previous year. The decrease under Widows' Pensions, &c., is chiefly due to the transfer of certain arrear pensions, formerly debited to Hyderabad Contingent, to the Military Department, Bombay, under orders of the Government of India. It remains to be noted that increase of expenditure in the year under review is partly attributable to a new cause, namely, the payment of exchange compensation allowance to domiciled Europeans. The total charge under this head for the year amounts to Rs. 91,326.*

Vital statistics.

30. The total number of births registered was 111,924, the birth-rate being 39·3 per mille as compared with 39·9 in 1892. The proportion of male births to female births was 106·6 to 100. The total number of deaths was 92,951 or 32·6 per mille as compared with 28·8 in 1892 and 36·3 the mean of the previous decade. Of the death-rate of 32·6 per mille, fevers and dysentery and diarrhœa contributed 21·2.

Medical relief.

31. Two new dispensaries having been opened the number of medical institutions rose to 46—8 civil hospitals and 38 dispensaries, maintained at an aggregate expenditure of Rs. 83,473. The total number of patients treated was in-door 4,298 and out-door 318,767, the average daily attendance being 134 in-door and 2,166 out-door patients. Of the total in-door patients treated, 86 per cent. were cured.

Sanitation.

32. During the year under report (1893) the Municipalities spent 29·3 per cent. of their income on conservancy and drainage, and 69·4 per cent. on water-supply. The Kapsi water-supply scheme for the town of Akola, which is almost complete, has served to swell the percentage of expenditure on water-supply.

33. The total expenditure incurred by District Local Boards on works of sanitary improvement was Rs. 93,578 (exclusive of a sum of Rs. 50,659 spent on works not purely sanitary) as against Rs. 1,48,571 in the preceding year. No large works were undertaken, yet a good deal was done during the year to improve the public health, especially under water-supply.

Vaccination.

34. The number of primary operations performed during the year under report (1893-94) was 97,786, of which 95·1 per cent. proved successful, while re-vaccination cases numbered 39,366, the percentage of success being 21·2. The total cost of the establishment was Rs. 17,495, the average cost of each successful case being two annas and nine pies.

Education.

35. The year under report (1893-94) was, on the whole, an unhealthy one in most districts of the province, and this combined with bad harvests adversely affected the progress of education. The number of boys' schools and of pupils decreased from 1,324 and 51,541 to 1,274 and 50,168, respectively, the percentage of male scholars to male population of school-going age having thus fallen off from 22·92 in 1892-93 to 22·24 during the year under report; but it is satisfactory that the average daily attendance increased, and that girls' schools improved in attendance and efficiency. The results of the matriculation examination were gratifying, 17 boys having passed out of 28 sent up, and the middle schools and primary schools acquitted themselves satisfactorily on the whole at the annual examinations. Although the number of indigenous schools and their numbers on rolls decreased, the total number of pupils examined and the total amounts of grants earned increased. A greater number of Muhammadan pupils passed at the annual examinations than in 1892-93; and though there was falling-off in the number of boys, the number of Muhammadan girls attending school increased. There was a rise both in the number of low-caste pupils under instruction and in the number of passes. Popular contributions rose from Rs. 9,378 in 1892-93 to Rs. 9,632, and the fee receipts from Rs. 57,486 to Rs. 58,193. The total expenditure came to Rs. 4,51,155, of which 54·7 per cent. was from provincial revenues and the balance from local sources. Twelve per cent. of the expenditure was on direction and inspection, 19 per cent. on secondary schools, 52·5 on primary schools, 2·3 per cent. on training schools, 2 per cent. on scholarships, and the balance, i.e., 12·2 per cent., embraced all other heads.

Changes in the Administration.

Changes at head quarters of Government.

7. The office of Resident was held throughout the year 1893-94 by Mr. T. Chichele Plowden, C.S.I., I.C.S. The office of First Assistant and Secretary for Berar to the Resident was held up to the 19th April 1893 by Mr. G. R. Irwin, B.A., I.C.S.; from the 20th April to the 13th October 1893 by Mr. O. V. Bosanquet, I.C.S., and thereafter by Mr. A. L. P. Tucker, I.C.S. The office of Second Assistant and Assistant Secretary for Berar to the Resident was held up to 28th April 1893 by Mr. O. V. Bosanquet, I.C.S.; from the 29th April to the 20th November 1893 by Mr. F. W. A. Prideaux, an Assistant Commissioner of the Berar Commission, and thereafter by Mr. W. E. Jardine, I.C.S.

Changes in Berar.

8. The office of Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts was held throughout the year 1893-94 by Colonel K. J. L. Mackenzie, C.I.E., I.S.C. Mr. F. S. Bullock, I.C.S., the permanent Judicial Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts, was on furlough up to the 22nd November 1893, and held charge of his office during the remainder of the year. During Mr. Bullock's absence Colonel H. C. A. Szczepanski, I.S.C., Deputy Commissioner of the 1st class, officiated as Judicial Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts.

SECTION VIII.

Relations with Tributary States and Frontier Affairs.

CHAPTER II.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE LAND.

SECTION I.

Survey and Settlement.

Extent and nature of work.

10. The survey and settlement operations now in progress in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts embrace work under four main heads, viz., (1) the revision of the thirty years' settlement in the whole of the province except the tracts comprised under the three heads following—about 12,000 square miles; (2) the survey and settlement of izara villages, i.e., villages leased under the waste land rules, in the Wun and Basim districts and covering an area of about 650 square miles; (3) the survey and settlement of waste lands and of villages held in jagir and palamput tenures in the Wun and Basim districts, i.e., an aggregate area of about 300 square miles; and (4) the initial settlement of the Melghat taluk of the Ellichpur district, about 400 square miles. Thus the total area to be dealt with is 13,350 square miles.

11. In the revision operations, the original measurements and classification are being left untouched except in the very few cases in which remeasurements and reclassification are considered necessary. On the commencement of work in a taluk a few villages are remeasured as a test of the old work. Hitherto the old work has been found trustworthy, and there is no reason to anticipate that it will not be so throughout the province, although the test mentioned will be continued. Exclusive of the test remeasurements, the following are the only cases to which measuring is confined in the revision operations, viz., (1) boundaries of all the old survey numbers bordered by streams; (2) boundaries in rocky or "barad" (light soil) lands where any change is apparent; (3) old survey numbers in which the boundary of actual occupation as defined by boundary marks differs from that shown in the original measurers' books and maps; (4) old survey numbers from which land has been taken for public or special purposes; and (5) numbers containing mixed description of lands, such as rice and garden lands. As to reclassification, the work is almost insignificant, being confined to the following cases, in which it has become necessary to value the soil in order to facilitate settlement, viz., (1) land watered by channels from tanks or streams; (2) old numbers formerly shown as unculturable, but now bearing assessment; (3) lands on the banks of streams that show an increase in area; and (4) newly formed survey numbers. The case is, however, different in the leased villages. There the work consists of original measurement and classification and demarcation of lands hitherto unassessed.

Field parties and their employment.

12. During the year under report (1893-94) there were two field parties. One under the Survey Officer was employed on revision survey of khalsa villages in the taluks of Khamgaon, Balapur and Jalgaon of the Akola district, and consisted of a nimtandar and 21 efficient hands, 11 of whom were professional measurers and classers and the remaining 10 were from the indigenous agency of taluk classers and munsarims. The other party was under the Assistant Director of Land Records and Agriculture with a staff of one nimtandar and 13 professional measurers and classers, and was mainly employed on the measurement and classification of leased villages in the Wun and Basim districts.

Administration of the land.

Outturn of survey work and cost.

13. The following two statements show the work done by the two parties during the years 1892-93 and 1893-94 and compare the cost :—

Settlement.

14. The report on the revision settlement of the taluks of Malkapur in the Buldana district and Khamgaon and Jalgaon in the Akola district was submitted to the Government of India, and their final orders were received after the close of the year under report. Some subsidiary questions are at present under consideration, but it is expected that the revised rates will shortly be introduced in the three taluks named.

Orders on the reports on the settlement of leased villages in all the four taluks of the Wun district, viz., the taluks of Wun, Yeotmal, Kelapur and Darwha, and the taluks of Pusad and Mangrul of the Basim district, were passed after the close of the year under report.

Preliminary proposals for the settlement of the Melghat taluk of the Ellichpur district were discussed, and the Resident's orders were communicated to the Commissioner, Hyderabad Assigned Districts, since the close of the year under report.

SECTION II.

Waste Lands.

Culturable land not occupied.

15. It will be seen from the tabular statement in paragraph 86 of Chapter IV., Section I., of this Report that of the total culturable assessed land in the province, 501,085 acres or 4·41 per cent. of the total area of the province remained unoccupied during the year 1893-94. The following table shows the distribution of this area:—

		Classification of villages.					Total for villages of all classes.

Occupied land relinquished and unoccupied land newly taken up.

16. Of the unoccupied land in khalsa villages 19,325 acres were taken up during the year under report, of which 9,825 acres were in the Melghat and 9,211 in the Wun district. The area of occupied land relinquished was 6,938 acres, of which 4,708 acres belonged to the Melghat and 1,157 to the Wun district.

Leased villages.

17. The following table furnishes statistics for the years 1892-93 and 1893-94 of the lands belonging to villages leased under the waste land rules:—

SECTION II.

Police.

Strength and cost.

22. The police force of the province was increased during the year under report (1893) by three subordinate officers and 14 constables, bringing the sanctioned strength to 2,927, made up of 9 gazetted officers (including the Inspector-General), 555 subordinate officers, 15 mounted constables, and 2,348 foot constables. The force is considered inadequate, and it is in contemplation to increase it as soon as funds become available. The proportion of police to area and population was 1 to 6 square miles and to 992 of the population. The aggregate cost of the force during the year was Rs. 5,52,961.

Equipment.

23. Of the total number of subordinate officers and constables, 1,076 were provided with firearms, 1,129 with swords only or with swords and batons, and 713 with batons only.

Classification by race and religion.

24. Exclusive of the gazetted staff and the vacancies that existed at the end of the year, the remaining force numbered 2,825. Classified according to race, this consisted of 2 Europeans, 4 Eurasians, and 2,819 Natives. According to religion, there were 18 Christians, 1,113 Mohamedans, 1 Parsi and 1,693 Hindoos.

Health.

25. The number of deaths in the force was 35 against 36 in 1892, and the percentages of admissions into hospital to total strength ranged from 42·2 in the Akola district to 65·5 in the Wun district. The year under report was a very unhealthy one.

Conduct and discipline.

26. The following is a comparative statement for the years 1892 and 1893 showing the conduct and discipline of the force:—

Year.	Sanctioned strength of subordinate officers and men.	Length of service of No. on roll at end of year.			Punishments.			Number rewarded.	No. who left the force owing to the following causes.
		No. enlisted during the year.	No. with service of one year and under ten years	No. with service of ten years and upwards.	Departmental. Dismissals.	Departmental. 27. Cognizable crime excluding nuisance cases decreased by 4·1 per cent. The following statement furnishes comparative details for the years 1892 and 1893 :— General state of crime.

Nature of offences.	1892. No.	1893. No.
Class I.—Offences against the State, public tranquillity, safety and justice.	105	53
„ II.—Serious offences against the person ...	317	250

	Cases in which property of Rs. 10 and above in value was taken.	779	683
	Total ...	2,637	2,549

These figures are self-explanatory; but it may be added that the figures regarding dakaitis, which already show an improvement, are expected to show a still further improvement in the next report. Several of the dakaitis committed since 1890 were the work of formidable armed gangs, resident in the northern frontier of the Hyderabad State who used to carry on their depredations along the southern border of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts. The steps taken against these gangs in co-operation with His Highness the Nizam's Government have proved successful, and the gangs have now been entirely broken up. The following extract from the Resident's review of the Provincial Police Report for 1893 may usefully be quoted here:—

"The most important incident in the history of the year's crime is the successful action taken against the organized bands of dakaits who, having their head quarters in Hyderabad territory, harried the villages on the southern borders of Berar, and by their example, incited Banjaras and other lawless characters in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts to crimes of violence. The Resident believes that the methods taken against these dakaits were the right ones; the offenders were tracked to their hiding places and there surrounded by a military force of adequate strength. Successful resistance became an impossibility, and none was attempted except by Utam Singh and Lab Singh. The next step was to bring the captured dakaits promptly to trial and to inflict exemplary punishment upon those convicted of crime. There is no deterrent so effective against violent crime as a sharp sentence following speedily upon arrest, and the Resident notes with satisfaction that both the Court of the Dakaiti Commissioners at Hyderabad and the ordinary tribunals in Berar disposed of the cases brought before them in a thoroughly efficient way."

Working of the police in cognizable cases.

29. The following figures summarize the working of the police and the results of police action as regards cognizable offences during the years 1892 and 1893:—

	1892.	1893.
Cases.
1. No. of cases occurred (inclusive of old cases investigated during the year and cases pending from previous year)	8,966	8,607

Property.
1. Value of property stolen Rs.	2,39,763	2,02,572
2. Percentage of property recovered ...	27·4	27·2

30. The number of persons called to security in 1893 was 106, against 55 in 1892. Security for good behaviour.

31. The number of non-cognizable offences amounted to 6,745 against 7,319 in 1892. In only 19 cases were the police employed. The total number of persons who appeared before the courts was 13,943, and of these 20 per cent. were convicted, the corresponding percentage for 1892 being about 25·5. Non-cognizable cases.

32. There were 10 escapes from police custody, of which 8 were recaptured. The corresponding figures for 1892 were 7 and 4 respectively. Escapes from police custody.

33. The following table compares the working of the Railway Police for the three years 1891 to 1893 :— Railway Police.

SECTION III.

Criminal Justice.

34. Besides the courts of the Judicial Commissioner and the Sessions Judge, the following was the effective strength of the Magistracy in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts at the close of the year 1893 :— Tribunals.

6 Deputy Commissioners.
20 First class Magistrates.
19 Second do.
11 Third do.
14 Special Magistrates.
2 Benches of Magistrates.

72 Total

There is no difference in the number of officers exercising magisterial powers in the cantonments of Aurangabad, Jalna, Mominabad and Hingoli in the dominions of His Highness the Nizam.

35. The subjoined table shows the number of offences reported during the past two years, and the manner of their disposal :— Amount of crime.

Years.	Offences reported.	Cases dismissed under Section 203, Criminal Procedure Code.		Cases struck off as false.		Cases returned as true.		Cases brought to trial.
		No.	Per cent.	No.	Per cent.	No.	Per cent.	No.	Per cent.
1892	19,137	2,986	15·6	964	5·04	15,187	79·3	12,292	64·2
1893	17,616	2,488	14·1	641	3·6	14,487	82·2	11,707	66·4

There was a net decrease of 1,521 or 8·6 per cent. in the number of new offences; of 498 in cases dismissed under section 203, Criminal Procedure Code; of 700 in cases returned as true; of 585 in cases brought to trial; and of 323 in cases struck off as false—which shows that due care is exercised in examining reports and enquiries.

The number of offences reported this year is the lowest that has been reported in the past five years. This falling off in crime is due to improved supervision by the Police and Magistracy, and especially to the increased attention to surveillance of bad characters. The result is satisfactory.

Classification of offences.

36. The following table is an abstract comparing the offences in each class with the number for the preceding year:—

	Total for 1893.	Total for 1892.	Increase.	Decrease.
Offences against the State	...	...	...	...
Do. relating to the Army and Navy ...	...	...	...	...
Do. against the public tranquillity	48	107	...	59
Do. by or relating to public servants ...	8	20	...	12
Contempts of the lawful authority of public servants ...	153	216	...	63
False evidence and offences against public justice ...	87	79	8	...
Offences relating to coin and Government Stamps ...	6	12	...	6
Do. relating to weights and measures ...	15	32	...	17
Do. affecting the public health, safety, convenience, decency and morals.	280	501	...	221
Offences relating to religion	5	5	...	...
Total ...	602	972	8	378
Offences affecting the human body	4,556	4,612	...	56
Do. against property	5,129	5,159	...	30
Do. not included in the above	300	225	75	...
Do. under special and local laws	3,900	4,219	...	319
Total ...	13,885	14,215	75	405
Grand Total ...	14,487	15,187	83	783

False evidence and offences against public justice show an increase of eight cases. Offences against public tranquillity have decreased by 59 cases, and are fewer by 89 than in 1891. Contempts of the lawful authority of public servants also show a further decrease; the number of offences affecting the human body and against property remains practically unchanged. Under heinous crime, although murders and attempts at murder (31 and 7) increased by 1 and 2 respectively, a general decrease is reported. The Amraoti district, as last year, stands first in evil repute for this crime with 12 murders out of 31 for the whole province, while Buldana comes next with 8, one of the murders in this district being remarkable for its determined character. Cases of robbery and dakaiti decreased respectively by 17 and 14.

In the Hyderabad Contingent stations the offences during the year under report were classified as below :—

—	1893.	1892.	Increase.	Decrease.
Offences against the public tranquillity ...	4	2	2	...
Do. by or relating to public servants	1	...	1	...
Contempts of the lawful authority of public servants.	2	...	2	...
Offences relating to coin and Government stamps.	1	...	1	...
Do. weights and measures ...	1	1	...	...
Total ...	9	3	6	...
Offences affecting the human body	15	27	...	12
Do. against property	49	38	11	...
Do. not included in the above ...	24	5	19	...
Do. under special and local laws ...	1	65	...	64
	89	135	30	76
	98	138	36	76
			Net decrease 40

The number of offences against property has increased from 38 to 49, the increase being mainly in thefts of a petty nature. Under "special and local laws" there has been a large falling off. The decrease is almost entirely in breaches of cantonment rules.

Persons brought to trial.

37. The total number of persons under trial during the year, including the number pending at the close of last year, was 21,623, as compared with 22,239 in 1892. Of these 21,247 or 98·2 per cent. were disposed of as under :—

Died, &c.	730	or	3·4 per cent.
Discharged or acquitted ...	12,514	,,	57·9 do.
Convicted	7,732	,,	35·7 do.
Committed or referred ...	271	,,	1·3 do.

The result for the Hyderabad Contingent stations is as shown below :—

Died, &c.	1	or	·6 per cent.
Discharged or acquitted ...	80	,,	47·9 do.
Convicted	85	,,	50·9 do.
Committed or referred ...	1	,,	·6 do.

Distribution of work.

38. The following statement shows the distribution of work among the several courts of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts for the past two years :—

—	Cases disposed of.		Percentage.

Average duration.

39. The average duration of the cases disposed of by magistrates of all denominations for the year under report was 7·7 days against 7·1 in 1892.

Special jurisdiction of Deputy Commissioners.

40. The number of cases disposed of by Deputy Commissioners in exercise of their enhanced powers rose from 48 in 1892 to 72 in the year under report. Of the total number of persons disposed of under this section 66 or 41·2 per cent. were convicted. Of those convicted 15·1 per cent. were punished with terms of imprisonment exceeding three years, and their sentences were referred to the Sessions Judge for confirmation.

Summary trials.

41. The number of cases disposed of summarily fell from 436 in the last year to 375 in the year under report.

Trials of European British subjects.

42. Two European British subjects were tried during the year for criminal force and assault. Both the offenders were convicted.

Details of punishments.

43. The following statement shows the total number of punishments inflicted by the various classes of courts in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts :—

Class of tribunals.	Year.	Total number of persons punished.	Persons sentenced to						Persons ordered to find or give security or recognizance to keep the peace or sureties for good behaviour.	Persons imprisoned in default of security for good behaviour.

Superior Courts ...	1892	8	6	2	...	...	...	...	...	...
	1893	4	4	...	...	...	...	...	...	...

In the Hyderabad Contingent stations the total number of persons sentenced to punishments of all kinds was 85 against 158 in 1892. Of these 85 persons 46 were sentenced to imprisonment, 35 to fine, and 4 to whipping. The rise in the sentences of imprisonment and whipping is attributed to the larger number of offences against property.

Fines.

44. The number of persons fined was 6,070, of this number 83·6 being fined less than Rs. 10 and 98·3 per cent. less than Rs. 50. The total amount of fines imposed was Rs. 53,699-10-3 against Rs. 70,762-3-3 in 1892, and the realizations were Rs. 46,016-6-6 against Rs. 61,480-15-6.

In the Hyderabad Contingent stations the amount of fines imposed was Rs. 1,942 and the total sum realized was Rs. 742, leaving a balance of Rs. 1,200 outstanding at the close of 1893. This is explained by the fact that a single item of Rs. 1,000 was due in Jalna.

Witnesses.

45. The following table gives particulars of the attendance of witnesses during the past two years :—

	1893.		1892.
	Number of witnesses.	Percentage.	Number of witnesses.	Percentage.
1	2	3	4	5
Discharged after 1st day's attendance	31,372	79·1	32,516	76·5

Detained for more than 3 days	635	1·6	846	2·
Total ...	39,667	100	42,479	100

The number of witnesses who attended the Hyderabad Contingent Courts during the year was 390. Of these 323 were discharged on the first day of their appearance, and 67 were detained for periods varying from two to four days. 361 witnesses were allowed to go unexamined. The longest detention occurred in the Hingoli Court, where three persons were detained for four days.

Sessions Court.

46. The following figures compare the working of the Court of Sessions during the past two years :—

	1892.	1893.
Number of persons tried	242	124
Convicted and sentenced to death ...	8	8
Convicted and sentenced to transportation for life	34	35
Convicted and sentenced otherwise ...	67	42
Acquitted	133	39
Percentage of convictions... ...	45·	62·1

Six cases involving 44 persons were left pending at the close of the year. The percentage of acquittals has fallen from 55· to 31·5, while convictions have risen from 45· to 62·1 per cent. The result is satisfactory.

All cases were tried with the aid of assessors, except six in which the accused pleaded guilty. The judge agreed with the assessors in 44 cases, and differed from one assessor in five cases, and from both in four cases. In one case the judge differed from three assessors and agreed with one. No European British subject was tried by the Court of Sessions. The average duration of cases fell from 58 days in 1892 to 46·4 days in the year under report.

Appeals for disposal.

47. The following statement shows the number of appeals instituted, disposed of, and pending in the criminal courts of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the past as compared with the preceding year :—

	Appeals for disposal including pending.		Appeals disposed of.		Pending.
	1893.	1892.	1893.	1892.	1893.	1892.

*2 disposed of by death of appellants.

In the Sessions Court the percentage of confirmations and rejections was 67 as compared with 71·3 in 1892. The general percentage of sentences confirmed in the Appellate Courts of Magistrates has risen from 19·6 to 47·5, and the percentage of reversals has fallen from 37·6 to 22·4 per cent. of disposals. The average duration of appeals for the province has fallen from 19·1 to 16·8 days.

SECTION IV.

Jails.

Status of jails and classes of convicts confined in them.

48. No alteration in the status of jails took place during the year. There are two large and four small jails in the province. In the Amraoti Jail, which during the year 1893 had an average jail population of 471·3, are confined all convicts (except transportation prisoners) sentenced in the Amraoti district, and convicts of the Ellichpur and Wun districts sentenced to terms exceeding six months. The Akola Jail holds all convicts of the Akola district, all prisoners sentenced to transportation in the province, juvenile prisoners and prisoners sentenced to terms exceeding six months in the districts of Buldana and Basim. It had an average daily population of 568·7 in 1893. The four other jails, namely, those at Ellichpur, Wun, Buldana and Basim, contain prisoners with terms up to six months' imprisonment sentenced in the respective districts, and prisoners with longer terms previous to their transfer to the larger jails.

The question of establishing one central jail for the province is under consideration.

Jail population.

49. The average general jail population in 1893 was higher than in any previous year except 1880. The total admissions during 1893 amounted to 3,275 and discharges to 3,093. Adding the difference of these to the number in jails in the beginning of 1893, viz., 1,197, the total at the end of that year was 1,379, the daily average strength being 1284·18. The following table gives comparative details for the years 1892 and 1893 of the total population of all the jails in the province :—

Classification of convicts according to religion, age and previous occupation.

50. Of the 1,639 convicts (1,531 males and 108 females) imprisoned during the year, 3 were Christians, 244 Mahomedans, 1,391 Hindoos, and one was a Jain. According to age 13 were under 16 years, 1,374 from 16 to 40 years, 230 from 40 to 60 years, and 22 above 60 years. Classified according to previous occupation, of the 108 female convicts 74 were married, 4 unmarried, 24 widows and 6 prostitutes. The previous occupations of the 1,531 male convicts are compared below with the corresponding figures for 1891 and 1892 :—

	1891.	1892.	1893.

51. Passing to classification according to length of sentences, comparative figures for two years are given in the next table :— Classification by length of sentences.

		Not exceeding one month.	Above 1 month and not exceeding 3 months.	Above 3 months and not exceeding 6 months.	Above 6 months and not exceeding 1 year.	Above 1 year and not exceeding 2 years. 	1893	33·4	15·5	19·9	5·0	8·1	4·1	3·8

52. Of the 1,639 convicts imprisoned during the year, 198 or 12·08 per cent. had been previously convicted, the corresponding percentage for 1892 being 11·8. Of the 198 reconvicted prisoners, 107 had been convicted once, 45 twice, and 46 more than twice. Previous convictions.

53. There was one escape during the year which occurred in the Yeotmal jail and was due to neglect of orders by the jail establishment. The prisoner was recaptured by the police the same evening. Escapes and recaptures.

54. The total number of jail offences was 1,035 against 662 in 1892. Of the former two were dealt with by Criminal Courts and the rest by Jail Superintendents, who inflicted 'minor' punishments in 829 cases and 'major' punishments in 204 cases. The proportion of all punishments to total jail population was 85 per cent. against 60·6 per cent. in 1892. Jail offences and punishments.

55. Of the convicts released during the year 146 obtained remissions under the mark system, the average remissions gained by them ranging from 48 days in the case of convicts with sentences above one year and not exceeding two years, to 357 days in the case of convicts with sentences exceeding ten years. Mark system.

56. The following statistics show the health of the prisoners for the three years 1891 to 1893 :— Health.

		1891.	1892.	1893.
Daily average strength		989·2	1150·6	1283·2
Admissions into hospital		483·0	669·0	1121·0

	of daily average number sick ...	12·5	15·8	27·3
	of deaths in and out of hospital ...	11·1	17·3	28·8

Employment of convicts.

57. The average number of convicts under sentence of labor on working days was 1058·2. They are thus accounted for—

Sick	34·29
Convalescent and infirm	27·87
On unremunerative labor	·15
Prison officers	61·23
Prison servants	100·46
Gardening	114·93
Preparing articles for prison use ...	167·28
Jail repairs, alterations, &c. ...	36·26
Manufactures	515·78

It may be said roughly that one convict out of every two was occupied in the supply of the needs of the jail population, leaving his fellow free for remunerative labor.

Jail manufactures.

58. The general financial results of factory operations will be seen in the following statement :—

—	1891.	1892.	1893.
	Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.
Total cash earnings	12,800 7 0	4,712 2 0	17,655 15 0
Average earnings per head sentenced to labor	14 1 0	4 5 0	14 9 0
Average earnings per head employed on manufacture	37 15 0	9 14 0	34 3 0

The cash earnings exceeded those in the two previous years put together. This was to some extent due to realizations by the presses at Amraoti in 1893 of outstandings left unrealized at the end of 1892.

Expenditure.

59. With the large increase in jail population already noticed, the gross expenditure in guarding and maintenance necessarily rose. It was Rs. 79,478 in 1893 against Rs. 76,613 in 1892. But owing to better earnings in the factory department, the net cost fell from Rs. 71,285 to Rs. 61,821. The gross average cost per head fell from Rs. 66-9-0 to Rs. 61-15-0, and the net cost from Rs. 61-15-0 to Rs. 48-3-0. Details for three years are given in the following statement :—

—	1891.	1892.	1893.
	Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.
Total gross expenditure under all heads....	61,086 0 0	76,613 2 0	79,477 11 0

Classification of suits.

62. The following is a classified statement of the suits instituted during the past two years ;—

Description of suits.	1892.		1893.		Increase or decrease in number of suits, i.e., in columns 2 and 3.	Percentage of increase or decrease.
	Number of suits.	Percentage of suits.	Number of suits.	Percentage of suits.
1. Suits for money or moveable property.	22,521	85·9	23,618	86·9	+1,097	+4·8
Title and other suits.
2. Suits for immoveable property ...			1,471	5·4
3. Do. for specific relief			40	·1
4. Do. to establish right of pre-emption.	3,354	12·8	222	·8	− 225	−6·7
5. Mortgage suits			1,396	5·2
6. Suits relating to religious and other endowments.	...	...	1	...	+ 1	...
7. Matrimonial suits	83	3	67	2	− 16	−2·39
8. Testamentary suits	...	...	...	...	...	...
9. Other suits not falling under any of the previous heads.	250	1	378	1·4	+ 128	+33·8
Total ..	26,208	100	27,193	100	+ 985	+3·7

The classification in this statement follows that introduced in the new Judicial Statement No. VII in "Title and other suits;" and it is therefore somewhat difficult to institute a comparison with the figures of previous years. The rise of 4·8 per cent. in suits for money and moveable property probably marks increased litigation in the Small Cause Courts, which is the most distinctive feature of the year's statistics.

Of the 1,471 suits for immoveable property, 1,117 or 75·9 per cent. related to fields borne on the Government rent rolls, and of the 222 suits to establish the right of pre-emption and of the 378 included under 9 "Other suits," 477 related likewise to similar property. In Berar the Revenue Courts do not deal with rent suits, which is therefore the principal business of the Civil Courts.

Value and cost of suits disposed of.

63. The following table shows the value and costs of the suits disposed of during the year under report :—

Grades of value.	No. of suits disposed of.	Aggregate value of suits.	Aggregate cost of suits.	Average value of suits.	Average cost of suits.	Percentage of cost to value.

Grand Total ... 1892	31,278	33,22,270 5 0	4,71,805 3 6	126 15 3	15 0 9	14·2

The total value of original suits, of which the money value was capable of determination, was Rs. 32,40,762-15-9 against Rs. 33,22,270-5-0 in 1892, showing a decrease of Rs. 81,507-5-3 or 2·4 per cent., and the average value of suits was Rs. 126-7-7, showing a slight fall from Rs. 126-15-3 in the last year. Of the suits filed 94 per cent. were for value not exceeding Rs. 500 and 70·2 per cent. of the whole litigation for less than Rs. 100. This was very much the same as in last year.

Disposal of suits.

64. Including 3,506 pending suits from 1892 and 3,756 re-admitted, &c., cases, the total number of suits for disposal during the year under report was 34,455, showing an increase of 1,398 suits over the figure of the previous year. Of this total number (34,455) 26,787 were disposed of during the year as shown below :—

66. The average duration of contested cases during the year under report was 106·3 days, and of uncontested cases 56·9 days, against 119·7 and 58·7 respectively in the previous year. Average duration.

67. The total number of applications for execution of decrees was 32,235 against 29,278 in the previous year, showing an increase of 10 per cent., and a corresponding increase in the amount of execution business disposed of. Execution of decrees.

In 3,867 cases satisfaction was obtained in full.
„ 3,429 cases satisfaction was obtained in part.
„ 16,655 cases the applications were wholly infructuous.
„ 3,116 applications were transferred.
„ 5,168 applications were pending at the close of the year.

Realizations in money decrees were effected in the following methods during the past year :—

		Rs.	a.	p.
Paid in voluntarily	...	14,230	10	7
With the issue of process	...	2,98,829	14	10

Moveable property was attached in 1,569 cases, but sale was actually resorted to in 1,046 cases. Immoveable property was attached in 1,515 cases, and sale carried out in 1,062.

There were 37 civil debtors in prison during the year, including two remaining from last year. Of these three were released during the year and three were remaining at its close. The largest number of warrants of arrest were issued in the Amraoti district.

Applications to be declared insolvent were 44 in 1893 as against 36 in 1892, and eight applications were granted against seven in 1892. That the majority of the applicants were persons of small means is shown by the fact that in three cases only was it found necessary to appoint a receiver, and that the amount of creditor's claims admitted during the year amounted to no more than Rs. 3,384-9-7. No penal proceedings were taken under section 355 of the Civil Procedure Code, and one person was declared insolvent and discharged as compared with two persons discharged in 1892.

Processes.

68. The total income on account of court and process fees during the year amounted to Rs. 4,39,462-9-0, including the amount realized in the Judicial Commissioner's Court, as against Rs. 4,12,643-0-0 in the previous year. The rise is, of course, due to the increase in litigation. The process service establishment cost Rs. 65,569-6-2. Processes issued by the Courts during the year under report numbered 281,136, and the fees levied on account of service of these processes amounted to Rs. 1,00,891-10-0. Thus there was a surplus of Rs. 35,322-3-10 at the end of the year.

69. The following table shows the work of the Appellate Courts during the year :—

Chief Court of Districts.	Appeals from decrees.	130	183	313	242	71

Judicial Commissioner's Court.	Appeals from decrees.	96	439	535	362	173
	Miscellaneous appeals	35	270	305	221	84
Total ...		788	1,503	2,291	1,582	709

The total number of appeals disposed of by all Courts in 1893 was 1,582, or 21·3 per cent. more than in 1892.

54·7 per cent. of the appeals instituted last year related to rights in land assessed or other immoveable property, and 45·3 per cent. were brought against decrees for money or moveable property. The percentage of appeals relating to rights in land was 62·9 in 1892 and 56·6 in 1891.

The average duration of appeals in all Courts shows a marked improvement, the provincial average having fallen from 245·3 to 128·4 in regular appeals, and from 169·6 to 115 in miscellaneous appeals.

In the Judicial Commissioner's Court the duration has fallen from 269·2 and 162·6 to 169·7 and 110·6 respectively in regular and miscellaneous appeals, and in the Civil and Sessions Judge's Court from 264·6 and 162·6 to 92·7 and 131·9 respectively in regular and miscellaneous appeals.

Courts in the Hyderabad Contingent Stations.

70. In the Courts in the Hyderabad Contingent stations of Aurangabad, Jalna, Mominabad and Hingoli, 516 suits were instituted against 314 in 1892 as shown below :—

Aurangabad	221
Jalna	179
Mominabad	14
	516

Of these 516 suits, 506 were for money or moveable, and 10 were other suits. The number of suits disposed of was 483, and their aggregate value rose from Rs. 17,999-6-3 to Rs. 53,184-9-6, the average value of each suit being Rs. 110-1-9 against Rs. 68-15-5 in the previous year.

There were 270 applications for execution, of which 227 were disposed of as under :—

Completely executed	76
Partially executed	44
No execution effected	107
Pending	43
	270

The total income of these Courts arising from court and process fees exceeded that of the previous year by Rs. 2,261.

SECTION VI.

Registration.

Number of offices.

71. The number of offices was the same as in 1892-93, viz., six District Registrars' and 57 Sub-Registrars' offices.

Registration business.

72. The total number of registrations in 1893-94 amounted to 35,183 against 31,162 in 1892-93, the increase being 12·9 per cent. The largest figure previously recorded was 31,766 in 1889-90. The subjoined statement compares the statistics for the years 1892-93 and 1893-94 :—

C 0

It will be seen from the foregoing table that the increase in registrations has been general over almost all kinds of documents; and it may be added that the increase has been general over all districts. The aggregate value of property transferred by registered deeds rose from Rs. 92,14,049 to 1,06,78,417 or by 15·9 per cent.

Documents impounded.

73. The number of documents impounded was 117 against 108 in the year previous; of the former 92 were disposed of by Collectors, with the result that the action of registering officers was supported in 77 cases.

Punctuality in registration.

74. Out of 35,183 documents 31,611 were registered on the same day they were presented, 1,679 on the day following presentation, and the remaining 1,893 within a week or more after presentation.

Financial results.

75. The receipts and expenditure of the department are shown in the following two statements:—

Receipts.

Year.	Fees on registrations in Books I, III and IV.				Receipts other than fees on registrations in Books I, III and IV.		Total receipts.

1893-94	29,472 15 5	13,690 9 11	5,634 5 4	48,797 14 8

It will be observed that although both the receipts and expenditure rose, yet the proportion of increase in the former was comparatively larger, and that the net surplus during 1893-94 was Rs. 39,282 against Rs. 28,186 in the previous year.

The balance of receipts over expenditure since the formation of the department now amounts to Rs. 4,07,916-6-4.

SECTION VII.

Municipalities.

Strength and constitution.

76. The area of the Basim Municipality was extended in March 1893 so as to bring within its limits the Civil Station of Basim; and three new municipalities were established on 1st April 1893, viz., those for Buldana, Yeotmal and the Ellichpur Civil Station. The total number of municipalities during 1893-94 was thus eleven, constituted as shown below :—

Name of municipality.	Population within municipal limits.	Sanctioned strength.			Remarks.
		Nominated members.	Elected members.	Total No. of members.
Amraoti Town	28,946	6	18	24	Four of the municipalities, i. e., those at Amraoti Camp, Buldana, Yeotmal and the Ellichpur Civil Station and the Civil Station Ward of the Basim Municipality, have been excepted from such of the provisions of the Berar Municipal Law as require that a certain proportion of the members shall be elected.

Of the 170 memberships four were vacant at the end of the year, and the remaining 166 were filled by 54 "officials" (not "ex-officio") and 112 "non-officials." Of the members 31 were Europeans and 135 natives.

77. The income of each municipality during 1893-94 was as shown below :— Income.

The total income of Rs. 3,83,399-1-9 shown in column 3 of the foregoing statement was thus made up :— (a) municipal rates and taxes Rs. 1,00,627-7-7 ; (b) realizations from pounds Rs. 7,502 ; (c) revenue derived from municipal property and powers apart from taxation Rs. 84,297-10-6 ; (d) grants and contributions for general and special purposes Rs. 24,484 ; (e) miscellaneous Rs. 40,487-15-8 ; and (f) loans from Government to the Akola Municipality Rs. 1,26,000.

Expenditure.

78. The aggregate expenditure of all the municipalities during the year under report was Rs. 3,66,930 as detailed below :—

SECTION VIII.

Local Boards.

Rural Boards Law and number of Boards.

79. The Berar Rural Boards Law having been lately applied to the Wun district, the only tract outside municipal areas in which that law is not now in force is the Melghat taluk of the Ellichpur district. The number of District Boards is six—one for each district, and of Taluk Boards twenty-one—one for each taluk in which the Rural Boards Law is in force.

Area and population of the tract in which the Law is in force.

80. The aggregate area in which the Rural Boards Law is in force is 16,056 square miles, but this includes the small areas of the municipalities referred to in the preceding paragraph. The population of the area in which the Law is in force, i.e., exclusive of Municipal limits, is 2,693,533 souls.

Constitution of Boards.

81. The Taluk Boards consist of members elected by the rate-payers and others qualified to vote and of members nominated by the Commissioner of the province. The District Boards consist of members elected from amongst the members of the Taluk Boards and of members appointed by the Commissioner. At the close of the year under report, i.e., 1893-94, the total number of members of the several Taluk Boards was 378, of whom 250 were elected members and 128 nominated members. Of the total of 378, thirty-three were officials and 345 non-officials. The aggregate number of District Board members was 155—thirty-three nominated and 122 elected. Twenty-four of the members were officials and the rest non-officials.

Election.

82. The total number of Taluk Board vacancies to be filled up amounted to 73, for which there were 157 candidates. The number of persons entitled to vote aggregated 24,784, but of this only 13 per cent. took part in the elections.

83. The following statement furnishes details regarding the income and expenditure of the six District Boards of the province:— Income and expenditure.

SECTION IX.

Military.

84. There is only one place in the province, viz., Ellichpur, at which a military force is stationed. During the year under report the force consisted of a detachment of the Hyderabad Contingent, having a strength of 128 Artillery and 813 Infantry.

SECTION X.

Marine.

85. There is nothing for record under this head.

CHAPTER IV.

PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION.

SECTION I.

Agriculture.

Area of the province.

86. The following is a comparative statement for the years 1892-93 and 1893-94, showing the area of the province and its distribution under various heads :—

Description of land.	1892-93.	1893-94.

Grand Total ...	11,348,483	10,299,217	1,051,227	11,350,444	100·	100·	100·

It will be observed that the grand total area shown under 1893-94 (column 5) exceeds that under 1892-93 (column 2) by 1,961 acres. This is due to the rectification of errors in previous returns.

Culturable land.

87. Of the culturable land available for occupation in the province, excluding the Melghat taluk, only 3 per cent. remained unoccupied, and out of it nearly one half belonged to villages leased under the waste land rules. If, however, the lands of khalsa villages only are taken into account, the occupied and unoccupied lands stood in the proportion of 98·7 to 1·3. Details are furnished in the subjoined table :—

Classification of lands.	Area in acres of culturable assessed land available for cultivation in 1893-94.			Percentage borne by

Area under crops.

88. Of the total land under occupation, viz., 7,766,167 acres (vide statement in paragraph 86) 87·4 per cent. was under crops, 61·9 per cent. under "kharif" or rain crops, 25·2 per cent. under "rabi" or winter crops, and 0·3 per cent. under garden and miscellaneous crops; the balance, i.e., 12·6 per cent. was under grass. The following table shows for the five years, 1889-90 to 1893-94, the proportion borne by the area under the principal crops to the total area under crops :—

Name of crops.	Percentage borne by the area under the crops named in column 1 to the total area under crops.

Irrigation.

89. The total area under irrigation during 1893-94 was 48,787 acres (47,171 acres irrigated from wells and 1,616 acres irrigated otherwise than from wells), against 43,466 acres in 1892-93. The principal crops grown by irrigation are chillies, sugar-cane and vegetables.

Outturn of crops.

90. The estimated outturn per acre of seven of the principal crops of the province is given below :—

Year.	Jowari.	Cotton.	Wheat.	Til.	Bajri.	Gram.	Linseed.	Remarks.
	M. s.	M. s.	M. s.	M. s.	M. s.	M. s.	M. s.
1892-93	2 11	0 39	2 7	0 33	1 18	2 12	1 26	M=Maund. S=Seer.
1893-94	2 18	1 19	2 36	1 2	1 8	1 36	1 17

Agricultural farms.

91. There are no agricultural farms in the province. Some Egyptian cotton seed received from the Director of Botanical Department of Northern India was sown at Akola, Akot, Yeotmal and Ellichpur, but the experiments proved unsuccessful.

Agricultural stock.

92. The following table compares the agricultural stock of the province for the year under report with that for 1892-93 :—

Year.	Cows and bullocks.	Buffaloes.	Sheep and goats.	Carts.	Ploughs.
1892-93 ...	1,653,946	310,566	503,219	131,323	138,064
1893-94 ...	1,586,112	277,678	540,006	135,570	149,990

Production and Distribution.

Cattle fairs.

93. The chief cattle fair of the province is that held at Wun. The number of cattle brought for sale increased from 11,177 to 11,825, but the sales effected fell from 4,620 to 3,821.

Loans to agriculturists.

94. The total sum advanced to agriculturists was Rs. 43,609—Rs. 39,450 under the Land Improvement Loans Act plus Rs. 4,159 under the Agriculturists Loans Act. Of the amount advanced under the former Act, Rs. 8,976 were for wells, Rs. 9,800 for reclamation of lands, Rs. 12,690 for improvement of wells and fields, and Rs. 7,984 for removing stones and raising bunds to nullas, &c.

Cattle disease.

95. The number of attacks during the year under report amounted to 16,859 of which 5,217 were cases of anthrax, 2,440 of rinderpest, and 4,347 of hoof and mouth disease. Of the total number attacked 56 per cent. recovered and 44 per cent. died.

Horse-breeding.

96. One of the three stallions in the province died in August 1893. The total number of mares covered during 1893-94 was 106. Reliable information regarding the stock produced by the Government stallions is not available.

SECTION II.

Weather and Crops.

Rainfall.

97. The average rainfall over the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during 1893-94 amounted to 36·93 inches. This amount is considerably lower than the average of the preceding year, which came to 59·31 inches, but compared with the averages of 1891-92 and 1890-91 of 39·29 and 40·26 inches respectively, or the average for the five years preceding 1890-91 of 39·62, the decline is not great. The rainfall of 1892-93 was clearly abnormal. As regards the distribution of the rainfall by months, the record is as follows :—

Month.	1893-94. Inches.	Quinquennial average. Inches.
April and May ...	2·29	1·4
June	6·32	7·61
July	5·75	12·35
August	11·90	7·7
September	4·24	3·99
October	3·16	4·49
November to March ...	3·27	3·7
Total ...	36·93	41·24

As to the distribution of rainfall by districts, in the Amraoti district the fall though slightly short was seasonable, and the crops did not suffer; tanks, however, did not fill: in the Akola district the fall was not short, but unseasonable to some degree, affecting adversely both the kharif and rabi crops; in the Ellichpur district the fall is said to have been fairly seasonable, though crops suffered from its being short; in the Buldana district though the fall was short, it was seasonable, and crops did not suffer; in the Wun district the fall was excessive in October and deficient in November, with the result that both the kharif and rabi crops were damaged throughout the district, the Wun and Kelapur taluks losing the most; in the Basim district the fall though short is said to have been unseasonable in parts of the district only, and the crops slightly suffered.

Prices of food grains.

98. Wheat for the province averaged per rupee 14 seers and 8 chataks against 12 seers and 5 chataks in the preceding year, and 12 seers and 12 chataks in 1891-92. Gram averaged 16 seers and 5 chataks per rupee against 13 seers and 14 chataks in 1892-93 and 15 seers in 1891-92. Jowari per rupee was 19 seers and 4 chataks as against 17 seers 6 chataks in 1892-93, and 21 seers and 13 chataks in 1891-92. Rice 8 seers and 10 chataks per rupee, the same as in 1891-92, but 5 chataks more than in 1892-93.

Wages of labour.

99. The provincial average wages of skilled and unskilled labour were the same as in the preceding year, viz., Rs. 0-12-3 and Rs. 0-3-11 per diem respectively. The hire of a cart and pair of bullocks rose from Rs. 0-14-0 to Rs. 0-14-5, and the hire of a pair of bullocks was Rs. 0-10-11 against Rs. 0-10-8 in 1892-93.

SECTION IV.

Forests.

Staff.

102. The office of Conservator was held throughout the year under report (i.e., the forest year 1893-94 which ended on 30th June 1894) by Mr. C. Bagshawe, and the divisional charges—each of the six districts forms a forest division—either by Deputy Assistant or Extra Assistant Conservators, and in one case by a Forest Ranger for about six months of the year. Mr. E. M. Coventry, Assistant Conservator, left Berar on transfer to the Punjab in November 1893, and in the same month Mr. R. M. Williamson, Assistant Conservator, joined in Berar from the Cooper's Hill College.

Forest area.

103. The following statement shows the alterations in the forest area of the province :—

Class of forest.	Area on 1st July 1893.	On 30th June 1894.
		Area in square miles.	Percentage borne by the forest area in preceding column to the total area of Berar, viz., 17,735 square miles.
	Sq. miles.
1. State-forests of class A primarily reserved for the production of timber and fuel.	1,822	1,480	8·3
2. State-forests of class B primarily reserved for fodder grass	63	64	0·4
3. State-forests of class C—
(a) Division I primarily reserved for pasture, but in which grazing can be regulated and is paid for.	1,598	1,810	10·3
(b) Division II primarily reserved for pasture and in which during the current land settlement Government has conceded grazing free of any due.		554	3·0
State-forests of class D—a temporary class to be eventually absorbed in one or other of the preceding classes or to be restored to the ordinary control of the revenue authorities.	1,250	249	1·4
Grand Total ...	4,233	4,157	23·4

The changes are mainly due to the re-classification of State-forests of class D. The net decrease of 76 (i.e., 4,233 minus 4,157) square miles is thus accounted for :—

	Square miles.
(1) Loss on recalculation of areas	10
(2) Jagir and leased villages in the Melghat wrongly shown in 1892-93 as State-forests of class D	39
(3) State-forests disforested for cultivation and other purposes (36 square miles) minus land newly constituted forest (9 square miles)	27
Total ...	76

Boundaries.

104. The boundaries of State-forests in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts consist of either cleared lines with numbered pillars or the field boundary marks of the land revenue settlement department. With the exception of 19 miles which represent the length of portions of boundaries of certain class A forests in the Wun district—all the other forests lands have been demarcated. The total expenditure incurred on demarcation during the year under report was Rs. 3,849 on new works plus Rs. 771 on repairs. The following shows the state of the boundaries at the end of the year under report:—

	Miles.	F.B.M. No.	Length of close line with numbered pillars. Miles.	Field boundary marks. No.
(1) Length of previously existing boundaries—
(a) Repaired ...	407	9,429
(b) Not repaired ...	435	97,748
			842	107,177
(2) Length of boundaries artificially demarcated during the year.			239	20,469
(3) Total of (1) & (2), i.e., total length of artificially marked boundaries at the close of the year.			1,081	127,646
(4) Length of boundaries not demarcated at the close of the year.			19	...
(5) Length of natural boundaries not requiring artificial marks.			179	...
(6) Total of (3), (4) & (5), i.e., the total length of boundaries at the close of the year.			1,279	127,646

105. The total cases of breaches of law amounted to 841; of these 7·7 per cent. remained undetected, 78·5 per cent. which were petty cases were compounded, and the rest, i.e., 13·8 per cent. which were of a serious nature were taken before criminal courts. The corresponding percentages for the previous year were as follows:—undetected 5·5, compounded 61·9, and taken before Magistrates 32·6. Breaches of Forest Law.

106. The area attempted to be protected during the year under report was nearly 1,389 square miles, i.e., 150 square miles in excess of the area under protection during the previous year. Out of this area 1,350 square miles were successfully protected, and the area of failures was 39 square miles, or 2·8 per cent. of the area under protection, the corresponding percentage for 1892-93 being 3·7. The approximate cost per square mile of the area attempted to be protected was Rs. 8-9-7 against Rs. 7-3-2 in 1892-93, the rise being due to the length of new lines which had to be cleared. Fire protection.

107. The following extract from the provincial forest report for 1893-94 shows the progress of working plans:— Working plans.

	A.	B.	C.
"Areas for which working plans were complete at beginning of year	12	...	915
Do. do. have been completed during the year	19	2	4
Do. do. are in hand	1,009	4	907
Areas not yet dealt with including 249 sq. m. of 'D' with the 'C' State-forest	448	58	787
	1,488	64	2,613

"The work in 'A' timber reserves has made considerable progress save in Wun, where the valuation of the forest in the leased (izara) villages has absorbed all spare time and men, and in Buldana where the work was stopped owing to Mr. Bhukan's deputation to the Melghat.

"The management of 'B' fodder reserves is so simple that working plans have not been pushed on for these areas save in the way of experiments as to the best method of working.

"Plans for 'C' forests generally have been delayed owing to the non-completion of the 1" maps, but very good progress has been made in Amraoti and Ellichpur, where old maps are available, and in these divisions the plans are now nearly complete. The main 'C' areas as yet untouched are in Basim, where the forest area classification is still in hand.

"In the areas under working plans, or simple plans of operations sanctioned locally, the provisions have been duly carried out.

"The preparation of working plans in Berar has hitherto been slow, as it has not been possible to depute an officer specially for this work. During 1894-95 it will be possible to arrange for a special officer."

Grazing.

108. Of the aggregate area of the forests of classes A and B, viz., 1,544 square miles (vide statement in paragraph 103 ante) 1,200 square miles were closed to grazing, 248 square miles (96 miles for rains and 152 for whole year) were open save to browsers, and 96 square miles were open without restriction. Of the C and D forests only 6 square miles were closed to grazing and the remaining area (i. e., 2,607 square miles) was open without restriction. The total amount of grazing fees was Rs. 1,75,961, the rate per acre being one anna and six pies.

The grazing rules were revised during the year under report with the view of introducing fairly uniform rates all over the province, but as in several cases the change did not come into effect during the year, another year must elapse before the effect of the new rates can be seen.

Forest growth.

109. The following extract is taken from the forest report of the province for 1893-94 :—

"Taking the 'A' forests in South Berar, improvement is visible in every forest protected from fire and grazing, but the spread of teak is not marked as it is in the Melghat ; it should, however, be remembered that in the Melghat a compact block of 600 square miles of country was reserved, including all varieties of soil at different elevations, while as a rule in South Berar waste land was only available for reservation in the low hills, where the soil is poor and the areas of sheet rock considerable. In the Melghat the more the forest growth is examined and watched the more striking is the general improvement in growth and the wonderful spread of teak and bamboos, especially the former.

"In the 'B' forests, we are starting experiments to test the effect of limited grazing on grass lands, of firing them after the crop is cut, and of protecting them as heretofore from both fire and cattle. The B forests, as a rule, are in good order, though in some areas coarse grasses and thorns are making way to the exclusion of the finer fodder grasses.

"In 'C' forests the forest growth is not in a satisfactory condition, and the areas are overgrazed and overcut, but then it must be remembered these 2,600 square miles include nearly all the grazing land in Berar."

Artificial reproduction.

110. The following extract is taken from the forest report of the province for 1893-94 :—

"During the year 1,089 acres have been operated on at a cost of Rs. 966 in Amraoti, Akola, Buldana, Basim and Wun, while Rs. 260 were spent on nurseries for future planting in Wun, and Rs. 315 in date plantations and petty planting operations in Ellichpur. In Amraoti 163 acres of failures in Chirodi have been written off, and at the close of the year two acres of fully stocked date plantation were handed over to the Ellichpur town for management. Except in the planting of babul, 186 acres, planting work generally in Berar was not successful, and in no division is it probable that the area sown in the rains of 1893 will be half stocked in December 1894."

Communications and buildings.

111. The total amount spent on forests works during 1893-94 was Rs. 37,708 against Rs. 38,724 in 1892-93. Of the former amount Rs. 22,225 were spent on roads (Rs 14,530 on new roads and Rs. 7,695 on repairs), Rs. 13,302 on buildings (Rs. 8,922 on new buildings and Rs. 4,380 on repairs), Rs. 1,296 on five new wells, and the balance on miscellaneous works.

Outturn of forest produce.

112. The outturn of forest produce for the forest years 1892-93 and 1893-94 compares as follows :—

Mines and Quarries.

114. There is nothing to record under this head.

SECTION VI.

Manufactures.

115. The following is extracted from the trade report of the province for the year 1893-94 :—

"The manufactures of the province, as given in the previous reports, are chiefly confined to twist and yarn, coarse cotton cloth and petty unskilled handicrafts. Silk weaving is carried on at Kholapur in the Amraoti district, where pitambars are prepared; cotton carpets are woven at Akot and Ellichpur; saris, turbans, khadis and blankets are manufactured in several parts of the province; khadis of different textures and colors are woven at Ellichpur and Wun. Nut crackers are made at Deulghat in the Buldana district.

"Besides the cotton weaving mill at Badnera and two oil-mills, one at Amraoti and the other at Shegaon, the cotton presses and ginning factories worked by steam power are by far the most important industries in the province. The mill at Badnera produced 1,631,881 lbs. of twist and yarn, and 914,336 lbs. of cloth, against 995,862 lbs. and 912,217 lbs. respectively in the preceding year, showing an increase of 636,019 lbs. under the former and 2,119 lbs. under the latter. The number of persons employed in the mill during the year under report was 770 as in the previous year. Besides meeting local wants, the produce was exported to Delhi, Agra, and Central Provinces.

"Oil-mills.—The oil-mill at Amraoti turned out 12,455 gallons of oil and 1,088 tons of oil cakes, while the Shegaon oil-mill extracted 51,332 gallons of oil and 469 tons of oil cakes.

"There are altogether 36 cotton presses and 63 ginning factories, as against 28 and 58 respectively of 1892-93, under the management of private firms and joint-stock companies."

SECTION VII.

Trade.

Rail-borne Trade.

System of registration.

116. During the year under report, i.e., 1893-94, no change took place in the arrangements for the registration of rail-borne trade : the annual returns were as usual compiled in the office of the Examiner of Guaranteed Railway Accounts, Bombay, and furnished by him.

Production and Distribution.

Total trade.

117. The total traffic of the year under report is contrasted with that of the previous year, and the average of the five previous years in the following statement:—

[Figures in thousands of maunds and rupees.]

Description of trade.	Quantity in maunds.			Value in rupees.
	Average of five years ending 1892-93.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Average of five years ending 1892-93.	1892-93.	1893-94.

The volume of trade is 13·5 per cent. above that of last year, and 5·6 per cent. above the average of the past five years. The increase in value is nearly 26 per cent. above last year's figures, and 15·6 per cent. above the average for the five previous years. The total trade is made up of 51·9 per cent. of imports and 48·1 per cent. of exports. The increase in volume is chiefly due to the increase in imports, which are 27·5 per cent. over last year's figures and 25·9 per cent. over the average, while the exports are only 1·6 per cent. above last year and 10 per cent. below the quinquennial average; but the value of trade has increased in every case; even the exports, although 10 per cent. below the five years' average in quantity, are 20·2 per cent. above that average in value.

The increase of imports in grain and pulses, coal and coke, oils and provisions account for the rise under this head, while under exports cotton raw has increased in quantity over last year's figures, and in value over both last year and the five years' average. The export of oil-seeds has also increased, but the export trade of grain and pulses has fallen enormously and kept the total below the quinquennial average in quantity, though as mentioned above the value is higher.

External trade.

118. The following table shows the total import and export trade of Berar with the adjoining provinces during the year under report as compared with that of the preceding year and the average for the past five years:—

As noted in paragraph 145 of the Administration report for 1892-93, the trade of Berar is almost entirely confined to the Central Provinces and Bombay. The imports from Bombay into Berar amount to 34·7 per cent., while the exports from Berar to Bombay are 89·7 per cent. of the whole. The imports from the Central Provinces are 50·9 per cent., and the exports from Berar to those provinces are 4·1 per cent. of the whole. The exports from Berar to the Central Provinces have fallen off considerably, while the imports are still above those from Bombay. The trade with Bengal continues to increase, the reason for which was given last year (paragraph 145 cited) as the opening up of direct railway communication. The imports from the North-Western Provinces and Oudh have fallen off, while the exports they receive from Berar have increased considerably.

119. The following statement shows the imports of the province :— Imports.

As shown in paragraph 117 the increase in imports has been considerable both in quantity and value. The large rise under coal and coke is due to the increase in the number of cotton presses and ginning factories, and the better outturn of cotton, while the considerable falling off under raw cotton is owing to the better cotton crop within the province. The imports under grain and pulse are just double the figure for last year ; this is owing to the enormous increase in the imports of wheat from both Bombay and the Central Provinces. The imports of rice were above those of last year, as were also those of jowari and bajra. The increase under " oils " is due to increase in the importation of kerosine oil; the rise in imports of "stone and lime" may be traced to Bombay, Central Provinces and the Nizam's territory. The variations in the other articles of trade are small and do not call for explanation.

Exports.

120. The following table shows the exports of the province:—

The principal variations may be thus explained:—

Cotton, raw.—As stated in paragraph 146 of the Administration report for 1893-94, the unfavorable season of 1892-93 had a marked effect on the cotton crop, and caused a large decrease in the exports; the year under report has been comparatively a good one, and the export in consequence more nearly approaches the average for the past five years.

Grain and pulse.—The enormous decrease in the exports here appears due mostly to the depression of trade in wheat, consequent on the cheapness of that commodity in Europe. In 1892-93, Berar exported to the Port of Bombay 392,323 maunds of wheat, while during the year under report only 34,671 maunds found their way there. The exports to the Bombay Presidency and the Central Provinces have fallen off in a similar manner.

Oil-seeds.—An appreciable rise is apparent here, which is due to an increase of 649,000 maunds of linseed in the exports to the Port of Bombay, while the exports of linseed to Calcutta rise from 533 maunds in 1892-93 to 4,530 maunds in the year under report. The exports of linseed from the sea-ports this year has risen in a remarkable way. The export of rape and mustard to the Port of Bombay has risen from 6,383 maunds last year to 23,061 maunds for the present year. The export of castor oil-seeds to the Bombay Port has similarly greatly increased.

General remarks.

121. Generally then the trade of the year shows a satisfactory development and increase, and is chiefly remarkable for the increase of imports, especially of food-grains, to supply the deficiency caused by last year's bad harvest.

Road-borne Trade.

System of registration.

122. It was stated in paragraph 142 of the Administration Report for 1892-93 that "nakas" (i.e., registering stations) had been established at ten selected places on the borders of the Central Provinces for the registration of road-borne trade. On the 1st April 1893, the nakas were moved to a second batch of 10 villages on the same borders. In 1892-93 their range extended along the borders of Wun district; they have now been moved northwards, and extend along the Wardha river from Borgaon to Rawala in the Amraoti district. Since the 1st April 1894, the nakas have been posted on the western borders of the province towards Khandesh and His Highness the Nizam's territory. No change has been made in the arrangements for registration.

Imports and exports.

123. The total imports amounted to 446,942 maunds, and the exports to 204,044 maunds. The trade consisted chiefly of the articles noted below:—

	Imports (maunds).	Exports (maunds).
Cotton	77,936	29,166
Grain and pulse	81,960	41,676
Oil-seeds	44,381	5,677
Sugar	75,690	7,919

The largest import trade under cotton was registered at Sidodi, a village situated about 12 miles from the cotton market at Dhamangaon. In the exports of grain and pulse, the principal item was wheat, which contributed 16,373 maunds. Linseed is again the most important among the imports under "oil-seeds" and amounts to 34,452 maunds. The imports of sugar 75,690 maunds, comprise 75,104 maunds of unrefined sugar or "jaggery."

With regard to the sites selected for registration, the most important was that at Sidodi on account of its proximity to the railway station at Dhamangaon; next in importance was Hiwarkhed, from whence there is a good metalled road to Amraoti.

General.

Expenditure.

124. The total expenditure for the registration of the rail and road-borne trade of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the year under report amounts to Rs. 5,657-14-0 as shown below:—

	Rs.	a.	p.
Rail-borne from 1st April 1893 to 31st March 1894 ...	720	0	0
Road-borne do. do. do. ...	4,937	14	0
Total ...	5,657	14	0

As against a total of Rs. 5,129-10-6 for the previous year, the expenditure for the rail-borne trade shows no difference. The expenditure for road-borne trade has increased by Rs. 528-3-6; this is due to the fact that during 1892-93, the menial establishment, consisting of 12 peons, were employed for a portion of the year only.

SECTION VIII.

Public Works.

General.

Total expenditure.

125. The total expenditure from all sources on public works in the Hyderabad Administration during the year under report (1893-94) amounted to Rs. 18,67,020 as detailed below:—

Bridged and metalled roads of the Provincial Public Works Department, with an aggregate length of 968¼ miles, were maintained in good order throughout the year at a cost of Rs. 3,44,088, being at the rate of about Rs. 355·31 per mile, against a mileage rate of Rs. 391·57 during 1892-93.

Miscellaneous public improvements.

131. The water-supply scheme for the town of Akola was the only work in progress at the beginning of the year, and remained incomplete at its close. The total expenditure up to 31st March 1894 was Rs. 3,74,915 against an estimate of Rs. 5,74,700.

Establishment.

132. The total outlay an account of establishment was Rs. 2,27,443 or 27·07 per cent. of the actual expenditure on works and repairs under provincial services.

CHAPTER V.

REVENUE AND FINANCE.

Total receipts and expenditure.

136. The following statement shows the total actual receipts and expenditure of the years 1892-93 and 1893-94. It is upon the figures shown under the head Provincial that the assignment of 50 per cent. for expenditure on Civil Administration, Public Works and Railways is calculated :—

Receipts.	Actuals, 1892-93.			Actuals, 1893-94.

Omitting Excluded Local Funds, items 8 and 19, the surplus of the year under review was Rs. 7,35,912, as compared with a surplus of Rs. 7,74,562 of the previous year.

Provincial contract scheme.

137. The year under review is the fifteenth in which the system has been in force of assigning a certain percentage of the provincial revenues to the Resident for Civil, Public Works, and Railway expenditure. The proportion for the first four years was 54 per cent. and thereafter up to 1886-87, 52 per cent. This was subsequently reduced to 50 per cent. for a period of five years commencing from the year 1887-88, but as this percentage was found insufficient, the Government of India, on the representation of the Resident, increased the assignment of revenue from 50 to 51 per cent. with effect from 1889-90 to 1891-92—vide Department of Finance and Commerce Resolution No. 4347, dated 26th August 1889. On further consideration, and with reference to the transactions of previous years, the percentage was fixed at 50 per cent. for five years, beginning with the year 1892-93—vide Government of India Financial Department No. 4391-A, dated 27th October 1892.

The balance at credit of the Resident under the new contract scheme on the 31st March 1894 was Rs. 6,93,818 as shown below :—

REVENUE AND RECEIPTS.

138. The variations under revenue and receipt heads are explained below:— Variations under revenue and receipt heads.

A.—Principal Heads of Revenue.

I.—Land Revenue.

Below the estimate ... ... Rs. 1,22,024
Better than the actuals of 1892-93 ... ,, 1,15,458

Minor heads.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Ordinary revenue	62,39,518	63,55,018	1,15,500	...
Miscellaneous	19,918	18,882	...	1,036
Miscellaneous (local) ..	3,082	4,076	994	...
Total ...	62,62,518	63,77,976	1,16,494	1,036

The land revenue demand has not been fully realized, and the receipts for 1893-94 are therefore exceptionally depressed. The increase as compared with the actuals of 1892-93 is, however, chiefly due to the realization of a portion of collections of that year in 1893-94.

II.—Opium.

Do actuals of 1892-93 ... ... ,, 9,451

Minor heads.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Opium pass fees	1,82,350	1,71,500	...	10,850
Miscellaneous	255	1,654	1,399	...
Total ...	1,82,605	1,73,154	1,399	10,850

The revenue under this head represents the duty levied by the Opium Agent at Malwa on opium imported into Berar, also the recovery in Berar of certain small sums on account of confiscations and fines. The falling-off was due to the quantity of opium imported in 1893-94 being less than that imported in 1892-93.

IV.—Stamps.

Do. actuals of 1892-93 ... „ 58,844

Minor heads.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Sale of general stamps	3,45,899	3,64,473	18,574	...
Sale of court fee stamps	4,85,209	5,23,816	38,607	...
Sale of plain paper to be used with court fee stamps	1,123	3,812	2,689	...
Duty on impressing documents ...	873	755	...	118
Fines and penalties	2,726	1,878	...	848
Miscellaneous...	116	56	...	60

The increase in both cases is apparently due to the increase in civil litigation and trade.

V.—Excise.

Below the estimate ... ... Rs. 30,529
Better than the actuals of 1892-93 ... „ 3,236

Minor heads.	1892-93	1893-94.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
License and distillery fees and duties for the sale of liquors and drugs ...	15,65,376	15,63,102	...	2,274
Duty on ganja	...	241	241	...
Fines, confiscations and miscellaneous ...	859	6,128	5,269	...
Total ...	15,66,235	15,69,471	5,510	2,274

The increase, as compared with the actuals of 1892-93, is not considerable, and calls for no remarks. The decrease, as compared with the estimate, was chiefly in the Wun district, apparently due to the bids for sale of country spirits having fallen short owing to the bad harvest.

VI.—Provincial Rates.

Do. actuals of 1892-93 ... ... „ 2,328

Minor heads.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Rates and cesses on lands (local) ...	5,57,986	5,55,658	...	2,328

The receipts under this head fluctuate with the land revenue demand, and no reasons can be assigned for their variations.

VIII.—Assessed Taxes.

Do. actuals of 1892-93 ... „ 12,249

Minor heads.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
License tax (local)	70,947	83,196	12,249	...

The increase is due to the treatment of the licenses on trades and professions realized in the Wun district as a portion of District Fund receipts from 1893-94, instead of the town fund, an Excluded Local Fund; the Berar Rural Boards Law having applied to that district from 1893-94.

IX.—Forest.

Below the estimate ... ... Rs. 7,198
Better than the actuals of 1892-93 ... ... „ 51,785

Minor heads.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
II. Timber and other produce removed from the forests by consumers or purchasers	4,28,011	4,75,893	47,882	...
III. Confiscated, drift and waif wood ...	1,123	427	...	696
V. Miscellaneous	1,883	6,482	4,599	...
Total ...	4,31,017	4,82,802	52,481	696

The forest revenue in 1892-93 was exceptionally low for the reasons stated in that year's report. The increase in 1893-94, as compared with the actuals of the previous year, therefore calls for no special remark. The decrease, as compared with the estimate, is chiefly in the Basim division, stated to be due to value of the goles on hand having been estimated at a much higher rate than they were realized, also owing to slack demand.

X.—Registration.

Better than the estimate ... ... Rs. 16,361
Do. actuals of 1892-93... ... „ 12,563

Minor heads.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Fees for registering documents ...	42,412	49,996	7,584	...
Fees for copies of registered documents ...	27,454	31,398	3,944	...
Miscellaneous	5,932	6,967	1,035	...
Total ...	75,798	88,361	12,563	...

The increase is due to the increase in the registration business in the province.

B.—Interest.

XII.—Interest.

Do. actuals of 1892-93 ... „ 2,173

Minor heads.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Interest on provincial loans and advances (on advances to cultivators) ...	2,531	3,619	1,088	...
Interest on arrears of revenue... ...	1,616	2,698	1,082	...
Interest on Government securities (local) ...	788	798	10	...
Miscellaneous (local)	7	...	...	7
Total ...	4,942	7,115	2,180	7

A fluctuating head of account ; the difference calls for no special remark.

C.—Post Office, Telegraph and Mint.

XIII.—Post Office.

No remarks.

D.—Receipts by Civil Department.

XVI-A.—Law and Justice—Courts of Law.

Below the estimate ... ... Rs. 12,178
Do. actuals of 1892-93 ... ... „ 11,188

Minor heads.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Sale proceeds of unclaimed and escheated property.	13,919	10,116	...	3,803
Court fees realized in cash ...	816	6,220	5,404	...
General fees, fines and forfeitures ...	53,058	40,133	...	12,925
Do. do. (local)	1,178	1,560	382	...
Pleadership examination fees ...	990	520	...	470
Miscellaneous fees and fines ...	1,360	1,505	145	...
Miscellaneous	689	768	79	...
Total ...	72,010	60,822	6,010	17,198

The decrease in both cases occurs chiefly in the item "Magisterial fines" under the minor head "General fees, fines and forfeitures," a fluctuating head of account not subject to regular influences.

XVI-B.—Law and Justice—Jails.

Do. actuals of 1892-93 ... ... „ 1,194

Minor heads.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Jails	5,325	5,935	610	...
Jail manufactures	18,889	17,085	...	1,804
Total ..	24,214	23,020	610	1,804

The differences are not considerable and call for no special remark.

XVII.—Police.

Do. actuals of 1892-93 ... ,, 26,174

Minor heads.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Police supplied to railways ...	1,936	326	...	1,610
Police supplied to public departments, private companies and persons ...	1,928	2,062	134	...
Fees, fines and forfeitures	59,354	53,713	...	5,641
Do. do. (local) ...	16,470	37,355	20,885	...
Superannuation receipts	1,066	1,054	...	12
Miscellaneous	2,417	14,784	12,367	...
Do. (local)	112	163	51	...
	83,283	1,09,457	33,437	7,263

The increase in 1893-94 is partly due to the inclusion of cattle pound receipts of the Wun district under this head from the year 1893-94 instead of under "town fund"—an Excluded Local Fund, and partly to the return of certain stores into the Bombay Arsenal, their value being credited in the accounts as miscellaneous police receipts.

XIX.—Education.

Below the actuals of 1892-93 ... ... ,, 12,344

Minor heads.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Fees, school, general... ...	20,647	20,019	...	628
Do. (local)	60,529	44,256	...	16,273
Contributions	2,825	3,000	175	...
Do. (local)	8,522	9,179	657	...
Miscellaneous	15,472	19,221	3,749	...
Do. (local)	254	230	...	24
Total ...	1,08,249	95,905	4,581	16,925

The decrease in 1893-94 as compared with the actuals of the previous year is chiefly due to the taluka fee fund receipts, which were formerly kept outside the Government accounts, having been credited in the accounts of the year 1892-93.

XX.—Medical.

Better than the estimate ... ... Rs. 754
Do. actuals of 1892-93 ... ,, 1,440

Minor heads.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Hospital receipts	...	342	342	...
Medicines sold by Civil Surgeons...	48	112	64	...
Contributions	108	1,018	910	...
Miscellaneous	158	282	124	...
Total ...	314	1,754	1,440	...

The increase is chiefly on account of contributions received from private persons.

XXI.—Scientific and other Minor Departments.

Below the estimate ... ... Rs. 159
Better than the actuals of 1892-93 ... ... „ 3,193

Minor heads.	1892-93.	1893-94.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Botanical and other public garden receipts (local)	156	966	810	...
Receipts on account of public exhibitions and fairs (local)	1,318	2,937	1,619	...
Veterinary receipts	425	...	...	425
Miscellaneous	747	1,815	1,068	...
Do. (local)	2	123	121	...
Total ...	2,648	5,841	3,618	425

The increase under the head Miscellaneous is due to sale proceeds of the stock of saline products of the Lonar Lake having been realized and credited in the accounts, and that under the other heads to the treatment of receipts of the Wun district as receipts of Incorporated instead of Excluded Local Funds as hitherto.

E.—MISCELLANEOUS.

XXII.—Receipts in aid of superannuation, &c.

Contributions for pensions and gratuities—
Better than the actuals of 1892-93 ... „ 61,169

The increase in 1893-94 as compared with the actuals of the previous year is due to payment in 1893-94 from the district fund to credit of the provincial revenues of the capitalized value of District Board pensions. The decrease as compared with the estimate is due to the provision of Rs. 11,000, made for the contribution from the district fund to provincial revenues on account of pensions of the District Board employés for service rendered on and after the 1st April 1893, expected to be adjusted in the accounts for 1893-94, not having been adjusted in the accounts of that year, the subject being then under reference.

XXIII.—Stationery and Printing.

Better than the actuals of 1892-93... ... „ 3,386

The increase in both cases is chiefly under jail press receipts.

XXV.—Miscellaneous.

Better than the actuals of 1892-93... ... „ 66,032

The increase in both cases is chiefly under the head "Gain by exchange on local transactions," also under certain minor heads, local, and is due in the former case to the prevalence of favourable rates of exchange during the year, and in the latter case to the treatment of the receipts of the town and bazar cess funds of the Wun district as receipts of the District Fund, which is an Incorporated Local Fund.

H.—RAILWAYS.

XXVI.—State Railways.

Below the actuals of 1892-93	...	... ,,	18,264

The decrease is due to the falling-off in merchandise traffic on both the railways.

K.—BUILDINGS AND ROADS.

XXXII.—Civil Works.

Below the actuals of 1892-93	...	... ,,	12,213

The exceptionally large decrease in 1893-94 as compared with the actuals of 1892-93 is due to an account adjustment made during the latter year in connection with the Buldana sadar station and town water-works. The improvement over the estimate is due chiefly to the sale of old buildings, the rent of staff quarters, and receipts from sale of old materials, &c., having been underestimated.

L.—RECEIPTS BY MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

XXXIII.—Army.

Below the actuals of 1892-93 ...		... ,,	3,503

The receipts under this head are of a fluctuating nature. The decrease as compared with the estimate is chiefly under the head 10. Ordnance, &c., due to the postponement of the re-armament of the Cavalry Regiments, Hyderabad Contingent, with Martini Henri carbines and the expected return of snider carbines into store consequently not having been effected. The decrease as compared with the actuals of the previous year is chiefly under the head 14. Miscellaneous services, due to the refunds of over-payments in previous years credited in the accounts of 1892-93 being considerably large in amount.

ADJUSTING HEADS.

CREDIT ADJUSTMENTS.

PROVINCIAL.

Contributions from Local to Provincial.

Adjusting heads.

139. These represent chiefly contributions towards the cost of executing certain public works of provincial importance, in which local funds are interested. The transactions are necessarily of a very fluctuating nature, being dependent upon the public works undertaken. There must of necessity be considerable variations between the accounts of the different years. The increase in the actuals of 1893-94 is due to a further contribution, in addition to the amount originally provided in the budget, having been paid by the Akola District Board on account of Akola water-works.

LOCAL.

Contributions from Provincial to Local.

The principal item under this head is the provincial contribution towards the cost of primary education. The variation in the actuals of the two years calls for no explanation.

DISBURSEMENTS.

Total disbursements.

140. The charges for 1893-94 aggregate Rs. 1,03,78,964 as against Rs. 99,82,596 for the previous year, resulting in a net increase of Rs. 3,96,368 as shown in the following statement :—

Under civil expenditure the principal increases and the heads under which they occur are as follows :—

Heads of account.	Rs.	Remarks.
1. Refunds and Drawbacks	3,054	Chiefly occurs under land revenue and stamp refunds.
3. Land Revenue	... 88,580	Due chiefly to larger payments made to district and village officers, and also to payments of exchange compensation allowance to European officers.
7. Excise	... 12,385	In the year 1892-93 the introduction of the sadar distillery system into the Ellichpur district was only commenced. It has been completed in 1893-94, and hence the increase.
11. Forest	... 25,019	Occurs under A. Conservancy and Works, and B. Establishments, due in the former case to larger expenditure against the head "Timber and other produce removed from the forests by consumers or purchasers," also against the head "Compensation for land and rights," and in the latter case under salaries.
18. General Administration	... 17,144	Due chiefly to payment of exchange compensation allowance and to the share of the Local Boards establishment of the Wun district chargeable to the town and bazar cess funds having for the first time from 1893-94 been treated as a part of district fund charge.
19-B. Law and Justice—Jails.	12,176	Chiefly occurs under (1) warders and turnkeys, (2) cost of rations, and (3) convict charges at Port Blair. As regards (1) due to the introduction of the jail warder guard system ; as regards (2) to the increase of the jail population and the higher prices prevailing for food grains ; and as regards (3) apparently due to the increase in the number of convicts.
22. Education	... 14,115	Due chiefly (1) to the absence of the permanent Director on leave, his leave allowances and the pay of his locum tenens having been debited to the same head, (2) to the increase in the purchase of books, and (3) to the inclusion of the charges of the taluka fee fund of the Wun district from 1893-94, which were formerly kept out of Government accounts.

Heads of Account.	Rs.	Remarks.
24. Medical ...	6,513	Due chiefly (1) to payment of exchange compensation allowance; (2) to increase in the cost of Europe medicines and instruments; and (3) to the inclusion of the Local Fund expenditure of the Wun district which was formerly met from Excluded Local Funds.
26. Scientific and other Minor Departments ...	8,413	Chiefly under the heads veterinary and stallion charges and botanical and public gardens charges (local), due in the former case to the appointment of an officer as Superintendent, Veterinary Department, and in the latter to the introduction of the arboriculture scheme for planting trees.
29. Superannuation Allowances and Pensions ...	47,270	Due chiefly to the capitalization of the value of District Board pensions, which has been paid to the credit of Provincial Funds.
30. Stationery and Printing...	11,165	Chiefly occurs under Government Presses, Provincial and Local.
32. Miscellaneous ...	12,631	Chiefly occurs under (1) charges for remittance of treasure, (2) loss by exchange on local transactions, and (3) petty establishments (local), and is due as regards (1) to larger remittances of copper, as regards (2) to the fluctuating nature of the transactions, and as regards (3) to the treatment of the District Boards charges of Wun district as Incorporated Local Fund expenditure from 1893-94.
44. Military Works ...	15,029	Chiefly occurs under original works and establishment charges.
Adjusting Heads—Debit Adjustments, Local.

Grant 1.—Army and Garrison Staff. Increase Rs. 6,035.

The difference is chiefly under salary of the Brigadier-General Commanding Hyderabad Contingent and leave allowances of the Assistant Adjutant General, Hyderabad Contingent, special expenditure on account of reconnaissance party, maps, &c., moreover exchange compensation allowance has been incurred during 1893-94.

Grant 3.—Regimental Pay, Allowances and Charges. Increase Rs. 13,893.

The increase under this grant is chiefly under exchange compensation allowance to regimental officers. During 1892-93 reliefs of Infantry regiments had taken place, when hutting money and marching batta were drawn for the troops, while in 1893-94 no such expenditure was incurred, hence the small difference.

Grant 4.—Commissariat Establishment. Increase Rs. 1,527.

The increase under this grant is chiefly under regimental transport branch, and is due to the purchase of new gear, &c., for transport ponies during 1893-94.

Grant 5.—Stud and Remount Establishment. Decrease Rs. 2,356.

During 1893-94 a smaller number of remounts than in the year 1892-93 was purchased.

Grant 6.—Clothing Establishment. Increase Rs. 19,050.

During 1893-94 the Artillery of the Hyderabad Contingent received biennial clothing and an Infantry regiment of the Hyderabad Contingent received compensation in lieu of triennial clothing due on 1st April 1894, hence the increase.

Grant 9.—Medical Establishment.

The increase of Rs. 2,577 is principally under medical supplies, and is due to a larger supply of medical stores than in previous year having been obtained during 1893-94 for hospitals of the Hyderabad Contingent, under sanction of the Principal Medical Officer, Hyderabad Contingent.

Grant 10.—Ordnance Establishment. Increase Rs. 78,050.

The increase of Rs. 78,050 under Ordnance Establishment and Stores is attributable to the supply of new carbines (Martini-Henri) to Lancers Regiments of the Hyderabad Contingent during 1893-94.

Grant 13.—Sea Transport Charges. Increase Rs. 2,275.

The increase under this grant occurs under "Passage money on account of officers to and from Europe" and is due to a larger number of officers than in the previous year who are entitled to passage money having proceeded to Europe on medical certificate during 1893-94.

Grant 14.—Miscellaneous Services. Decrease Rs. 8,800.

The decrease under this grant occurs under Camp of Exercise. During 1892-93 a sum of Rs. 12,064 was incurred under this head, whereas in 1893-94 only Rs. 1,160. An expenditure of Rs. 1,039 has been incurred during 1893-94 under compensation for losses with the special sanction of the Government of India.

Grant 16.—Rewards for Military Services. Increase Rs. 1,185.

The excess expenditure is on account of certain native officers admitted to Order of British India during 1893-94.

Grant 17.—Military Pensions to Europeans. Increase Rs. 1,99,352.

The increase under this grant is due to the adjustment of arrears of proportion of retired allowances of certain officers who had served in the Hyderabad Contingent under Government of India Military Department letter No. 1074-F., dated the 9th April 1894, to the address of the Controller of Military Accounts, Eastern Circle, Bengal.

Grant 18.—Military Pensions to Natives. Increase Rs. 3,755.

The excess expenditure is due to the net increase to the pension list.

Grant 19.—Widows' Pensions. Decrease Rs. 3,631.

The decrease is chiefly due to a certain sum on account of arrears of pension paid to certain widows from the (late) Lord Clive's Fund having been debited to Bombay Presidency under Government of India Military Department letter No. 3366-F., dated 17th October 1893.

Revenue and Finance other than Provincial.

CHAPTER VI.

VITAL STATISTICS AND MEDICAL RELIEF.

SECTION I.

Births and Deaths.

System of registration.

148. Registration of births and deaths was first undertaken in Berar in 1868. The system then introduced was modified in 1876, and again in 1883. A good deal of attention has been given to the subject, and though there are many difficulties to contend with, both local to the province and personal to the people, which more or less affect the accuracy of the returns, still, greater efficiency is annually being obtained; on the whole, the system in force works well and effectively.

Births—provincial figures.

149. The total number of births registered during the year under report, i.e., 1893 was 111,924, or 1,716 less than in the previous year, but 121 above the mean of the last quinquennium. The recorded births exceeded the deaths by 18,973. The birth-rate to population was in the ratio of 39·3 per 1,000 as compared with 39·9 in the previous year, and 39·3, the mean of the previous five years.

Births according to districts.

150. In districts, the birth-rates varied considerably. Ellichpur, Akola, and Buldana come close together with over 43 per 1,000; then Amraoti, Basim, and Wun, with considerable difference between them, ranging from 39·3 at Amraoti to 35·9 and 29·6 at Basim and Wun. It is believed that the Wun district shows such a low birth-rate owing to defective registration.

Births according to sex.

151. Of the total live-births registered during the year, 57,749 were of males and 54,175 of females, i.e. in the proportion of 106·6 males to every 100 females as compared with 105·9, the average of the previous five years. The relative proportion of the sexes at birth corresponds very closely with the proportion of males to females in the general population, for the census report shows that to every 100 women living the proportionate number of males is 106·1.

Still-births.

152. The number of still-births registered amounted to 5,021 as compared with 4,774 in the previous year. Of these 2,832 were males and 2,189 females, or 129·3 still male births to every 100 still female births. The proportion of still to live births was 4·4 per cent. as compared with 4·1, the mean of the previous five years.

Deaths—provincial figures.

153. The total number of deaths registered in the province during the year under report was 92,951, or 10,827 in excess of the previous year. This increase in mortality occurred chiefly under fevers and bowel-complaints, which, together, account for an increase of 7,459 deaths. Influenza was also present in an epidemic form during the latter part of the year, especially in the southern part of the province. The death-rate in proportion to population was 32·6 per 1,000 as compared with 28·8 in 1892 and 36·3, the mean of the previous decade.

Death-rate according to districts.

154. According to districts the death-rate was highest, i.e., 39·9 per 1,000 in the Ellichpur district, and lowest, i.e., 27·4, in the Wun district. For the four districts of Akola, Amraoti, Buldana and Basim the rates were 38·1, 32·8, 30·8 and 28·3 respectively.

Deaths according to sex.

155. Of the total recorded deaths 49,266 were deaths of males and 43,685 deaths of females. The proportion of male deaths per 1,000 of the male population was 33·6, and of female deaths 31·6. In every district male deaths exceeded those of females, the proportion for the province being 112·7 deaths amongst males to every 100 deaths amongst females, ranging from 120·8 in the Basim district to 107·8 in the Ellichpur district. The registered male death-rate was 33·6, or 2 per 1,000 greater than that recorded amongst females, as compared with 1·6, the mean of previous five years.

Death-rate according to age.

156. The following table shows the proportional mortality at different ages per 1,000 of population. Of the total mortality 46·7 per cent. occurred in infants and children under five :—

Age.	1893.	1892.	1891.
At all ages	32·6	28·8	40·6

Deaths according to class.

157. The number of deaths in each class and their ratio per 1,000 are shown below :—

Class.	Population.	1893.		1892.
		Deaths registered.	Deaths per 1,000 of population.	Deaths registered.	Deaths per 1,000 of population.

Causes of death.

158. The following table compares the mortality figures for the year classified under various causes of death with those for 1892 and the mean of the preceding ten years. It will be seen that as compared with the previous year there was an increase in mortality, chiefly under fevers and bowel-complaints and under fevers and injuries, as contrasted with the decennial mean:—

SECTION II.

Immigration and Emigration.

159. There are no means available for obtaining accurate statistics relating to immigration and emigration.

SECTION III.

Medical Relief.

Civil Hospitals.

Number of hospitals.

160. The total number of hospitals during the year under report, i. e., 1893, was the same as in 1892, viz., eight, and all of these are maintained wholly by the State.

Patients treated.

161. The following statement shows the extent to which medical relief was granted at the civil hospitals :—

Year.	No. treated.	In-door patients.					Out-door patients.		Total of in-door and out-door patients.
		No. cured.	Deaths.	Percentage of deaths to total treated.	No. of beds available	Average daily attendance.	No. treated.	Average daily attendance.
1892 ...	2,090	1,862	42	2·01	135	60·73	45,686	226·05	47,776
1893 ...	2,071	1,847	44	2·12	135	70·61	48,746	260·6	50,817

Classification of patients.

162. Of the total number of patients treated in the year under report 1,934 were Europeans and Eurasians, 29,113 Hindus, 16,308 Mahomedans, and 3,462 belonged to other classes. According to sex, 28,804 were men, 6,768 women, and 15,245 children.

Diseases treated.

163. The chief diseases treated during 1893 as compared with the previous year were as follows :—

	1893.	1892.
Malarial fevers	13,070	10,099
Worms	4,149	3,736
Eye diseases	3,756	3,018

Diarrhœa	967	1,178
Dysentery	858	895
Spleen diseases	334	239
Scurvy	135	33

Surgical operations.

164. The number of surgical operations performed was 179 major and 3,126 minor, against 174 and 2,253 respectively in 1892. As of the major operations of 1892, four cases had remained for treatment during 1893; the total number of patients for treatment on whom major operations had been performed came to 183. Of this latter 162 were cured, 10 relieved, 2 discharged otherwise, and 5 proved fatal, leaving 4 cases under treatment at the end of the year.

Income and expenditure.

165. The income and expenditure of the hospitals for the year under report are shown below contrasted with those for the previous year :—

* These balances do not appear in the returns for succeeding years as they have to be remitted to the treasury and are absorbed in the treasury accounts.

All expenditure is paid by the State, and the total expenditure was less than that of the previous year by Rs. 26,627-10-0 owing to the salaries of Civil Surgeons having been excluded from the returns for 1893 in accordance with the orders of the Government of India.

Charitable Dispensaries.

No. of dispensaries.

166. Two new dispensaries were opened during 1893—one at Badnera in the Amraoti district and the other at Sirpur in the Basim district. The total number of dispensaries was therefore 38 against 36 in 1892. The new dispensary at Badnera is called the "Jehangir Hormusji Hospital," and is due to the liberality of Mr. Jehangir Hormusji, Agent of the Manufacturing Company at that place.

Patients treated.

167. The following table shows the extent of medical relief afforded at the dispensaries during the years 1892 and 1893 :—

Year.	In-door patients.						Out-door patients.		Total of in-door and out-door patients.
	Number treated.	Number cured.	Deaths.	Percentage of deaths to total treated.	Number of beds available.	Average daily attendance.	Number treated.	Average daily attendance.

1893 ...	2,227	1,822	127	5·7	158	63·67	270,021	1,905·2	272,248

Classification of patients.

168. Of the total number of patients treated in the year under report, 1,037 were Europeans and Eurasians, 158,947 Hindus, 103,578 Mahomedans, and 8,686 belonged to other classes. According to sex 124,519 were men, 40,583 women, and 107,146 children.

Diseases treated.

169. The principal disease from which the patients suffered was malarial fever. Towards the year's increased attendance eye-diseases contributed the largest number—6,895; skin diseases 5,396; worms 4,284; malarial fever 2,318. The chief increase in the number of patients treated was under these four heads of disease. Cholera prevailed in an epidemic form in all districts, and 316 patients were treated in 16 dispensaries, 21 of whom were in-door patients. There were 308 cases of scurvy treated against 269 in the previous year. Influenza also prevailed in an epidemic form throughout the province.

Surgical operations.

170. There were 451 major operations performed during the year under report as against 223 in the previous year. Including the 5 cases remaining from previous year, 406 were cured, 22 relieved, 10 discharged otherwise, 10 died, and 6 remained in hospital under treatment on the last day of the year. The number of minor operations amounted to 9,086 as against 8,637 in the previous year.

Income and expenditure.

171. The following abstract compares the financial state of the dispensaries for the years 1892 and 1893:—

SECTION IV.

Sanitation.

Expenditure on sanitation by Municipalities.

172. It will be seen from paragraph 76 ante of this report that the total number of municipalities in the province increased during the year from eight to eleven. Their total estimated income (excluding opening balances on 1st January 1893) was Rs. 2,42,611, of which 25·3 per cent. was spent on conservancy, 4 per cent. on drainage, and 69·4 per cent. on water supply, the increase under the last head being due to the Kapsi water-supply scheme for the town of Akola, now nearing completion.

Expenditure on sanitation by District Local Boards.

173. The total expenditure incurred by District Local Boards on works of sanitary improvement was Rs. 93,578 (exclusive of a sum of Rs. 50,659 spent on works not purely sanitary) as against Rs. 1,48,571 in the preceding year. No large works were undertaken, yet a good deal was done during the year to improve the public health, especially under water-supply.

Sanitary works executed by the Public Works Department.

174. The sanitary works executed by the Public Works Department and in progress during the year are shown below :—

SECTION V.

Vaccination.

Staff.

175. The establishment worked up to its full strength, the number of vaccinators employed throughout the year under report, i.e., 1893-94, on executive work being 44.

Work done.

176. The work done during the years under report and 1892-93 is compared in the following table :—

Year.	Primary vaccination.			Re-vaccination.			Average number of person vaccinated by each vaccinator.
	Total.	Successful.	Percentage of success.	Total.	Successful.	Percentage of success.
1892-93	101,774	96,306	94·7	44,108	10,945	24·8	3,316
1893-94	97,786	92,954	95·1	39,366	8,344	21·2	3,117

Of the total number of successful primary operations of the year 70,681 were performed on infants under one year of age; 20,370 on children over one and under six; and 1,903 on individuals over six years and adults. Thus out of every 100 persons successfully vaccinated, there were 76·0 infants, 21·9 children between one and six, and 2·1 of other ages.

Effects of vaccination as a prophylactic against small-pox.

177. The following figures exhibit the influence of vaccination in checking small-pox:—

	Average for the five years ending with					1893-94.

Death-rate per 1,000 from small-pox.	2·02	1·56	0·58	0·38	0·2	0·06

Expenditure.

178. The total cost of the establishment, which is entirely met from provincial funds, was Rs. 17,495-7-6 in 1893-94 as compared with Rs. 17,234-7-10 in the previous year. The increase of Rs. 261 is due to the increase in the establishment for the Melghat entertained in August 1892. The pay of the sanctioned establishment amounted to Rs. 17,484 per annum. The average cost of each successful case was 2 annas 9 pies, against 2 annas 7 pies in 1892-93.

CHAPTER VII.

INSTRUCTION.

SECTION I.

General System of Public Instruction.

179. Information regarding the general system of public instruction will be found in paragraphs 197 to 206 on pages 95 to 98 of the Administration Report for 1892-93.

SECTION II.

Education.

Total number of schools and scholars.

180. The total number of schools at the close of the year under report (1893-94) amounted to 1,326, including 52 for girls, and the number of scholars to 52,432, of whom 50,168 were boys and 2,264 girls. The percentage of male scholars to male population of school-going age was 22·24, and of female scholars to female population of school-going age 1·07, the corresponding percentages for 1892-93 being respectively 22·92 and 1. The following statement shows the different classes of schools and the pupils in them at the close of the years 1892-93 and 1893-94:—

(a) This includes 21 pupil-teachers who are being trained for masterships in primary and secondary schools.
(b) Do. 17 do. do. do.
(c) This excludes 244 girls attending boys' schools.

Owing to the extension of the Berar Rural Boards Law to the Wun District the 60 Government primary schools in that district were during the year under report transferred to the management of the Wun District Board.

Schools for boys by districts.

181. The following table shows the distribution of schools for boys according to districts during 1892-93 and 1893-94 :—

University education.

182. The total number of students holding Berar scholarships in the colleges of the Bombay Presidency on the 31st March 1894 was 8, the number at the close of 1892-93 being 6. During the year under report, four of the scholars passed the "Previous" examination and one the "Intermediate" examination. Of the ex-students of the Akola and Amraoti high schools who did not hold Berar scholarships on the 31st March 1894, six passed the "Previous" examination, one the first B A. examination, eight the second B.A. examination, one the M.A. examination and one the LL.B. examination.

Secondary education.

183. The total number of secondary schools and the pupils studying in them has been already shown in the table in paragraph 180 ante. The average daily attendance in the two high schools was 337, and in the 24 "middle" or Anglo-vernacular schools 3,336. The aggregate cost of these 26 schools amounted to Rs. 86,467, of which 73·4 per cent. was met from provincial revenues, 22·8 per cent. from school fees, and 3·8 per cent. from the municipal fund and subscriptions. Taking the two high schools only, their cost amounted to Rs. 23,699, of which 73·5 per cent. was met from provincial revenues, and the balance, i.e., 26·5 per cent., from fees; while of the aggregate expenditure of the middle schools 73·4 per cent. was met from provincial revenues, 21·4 per cent. from fees, and 5·2 per cent. from the municipal fund and subscriptions. Taking all the secondary schools, the average cost of educating each pupil amounted to Rs. 18-12-5 against Rs. 17-8-2 in 1892-93.

The total number of candidates sent up by the two high schools for the Bombay matriculation examination was 28, of whom 17 or nearly 61 per cent. passed; the percentage of success achieved by all the public schools taken together who sent up candidates for the Bombay matriculation examination being about 35. The total number of boys from the 24 middle schools who appeared for the middle school examination was 277, and of these 183 or 66 per cent. were successful.

Primary public schools for boys under public management.

184. The following table furnishes statistics relating to primary schools for boys under public management :—

The total number of pupils of primary schools under public management examined by the inspecting officers was 19,489, of whom 68·3 per cent. were successful, the corresponding percentage for 1892-93 being 65·6.

Primary public schools for boys under private management.

185. It will be seen from the table in paragraph 180 ante that the total number of primary public schools for boys under private management was 651. The distribution of these schools by districts and other particulars regarding them are shown in the following table:—

District.	No. of schools on 31st March 1894.	No. of schools inspected and examined during 1893-94.	No. of pupils examined.	No. of schools which earned grants and prizes during 1893-94.	No. of pupils who earned grants-in-aid.	Amount of grants earned.

Education of Europeans and Eurasians.

186. The Anglican school at Akola having been closed for want of a sufficient number of pupils during the year under report, there now remains only one school in the province for Europeans and Eurasians, viz., the Catholic school at Amraoti. At the close of the year under report, there were 15 boys and 33 girls in this school, against 21 boys and 35 girls at the close of the previous year. The average daily attendance was 36. The school was examined in April 1894 last, when the highest standard taught to the girls was the fifth and to the boys the third. Out of 11 boys examined 8 passed; and out of 26 girls examined 25 passed.

Education of Muhammadans.

187. The following table sums up the statistics of Government, District Board, and Municipal Hindustani schools:—

Total No. of schools on 31st March						Total No. of scholars on 31st March						Total No. of pupils examined and passed under standards I—VIII.
1893.			1894.			1893.			1894.			Examined.	Passed.

* In this table Muhammandan boys attending other than Hindustani or Anglo-Hindustani schools have not been included. If 45 Muhammadan boys attending high schools, 21 attending the Training College and 1,989 studying in the Marathi and Anglo-Marathi schools, be added, and 217 non-Muhammadans in Hindustani schools be deducted, the total number of Muhammadan pupils in schools under public management at the close of the year 1893-94 will be found to be 6,189 against 6,446 at the close of 1892-93.

The number of Muhammadan pupils in schools under private management on the 31st March 1894 was 877 against 951 on the corresponding date of 1893. Thus the total number of Muhammadan pupils under instruction at the close of the year under report was 7,066 against 7,397 on the last day of the previous year.

Education of aborigines.

188. There is only one school at Chikalda for the aboriginal races. On the 31st March 1894, the total number of aboriginal pupils in the province was 119 against 123 at the close of the previous year. The numbers examined and passed were 38 and 23 respectively, against 33 and 24 in the previous year. The highest standard in which boys passed during the year under report was the 5th against the 4th in 1892-93.

Education of low castes.

189. The total number of boys of low castes in schools under public management at the close of the year under report was 1,798 against 1,810 in 1892-93 and 1,585, the average of the three years 1889-90 to 1891-92; and the number of low-caste pupils who attended schools under private management was 647 against 563 in the previous year. Thus the aggregate number of such pupils under instruction at the close of the year under report was 2,445 against 2,373 at the close of 1892-93. The total number of pupils examined in standard I to VII was 538, of whom 312 passed successfully.

Female education.

190. It will be seen from the table in paragraph 180 ante that the total number of schools for girls was 52 and the number of girls under instruction 2,264. The number of girls in girls' schools proper was, however, only 1,906, of whom 1,773 belonged to 46 District Board and Municipal schools, 130 to five aided schools, and three to a private school. The remaining 358 girls were studying in various boys' schools. Six hundred and twenty-nine girls passed examinations in standards I to VI of the prescribed course.

The aggregate expenditure of the 46 District Board and Municipal girls' schools amounted to Rs. 10,754, the annual cost of educating each pupil being Rs. 6-4-4 against Rs. 6-0-3 in 1892-93. The fees collected came to Rs. 303-5-0.

Classification of pupils by race or creed.

191. The following is a comparative statement for the last five years of the pupils in Government, District Board and Municipal schools classified according to race or creed:—

Physical education.

192. The total number of gymnasia at the close of the year under report was 487 against 475 at the close of 1892-93. The number of circle teachers was 12, and the number of gymnasia visited by them during the year was 451. The following extract is taken from the educational report of the province for 1893-94:—

"Inspecting officers and schoolmasters continue to take great interest in physical education. The standards of physical exercises have generally worked well, and the reports of the Deputy Educational Inspectors show that this branch of education receives special attention.'

Training of teachers for secondary schools.

193. The class of five men referred to in paragraph 217 of the Administration Report for 1892-93 was examined during the year, and four of the students passed successfully. For want of properly qualified pupils, no class has been formed since.

Training of teachers for primary schools.

194. The total number of students in the Akola Training College at the close of the year under report was 75—60 on the Marathi side, and 15 on the Hindustani side. In addition to these, the number of pupil-teachers attached to Anglo-vernacular schools amounted to 17. Of the aggregate number of pupils, 29 passed the first year's course and 20 passed the certificate examination. Thirty-one of the passed students obtained employment during the year.

Drawing.

195. The two high schools and the Training College sent up 68 candidates for the first grade examination of the Bombay School of Arts. Nine of the candidates passed in all heads and obtained certificates.

Industrial training.

196. As stated in paragraph 219 of the Administration Report for 1892-93, there is only one industrial school in the province; it belongs to the American Mission and is located at Akola. The number of pupils on 31st March 1894 was 8, of whom 6 were Christians and two Muhammadans. Six of the boys were learning carpentering and two blacksmithing. Ten boys are reported to have completed their course of instruction during the five years that the school has been open. Of these all except one continue to attend the school for further practice.

The establishment of an industrial school at Amraoti has been sanctioned since the close of the year under report.

School fees and popular contributions.

197. The total amount of fees realized in all classes of Government schools and in Local Board primary schools came to Rs. 58,192-15-0 against Rs. 57,486-6-4 in 1892-93. Of the former amount, Rs. 6,712-8-0 were realized in high schools, Rs. 14,921-8-6 in middle schools, and Rs. 36,558-14-6 in primary schools. The amounts contributed by the people for educational purposes came to Rs. 9,631-13-5 against Rs. 9,377-9-0 in 1892-93.

Expenditure.

198. The aggregate expenditure on education during the year under report came to Rs. 4,51,155-8-3 against Rs. 4,37,544-14-6 in 1892-93. Details are furnished in the following table:—

SECTION III.

Literature and the Press.

Text-book Committee.

199. At the beginning of the year the Text-book Committee had 12 books on hand for review, and 6 books were sent to it during the year. The Committee reported on 7 books, the rest being still under consideration.

Book depôts.

200. There has been no change in the number of book depôts during the year under report, the number consisting of one central book depôt at Akola and 29 branch book depôts attached to Government or Local Board schools in towns and large villages in all the districts. The stock account of the depôt for the year 1893-94 is as follows:—

		Rs.	a.	p.

Literature.

201. The number of books registered under Act XXV of 1867 during the year under report was 20 against 21 in the previous year. Eight of these were issues of the Berar School Paper and eleven were the issues of Duyan Sangraha, a monthly literary magazine. There was only one other publication, which was entitled the Verhad Bhugola Patrak, or Geography of Berar. The Berar School Paper was printed at the Akola Shudha Varhadhi Press and the Duyan Sangraha and the Verhad Bhugola Patrak at the Amraoti Pramoda Sindhu Press. The last mentioned book has been registered for copyright.

Presses

202. The number of printing presses was ten—five in the Akola district, three in the Amraoti district, and two in the Ellichpur district.

Public libraries.

203. Four libraries or reading rooms were opened and five closed during the year, and consequently the number on the 31st March 1894 was 39 against 40 on the last day of the preceding year. One new library was opened in the Akola district, one in Buldana, and two in Amraoti. Of the five libraries closed, three were in the Akola district and two in the Amraoti district.

"Berar Vaktrutwo-tejak Sabha," Amraoti.	The object of the institution has been to encourage and foster the habit of delivering public lectures on popular and current literary and scientific subjects, and thereby to revive and to improve upon the rather neglected or forgotten art of speech among the native societies.	Not stated ...	Not stated ...	1	1874	This sabha or society has been established in connection with the Amraoti City Library, and is considered a part of the institution. The balances, if any, after deducting the expenses, are carried to the library's account. But when the expenses exceed the income they are paid from the library fund.
"Suhrit Samaja" ...	At Amraoti there is an association of young men called "Suhrit Samaja" or assembly of friends. This has been founded with the object of effecting mutual educational improvement. The members subscribe to some newspapers, and meet every morning or evening for reading. Essays on various topics are frequently read and discussed, and sometimes lectures are delivered at their meetings at the old house formerly occupied by the Native General Library in the town. The Suhrit Samaja was established on the 1st March 1891.	do.	do.	...	1891
"Jalsai-Imdad-i-tahsil-i-Ulum-i-Mussulmani Berar."	At Akola there is a Mahomedan association called "Jalsai-Imdad-i-tahsil-i-Ulum-i-Mussalmani Berar" which has been established in order to encourage English education among Mahomedans. They annually give four scholarships of Rs. 4 each, tenable by Mahomedan pupils in the Amraoti High School and in the Anglo-Urdu schools at Akola and Amraoti.	do.	do.	...	...

PART I.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

Personnel of the Administration.

1. Mr. Chichele-Plowden, C.S.I., I.C.S., held the office of Resident till the 7th September 1894, when he went on three months' privilege leave, and Colonel K. J. L. Mackenzie, C.I.E., I.S.C., Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts, officiated for him. Colonel Mackenzie again officiated as Resident from the 21st March to the close of the year 1894-95 consequent on Mr. Chichele-Plowden's departure on special leave. The office of First Assistant and Secretary for Berar to the Resident was held throughout the year by Mr. A. L. P. Tucker, I.C.S., and that of the Second Assistant and Assistant Secretary for Berar to the Resident similarly by Mr. W. E. Jardine, I.C.S. Colonel K. J. L. Mackenzie, C.I.E., I.S.C., held the Commissionership of Berar till the 26th August 1894, when he departed for Hyderabad to officiate as Resident, and Colonel H. C. A. Szczepanski, Deputy Commissioner of the 1st class, officiated as Commissioner from the 26th August 1894 to 7th January 1895. Colonel Szczepanski again officiated as Commissioner from 11th March 1895 to the close of the year consequent on Colonel Mackenzie's appointment to officiate as Resident at Hyderabad during Mr. Chichele-Plowden's absence on special leave. The office of Judicial Commissioner was held throughout the year by Mr. F. S. Bullock, I.C.S.

Survey and settlement.

2. The nature and scope of the survey and settlement operations in progress in the province have been stated in the opening portion of paragraph 2 of the General Summary of the report for 1893-94. During 1894-95 two field parties were employed—one on revision survey, and the other on the measurement and classification of the izara villages in the Wun and Basim districts. Their total cost amounted to Rs. 31,146. The first party was engaged on revision survey of the Jalgaon taluk of the Akola district and of the Chikhli taluk of the Buldana district, and finished 381,368 acres at a cost of Rs. 16-15-3 per square mile. The second party was engaged on the measurement and classification of the izara villages in the Yeotmal and Darwha taluks of the Wun district, and the Pusad and Mangrul taluks of the Basim district. The party measured 43,648 acres and classified 68,102 acres at a cost of Rs. 212-13-3 per square mile. Final orders on the revision settlement of the Malkapur, Khamgaon, and Jalgaon taluks were passed during the year, and the revised rates were announced in these taluks on the 29th March, 31st January, and 25th February 1895 respectively. They are payable for the official year 1895-96. Orders on the settlement of the izara villages in the Wun and Basim districts were also passed during the year. The report on the settlement of the Balapur taluk of the Akola district was received during the year, and orders have since been passed on it. Operations in the Melghat taluk of the Ellichpur district have not yet commenced owing to the difficulty experienced in securing competent men for the work.

Waste lands.

3. The area of culturable assessed waste lands during the year was 294,704 acres, or 2·5 per cent. of the total area of the province, the major portion of which (viz., 279,182 acres) was in the Wun and Basim districts and the Melghat taluk of the Ellichpur district. The area of unoccupied lands in khalsa villages newly occupied during the year was 8,714 acres, of which the major portion (i e., 6,586 acres) was taken up in the Wun district and the Melghat taluk of the Ellichpur district, and the area of occupied land relinquished amounted to 18,887 acres. The relinquishments are largely due to the transfer of land in the Melghat from the Revenue to the Forest Department, and to that extent (8,634 acres) merely nominal.

Leased villages.

4. The total number of leased villages at the end of 1894-95 was 485 as compared with 506 in the previous year. The aggregate area of these was 894,386 acres, of which 114,313 acres were unoccupied; the occupied area amounted to 468,538 acres with an assessment of Rs. 1,10,730.

Course of legislation.

5. During the year (1894) the Land Acquisition Act, I of 1894, the Indian Arms Act, XI of 1878, the Prisons Act, IX of 1894, the provisions of Act III of 1894 (an Act to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882; and the Indian Penal Code), the Prisoners Act, V of 1871, as subsequently amended, and the Cotton Duties Act, XVII of 1894, were applied to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts. The following rules were issued:—(1) Rules for the regulation of grazing in certain classes of State-forests; (2) Rules under the Berar Forest Law, 1886, for State-forests of class C; (3) Rules under certain sections of the Indian Factories Act, XV of 1881, as amended by Act XI of 1891; and (4) Rules under the Bombay Boiler Inspection Act, 1891, as extended to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts. Also the following rules were either modified or added to:—(1) Rules to regulate Legal Practitioners in the Court of the Judicial Commissioner, Hyderabad Assigned Districts, and in Courts subordinate to that Court; (2) Rules for the manufacture, &c., of explosives in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts; (3) Rules issued under the Berar Forest Law, 1886; (4) the Registration Rules; (5) the Berar Municipal Rules; and (6) Rules under the Berar Rural Boards Law, 1885. Also the provisions of the Indian Arms Act, XI of 1878, as applied to the Hyderabad Assigned Districts, were extended to sulphur in quantities exceeding 10 seers, and rules were issued regarding the maintenance of register books in the prescribed form under the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872, as amended.

Police.

6. The only changes effected in the constitution of the police force during the year 1894 consisted in an increase of 7 officers and 10 men in connection with the Railway and Abkari police and the working of the anthropometrical system, and a decrease of 3 officers and 23 men rendered possible by the removal of the guard at the Kapsi water-works in the Akola district and the reduction of frontier posts in the Basim district. Its strength consisted of 9 gazetted officers (including the Inspector-General), 559 subordinate officers, and 2,350 men (including 15 mounted constables), or one man to every 6·1 square miles and every 995 of the population. The total expenditure was Rs. 5,68,598.

7. The total number of cognizable offences rose from 8,463 in 1893 to 8,739 in 1894; but if nuisance cases are excluded, the number fell from 5,637 to 5,443. Of the cases that occurred, 80·5 per cent. were investigated by the police and the percentage of police cases in which conviction was obtained was 65·1.

The number of persons arrested and summoned was 9,019 as compared with 8,447 in 1893. The proportion of stolen property recovered was 22·4 per cent. against 27·2 per cent. in 1893. The number of non-cognizable offences also fell from 6,745 in 1893 to 6,579 in 1894.

Anthropometry.

8. The Bertillon system of anthropometry for the better identification of old offenders was introduced into the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the year, being worked by the police in co-operation with the jail department.

Criminal justice.

9. The number of tribunals, exclusive of the local High Court and the Sessions Court, remained the same, viz., 72, during the year 1894 as in 1893. The number of offences reported increased by 2·1 per cent. from 17,616 in 1893 to 17,978 in 1894, but it is below the average of the preceding five years. Of the cases reported 81·5 per cent. were returned as true against 82·2 in 1893, and 67·9 per cent. were brought to trial against 66·4 per cent. in the previous year. The number of persons tried during the year was 21,750 as compared with 21,623 in the previous year. Of these 98·6 per cent. were disposed of—56·6 per cent. by discharge or acquittal, 39·7 per cent. by conviction, and the rest otherwise. Of the persons convicted, 4 were sentenced to death, 14 to transportation, 1,464 to rigorous imprisonment, 151 to simple imprisonment, 480 to whipping, and 6,408 to fine. The average duration of cases was 8·5 days against 7·7 days in 1893. The number of witnesses was 38,018 against 39,667 in 1893, of whom 79·3 per cent. were discharged after the first day's attendance. The number of Sessions cases was 40 and the number of persons involved 104 against 66 cases and 168 persons in 1893. Of these, 39 cases involving 103 persons were disposed of during the year; the percentage of acquittals rose from 31·5 to 60·2, and that of convictions fell from 62·1 to 34·0. With the exception of two cases (in one of which the accused died before trial and in the other a plea of guilty obviated the necessity of a trial), all cases were tried with the aid of assessors. The total number of appeals instituted was 817 against 727 in 1893, of which 88·5 per cent. were disposed of.

Jails.

10. The status of the jails will be found described in paragraph 48 of the Administration Report for 1893-94, and no change was effected during the year under report (1894). A scheme is under consideration for enlarging the Amraoti jail with a view to its being converted into a central jail for the province. The number of prisoners in the jails in the province at the commencement of the year was 1,379 and the number admitted during the year 2,982, making a total of 4,361 prisoners. Of these 3,065 were discharged, leaving 1,296 in jail at the close of the year. The admissions of the year (2,982) were less than those of the year preceding (3,275), and the daily average strength was 1,285, almost the same as that of 1893 (1,284). Of the number admitted 1,603 were convicts imprisoned during the year—277 being Muhammadans, 1,321 Hindus and Sikhs, and 5 Buddhists and Jains; of these 10·2 per cent. had been previously convicted. The mortality in jails rose from 28·8 to 30·3 per mille. Of the average number of convicts sentenced to labour (1077·1) 42 per cent. were employed on manufactures, 45 per cent. on various prison duties, and 4 per cent. on jail buildings, public works, &c.; the rest were either unable to work or not employed owing to their being placed on penal diet. The net cost of the jails during 1894 was Rs. 57,858 against Rs. 61,822 in 1893, and the net cost per head of average strength was Rs. 45, the corresponding figure for 1893 being Rs. 48.

Civil justice.

11. The number of Civil Courts open during the year under report (viz., 1894) was the same (43) as in 1893. The number of suits instituted was 30,141 against 27,193 in 1893, of which 87 per cent. were suits for money or moveable property and 5·1 per cent. for immoveable property, 5·5 per cent. related to the mortgage of immoveable property, and the rest belonged to other classes. Including the suits pending at the close of 1893 (4,806) and 970 re-filed cases, the total number of suits for disposal was 35,917 against 31,593 in 1893, or 13·7 per cent. in excess of that for the latter year. Of these 31,268, or 87·1 per cent., involving an aggregate value of Rs. 40,53,167, were disposed of. The average value per suit was Rs. 135-3-1 against Rs. 126-7-7 in 1893, and the average cost Rs. 18-5-1 or 13·8 per cent. of the value. Of the suits disposed of 93·9 per cent. were of value not exceeding Rs. 500, and the average value in their case was Rs. 84. Seventy-six per cent. of the suits were uncontested and 23·2 per cent. contested; the rest were either cases in which plaints were rejected or returned or cases decided by arbitration. The average duration of contested cases was 132·4 days, while that of uncontested cases 60·4, the corresponding figures for 1893 being 107·6 and 52·6 respectively. Of the cases disposed of, the major portion, viz., 91·7 per cent., were decided by Assistant and Extra Assistant Commissioners. The number of applications for execution of decrees was 33,542 against 32,235 in 1893, of which nearly 82 per cent. were disposed of. Of the total number, in nearly 21 per cent. satisfaction was either obtained in full or in part, in 54·4 cases the applications were wholly infructuous; the rest were either transferred or pending at the close of the year. The total amount realized on decrees during the year was Rs. 3,35,355 against Rs. 3,13,061 in 1893. There were 46 civil debtors in prison during the year against 37 in 1893. The number of applications for a declaration of insolvency was 44, the same as in 1893; of these only 5 were granted. The total amount of fees realized during the year was Rs. 5,01,121—court fees Rs. 3,88,738 and process fees Rs. 1,12,383. The cost of the process-serving establishment was Rs. 64,651. The total number of appeals for disposal was 1,749 against 2,291 in 1893; of which 1,128 were disposed of against 1,582 in 1893. The average duration in regular appeals rose from 128·4 to 230·9 days, and in miscellaneous appeals from 115 to 147·6 days, the rise being in a great measure due to the excessive duration in the Civil and Sessions Judge's Court and in the Basim district.

Registration.

12. The number of registration offices remained the same, viz., 63, as in 1893-94. The status of one office, viz., that at Dahihanda in the Akola district, was altered, a salaried sub-registrar being substituted for one remunerated by commission. Registrations of all kinds fell by 1·4 per cent. from 35,183 in 1893-94 to 34,678 in 1894-95, and the aggregate value of property transferred fell from Rs. 1,06,78,417 to Rs. 1,02,91,099. Of the total number of documents registered, 94 per cent. related to immoveable property, the total value involved being Rs. 1,00,34,617. The receipts of the department came to Rs. 86,013 against Rs. 88,080 in 1893-94, and the expenditure to Rs. 47,550 against Rs. 48,798 in the previous year.

Municipalities.

13. The number of municipalities in the province was 11, the same as in 1893-94. The aggregate income of these 11 bodies amounted to Rs. 2,56,314 as compared with Rs. 3,83,399 in 1893-94, and their aggregate expenditure to

Rs. 2,59,684 against Rs. 3,66,930 in the previous year. The incidence of taxation varied from Rs. 1-5-6 to Rs. 0-2-11.

Local Boards.

14. The only tract in the province outside municipal areas in which the Berar Rural Boards Law is not in force is the Melghat taluk of the Ellichpur district, and the aggregate area in which the law is in force is roughly 16,056 square miles with a population of 2,693,533 souls. The number of district boards is 6 and that of taluk boards 21. The income of these bodies during the year was Rs. 6,58,926, of which 15·6 per cent. was contributed by provincial revenues, and the remaining 84·4 per cent. was realized from other sources. The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 6,57,935, of which 43·3 per cent. was spent on public works, 30·5 on education, and the balance, viz., 26·2 per cent., on hospitals and dispensaries, superannuation allowances and pensions, &c. The average incidence of taxation was only 6 pies per head of population, while the average incidence of income, excluding the opening balance, was 4 annas and 5 pies.

Military.

15. There is only one station in the province, viz., Ellichpur, at which a military force is located. During the year under report this force consisted of a detachment of the Hyderabad Contingent troops, having a strength of 124 artillery and 741 infantry.

Agriculture.

16. Of the total area of the province, 11,350,873 acres, 71 per cent. (8,065,736 acres) was culturable assessed land—68·4 per cent. being in occupation and 2·6 waste. Of the total area available for cultivation, excluding the Melghat taluk, 96·7 per cent. was occupied and 3·3 per cent. unoccupied, and in khalsa villages alone, excluding Melghat, the proportion of occupied and unoccupied lands stood as 98·3 to 1·7. Of the total culturable assessed land under occupation, viz., 7,771,032 acres, 7·3 per cent. was under grass, 5·9 per cent. fallow, and the balance, viz., 86·8 per cent., under crops—65·4 per cent. kharif, 21·1 per cent. rabi, and ·3 per cent. garden and miscellaneous. The principal crops grown were, as usual, jowari, wheat, gram, tur, linseed, and cotton, and they occupied respectively 36·4, 13·2, 3·3, 2·9, 5·7, and 31·2 per cent. of the area under crops. The total area under irrigation decreased from 48,787 acres in 1893-94 to 42,562 acres in 1894-95, of which 96·5 per cent. was from wells, for the cultivation chiefly of vegetables, chillies, &c.

Rainfall.

17. The average rainfall of the province during the year 1894-95 was 41 inches and 7 cents, and was above the average, but was not altogether seasonable. The deficiency in August coming after the heavy rain at the end of July affected the prospects of the cotton and jowari crops in every district alike, and the heavy rain at the end of October damaged both the kharif harvest and the rabi sowings.

Loans to agriculturists.

18. A sum of Rs. 52,000 was allotted under the Land Improvement Loans Act, and a sum of Rs. 18,000 under the Agriculturists' Loans Act.

Agricultural stock and horse-breeding.

19. The statistics relating to agricultural stock supplied by the village patwaris are only approximate and not susceptible of check. The number of mares covered by the two Government pony stallions during the year under report was 12, but reliable information regarding their produce is not available. The stallions have since been sold.

Cattle diseases and veterinary.

20. There was no serious outbreak of any particular disease during the year. Attacks numbered 21,478, of which 5,325 were cases of rinderpest, 3,626 of anthrax, 6,675 of foot-and-mouth disease, 705 of pleuro-pneumonia and 5,147 of other diseases. Of the number attacked 59·8 per cent. recovered.

Prices of produce and wages of labour.

21. From paragraphs 101 and 102 on page 33 of this report, it will be seen that the fall in the prices of the chief food-grains of the province noticed in 1893-94 has continued during the year under report, except in the case of gram, which shows a slight rise. The average wage of skilled and unskilled labour remained the same as in 1893-94, but there was some slight fluctuation with respect to other rates of hire, such as that for a cart and pair of bullocks, &c.

Arboriculture.

22. The number of nurseries maintained at the end of the year was 105, and the mileage of new avenues planted was 330. The gross expenditure incurred on account of arboricultural operations during the year amounted to Rs. 40,507 and the receipts to Rs. 2,712.

Forests.

23. The total forest area at the close of the forest year ending 30th June 1895 was 4,179 square miles, or 23·5 per cent. of the total area of the province, as compared with 4,157 square miles in 1893-94. The change is due to the completion of the classification of the forest areas under the Berar Forest Law. The area the protection of which was attempted during the year was 1,391 square miles. Of this area only 7 square miles were burnt as compared with 39 square miles in 1893-94, but the cost of protection increased from Rs. 8-9-7 to Rs. 9-8-0 per square mile. Cases of breaches of Forest Law numbered 883 against 841 in 1893-94. Of these 80 per cent. were compounded, 15·5 per cent. taken before magistrates, and 4·5 per cent. remained undetected. Working plans for 991 square miles were completed at the beginning of the year; plans for 857 square miles were completed during the year, and others for 1,222 square miles were in hand at the close of the year, leaving a balance of 1,109 square miles to be dealt with. The total expenditure on forest works during the year amounted to Rs. 24,922, of which 55·4 per cent. was spent on roads, 39·9 per cent. on buildings, and 4·7 on wells and miscellaneous works. The total revenue of the Forest Department for the year was Rs. 4,66,014 as compared with Rs. 4,79,475 in 1893-94, and the total expenditure was Rs. 2,49,188 against Rs. 2,64,318 in the previous year, the percentage borne by expenditure to revenue being 53·5 against 55·1 in 1893-94.

Manufactures.

24. As will be seen from paragraph 119 of this report, the manufactures of the province are chiefly confined to twist and yarn, coarse cotton cloth, and petty unskilled handicrafts. Silk weaving is carried on at Kholapur in the Amraoti district, and cotton carpets are woven at Akot and Ellichpur. Besides the cotton weaving mill at Badnera and two oil mills (one at Amraoti and the other at Shegaon), the cotton presses and ginning factories worked by steam are the principal industries of the province. The mill at Badnera produced 927,564 lbs. of twist and yarn and 930,095 lbs. of cloth during the year. The oil mill at Amraoti turned out 103,239 gallons of oil and 881 tons of oil cakes, and the Shegaon mill extracted 1,389 candies of oil. There are altogether 31 cotton presses and 60 ginning factories in the province against 36 and 63 respectively in 1893-94 under the management of private firms and joint stock companies.

Rail-borne trade.

25. As will be seen from paragraph 121 on page 39 of this report, the total traffic of the year consisted of 3,202,000 maunds of imports. and 2,691,000 maunds of exports as compared with 4,053,000 maunds and 3,760,000 maunds respectively in 1893-94, and shows a considerable fall both in volume and value. The trade between Berar and the Central Provinces and Bombay as usual preponderated. The principal articles of import were coal and coke, manufactured cotton, grain and pulse, metals, provisions, salt, spices, and sugar, and those of export were grain and pulse, raw cotton, manufactured cotton, dyes and tans, and oil-seed. The cost of registration of the rail-borne trade during the year. was Rs. 858.

Road-borne trade.

26. As stated in paragraph 26 of the General Summary in last year's report, there are 10 nakas for the registration of road-borne traffic, and they were shifted during the year under report to the western borders of the province towards Khandesh and His Highness the Nizam's territory. The total imports during the year amounted to 176,820 maunds and the exports to 98,996 maunds. The chief articles of trade were raw cotton, grain and pulse, oil, and sugar. The cost of registration amounted during the year to Rs. 4,623.

Public works.

27. The total expenditure from all sources on public works during the year 1894-95 amounted to Rs. 19,56,920, and was distributed thus:—Imperial Civil Works, Rs. 9,176; Provincial Services, Rs. 11,06,959; Local Funds, Rs. 2,85,850; Railways, Rs. 91,717; and Contribution Works, Rs. 4,63,218. Of the provincial expenditure 4·1 per cent. was spent on military buildings, 20·9 per cent. on civil buildings, 48·2 per cent. on communications, 1·2 per cent. on miscellaneous public improvements, and the balance, 25·6 per cent., on establishment, &c. Details of the works executed will be found in part II, paragraphs 132—138, on pages 43—46 of this report. The Secunderabad water-works scheme is the principal contribution work, and the outlay up to date wasRs. 4,70,900.

Railways.

28. The expenditure on account of railways, i.e., the Amraoti and Khamgaon State Railways, amounted to Rs. 91,717, and the receipts to Rs. 1,55,594; the net profits on the two lines being 9·3 and 4·4 per cent. respectively on the capital outlay.

Revenue and finance.

29. The gross revenue of the province during the year 1894-95 amounted to Rs. 1,22,49,345, and the total disbursements to Rs. 1,17,05,459. Omitting the receipts and disbursements of the Incorporated and Excluded Local Funds, the provincial surplus was Rs. 4,69,071 compared with a surplus of Rs. 7,35,912 for the year 1893-94. The amount paid to His Highness the Nizam during the year 1894-95 was Rs. 11,62,045, being the balance of the surplus for the years 1890-91 to 1892-93 unpaid for want of funds, and a portion of surplus for the year 1893-94; the balance at the credit of the British administration of Berar on 31st March 1895 was Rs. 33,70,125. Of the gross income Rs. 1,01,19,488 were derived from Provincial revenues, Rs. 9,47,215 from Incorporated, and Rs. 11,82,642 from Excluded Local Funds. Rs. 96,50,417 of the Provincial revenues, Rs. 11,07,827 of the Excluded Local Funds, and the whole of the Incorporated Local Funds revenue were utilized.

The provincial contract shows a deficit of Rs. 4,11,793; the excess of expenditure over the revenue allotted during the first three years of the present contract has exceeded by Rs. 2,17,975 the balance of the previous contract, viz., Rs. 7,12,306, placed at the credit of the Resident to meet the deficit anticipated for the whole period of the present contract. The balance in favor of the Resident at the close of 1894-95, inclusive of Rs. 5,00,000 allowed for any extraordinary emergencies in accordance with paragraph 4 of the Government of India, Financial Department, Resolution No. 5957, dated 5th November 1887, was under the above circumstances Rs. 2,82,025 only.

As compared with the transactions of the previous year, the receipts under certain heads show improvement. The only important exceptions are Excise, Forest, Education, Receipts in aid of superannuation, &c., and Contributions from local to provincial, showing a net decrease of Rs. 48,174. The causes of the several variations in the revenue and receipts heads are explained in the body of the report. As regards expenditure heads, the principal increases have been separately explained. The outlay under the following heads shows decreases, namely, 22—Education; 26—Scientific and other Minor Departments; 27—Territorial and Political Pensions; 29—Superannuation Allowances and Pensions; 32—Miscellaneous and Contributions from Local to Provincial under Civil; and 4—Commissariat Establishments, &c., and 5—Stud and Remount Establishments, &c., under Military. The expenditure of the Public Works Department also shows a considerable decrease. In the result there is a net increase of Rs. 2,18,668. The decrease under Education chiefly occurs under the head "Grants-in-aid," Payments by results, Indigenous schools. The decrease under Scientific and other Minor Departments partly occurs under salaries of the Veterinary Department, and chiefly under "Botanical and other Public Gardens, Local," owing to the transfer of the expenditure of the arboriculture scheme for planting trees to the Public Works Department. The decrease under Territorial and Political Pensions is apparently due to non-appearance of certain claimants to receive their stipends. The decrease under Superannuation Allowances and Pensions is owing to the larger payment from district funds to provincial revenues during 1893-94 on account of capitalized value of District Board pensions for service rendered prior to that year than in the year under review. The decrease under Miscellaneous chiefly occurs under the heads "Charges for remittance of treasure" and "Loss by exchange on local transactions;" both are fluctuating heads of account not subject to regular influences.

The decrease under Contributions from local to provincial is due to the contribution on account of Akola water-works, which was due in 1894-95, having been paid by the District Board of that district in the previous year with the sanction of the local Administration. The decrease under Commissariat Establishments, &c., is chiefly in the compensation for dearness of grain to natives and for horses of Cavalry regiments, and that under Stud and Remount Establishments, &c., is owing to the purchase of a lesser number of remounts for the Artillery, Hyderabad Contingent. The decrease in the Public Works Department is chiefly under Incorporated Local Funds expenditure, and is owing principally to diminished expenditure during the year under review on works of communication and of water-supply, and on the construction and maintenance of school buildings.

Vital statistics.

30. The main features of the existing system of registration of vital statistics are described in paragraph 151 on page 63 of this report. The total number of births registered during 1894 was 94,759 against 111,924 in 1893, and the ratio of birth-rate to population was 33·3 per mille as compared with 39·3 per mille in the previous year. Of the total number of births registered 48,625 were of males and 46,134 of females, the proportion of the sexes born being 105·3 males to every 100 females. The lowness of the birth-rate is attributed in part to the scarcity which prevailed for a series of years and in part to the prevalence of fever and influenza in an epidemic form, which is regarded as having exercised a positive check on population. The total number of deaths registered during the year was 119,561, or 26,610 in excess of that registered in 1893, and the death-rate was 42 per mille as compared with 32·6 per mille in the previous year, and 34·8 the mean of the previous five years. Of the death-rate of 42 per mille, the highest mortality was due to fevers, being 23·6 per mille, dysentery and diarrhœa following next with a rate of 5·2 per mille.

Medical relief.

31. The total number of medical institutions in the province was 46, the same as in 1893—8 civil hospitals and 38 charitable dispensaries, maintained at a total expenditure of Rs. 74,585. The total number of patients treated was 349,582—4,804 in-door and 344,778 out-door patients, and the average daily attendance was 142·7 in-door and 2309·6 out-door. Of the total number of in-door patients (4,804), the number cured was 4,103, or 85·4 per cent. Under the auspices of the Lady Dufferin's Fund Committee, a hospital for females was constructed at Amraoti during the year and equipped at a total cost of Rs. 32,488. The hospital was opened by the Resident on the 15th January 1895.

Sanitation.

32. With the exception of the Akola water-supply scheme, which was nearly completed at a cost up to the close of 1894 of Rs. 4,99 160, no sanitary works of any magnitude were in progress during the year, but the report shows that attention was paid to the improvement of drainage, water-supply, and conservancy, the sum of Rs. 1,07,879, or 45·3 per cent. of an estimated income of Rs. 2,38,518, having been spent by municipal bodies on sanitary works—27·3 per cent. on conservancy, 3·4 per cent. on drainage, and 14·6 per cent. on water-supply. The total expenditure incurred by District Boards on works of sanitary improvement was Rs. 1,22,592, or 72 per cent. of their estimated income.

Vaccination.

33. The total number of primary operations performed during the year 1894-95 was 93,296, of which 94·7 per cent. were successful, the corresponding figures for 1893 being 97,786 and 95·1 per cent. respectively. Re-vaccinated cases numbered 21,343, of which 23·1 were successful, the figures for the previous year being 39,366 and 21·2 per cent. respectively. The death-rate from small-pox for the year was ·37 per mille against ·06 per mille for 1893-94. The cost of the department was Rs. 17,577 against Rs. 17,495 in 1893-94, and the average cost of each successful case was 3 annas against 2 annas and 9 pies in the previous year. Vaccination was made compulsory in all municipalities during the year by the extension of Act XIII of 1880 to municipal areas.

Education.

34. The year under report was, like its predecessor, an unhealthy one owing to unseasonable rains and the prevalence of influenza in an epidemic form, and this, combined with indifferent harvests, which affected the prosperity of the agricultural classes, helped to retard the progress of education among the masses. The total number of schools fell from 1,326 in 1893-94 to 1,228 in the year under report, and the number of scholars from 52,432 to 49,985. A decrease of 99 schools and 3,156 scholars has occurred only in boys' schools, while the number of girls' schools has increased by 1 and the number of girl scholars by 709. The percentage of male scholars to male population of school-going age accordingly fell from 22·3 to 20·7. Out of 38 boys sent up from the two high schools 21 passed the matriculation examination; the result of the middle school examinations was not so satisfactory as in 1893-94. The number of primary schools under public management and of scholars in them has increased, but the percentage of passed to examined has decreased; the fall is explained as due to a more correct system of marking. The indigenous schools show a falling-off, which, as already explained, was due to the unfavorable circumstances of the year. Muhammadan schools for boys increased from 73 to 74, and their attendance decreased from 3,714 to3 ,687. The number of Muhammadan girls attending school has increased from 637 to 718. The school fees amounted to Rs. 58,141 and popular contributions to Rs. 9,133. The total expenditure on education during the year amounted to Rs. 4,32,957 as compared with Rs. 4,51,155 in 1893-94, to which Provincial revenues contributed 56·7 per cent., District and Municipal Funds 36·2 per cent., and fees and subscriptions 7·1 per cent., against 54·7, 38·4, and 6·9 per cent. respectively in 1893-94. Excluding the cost of direction (Rs. 20,452) and inspection (Rs. 34,534) and sundry miscellaneous charges, the expenditure on high schools amounted to Rs. 23,583, on middle schools to Rs. 56,902, and on primary schools for boys and girls to Rs. 2,13,124, while Rs. 16,717 were spent on grants-in-aid and Rs. 38,128 on new buildings.

Literature and the press.

35. The number of books registered under Act XXV of 1867 during the year under report was 19 against 20 in 1893-94. Eight of these were issues of the Berar School Paper, and seven the issues of a monthly literary magazine styled Dnyána Sangraha. Four libraries or reading rooms were opened and four closed during the year, the number open on the 31st March 1895 being 39. The number of printing presses remained the same (viz., 10) as in 1893-94.

Changes in the Administration.

Changes at head-quarters of Government.

7. The office of Resident was held by Mr. T. J. Chichele-Plowden, C.S.I., I.C.S., till the 7th September 1894, when he went on three months' privilege leave and Colonel K. J. L. Mackenzie, C.I.E., Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts, officiated as Resident during his absence. Again, consequent on the departure of Mr. Chichele-Plowden on special leave, Colonel Mackenzie officiated as Resident from the 21st March 1895 to the close of the year under report. The office of First Assistant and Secretary for Berar to the Resident was held throughout the year by Mr. A. L. P. Tucker, I.C.S., and that of the Second Assistant and Assistant Secretary for Berar similarly by Mr. W. E. Jardine, I.C.S.

Changes in Berar.

8. Colonel K. J. L. Mackenzie, C.I.E., I.S.C., held the office of Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts till the 26th August 1894, when he departed for Hyderabad to assume charge of the office of Resident. Colonel H. C. A. Szczepanski, a Deputy Commissioner of the 1st class, officiated as Commissioner from the 26th August 1894 to 7th January 1895 inclusive. Consequent on Colonel Mackenzie's appointment to officiate as Resident during Mr. Chichele-Plowden's absence on special leave, Colonel Szczepanski again officiated as Commissioner from the 11th March 1895 to the close of the year. The office of Judicial Commissioner of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts was held throughout the year by Mr. F. S. Bullock, I.C.S.

CHAPTER II.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE LAND.

SECTION I.

Survey and Settlement.

Extent and nature of work.

10. The scope and nature of the survey and settlement operations now in progress in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts have been set forth in paragraphs 10 and 11 of the Administration Report for 1893-94.

Field parties and their employment.

11. During the year 1894-95 there were two field parties—one engaged on the revision survey, and the second in the measurement and classification of izara villages in the Wun and Basim districts. The survey party was placed under the control of an experienced native surveyor, and consisted of 18 professional measurers and classers, assisted by 4 taluka classers and 10 munsarims. Subsequently a second surveyor having been appointed, this party was divided into two of equal strength, and employed on the revision survey of the villages in the Jalgaon taluk of the Akola district and the Chikhli taluk of the Buldana district. The second party, consisting of 13 measurers and classers, with a nimtandar, was engaged under the Assistant Director of Land Records and Agriculture, Captain Garrett, in the measurement and classification of izara villages in the Wun and Basim districts.

The appointment of Survey Officer was abolished during the year, and the services of the incumbent, Mr. C. Erskine, were replaced at the disposal of the Government of India.

Outturn of survey work and cost.

12. The work done by the two parties during 1893-94 and 1894-95 and the expenditure incurred are shown in the following two comparative statements:—

Settlement.

13. Final orders on the revision settlement of the Malkapur, Khamgaon, and Jalgaon talukas were passed during the year, and the revised rates were introduced into these three taluks on the 29th March, 31st January, and 25th February 1895 respectively. The new assessment in these talukas is payable for the official year 1895-96.

The report on the revision settlement of the Balapur taluk of the Akola district was received during the year, and orders have been passed on it since the close of the year.

Orders on the settlement of the leased villages in the four taluks of the Wun district (viz., Wun, Yeotmal, Darwha, and Kelapur) and in the Pusad and Mangrul taluks of the Basim district were passed during the year under report.

The operations in the Melghat taluk of the Ellichpur district have not yet been commenced owing to the difficulty experienced in securing the services of competent men for the work.

SECTION II.

Waste Lands.

Culturable land not occupied.

14. It will be seen from the first tabular statement in Chapter IV, section I, of this Report that the total culturable assessed land in the province amounted to 8,065,736 acres, of which 294,704 acres, or 2·6 per cent. of the total area of the province, remained unoccupied during the year 1894-95. The distribution of this area is shown in the following table :—

		Classification of villages.					Total for villages of all classes.

Unoccupied land newly taken up and occupied land relinquished in khalsa villages.

15. Of the unoccupied land in khalsa villages, 8,714 acres were newly taken up during the year, of which 3,682 acres were in the Melghat taluk, 2,904 acres in the Wun district, and 1,281 acres in the Basim district. The occupied land relinquished amounted to 18,887 acres, of which 11,932 were in the Melghat and 5,469 acres in the Wun district.

Leased villages.

16. Statistics of the villages leased under the Waste Land Rules for the years 1893-94 and 1894-95 are given in the following table:—

SECTION II.

Police.

Strength and cost

21. The only changes effected in the constitution of the Police Force during 1894 consisted in an increase of 7 officers and 10 men in connection with the Railway and Abkari Police and the working of the anthropometrical system, and a decrease of 3 officers and 23 men rendered possible by the removal of the guard at the Kapsi water works in the Akola district, and the reduction of frontier posts in the Basim district. The sanctioned strength at the close of the year consisted of 9 gazetted officers, including the Inspector-General, 559 subordinate officers, and 2,350 men, including 15 mounted constables, a total of 2,918 as against 2,927 in the previous year, or one man to every 6·1 square miles and every 995 of the population. The cost involved was Rs. 5,68,598.

Equipment.

22. Of the 2,909 subordinate officers and men, 1,018 were provided with firearms, 1,384 with swords only or with swords and batons, and 507 with batons only.

Classification by race and religion.

23. Exclusive of gazetted officers and 32 vacancies existing at the close of the year, the force consisted of 2,877 men. These included 3 Europeans, 5 Eurasians, and 2,869 natives, or classified according to religion, 20 Christians, 1,115 Muhammadans, 2 Parsis, and 1,740 Hindus.

Health.

24. The year under report was like its predecessor an unhealthy one. Only 29 deaths were recorded as against 35 in 1893; but admissions into hospital during the year increased, the percentage to total strength of the force varying from 44·8 in the Amraoti district to 74·7 in the Buldana district.

25. The following comparative statement shows the conduct and discipline of the force for the years 1893 and 1894:— Conduct and discipline.

Year.	Sanctioned strength of subordinate officers and men.	Length of service of No. on roll at end of year.			Punishments.			No. rewarded.	No. who left the force owing to the following causes.
		No. enlisted during the year.	No. with service of one year and under ten years.	No. with service of ten years and upwards.	Departmental.		Judicial by a Magistrate.		On pension and gratuity.	By resignation without pension or gratuity.	By discharge otherwise than under columns 6, 10 and 11.	By desertion.
					Dismissals.	Others, i.e., fine, degradation or suspension.

26. Cognizable crime, exclusive of petty nuisance cases, decreased by 3·4 per cent. as compared with 1893. General state of crime.

The following table gives comparative details for the years 1893 and 1894:—

Nature of offence.	1893.	1894.
Class I.—Offences against the State, public tranquillity, safety and justice.	53	76
„ II.—Serious offences against the person.	250	246
„ III.—Serious offences against person and property or against property only.	1,588	1,590
„ IV.—Minor offences against the person.	156	172
„ V.—Minor offences against property	3,203	2,978
„ VI.—Other offences not specified above.	3,213	3,677
Total ...	8,463	8,739

Thefts ...	Cases in which no property or property less than Rs. 10 in value was stolen ...	1,866	1,626
	Cases in which property of Rs. 10 in value and upwards was stolen	683	738
	Total ...	2,549	2,364

The more serious forms of crime were less prevalent in 1894 than in 1893, except house-breakings, in respect of which the Amraoti district continued to maintain an exceptionally bad record.

The depredations of organized bands of dakaits from Hyderabad territory have been put an end to and their gangs have been completely broken up, the principal offenders being brought to trial and sentenced to transportation to the Andamans, while others concerned were dealt with according to law.

Similarly during the year under report vigorous action was taken in regard to certain criminally addicted Banjara gangs in the Wun district, and punitive police imposed upon them with good results. Two religious riots occurred in the Buldana district during the year between the Muhammadans and Hindus on the occasion of the Mohurrum festival—one at Chikhli, and the second at Sindkhed, but no serious consequences ensued.

Working of the police in cognizable cases.

28. The following table summarizes the working of the police and the results of police action in regard to all cognizable offences during 1893 and 1894:—

	1893.	1894.
Cases.
1. Number of cases occurred, inclusive of old cases investigated during the year and cases pending from previous year... ...	8,607	8,897
2. Percentage of all cases (whether investigated by police or not) ending in conviction to cases occurred	52·0	55·8

1. Number of persons arrested and summoned	8,447	9,019
2. Percentage of persons convicted to total arrested	63·5	66·2
3. Percentage of persons arrested by police and convicted to total number of persons arrested by police	82·4	84·3
Property.
1. Value of property stolen	Rs. 2,02,572	2,07,342
2. Percentage of property recovered ...	27 2	22·4

Non-cognizable crime.

29. Non-cognizable offences numbered 6,579 during the year under report against 6,745 in 1893. Of this number, in only 28 cases were the police employed to make enquiry. The total number of persons who actually appeared before the courts was 13,170 against 13,943 in 1893, and of these 2,983 or 22·6 per cent. were convicted, the corresponding figure for 1893 being 20 per cent.

Escapes from police custody.

30. There were 7 cases of escape during the year against 10 in 1893. Of these 7 cases the offenders in 6 cases were recaptured, the corresponding figure for 1893 being 8.

Railway Police.

31. The following comparative statement shows the working of the Railway Police for the years 1892 to 1894:—

	Cases.						Persons.						Property.
	No. occurred.			Percentage of cases in which convictions were obtained.			No. arrested.			Percentage convicted.			Stolen.			Percentage recovered.

Anthropometry.

32. The Bertillon system of anthropometry for the better identification of old offenders was introduced into the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the year, being worked by the Police in co-operation with the Jail Department. Action in 1894 was confined to the arrangement of preliminaries, such as the instruction of selected officers, the preparation of measurement cards, &c., the results of which will be recorded in next year's report.

Protection.

Issue of a revised edition of Berar Police Orders and Drill Manual.

33. During the year a revised edition of the Berar Police Orders was prepared and issued, and a Drill Manual for the police.

SECTION III.

Criminal Justice.

Tribunals.

34. The following was the effective strength of the magistracy in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts at the close of the year 1894:—

Deputy Commissioners	6
First Class Magistrates	23
Second do.	14
Third do.	11
Special Magistrates	14
Benches of Magistrates	4
Total ...	72

35. In the cantonments of Aurangabad, Jalna, Mominabad, and Hingoli in the dominions of His Highness the Nizam, the number of officers exercising magisterial powers has remained the same as in 1893.

Amount of crime.

36. The subjoined table shows the number of offences reported during the past two years and the manner of their disposal :—

Years.	Offences reported.	Cases dismissed under section 203, Criminal Procedure Code.		Cases struck off as false.		Cases returned as true.		Cases brought to trial.
1893 ...	17,616	2,488	14·1	641	3·6	14,487	82·2	11,707	66·4
1894 ...	17,978	2,652	14·7	671	3·7	14,655	81·5	12,222	67·9

The number of reported offences increased this year slightly by 2·1 per cent., but it is still below the average of the past five years.

Classification of offences.

37. The table below compares the various classes of offences returned as true during 1894 and 1893 :—

	Total of 1894.	Total of 1893.	Increase.	Decrease.

GRAND TOTAL ...	14,655	14,487	897	729

Offences against special and local laws have notably increased by 855 cases, and those relating to coin and stamps by 14; offences affecting the public health and safety have fallen by 159; offences against the person have decreased by 205, and those against the property by 317.

There were only 30 cases of murder in 1894 against 31 in 1893, and they were all of ordinary type. Cases of hurt under aggravating circumstances have increased from 64 to 70; but there were no cases of kidnapping, rape, and unnatural offences committed during the year under report.

There were 71 cases of robbery and dakaiti as against 74 in 1893. The dakaitis were more technical than deliberate gang offences.

In the Hyderabad Contingent stations the offences during the year under report were classified as below :—

——	1894.	1893.	Increase.	Decrease.
Offences against public tranquillity	1	4	...	3
Offences by or relating to public servants ...	...	1	...	1

Average duration.

40. The average duration of the cases disposed of by Magistrates of all denominations for the year under report was 8·5 days against 7·7 days in 1893.

Special jurisdiction of Deputy Commissioners.

41. The number of cases disposed of by Deputy Commissioners under section 30 of the Criminal Procedure Code decreased from 72 in 1893 to 56 in the year under report. Of the total number of persons disposed of under this section, 56, or 34·4 per cent., were convicted.

Summary trials.

42. The number of cases tried summarily under Chapter XXII of the Criminal Procedure Code decreased from 375 in 1893 to 310 in the year under report, and the number of persons so tried from 666 to 379.

Trials of European British subjects.

43. Only one European British subject was tried in a Magistrat's Court during 1894. The charge was one of causing hurt, and the trial resulted in acquittal.

Details of punishment.

44. The table below shows the total number of punishments inflicted by the various classes of Courts in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the years 1893 and 1894:—

Class of tribunals.	Year.	Total number of persons punished.	Persons sentenced to						Persons ordered to find or give security or recognizance to keep the peace or sureties for good behaviour.	Persons imprisoned in default of security for good behaviour.

Fines.

45. 6,408 persons were sentenced to fine against 6,070 in the preceding year. In 98·5 per cent. of these cases the fines imposed were less than Rs. 50, and in only 3 cases did they amount to Rs. 500 or upwards. The total amount of fines imposed was Rs. 58,957 against Rs. 53,699-10-3 in 1893, and the realizations were Rs. 49,260-2-3 against Rs. 46,016-6-6 in the previous year.

In the Hyderabad Contingent stations the total number of persons punished was 61 against 85 in 1893. Thirty-seven were sentenced to imprisonment, 19 to fine, and 5 to whipping. The amount of fines imposed was Rs. 1,051 against Rs. 1,942 in 1893, and the realizations were Rs. 2,104 as against 742 in the previous year.

Witnesses.

46. The following table gives particulars of the attendance of witnesses during the past two years:—

	1894.		1893.

In the Hyderabad Contingent stations 354 witnesses attended the courts. Of these 325 were discharged on the first day and 19 were allowed to go unexamined.

Sessions Court.

47. During the year 40 sessions cases involving 104 persons came up for disposal against 66 cases and 168 persons in 1893. Of these 39 cases involving 103 persons were disposed of.

The following statement shows how the 103 persons were dealt with:—

Year.	Persons disposed of by the Sessions Court	Persons acquitted.		Convicted.		Died, escaped, or transferred.
		Number.	Percentage.	Number.	Percentage.	Number.	Percentage.
1894	103	62	60·2	35	34·	6	5·8
1893	124	39	31·5	77	62·1	8	6·4

The percentage of acquittals has risen from 31·5 to 60·2, and convictions have fallen from 62·1 to 34·0. This unsatisfactory result is due to acquittals in several dakaiti and murder cases.

In one case the accused died before trial, and in one case a plea of guilty obviated the necessity of a trial. All the other cases were tried with the aid of assessors; and in 29 cases the Sessions Judge agreed with both the assessors, in three cases he agreed with one, and in three cases he disagreed with both assessors. In two more cases he differed with regard to one of the accused.

48. No European British subject was tried by the Court of Sessions in 1894. The average duration of cases rose from 46·4 to 73·3 days owing to the postponement of one murder trial for a year and the slight delay in another dakaiti case.

Appeals for disposal.

49. The following statement shows the number of appeals instituted, disposed of, and pending in the Criminal Courts of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the past as compared with the preceding year:—

	Appeals for disposal, including pending.		Appeals disposed of.		Pending.

Deputy Commissioner's Court	427	386	377	366	50	20

The total number of appeals disposed of in the Judicial Commissioner's Court was 52 as against 25 in 1893. Of these the sentences were confirmed or the appeals rejected at the first hearing in 69·2 per cent. as compared with 92 last year; sentences were reduced or modified in 19·2 as compared with 4 per cent.; and sentences were reversed in 11·6 per cent. as compared with 4 in 1893. In the Sessions Court the percentage of confirmations and rejections was 74·1 as compared with 67 in 1893; the total number of appeals disposed of being 294 as compared with 285 in 1893. The number of appeals disposed of during the year by District Magistrates has increased by 11. The largest number of appeals disposed of in any district was 150 in Akola. In Buldana only 25 cases formed the subject of appeal to the Magistrate of the district during the whole year, and in 14 of these cases the orders of the lower Court were upheld, i.e., taking summary rejections and confirmations together. The general percentage of sentences confirmed in the Appellate Courts of Magistrates has fallen from 47·5 to 39·3, and the percentage of reversals has risen from 22·4 to 32·1 per cent. of disposals. The percentage of sentences reversed was largest in the Court of the District Magistrate at Akola (47·3 per cent.) A new Civil and Sessions court-house has been completed during the year with ample accommodation for both the court and the office.

SECTION IV.

Jails.

Status of jails, and classes of convicts confined in them.

50. The status of the jails was described in paragraph 48 of the Administration Report for 1893-94, and no change was effected during the year under report. A plan has been approved for enlarging the Amraoti Jail so as to hold 1,000 prisoners. It will then become the one central jail for the province. Detailed plans and estimates have yet to be prepared.

Jail population.

51. The following table furnishes comparative details of the jail population during 1893 and 1894 :—

Classification of convicts according to religion, age, education, and previous occupation.

52. Of 1,603 convicts (1,490 males and 113 females) imprisoned during the year, according to religion there were 1,321 Hindus and Sikhs, 277 Muhammadans, and 5 Budhists and Jains; according to age, 17 were under 16 years, 1,341 were 16 to 40 years old, 233 were 40 to 60 years old and 12 were above 60 years old; according to education, 86 were able to read and write, 66 were able to read only, while 1,451 were illiterate. Classified according to previous occupation, of the 113 female convicts 77 were married, 3 unmarried, 28 widows, and 5 prostitutes. The previous occupations of the male convicts are shown below with the corresponding figures for 1892 and 1893 :—

Previous convictions.

54. Of the 1,603 convicts imprisoned during the year 163 or 10·17 per cent. had been previously convicted, the corresponding figure for 1893 being 12 08. Ninety-nine had been convicted once, 36 twice, and 28 more than twice.

Jail offences and punishments.

55. The total number of jail offences was 1,084, against 1,035 in 1893. Of the former four cases were dealt with by criminal courts and the rest departmentally. The ratio per cent. of all punishments to jail population was 87·7 against 85 in 1893. There were no escapes of convicts and no recaptures during the year under report.

Mark system.

56. The following table shows the working of the mark system during 1894:—

Average earnings per head employed on manufacture.	9 14 0	34 3 0	39 8 0

There has been no noticeable variation as compared with 1893, but the improvement of that year over its predecessor has been fully maintained.

Expenditure.

60. The main results brought out by the statement below are that with a slightly larger daily average strength than last year the gross expenditure was less by Rs. 3,672-3-0; the net cost after crediting earnings was less by Rs. 3,964-0-0, while the gross and net cost per head of average strength fell by Rs. 3 and Rs. 3-3-0 respectively :—

Sub-Divisional Courts	14,593	12,529
Small Cause Courts	12,106	10,549
Total ...	30,141	27,193

The increase is attributed to popular appreciation of the facilities afforded by the Small Cause Courts.

Classification of suits.

63. The following table exhibits the nature of the suits instituted during the past two years:—

Description of suits.	1893.		1894.		Increase or decrease in number of suits, i.e., in columns 2 and 3.	Percentage of increase or decrease.

It will be seen that 87 per cent. of the suits filed during the year were for money or moveables. Suits for immoveable property increased by 3·7 per cent. and those for specific relief by 5 per cent., whilst suits relating to the mortgage of immoveable property increased by 249, or 17·8 per cent, the cause of which was not apparent.

Out of 1,526 suits for immoveable property, 1,194, or 78·2 per cent., related to survey numbers. There was a net increase of 77 cases in suits for recovery of possession by persons claiming as proprietors and of 133 cases in suits to establish rights.

64. The following table shows the value and costs of the suits disposed of during the year under report :— Value and costs of suits disposed of.

The aggregate value of suits capable of money valuation was Rupees 40,53,166-14-4, or an increase of Rs. 8,12,403-14-7 on the amount of 1893. The average value of suits was Rs. 135-3-1 against Rs. 126-7-7 in 1893. The rise is owing to more suits having been instituted in 1894 between Rs. 500 and Rs. 5,000 in value than in 1893.

65. Including 4,806 suits pending at the close of 1893 and 970 refiled cases, the total number for disposal in 1894 was 35,917, or 13·7 per cent. in excess of that for 1893. Of this total number 31,268, or 87·1 per cent., were disposed of during the year, as is illustrated below, leaving a pending file of 4,619 cases :— Disposal of suits.

Naib Tahsildars	1,011	3·8	1,052	3·4

Average duration.

67. The average duration of contested cases was 132·4 days, while that of uncontested was 60·4 against 107·6 and 52·6 respectively in the previous year.

Execution of decrees.

	1894.	1893.
Partially executed	12·5	12·7
Struck off without execution	66·4	61·5
Transferred	8·5	11·5

In 3,452 cases satisfaction was obtained in full.
„ 3,431 do do in part.
„ 18,237 cases the applications were wholly infructuous.

2,315 applications were transferred and 6,107 were pending at the close of the year.

The total amount realized on decrees during the year was Rs. 335,355-0-9 against Rs. 3,13,060-9-5 in the preceding year. Details of the manner of realization are given below :—

	Rs.	a.	p.
Paid in voluntarily...	18,456	6	9
After the issue of process	3,16,898	10	0

Land paying revenue to Government was attached in 118 instances, being 11 less than in 1893, and sales were actually effected in 85 cases only. Of the latter, there were 23 instances in which self-acquired and 62 in which ancestral property was sold; 64·7 per cent. of these sales took place in the Akola district alone.

There were 46 civil debtors in prison during the year against 37 in the previous year.

Insolvency.

69. There were 44 applications for a declaration of insolvency against a similar number in the previous year. Of these only 5 were granted.

Processes.

70. The total income realized during the year on account of court fees was Rs. 3,88,738 and of process fees Rs. 1,12,382, amounting in all to Rs. 5,01,120-11-0 against Rs. 4,39,462-9-0 in the previous year. The process-serving establishment cost Rs. 64,651.

Appellate work.

71. The statement appended below shows the work of the Appellate Courts during the year :—

District Courts ...	Appeals from decrees ...	71	120	191	156	35
	Miscellaneous appeals ...	2	4	6	6	...
Civil and Sessions Judge's Court.	Appeals from decrees ...	371	455	826	434	392
	Miscellaneous appeals ..	8	22	30	21	9
Judicial Commissioner's Court.	Appeals from decrees ...	173	264	437	320	117

		709	1,040	1,749	1,128	621
1893		788	1,503	2,291	1,582	709

The average duration in regular appeals rose from 128·4 to 230·9 days, and in miscellaneous appeals from 115· to 147·6 days. This rise is in a great measure due to the excessive duration in the Civil and Sessions Judge's Court and the Basim district.

Courts in the Hyderabad Contingent stations.

72. In the courts in the Hyderabad Contingent stations of Aurangabad, Jalna, Mominabad, and Hingoli 476 suits were instituted against 516 in 1893, as shown below:—

Aurangabad	370
Jalna	106
Mominabad	...
Hingoli	...
Total ...	476

Of these 476 suits, 459 were for money or moveables and 17 were other suits.

The total number of suits for disposal, including those pending from last year, was 587, of which 428 were disposed of.

There were 387 applications for execution of decrees. Of these, 333 were disposed of as follows, excluding transfers :—

Completely executed	53
Partially	52
No execution effected	166
Pending	54

The total income of these courts arising from courts and process fees amounted to Rs. 3,937-9-3 against Rs. 4,648 in the last year.

SECTION VI.

Registration.

Number of offices.

73. The total number of District Registrars' and Sub-Registrars' offices remained the same as in 1893-94, viz., 6 and 57 respectively. The status of one Sub-Registrar's office, viz., that at Dahihanda in the Akola district, was, however, altered, a salaried Sub-Registrar being substituted for one remunerated by commission.

Registration business.

74. Registrations of all kinds fell by 1·4 per cent, from 35,183 in 1893-94 to 34,678 in the year of report, of which 27,230 were compulsory. The following statement compares the statistics for the two years 1893-94 and 1894-95 :—

75. The total number of documents impounded during the year was 100 as compared with 117 in 1893-94. In the case of 57 the action of the officers who impounded them was upheld, and duty and penalty was duly levied, while in 14 cases the collector certified the documents to be duly stamped. Documents impounded.

76. Of the 34,678 documents registered, 31,529 were registered on the day of presentation, 1,535 on the next day, 971 within a week of presentation, and the registration of the remaining 643 was completed after a period exceeding one week. Punctuality in registration.

77. The receipts and expenditure of the department for the years 1893-94 and 1894-95 are compared in the two following statements:— Receipts and expenditure.

Receipts.

Year.	Fees on registrations in Books I, III and IV.				Receipts other than fees on registrations in Books I, III and IV.		Total receipts.

The net surplus of the year amounted to Rs. 38,463, which brings the total accumulated surplus of the department to Rs. 4,46,379.

78. Attention has been given during the year to putting the registers and indexes into convenient shape, by keeping those of each sub-district separate. Registers and indexes.

79. Another matter which has also received attention is the preparation of correct lists of villages in each sub-district. A systematic review and readjustment of the boundaries of each sub-district has been made by the Inspector-General, and detailed lists showing the villages now comprised in each sub-district are being published. Preparation of correct lists of villages comprised in each sub-district.

SECTION VII.

Municipalities.

Number of municipalities and their constitution.

80. The number of municipalities remained the same (viz., 11) during the year 1894-95 as in the previous year, and their committees were constituted as shown below:—

Name of Municipality	Population within municipal limits.	Sanctioned strength.			Remarks.
		Nominated members.	Elected members.	Total number of members.
Amraoti Town ...	28,946	6	18	24	All these municipalities are constituted under the Berar Municipal Law of 1886, but during the year of report the municipalities at Amraoti Camp, Buldana, and Ellichpur Civil Station and the Civil Station Ward of the Basim Municipality continued to be exempted from the operation of the provisions of the Law which require that a certain proportion of members shall be elected. The Yeotmal Municipality was also similarly exempted, but by Residency Orders Notification No. 403, dated 15th November 1894, this exemption was withdrawn with effect from the 1st January 1895.

Of the 170 memberships, 6 were vacant at the end of the year, and the remaining 164 were filled by 52 officials and 112 non-officials. Of the 164 members, 29 were Europeans and 135 Natives.

Income.

81. The following statement shows the income of the municipalities for the two years 1893-94 and 1894-95:—

Name of Municipality.	Income from all sources, 1893-94 (excluding opening balance)	Balance in hand on 1st April 1894.	Income from all sources, 1894-95.	Total of columns 3 and 4.

The decrease in income during 1894-95 amounting to Rs. 1,27,085 is explained by the fact that a sum of Rs. 1,26,000, being the amount of the Provincial loan on account of the Akola water works, was included in the income of 1893-94.

The total income of Rs. 2,56,314 shown in column 4 of the above statement was made up as follows :—

	Rs.
(1) Municipal rates and taxes	96,090
(2) Realizations from pounds	7,034
(3) Revenue derived from municipal property and powers apart from taxation	80,577
(4) Grants and contributions for general purposes	48,276
(5) Miscellaneous	13,814
(6) Extraordinary and debt—loans, &c. ...	10,523

The incidence of taxation per head of population varied from Rs. 1-5-6 in the Buldana Municipality to Rs. 0-2-11 in the Shegaon Municipality.

Expenditure.

82. The total expenditure incurred by the municipalities during the year under report was Rs. 2,59,684, as shown in the following table :—

Name of Municipality.	General Administration and Collection charges.	Public safety.	Public health and convenience.	Public Instruction.	Contributions for general purposes.	Miscellaneous.	Extraordinary and Debt.	Total of columns 2—8.	Expenditure in 1893-94.

SECTION VIII.

Local Boards.

Number of boards.

83. Under section 4 of the Berar Rural Boards Law a district board has been established for each district and a taluk board for each taluk, except the Melghat taluk of the Ellichpur district, which is the only tract outside municipal areas in which that law is not in force. The number of district boards is accordingly six and the number of taluk boards twenty-one.

Area and population of the tract in which the Rural Boards Law is in force.

84. The aggregate area in which the Rural Boards Law is in force is 16,056 square miles, but the small municipal areas already referred to should be deducted from that figure. The population in the area in which the law is in force, i. e., exclusive of municipal areas, is 2,693,533.

Constitution of the boards.

85. The constitution of the various boards remained unaltered during the year 1894-95: each taluk board is composed of 18 members, of whom 12 are elected and 6 nominated; while the district board consists of 6 members elected from amongst the elected members of each taluk board and of a small proportion of members appointed by the Commissioner.

At the close of the year of report members of the taluk boards numbered 378, 251 elected and 127 nominated, 32 being official and 346 non-official and all natives. The several district boards consisted of 155 members, 33 nominated and 122 elected, of whom 23 were official and 132 non-official, 148 being natives and only 7 Europeans and Eurasians.

Elections.

86. For 71 taluk board elective vacancies there were 124 candidates. Of the 22,024 persons entitled to vote during the year, the number who actually voted was only 2,142, or 9·73 per cent. against 13 per cent. in 1893-94.

Income and expenditure.

87. The following statement shows the income and expenditure of the six district boards during the year 1894-95 :—

The average incidence of taxation was only 6 pies per head of population, while the average of incidence of income excluding the opening balance was 4 annas 5 pies.

Rs. 39,749 were expended in sinking 57 new wells and in improving 139 other sources of water-supply; Rs. 48,571 were spent on the improvement of the sites of 239 villages, and Rs. 38,492 on the conservancy of 170 villages, while Rs. 2,035 were spent on sanitary arrangements at fairs.

SECTION IX.

Military.

88. There is only one place in the province, viz., Ellichpur, at which a military force is stationed. During the year 1894-95 the force consisted of a detachment of the Hyderabad Contingent, having a strength of 124 Artillery and 741 Infantry.

SECTION X.

Marine.

89. There is nothing to record under this head.

CHAPTER IV.

PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION.

SECTION I.

Agriculture.

Area of the province.

90. The following comparative statement shows the area of the province and its distribution under various heads for the two years 1893-94 and 1894-95:—

Description of land.	1893-94.	1894-95.

GRAND TOTAL ...	11,350,444	10,299,646	1,051,227	11,350,873	100·	100	100·

The large increase under State-forests is due to afforestation in the Melghat Taluk: outside that taluk the forest area has actually decreased.

Culturable land.

91. Of the total area available for cultivation, excluding the Melghat taluk, 96·7 per cent. was occupied and 3·3 per cent. unoccupied. In the khalsa villages alone the percentages of occupied and unoccupied land were 98·3 and 1·7 respectively, as will be seen from the following statement :—

Area under crops.

92. Of the total land under occupation (viz, 7,771,032 acres), 6,747,313 acres, or 87 per cent., was under crops ; 65·4 per cent. under kharif or rain crops, 21·1 under rabi or winter crops, ·3 under garden and miscellaneous crop, leaving a balance of 7·3 under grass and 5·9 fallow. The following statement shows for the five years 1890-91 to 1894-95 the proportion borne by the area under the principal crops to the total area under crops :—

Name of crops.	Percentage borne by the area under the crops named in column 1 to the total area under crops.

Irrigation.

93. The total area under irrigation decreased from 48,787 acres in 1893-94 to 42,562 acres in 1894-95, of which 41,055 acres, or 96·5 per cent., were irrigated from wells for the cultivation chiefly of vegetables, chillies, or sugar-cane. The area under rice is only 183 acres as against 22,023 acres in 1891-92.

Production and Distribution.

Outturn of crops.

94. Special crop experiments are being made with a view to arriving at more trustworthy information in future years.

Loans to agriculturists.

95. A sum of Rs. 52,000 was allotted under the Land Improvement Loans Act, and a sum of Rs. 18,000 under the Agriculturists Loans Act. Of the amount advanced under the former Act, Rs. 4,140 were for wells, Rs. 8,500 for reclamation of lands, Rs. 13,010 for improvement of wells and fields, Rs. 1,400 for removing stones, &c., and Rs. 700 for raising bunds to nullas, &c.

Agricultural stock.

96. The following table shows the agricultural stock of the province for the two years 1893-94 and 1894-95 :—

Year.	Cows and bullocks.	Buffaloes.	Sheep and goats.	Carts.	Ploughs.
1893-94	1,586,112	277,678	540,006	135,570	149,990
1894-95	1,535,655	285,372	498,097	135,087	153,261

Cattle fairs.

97. The chief cattle fair of the province is held at Wun. At the fair for 1894-95, 10,303 cattle were brought for sale (against 11,825 in the previous year), of which 3,788 found purchasers.

Cattle disease.

98. There was no serious outbreak of any particular disease during the year. Attacks numbered 21,478 against 16,859 in 1893-94; 5,325 were cases of rinderpest, 3,626 of anthrax, 6,675 of foot-and-mouth disease, 705 of pleuro-pneumonia, and 5,147 of other diseases. Of the number attacked, 8,629, or 40·2 per cent., died against 44 per cent. in 1893-94.

Horse breeding.

99. Two pony stallions remained over from last year, and served 12 mares during the year, against 106 in 1893-94, at a cost of Rs. 513-10-6 from provincial revenues. Trustworthy information regarding the produce is not available. The stallions have since been sold.

SECTION II.

Weather and Crops.

Rainfall.

100. The average rainfall of the province during 1894-95 was 41 inches and 7 cents, and was above the average; but, as will be seen from the following table, its distribution by months was not altogether seasonable :—

Months.	1894-95.		Average for the five years preceding 1891-92.
	In.	c.	In.	c.
April and May	0	18	0	87
June	7	54	7	95

September	10	49	4	70
October	4	14	3	88
November to March	2	22	2	46
Total ...	41	7	40	37

The deficiency in August affected every district alike, and coming after the heavy rain at the end of July seriously affected the prospects of the cotton and jowari crops. The heavy rain at the end of October damaged both the kharif harvest and the rabi sowings, the latter especially, in the Buldana district.

101. The average quantity of the chief food-grains sold for a rupee in the year under report and the two years that preceded it is shown below :— Prices of food-grains.

102. The average wage of skilled labour was 12 annas and 3 pies and of unskilled labour 3 annas and 11 pies, the same as in the preceding year. The hire of a cart and a pair of bullocks rose from 14 annas 5 pies in 1893-94 to 15 annas 3 pies; that of a camel from 12 annas 10 pies to 13 annas 4 pies; while the hire of donkeys by the score fell from Rs. 3-11-0 to Rs. 3-7-11, and that of a pair of bullocks from 10 annas 1 pie to 9 annas 11 pies. Wages of labour.

SECTION IV.

Forests.

Staff.

105. The office of Conservator was held by Mr. C. Bagshawe throughout the year under report (i.e., the forest year 1894-95, which ended on the 30th June 1895), save from 27th August to 24th October 1894, when he was absent on privilege leave, and Mr. H. Calthrop, Deputy Conservator of Forests, officiated. The six divisional charges were held either by Deputy, Assistant, or Extra Assistant Conservators, and in one case (viz., the Wun division) from 21st August to 28th October 1894 by a Forest Ranger.

Forest area.

106. The following statement shows the alterations in the forest area of the province:—

Class of Forest.	Area on 1st July 1894.	On 30th June 1895.
		Area in square miles.	Percentage borne by the forest area in the preceding column to the total area of Berar, viz., 17,735 square miles.

4. State-forests of Class D—A temporary class ...	249	...	...
Grand Total ...	4,157	4,179	23·5

The changes are due to the completion of the classification of the forest areas under the Berar Forest Law of 1892, and the net increase of 22 square miles over the preceding year is accounted for as follows:—

	Square miles.
(1) Increase on re-survey or re-calculation of area ...	2
(2) Government land newly constituted as State-forests (42 square miles) minus State-forests disforested for cultivation (22 square miles)	20
Total ...	22

Boundaries.

107. As indicated in previous reports, the demarcation of State-forests of Class A has been carried out by cut lines, serially numbered masonry pillars, and occasionally by field boundary marks. The boundary consists of 1,067 miles of artificial and 182 miles of natural boundary, 10 of which have yet to be cut clear. State-forests of Class B are demarcated throughout by field boundary marks, and in the case of two extensive areas in Amraoti and Karinja by cut lines and masonry pillars, and State-forests of Class C by field boundary marks only. The total expenditure incurred on demarcation amounted to Rs. 2,451—Rs. 881 on new works, Rs. 1,531 on repairs, and Rs. 39 on direction.

Breaches of Forest Law.

108. Cases of breaches of the Forest Law numbered 883 against 841 in 1893-94; of these 40 or 4·5 per cent. remained undetected, 706 or 80 per cent. were compounded, and 137 or 15·5 per cent. were taken before Criminal Courts. The corresponding percentages of the previous year were 7·7, 78·5, and 13·8 respectively.

Fire protection.

109. The area the protection of which was attempted during the year was 1,391 square miles against 1,389 in 1893-94, and only 7 square miles were burnt as compared with 39 square miles in 1893-94, the cost of protection increasing from Rs. 8-9-7 to 9-5-0 per square mile.

Working plans.

110. The progress of working plans is shown in the following table:—

	State-forests.			Sq. miles.
	A.	B.	C.	Total.
Areas for which working plans were completed at the beginning of the year ...	35	2	954	991
Areas for which working plans were completed during the year	731	...	126	857

Area not dealt with	564	54	491	1,109
	1,525	67	2,587	4,179

Two officers were employed on special duty in the Buldana and Amraoti divisions in connection with working plan operations. In Wun the valuation of forests in leased (izara) villages has retarded progress in that division.

Grazing.

111. The actual practice with respect to grazing in the several classes of State forests during the year of report and 1893-94 is shown in the following table:—

	1		2		3		4		5
	Closed to grazing.		Open for grazing for rains only. No browsers.		Open for grazing whole year. No browsers.		Open without restriction.		Total.

The total amount of grazing fees realized amounted to Rs. 2,11,139 as compared with Rs. 1,75,961 in 1893-94.

Forest growth.

112. The A forests are reported to show improvement in every way, especially the results of cutting back teak in Akola, Buldana, and Basim, many of the coppice shoots of 3 years old being 13 to 15 feet high.

The B forests are in a satisfactory condition. In the Borgaon State-forest B (of 1,400 acres) in Akola the plan of grazing down the coarser kinds of grass instead of firing them has been adopted with advantage.

Artificial reproduction.

113. Planting operations on a small scale have taken place in all divisions, and 1,266 acres have been added to the area of plantations at a cost of Rs. 757. On the other hand, 780 acres were written off as insufficiently stocked, so that the planted up area was only raised by 486 acres to a total of 9,131 acres.

Other operations for improvement of forest growth.

114. Rs. 4,117 were spent in the Melghat in clearing 23,299 acres overgrown with lantana scandens and Rs. 366 in making a second cleaning in 400 acres where the growth had been most dense. A further sum of Rs. 1,000 was given from local funds in connection with clearing the station of Chikalda and removing the hedges which originally led to the introduction of the shrub. At the same time operations for the destruction of the plant were taken in hand in all other districts where it had been introduced, especially in Amraoti and Basim, where alone it was prevalent. It is believed that the major part of the first clearing will be completed in 1895.

Communications and buildings.

115. The total expenditure incurred on forest works during the year under report amounted to Rs. 24,922 against Rs. 37,708 spent in 1893-94. Of the total amount spent (Rs. 24,922), Rs. 13,806 were on roads, Rs. 9,934 on buildings, and Rs. 1,182 on wells and miscellaneous works.

Outturn of forest produce.

116. The outturn of forest produce for the years 1893-94 and 1894-95 compares as follows :—

	Quantity.		Value.
	1893-94.	1894-95.	1893-94.	1894-95.

Gross revenue per square mile ...	...	...	115	112
Net revenue per square mile ...	...	...	52	51

The decrease is attributed to increased free exports of timber and fuel by the holders of forest concessions, to the transfer of credit for the sale of trees on land available for cultivation from Forest to Land Revenue, and to reduced demands in the last five months of the year for timber and fuel from reserved trees in State-forests of class C, and short sales from the forests of class C (iii) in the Melghat. This reduced demand was attributed in part to a comparatively poor harvest; the diminished outturn of grass was due to the heavy crop of jowari fodder, that crop having run to stalk and not to ear. The fall in minor produce was anticipated, as the 1893-94 receipts were abnormally high, owing to the heavy hilda (myrabolam) crop.

117. As stated above, the total revenue for the year was Rs. 4,66,014 as compared with Rs. 4,79,475 in 1893-94. The following figures compare the financial results of those two years :— Financial results.

SECTION V.

Mines and Quarries.

118. There is nothing to record under this head.

SECTION VI.

Manufactures.

119. The following is extracted from the Trade Report of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts for 1894-95 :—

The manufactures of the province, as given in the previous reports, are chiefly confined to twist and yarn, coarse cotton cloth, and petty unskilled handicrafts. Silk weaving is carried on at Kholapur in the Amraoti district, where pitambars are prepared; cotton carpets are woven at Akot and Ellichpur; saris, turbans, khadis and blankets are manufactured in several parts of the province; khadis of different textures and colors are woven at Ellichpur and Wun. Nut-crackers are made at Deulghat in the Buldana district.

2. Besides the cotton weaving mill at Badnera, and two oil mills—one at Amraoti and the other at Shegaon, the cotton presses and ginning factories worked by steam power are by far the most important industries in the province. The mill at Badnera produced 927,564 lbs. of twist and yarn, and 930,095 lbs. of cloth, against 1,631,881 lbs. and 914,336 lbs. respectively in the preceding year, showing a decrease under the former of 704,317 lbs. and an increase of 15,759 under the latter. The number of persons employed in the mill during the year under report was 996, against 770 in the previous year.

Oil mills.—The oil mill at Amraoti turned out 103,239 gallons of oil and 881 tons of oil cakes, and the Shegaon oil mill extracted 1,389 candies of oil.

3. There are altogether 31 cotton presses and 60 ginning factories as against 36 and 63 respectively in 1893-94 under the management of private firms and joint stock companies.

SECTION VII.

Trade.

System of registration.

120. The arrangements for registration remained the same during the year of report as in 1893-94; the annual returns of the rail-borne trade were as usual compiled in the office of the Examiner of Guaranteed Railway Accounts, Bombay, and furnished by him.

Rail-borne Trade.

Total trade.

121. The total traffic of the year under report is contrasted with that of the previous year and the average of the preceding five years in the following statement:—

[Figures in thousands of maunds and rupees.]

Description of trade.	Quantity in maunds.			Value in rupees.

Total ...	7,576	7,813	5,893	61,557	68,405	48,463

Production and Distribution.

The volume of trade is 24·6 per cent. below that of last year, and 22·2 per cent. below the average of the past five years. The value has likewise fallen, being 29·2 per cent. below that of 1893-94 and 21·3 per cent. below the average of the past five years. The total trade is made up of 54·3 per cent of imports and 45·7 of exports. The decrease in volume is mainly due to the decrease in exports, which are 28·4 per cent. below the figures of last year and 34 per cent. less than the average; but the imports have also fallen off considerably, by 21 and 8·5 per cent. respectively. Exports have diminished in value by 36·4 per cent; imports by only 11·6 per cent. The fall in exports was entirely due to a decrease under cotton and oil-seeds; that in imports chiefly to diminished trade in grain and pulse, and coal and coke.

External trade.

122. The following table shows the total import and export trade of Berar with the adjoining provinces during the year under report as compared with that of the preceding year and the average of the past five years:—

The trade between Berar and the Central Provinces and Bombay as usual preponderates, amounting to 88·2 per cent. of the imports and 92·7 per cent. of the total exports. The imports from Bombay come to 40·3 per cent. and the exports to Bombay to 80 per cent. of the whole trade, whilst those between Berar and the Central Provinces amount to 47·9 and 12·7 per cent. respectively. There has been a rise, as compared with the figures of last year, in the export trade between Berar and the Central Provinces, and the imports from these provinces are still in excess of those from the Bombay Presidency. The trade between Berar and the North-Western Provinces, Oudh, Rajputana and Central India shows a falling off both in imports and exports; and whilst there has been a decrease in the imports from Bengal, the exports show a tendency to rise.

123. The following statement shows the imports of the province during the year of report as compared with those of the preceding year and of the average of the past five years :— Imports.

Coal and coke.—The decrease under this head is again attributed to diminished consumption in presses and ginning factories consequent on a short cotton crop.

Grain and pulse.—The decrease under this head falls mainly under wheat and jowari, and is due to a diminished demand for imported grain consequent on extended jowari cultivation.

124. The following statement shows the exports of the province :— Exports.

The principal variations are explained below :—

Raw cotton.—The export of raw cotton is 439,000 maunds below that of last year, and further still below the average. The decline is explained as due partly to short crops, but chiefly to the low prices at which the European markets were supplied by the American produce.

Dyes and tans.—The increase under this head is due to a larger export of myrabolams, which were more largely collected this year.

Grain and pulse.—The export trade in grain has revived to the extent of 158,000 maunds, but the figures are far below the average. Jowari shows an increase of 106,000 maunds; wheat has risen by 55,000 maunds only.

Oil-seeds.—The exports of oil-seeds are 746,000 maunds below the figures of last year and 230,000 maunds below the average. The decrease is entirely in linseed (735,300 maunds), and is attributed to the poorness of the crop.

125. Generally then the trade of the year shows a remarkable decrease both in imports and exports, the latter being mainly attributable to the unfavorableness of the season.

Road-borne trade.

System of registration.

126. As stated in paragraph 122 of last year's report, the nakas for the registration of road-borne trade were placed during the year on the western borders of the province towards Khandesh and His Highness the Nizam's territory; they are ten in number, and no change was made in the arrangements for registration. Since the close of the year of report the registration clerks have been moved southwards, and by the 1st April 1896 they will have almost completed a circuit of the province, registering trade at all the most important places.

Imports and Exports.

127. The total imports amounted to 176,820 maunds and the exports to 98,996 maunds. The chief trade was in the articles noted below :—

	Imports. Maunds.	Exports. Mmaunds.
Cotton, raw ...	20,497	6,615
Grain and pulse ...	26,570	45,670
Oil ...	71,061	2,381
Sugar ...	20,810	4,728

By far the largest trade was registered at Deulgaon Raja in the Chikhli taluka of the Buldana district, in a great measure due to the large annual fair held there. Under grain and pulse the largest import was in jowari and bajra, whilst wheat and rice were about equally exported. The trade in sugar is almost confined to unrefined sugar or "gur."

General.

Expenditure.

128. The total expenditure for the registration of the rail and road-borne trade of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the year under report amounted to Rs. 5,480-13-10, as shown below :—

	Rs.	a.	p.

Production and Distribution.

were maintained in good order throughout the year at a cost of Rs. 3,83,198, being at the rate of Rs. 391·11 per mile against a mileage rate of Rs. 355·31 for the previous year. This included an expenditure of Rs. 15,963 for special repairs on the Gugumal Forest road. The road, which is a new one, and almost entirely a hill road, was much damaged during the monsoon of 1894 by heavy landslips caused by the unusual rainfall.

Miscellaneous Public Improvements.

135. The water-supply of the town of Akola was the only work which was in progress at the commencement of the year and remained incomplete at its close. The total expenditure up to the 31st March 1895 was Rs. 4,44,332 against an estimated amount of Rs. 5,74,700.

Establishment.

135 (a) The total outlay on account of establishment was Rs. 2,44,341, or 29·6 per cent. of the actual expenditure on works and repairs under Provincial Services.

Tools and Plant.

136. The total outlay on account of tools and plant during the year amounted to Rs. 32,896.

Local Funds.

137. The grants and outlay of the year from Incorporated Local Funds amounted to Rs. 3,10,187 and Rs. 2,81,324 respectively: those from Excluded Local Funds to Rs. 5,100 and Rs. 4,526.

Contribution works.

138. Secunderabad Water Works.—During the year the puddle trench was completed; about half the amount of earthwork in dam was completed, the dam being raised to an average height of 9 feet; the tunnel and the lower part of the tower were completed; the main was received; and all heavy cuttings for it were made.

The following contribution works and repairs were completed during the year:—

	Estimate. Rs.	Outlay. Rs.
(1) Repairing the road on bund of the tank at Raichur Cantonment	4,165	4,165
(2) Works and repairs costing under Rs. 500 each	3,408	3,111

The following works and repairs remained incomplete at the close of the year:—

	Estimate. Rs.	Outlay. Rs.
(1) Repairing the dâk bungalow at Mominabad...	3,396	2,000
(2) Renewals of cantonment roads at Bolarum ...	17,852	14,790
(3) Secunderabad water-works	8,41,851	4,70,900
(4) Constructing retaining wall to protect the Secunderabad drainage channel from the overflow from the waste weir of the Husain Saugor Tank	14,018	5,233
(5) Preparing projects for the drainage of Secunderabad	1,997	1,672
(6) Constructing a drain in the Abdul Razack Street at Secunderabad	1,603	970

Railways.

139. The receipts and expenditure during the year were:—

	Rs.
A.—Khamgaon State Railway.
Receipts	5,3073
Expenditure...	31,106
B.—Amraoti State Railway.
Receipts	1,02,521
Expenditure...	60,611

The net profits amounted respectively to Rs. 21,967 and Rs. 41,910, being 4·40 and 9·33 per cent. on the capital outlay of Rs. 4,99,123 and Rs. 4,48,986 on these lines of railway.

CHAPTER V.

REVENUE AND FINANCE.

140. The following statement shows the total actual receipts and expenditure of the years 1893-94 and 1894-95. It is upon the figures shown under the head "Provincial" that the assignment of 50 per cent. for expenditure on Civil Administration, Public Works and Railways is calculated :—

Receipts.	Actuals, 1893-94.			Actuals, 1894-95.
	Provincial.	Incorporated Local Funds.	Total.	Provincial.	Incorporated Local Funds.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

19. Add excluded local funds	13,18,744	...	13,18,744	11,07,827	...	11,07,827
20. Grand Total	1,07,57,578	9,40,130	1,16,97,708	1,07,58,244	9,47,215	1,17,05,459
21. Surplus	8,20,567	...	8,20,567	5,43,886	...	5,43,886

Omitting Excluded Local Funds, items 8 and 19, the surplus of the year under review was Rs. 4,69,071 as compared with a surplus of Rs. 7,35,912 of the previous year.

141. The year under review is the sixteenth in which the system has been in force of assigning a certain percentage of the provincial revenues to the Resident for Civil, Public Works and Railway expenditure. The proportion for the first four years was 54 per cent., and thereafter up to 1886-87 52 per cent. This was subsequently reduced to 50 per cent. for a period of five years, commencing from the year 1887-88; but as this percentage was found insufficient, the Government of India on the representation of the Resident increased the assignment of revenue from 50 to 51 per cent. with effect from 1889-90 to 1891-92.—vide Department of Finance and Commerce Resolution No. 4347, dated 26th August 1889. On further consideration, and with reference to the transactions of previous years, the percentage was fixed at 50 per cent. for five years, beginning with the year 1892-93—vide Government of India, Finance Department, No. 4391-A., dated 27th October 1892.

The balance at credit of the Resident under the new contract scheme on the 31st March 1895 was Rs. 2,82,025, as shown below:—

REVENUE AND RECEIPTS.

142. The variations under revenue and receipt heads are explained below:—

A.—Principal Heads of Revenue.

I.—Land Revenue.

Below the estimate ... ... Rs. 63,312
Better than the actuals of 1893-94 ... „ 58,712

Minor heads.	1893-94.	1894-95.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Ordinary revenue	63,55,018	64,13,459	58,441	...
Miscellaneous	18,882	19,659	777	...
Miscellaneous (local)	4,076	3,570	...	506
Total ...	63,77,976	64,36,688	59,218	506

The land revenue collections have not been fully realized to the extent anticipated at the time the budget was prepared: the causes of this can best be explained by the revenue authorities. The increase as compared with the actuals of the previous year is probably due to recoveries of certain arrear revenue.

II.—Opium.

Below the estimate ... ... Rs. 22,600
Do. actuals of 1893-94 ... ... ,, 3,754

Minor heads.	1893-94.	1894-95.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Opium pass fees	1,71,500	1,69,400	...	2,100
Miscellaneous	1,654	...	...	1,654
Total ...	1,73,154	1,69,400	...	3,754

The revenue under this head represents the duty levied by the Opium Agent at Malwa on opium imported to Berar; also the recovery in Berar of certain small sums on account of confiscations and fines. The falling off was due to the quantity of opium imported in 1894-95 being less than that imported in 1893-94.

IV.—Stamps.

Do. actuals of 1893-94 ... ,, 6,684

Minor heads.	1893-94.	1894-95.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Sale of general stamps	3,64,473	3,35,385	...	29,088
Sale of court-fee stamps	5,23,816	5,57,113	33,297	...
Sale of plain paper to be used with court-fee stamps	3,812	4,830	1,018	...
Duty on impressing documents ...	755	1,729	974	...
Fines and penalties	1,878	2,208	330	...
Miscellaneous	56	209	153	...

The increase in both cases is explained by the Commissioner to be due to increase in civil litigation connected with depression of agricultural trade following on inferior seasons.

V.—Excise.

Below the estimate ... ... Rs. 2,76,641
Do. actuals of 1893-94 ... ... ,, 2,08,112

Minor heads.	1893-94.	1894-95.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
License and distillery fees and duties for the sale of liquors and drugs	15,63,102	13,54,927	...	2,08,175
Duty on ganja	241	990	749	...
Fines, confiscations, and miscellaneous.	6,128	5,442	...	686
Total ...	15,69,471	13,61,359	749	2,08,861

LIBRARY OF THE BOMBAY BRANCH OF THE ROYAL ASIATIC S

The decrease in both cases is due to various causes mentioned in paragraph 5 of the Excise Administration Report for 1894-95.

VI.—Provincial Rates.

Do. actuals of 1893-94 ... ... „ 46,720

Minor head.	1893-94.	1894-95.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Rates and cesses on lands (local) ...	5,55,658	6,02,378	46,720	...

The receipts under this head fluctuate with the land revenue demand, which will vary according to the crops cultivated; the variations are apparently due to this reason.

VIII.—Assessed Taxes.

Do. actuals of 1893-94 ... ... „ 3,780

Minor head.	1893-94.	1894-95.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
License tax (local)	83,196	86,976	3,780	...

The increase in both cases calls for no special remark.

IX.—Forest.

Below the estimate ... ... Rs. 26,599
Do. actuals of 1893-94 ... ... „ 9,401

Minor head.	1893-94.	1894-95.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
II. Timber and other produce removed from the forests by consumers or purchasers	4,75,893	4,67,149	...	8,744
III. Drift and waif wood and confiscated forest produce... ...	427	151	...	276
V. Miscellaneous	6,482	6,101	...	381
Total ...	4,82,802	4,73,401	...	9,401

The decrease in both cases chiefly occurs under "II—Timber, &c.," owing to a falling off in the demand for timber and bamboos owing to depression of trade.

X.—Registration.

Below the actuals of 1893-94 ... ... „ 1,707

Minor heads.	1893-94.	1894-95.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Fees for registering documents ...	49,996	49,244	...	752
Fees for copies of registered documents.	31,398	30,925	...	473
Miscellaneous	6,967	6,485	...	482
Total ...	88,361	86,654	...	1,707

The variations call for no special remark.

B.—Interest.

XII.—Interest.

Better than the estimate... ... ... Rs. 2,583
Do. actuals of 1893-94 ... ... „ 2,468

Minor heads.	1893-94.	1894-95.	Increase	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	R.	Rs.
Interest on provincial loans and advances ..	3,619	5,826	2,207	...
Interest on arrears of revenue	2,698	2,859	161	...
Interest on Government securities (local) ...	798	898	100	...
Total ...	7,115	9,583	2,468	...

This is a fluctuating head of account, and the differences call for no special explanation. The figures of the first minor head for 1894-95 include Rs. 604 on account of interest realized for the first time in that year on loan granted to the Aurangabad Cantonment fund for Aurangabad water works.

C.—Post Office, Telegraph and Mint.

XIII.—Post Office.

No remark.

D.—Receipts by Civil Department.

XVI-A.—Law and Justice—Courts of Law.

Below the estimate ... ... Rs. 5,562
Better than the actuals of 1893-94 ... ... „ 5,616

Minor heads.	1893-94.	1894-95.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Sale proceeds of unclaimed and escheated property	10,116	13,181	3,065	...
Court fees realized in cash ..	6,220	4,426	...	1,794

Do do (local)...	1,560	1,330	...	230
Pleadership examination fees ..	520	450	...	70
Miscellaneous fees and fines ...	1,505	1,421	...	84
Miscellaneous	768	281	...	487
Total ...	60,822	66,438	8,281	5,662

The differences in both cases occur chiefly in the item "Magisterial fines" under the minor head "General fees, fines and forfeitures," a fluctuating head of account not subject to regular influences.

XVI-B.—Law and Justice—Jails.

Do actuals of 1893-94 ... „ 4,248

Minor heads.	1893-94.	1894-95.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Jails	5,935	5,051	...	884
Jail manufactures	17,085	22,217	5,132	...
Total ...	23,020	27,268	5,132	884

The increases are chiefly in the cost of clothing supplied by the Akola Central Jail for the Regular and Local Police Force in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts.

XVII.—Police.

Do actuals of 1893-94 ... „ 888

Minor heads.	1893-94.	1894-95.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Police supplied to railways ...	326	745	419	...
Police supplied to public departments, private companies, and persons ...	2,062	3,006	944	...
Fees, fines and forfeitures ...	53,713	99,626	45,913	...
Do do (local) ...	37,355	3,262	...	34,093
Superannuation receipts	1,054	784	...	270
Miscellaneous	14,784	2,747	...	12,037
Do (local) ...	163	175	12	...
Total ...	1,09,457	1,10,345	47,288	46,400

The increase as compared with the estimate is chiefly under cattle pound receipts, and is due to a refund from district funds made in 1894-95 on account of surplus of cattle pound receipts transferred in excess to the district funds in the previous year, and also to increased receipts for fines for cattle impounded.

XIX.—Education.

Below the actuals of 1893-94 ... ... „ 6,429

Minor heads.	1893-94.	1894-95.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Fees, schools, general	20,019	21,667	1,648	...
Do. (local)	44,256	39,692	...	4,564

Do. (local)	9,179	9,453	274	...
Miscellaneous	19,221	15,773	...	3,448
Do. (local)	230	191	...	39
Total ...	95,905	89,476	1,922	8,351

The decrease in 1894-95 as compared with the actuals of 1893-94 is chiefly in the sale proceeds of books and fines credited to the minor head "Miscellaneous," also in fees, schools, general, local: in the latter case, it is owing to the taluka fee fund receipts of the Wun district, which were formerly kept outside the Government accounts, having been credited in the accounts of the year 1893-94.

XX.—Medical.

Below the estimate ... ... Rs. 96
Do actuals of 1893-94 ... ... „ 850

Minor heads.	1893-94.	1894-95.	Increase.	Decrease.

Contributions	1,018	44	...	974
Miscellaneous	282	98	...	184
Total ...	1,754	904	308	1,158

The decrease chiefly occurs under the head "Contributions from private persons," an irregular head not subject to correct estimate.

XXI.—Scientific and other Minor Departments.

Below the estimate ... ... Rs. 1,337
Do. actuals of 1893-94 ... ... „ 1,178

Minor heads	1893-94.	1894-95.	Increase.	Decrease.

Miscellaneous	1,815	962	...	853
Do. (local) ...	123	...	...	123
	5,841	4,663	321	1,499

The variations are due to the fluctuating nature of the transactions appearing under this head of account, and call for no special remarks.

E.—Miscellaneous.

XXII.—Receipts in aid of Superannuation, &c.

Better than the estimate	Rs. 8,609
Below the actuals of 1893-94	„ 40,273

The increase over the estimate is chiefly under the head "Capitalised value of pensions of local fund servants," and is due to realizations of arrears; also to increase in the number of local fund employés retired from the service during 1894-95; the decrease as compared with the actuals of 1893-94 is due to payment of a very large amount in that year from the district funds to the credit of the provincial revenues on account of capitalised value of District Board pensions for service rendered prior to 1893-94.

XXIII.—Stationery and Printing.

Better than the estimate	Rs. 1,259
Below the actuals of 1893-94	„ 1,433

This is a fluctuating head of receipt. The increase over the estimate occurs under "Jail Press receipts," and the decrease as compared with the actuals of the previous year occurs under the heads "Printing work performed for local funds and municipalities" and "Miscellaneous."

XXV.—Miscellaneous.

Better than the estimate	Rs. 1,18,912
Do. actuals of 1893-94... ...	„ 50,219

The increase in both cases is chiefly under the head "Gain by exchange on local transactions," due to the prevalence of favorable rates of exchange during the year.

H.—Railways.

XXVI.—State Railways.

Below the estimate	...Rs. 15,407
Better than the actuals of 1893-94 ...	... „ 2,546

The decrease as compared with the estimate is due to the falling off in traffic beyond expectation, and the increase as compared with the actuals of 1893-94 is due to the improvement in merchandise traffic on both the Khamgaon and Amraoti State Railways.

K.—Buildings and Roads.

XXXII.—Civil Works.

Below the actuals of 1893-94 ...	... „ 904

The increase over the estimate is due to receipts having been underestimated under some of the sub-heads, and the decrease as compared with the actuals of the previous year is due to more contributions having been paid in 1893-94 by the public for works to be carried out by civil officers.

L.—Receipts by Military Department.

XXXIII.—Army—Hyderabad Contingent.

Better than the estimate ... ...Rs. 23,912
Do. actuals of 1893-94 ... ... „ 47,152

The receipts under this head are of a fluctuating character. The increase in both cases is chiefly under the head 10—Ordnance Establishment, Stores, &c., and is due to snider carbines and ammunition of Lancer regiments, Hyderabad Contingent, having been returned to arsenals and their value credited in the accounts.

ADJUSTING HEADS.

Credit Adjustments.

Provincial.

Contributions from Local to Provincial.

Better than the estimate ... ...Rs. 1,370
Below the actuals of 1893-94 ... ... „ 16,830

143. The increase as compared with the estimate is chiefly due to contribution having been paid by the Basim District Board towards the construction of two primary schools at Basim. The decrease as compared with the actuals of the previous year is due to the contribution on account of Akola water works, which was due in 1894-95, having been paid by the District Board of that district in advance during 1893-94 with the sanction of the Local Government.

Local.

Contributions from Provincial to Local.

Below the estimate ... ...Rs. 431
Better than the actuals of 1893-94 ... ... „ 13,647

The principal item under this head is the provincial contribution towards the cost of primary education. The increase in 1894-95 is chiefly due to the increased contribution granted to the Amraoti District Fund on account of the Karinja primary school; also to contribution from cattle pounds receipts to district funds on account of construction and maintenance of pounds granted for the first time from 1894-95.

DISBURSEMENTS.

144. The charges for 1894-95 aggregate Rs. 1,05,97,632 as against Rs. 1,03,78,964 for the previous year, resulting in a net increase of Rs. 2,18,668 as shown in the following statement:—

Under Civil expenditure, the principal increases and the heads under which they occur are as follows :—

Heads of account.	Rs.	Remarks.
3. Land Revenue	...55,544	Due chiefly to (1) increase of establishment sanctioned for the Land Records and Agriculture Department; (2) to purchase of new tents required by the Deputy Commissioners; (3) to larger payments made on account of exchange compensation allowance due to the rate of exchange; (4) to larger payments to district and village officers, apparently on the increased land revenue receipts realized by them; and (5) to ordinary variations in officers on duty in the Commission.
18. General Administration	...41,197	Due chiefly to (1) creation of a new appointment of Personal Assistant to Resident; (2) to the payment of privilege leave allowances; (3) to the increased expenditure under tour charges with reference to the Resident's tour programme; (4) to the inspection of the office of Comptroller, Hyderabad, by the Deputy Auditor-General having taken place in 1894-95, and being longer than usual; and (5) to larger payments of exchange compensation allowance due to the rate of exchange.
19-A. Law and Justice—Courts of Law...	...18,150	Chiefly occurs under salaries and exchange compensation allowance.
20. Police ...	...74,995	Due chiefly to (1) creation of steam-boiler inspection establishment; (2) arrear payment of contributions from cattle pounds receipts to municipalities, the Chickalda sanitarium, and the Melghat taluk; (3) larger payments of exchange compensation allowance; (4) privilege leave allowances of officers; (5) increase in the cost of police clothing; and (6) the refund of cattle pounds receipts transferred in excess to credit of the district funds in the previous year.
24. Medical.	7,637	Due chiefly to the payment of exchange compensation allowance at the increased rate, and to increase in the cost of Europe medicines and instruments. also to promotion of certain medical officers.
30. Stationery and Printing ...	8,842	Chiefly occurs under the head "Stationery supplied from Central Stores" owing to larger supplies made to the Hyderabad Residency Press and to the Superintendent of Jail, Amraoti, for the purpose of the Jail Press there.
38, State Railways	...18,139	Due chiefly to increased payment to the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company owing to the higher rate of percentage paid to the Company during the year than in the previous year.

The difference is chiefly under travelling expenses, musketry instruction class, and exchange compensation allowance.

Grant 1.—Army and Garrison Staff. Increase Rs. 7,729.

During 1894-95 a larger expenditure under travelling expenses and exchange compensation allowance was incurred, Musketry instruction class was also held during that year. There was also an increase in salary of Assistant Adjutant General owing to his promotion to Major.

The increase under this grant is chiefly under exchange compensation allowance to regimental officers and pay of reservists. The amount of exchange compensation allowance paid during 1893-94 was Rs. 48,381 and during 1894-95 Rs. 1,01,441.

Grant 3.—Regimental pay, allowances and charges. Increase Rs. 56,254.

The decrease is chiefly under compensation to natives and for horses of Cavalry, Hyderabad Contingent, and is due to fall in prices.

Grant 4.—Commissariat establishment. Decrease Rs. 44,719.

During 1894-95 a smaller number of remounts and bullocks than during the year 1893-94 was purchased

Grant 5.—Stud and remount establishment. Decrease Rs. 4,436.

During 1894-95 certain Infantry regiments of the Hyderabad Contingent received triennial clothing, hence the increase.

Grant 6.—Clothing. Increase Rs. 3,216.

The saving under this head is due to the abolition of the appointment of Inspector of Schools, Hyderabad Contingent, from 1st June 1894.

Grant 12.—Education. Decrease Rs. 774.

The increase occurs under compensation for losses, camp of exercise, and furlough pay of officers, and is due to payment of compensation for losses of horses of Cavalry, Hyderabad Contingent, and to the payment of proportion of furlough pay of officers formerly in the Hyderabad Contingent and now serving under Government of India debitable to this Administration. An increased expenditure under camp of exercise was also incurred during 1894-95.

Grant 14.—Miscellaneous services. Increase Rs. 7,917.

The increase under this grant is due to the net adjustment of arrears of proportion of retired allowances of certain officers who had served in Hyderabad Contingent.

Grant 17.—Military pensions to Europeans. Increase Rs. 7,426.

Grant 18.—Military pensions to natives. Increase Rs. 10,284.

The excess expenditure is due to the adjustment of arrears of pensions of certain native pensioners paid in other presidencies during previous years, but debited during 1894-95, and also to the net increase to the pension establishment.

Grant 19.—Widows' pensions. Increase Rs. 2,671.

During 1893-94 a certain sum on account of arrears of pension paid by this Administration to certain widows from the (late) Lord Clive's fund was debited to Bombay Presidency under Government of India Military Department No. 3366-F., dated 17th October 1893, hence increase during 1894-95.

CHAPTER VI.

VITAL STATISTICS AND MEDICAL RELIEF.

SECTION I.

Births and Deaths.

151. In accordance with instructions received from the Government of India to the effect that the existing machinery in each province for the collection and collation of vital statistics should receive careful consideration in view of improving the system in force wherever possible, a special Committee composed of the Deputy Commissioners of the Akola and Wun districts and the Sanitary Commissioner was appointed to discuss the subject and report, and it is agreed that with full and careful supervision the system followed in Berar might be made sufficiently effective.

The main features of the existing system are as follows:—

The village officials collect and register the statistics, while the police compile and classify them. It is the duty of the patel, or headman, of every town and village to inform himself regarding the occurrence of births and deaths in the town or village, and to report each occurrence on the day it occurs to the town or village registrar, who is usually the patwari or village accountant. The latter then records these occurrences as reported to him in a register, and every Sunday the entries made in the register during the preceding week are copied on a lithographed sheet called the Sunday memorandum. This the patel is required to sign and to send to the police station to which the village reports. The work of compiling these weekly reports devolves entirely on the police writer, who keeps up a register for the circle, with one or more pages for each village reporting to that circle. Into this register he abstracts the Sunday memoranda as received, entering the figures representing the total number of births and deaths shown in each memorandum. At the close of the month he submits a statement to the District Superintendent of Police showing the totals for each village, and from the several circle returns the District Superintendent of Police compiles a monthly statement, giving the totals for each town and rural circle in the district, and from these district returns, after they have been examined and criticised by the Civil Surgeon, the provincial statement for the month is compiled in the Sanitary Commissioner's office for publication in the Hyderabad Residency Gazette.

The report of the Committee was to the effect that the existing system was complete and effective, and that it could not well be improved on.

Births provincial figures.

152. The total number of live-births registered in 1894 was 94,759, or 17,165 fewer than in the previous year, and 24,802 less than the number of deaths. The birth-rate to population was in the ratio of 33·3 per 1,000, the lowest on record since 1874; the corresponding figure for 1893 being 39·3. The lowness of the birth-rate is attributed in part to the scarcity which prevailed for a series of years, and which led to the emigration across the border of a portion of the labouring population, and in part to the prevalence of fever and influenza in an epidemic form, which is regarded as having exercised a positive check on multiplication.

Births according to districts.

153. The birth-rates in districts ranged from 37·8 in the Buldana district to 24·3 in the Wun district, the rates in Amraoti, Akola, and Ellichpur being over 35, and those in Wun and Basim 24·3 and 27·4 respectively.

Births according to sex.

154. Of the births registered (94,759), 48,625 were those of males and 46,134 those of females, the proportion of the sexes born being 105·3 males to every 100 females.

Still-births.

155. During the year 4,338 infants were registered as still-born against 5,021 in the previous year. Of these, 2,479 were males and 1,859 females, or 133 still male births to every 100 still female births as compared with a ratio of 105 to 100 amongst those born alive. The proportion of still to live births was 4·5 per cent. as compared with 4·2, the mean of the previous five years.

Deaths, provincial figures.

156. The total number of deaths registered in the province during the year under report was 119,561, or 26,610 in excess of that registered in the preceding year. Of this increase 21,522 were returned as from fevers, 2,264 from cholera, and 887 from small-pox. A large number of the deaths registered under fever was doubtlessly due to influenza, which prevailed in an epidemic form, and proved very deadly in the months of March, April, and May. The death-rate was 42 per 1,000 as compared with 32·6 in 1893 and 34·8, the mean of the previous five years.

Death-rate according to districts.

157. According to districts, the death-rate ranged from 44·3 in the Buldana district and 43·9 in the Amraoti district to 38·6 in Akola and 39·8 in Basim, the figures for the remaining two districts, Ellichpur and Wun, being 43·6 and 42·2 respectively.

Deaths according to sex.

158. Of deaths recorded (119,561), 63,369 were those of males and 56,192 those of females. The proportion of male deaths per 1,000 of male population was 43·3 and of female deaths 40·7. In every district more males died than females, the proportion for the province being 112·8 males to every 100 females, while the district ratio ranged from 109·8 in Amraoti to 117·8 in Basim.

Death-rate according to age.

159. The following table exhibits the death-rate per mille according to age during 1892, 1893, and 1894:—

Age.	1892.	1893.	1894.
At all ages	28·8	32·6	42·0
Under 5 years	14·1	15·3	19·3

Deaths according to class.

160. The following table purports to show the number of deaths in each class and their ratios per mille for 1893 and 1894 :—

Class.	1893.			1894.
	Population.	Deaths registered.	Deaths per 1,000 of population.	Deaths registered.	Deaths per 1,000 of population.

Causes of death.

161. The causes of death for the year under report are compared in the statement below with those for 1893 and the mean of the preceding ten years. From this it will be seen that the highest mortality was due to "fevers," 23·6 per 1,000 dying from that cause as compared with 16·0 in the previous year, and 14·9, the mean of the previous ten years :—

Causes of death.	Mean for 10 years.		1893.		1894.

Sale of quinine.

162. The sale of quinine under postal arrangements was introduced in January 1895, and promises to be a success. Of the 410 packets received (each packet containing 102 five-grain powders), 310 were distributed to 155 post offices in Berar as a permanent advance.

SECTION II.

Immigration and Emigration.

163. There are no means available for obtaining accurate statistics relating to immigration and emigration.

SECTION III.

Medical Relief.

Civil Hospitals.

Number of hospitals.

164. The total number of hospitals in the province at the close of 1894 was 8, the same as in 1893, and they are almost entirely supported from provincial revenues. A proposal made for amalgamating the civil hospital with the city dispensary at Akola was allowed to drop for financial reasons.

Vital Statistics and Medical Relief.

Patients treated.

165. The following statement compares the extent to which medical relief was afforded at the civil hospitals during the years 1893 and 1894 :—

Year.	In-door patients.						Out-door patients.		Total of in-door and out-door patients.
	No. treated.	No. cured.	Deaths.	Percentage of deaths to total treated.	No. of beds available.	Average daily attendance.	No. treated.	Average daily attendance.

1894 ...	2,213	1,980	61	2·75	128	71·07	54,028	282·11	56,241

Classification of patients.

166. Of the 56,241 patients treated during they ear, 636 were Europeans, 1,095 Eurasians, 31,899 Hindus, 18,799 Muhammadans, and 3,812 belonged to other classes. Classified according to sex, 32,754 were men, 7,199 women, and 16,288 children.

Diseases treated.

167. Comparative figures of the chief diseases treated during 1893 and 1894 are given below :—

Rheumatism	1,000	1,154

Surgical operations.

168. The total number of surgical operations registered during the year, and exclusive of 5 left over from 1893, was 3,608, of which 267 were major operations and 3,341 minor, against 179 and 3,126 respectively in 1893. Including those 5 cases left over from 1893, the number of major operations performed during 1894 was 272, of which 223 were cured, 19 relieved, 15 discharged otherwise, and 10 died, leaving 5 cases still under treatment at the end of the year.

Income and expenditure.

169. The following table compares the income and expenditure of the civil hospitals during the years 1894 and 1893 :—

170. Rules for the levy of fees for medicines and treatment were introduced into all civil hospitals in November 1894, and in Buldanâ Rs. 16-14-0 were credited to Government under "Sale of medicines." This sum and receipts amounting to Rs. 129-2-0 and Rs. 11-4-0 from subscriptions and the sale of packing cases respectively constituted the only items of income other than from Government. The large decrease of Rs. 5,667-4-10 under the head "On establishment—Medical officers" is due to the exclusion from this year's return of the travelling allowances of Civil Surgeons in the same way as their salaries were excluded last year under the orders of the Government of India.

Charitable Dispensaries.

171. The total number of charitable dispensaries in work during the year was 38, as in 1893. Number of dispensaries.

172. The following statement shows the extent of medical aid afforded at the dispensaries during 1893 and 1894:— Patients treated.

Year.	In-door patients. No. treated.	No. cured.	Deaths.	Percentage of deaths to total treated.	No. of beds available.	Average daily attendance.	Out-door patients. No. treated.	Average daily attendance.	Total of in-door and out-door patients.

1894 ...	2,591	2,123	183	7·1	159	71·64	290,750	2027·54	293,341

173. Of the total number (293,341) treated, 131,527 were males, 43,529 women, and 118,285 children, or, classified according to race, 229 were Europeans, 876 Eurasians, 169,719 Hindus, 111,672 Muhammadans, and 10,845 of other classes. Classification of patients.

* These balances do not appear in the returns for the succeeding years, as they have to be remitted to the Treasury and are absorbed in the Treasury accounts.

Diseases treated.

17.4 Comparative figures showing the principal diseases treated during the years 1894 and 1893 are given in the following table :—

	1894.	1893.
Malarial fevers	73,256	56,478
Eye diseases	35,406	34,247
Skin diseases	25,211	24,465
Worms	20,910	19,839
Ulcers	17,785	17,197
Dyspepsia	9,611	8,691
Ear diseases	8,341	8,348
Diarrhœa	7,504	6,726
Dysentery	5,463	4,577
Rheumatism	5,172	5,379

The exceptionally large number of cases of fever and bowel complaints was due partly to the prevalence of influenza during the early part of the year and partly to general unhealthiness consequent on late and unusual rain towards its close. There was also an increase of 21 in the number of small-pox cases treated and of 693 under cholera.

Surgical operations.

175. The total number of operations performed during the year amounted to 9,996, of which 438 were major (exclusive of 6 cases left over from 1893) and 9,558 minor against 451 and 9,086 respectively in 1893. The decrease in the number of major operations is attributed to more careful classification.

Including the 6 cases left over from 1893, the number of major operations performed was 444, of which 385 were cured, 22 relieved, 14 discharged otherwise, and 16 died, leaving 7 cases under treatment on 31st December 1894.

Rules for the payment of fees for medicine and medical attendance at the dispensaries.

177. In accordance with the ordersof the Resident on the Dispensary Report for 1887, a separate report was received from the local authorities in connection with the question of the gratuitous medical relief of the well-to-do classes at the charitable dispensaries, in which the desirability of requiring this class to pay a moderate fee for treatment and medicines and of restricting gratuitous treatment to the poorer classes only was strongly urged. The principle advocated was approved of, and rules were drawn up and introduced tentatively for one year at the Amraoti City Dispensary in 1890. The rules having worked satisfactorily, they were then tentatively extended to the Akola Dispensary and in 1893 to 16 other dispensaries. As no ill-effects ensued, the permanent application of the rules to all the dispensaries was sanctioned during the year under report. The fees realized amounted to Rs. 1,577-4-0 against Rs. 1,354-0-6 in 1893, and covered nearly 20 per cent. of the total cost of Europe medicines.

Establishment of a female hospital under the auspices of the Lady Dufferin's Fund Committee.

178. Under the auspices of the Lady Dufferin's Fund Committee a hospital was constructed at Amraoti during the year, and equipped at a total cost of Rs. 32,488. The institution was opened by the Resident on the 15th January 1895, and Miss Trewby appointed as Lady Doctor. It is proposed to work this institution in accordance with the provincial dispensary rules under the immediate supervision of the Civil Surgeon of Amraoti, who is to assist the Lady Doctor in her work. Next year's report will contain a record of the work done by this institution.

SECTION IV.

Sanitation.

Expenditure on sanitation by Municipalities.

179 The number of municipalities in the province in 1894 was 11, as in 1893. With the exception of the Akola water-supply scheme, which was nearly completed at a cost up to the close of 1894 of Rs. 4,99,160, no sanitary works of any magnitude were in progress during the year, but the reports received show that attention was paid to the improvement of drainage, water-supply, and conservancy, the sum of Rs. 1,07,879, or 45·2 per cent. of an estimated income of Rs. 2,38,518, having been spent on sanitary works. Of this sum Rs. 65,102 or 27·3 per cent. were spent on conservancy, Rs. 8,005 or 3·4 per cent. on drainage, and Rs. 34,772 or 14·6 per cent. on water-supply. No useful comparison can be instituted with the figures of 1893, for the latter included abnormal expenditure under water-supply.

Expenditure on sanitation by District Boards.

180. The total expenditure incurred by District Local Boards on works of sanitary improvement was Rs. 1,22,592, or 72 per cent of estimated income, against Rs. 93,578 in 1893.

Most important works in connection with water-supply and drainage.

181. The most important works in connection with water-supply and drainage which have been carried out in the province are shown in the following tabular form :—

Sanitary works executed by the Public Works Department.

182. Among the sanitary works undertaken by the Public Works Department during the year under report are the following :—

SECTION V.

Vaccination.

Staff.

183. The number of vaccinators employed throughout the year under report, i.e., 1894-95, was the same as last year, viz. 44, for the protection of a population aggregating 2,897,040 with an average density of 192 to the square mile.

Work done.

184. The following statement compares the work done during the year under report and in 1893-94 :—

Year.	Primary vaccination.			Re-vaccination.			Average number of persons vaccinated by each vaccinator.
	Total.	Successful.	Percentage of success.	Total.	Successful.	Percentage of success.
1893-94 ...	97,786	92,954	95·1	39,366	8,344	21·2	3,117
1894-95 ...	93,296	88,322	94·7	21,343	4,939	23·1	2,605

There was thus a considerable falling off both in the number of primary vaccinations and of re-vaccinations, which must be at least partially attributed to a want of energy on the part of the inspecting staff. The attention of the Commissioner has been invited to the matter.

Of the 88,322 successful primary operations, 63,952 or 72·4 per cent. were on infants under one year of age, 22,227 or 25·2 per cent. on children over one year and under six years, and 2,143 or 2·4 per cent. on persons over six years and adults.

185. The following table demonstrates the influence of vaccination in checking small-pox mortality :— Influence of vaccination in checking small-pox.

—	Average for the five years ending with					1893-94.	1894-95.
	1872-73.	1877-78.	1882-83.	1887-88.	1892-93.

Death-rate per 1,000 from small-pox ...	2·02	1·56	0·58	0·38	0·2	·06	·37

186. The cost of the department was Rs. 17,577-6-7 as compared with Rs. 17,495-7-6 in the previous year, this slight increase being due to expenditure incurred in the manufacture of lanoline-vaccine paste. The entire cost is, as remarked in last year's report, met from Provincial Funds. The pay of the sanctioned establishment for the year amounted to Rs. 16,971-15-0, and the average cost of each successful case was 3 annas against 2 annas and 9 pies in 1893-94. Expenditure.

187. Vaccination was made compulsory in municipalities during the year under report, the Vaccination Act, XIII of 1880, having been extended to municipal areas in Berar. The necessary forms and registers have been supplied and the working of the Act will come under notice in next year's report. Compulsory vaccination in municipalities.

CHAPTER VII.

INSTRUCTION.

SECTION I.

General system of Public Instruction.

188. The general system of public instruction followed in Berar will be found described in paragraphs 197—206 on pages 95 to 98 of the Administration Report for 1892-93.

SECTION II.

Education.

Number of schools and scholars.

189. At the close of the year under report there remained open in the six districts of Berar, containing an area of 17,715 square miles and a population of 1,491,500 males and 1,405,540 females, 2 high schools, 24 middle schools, 1,147 primary schools for boys and 53 for girls, with a total attendance of 49,985 scholars, as well as an industrial school and a training school for masters. The average number of square miles to each school was 15·1, and the percentage of male scholars to male population of a school-going age 20·7, against 13·9 and 22·3 respectively in 1893-94. Expenditure fell during the year from Rs. 4,51,156 in 1893-94 to Rs. 4,32,957, the total number of schools from 1,326 to 1,228, and of scholars from 52,422 to 49,985, the corresponding figures for 1892-93 being Rs. 4,37,545, 1,376, and 53,422 respectively. Of the 1,228 schools, 27 were Government, 629 District Board, and 27 Municipal, as against 27, 610, and 25 last year, and indigenous schools, aided and unaided, 482 and 56 against 603 and 54 respectively in 1893-94. The decrease is again attributed to continued agricultural depression and in a less degree to the unhealthiness of the year. Aided and unaided indigenous schools have decreased by 119 and their attendance by 2,847, following a decrease of 63 schools and 895 scholars in 1893-94. Schools under public management, on the other hand, have increased during the year under report by 21 and their attendance by 354. The decrease was least in the Ellichpur district, where the loss of three schools is more than counter-balanced by a gain of 167 pupils. In the districts of Wun and Basim the state of education continues backward.

The following table shows the different classes of schools and the pupils in them at the close of the years 1893-94 and 1894-95 :—

University education.

191. Four of the 7 students holding Berar scholarships and 18 ex-students of Berar high schools passed various college examinations; but of these only 2 were natives of Berar.

Secondary education.

192. The 2 high schools and 24 middle schools continue to hold their own in spite of adverse seasons. At the Akola high school the number of pupils on the rolls was 158 and at Amraoti it was 286, the average attendance being 133 and 241 and the total cost Rs. 11,701 and Rs. 11,882 respectively. To this expenditure provincial revenues contributed Rs. 16,784, and the balance Rs. 6,788 was covered by school fees, the total cost per pupil working out to Rs. 74-0-10 and Rs. 41-8-8 respectively, of which the cost to provincial revenues was Rs. 59-11-6 and Rs. 25-11-7. In 1893-94 the expenditure was greater by Rs. 5,982, and the total cost per pupil Rs. 84-13-9 and Rs. 45-8-10 respectively. In the 24 middle schools the average attendance was 3,085, and the total expenditure Rs. 53,902, of which Rs. 41,577 were met by provincial revenues, Rs. 12,428 from fees, and Rs. 2,897 from municipal funds and subscriptions, the total cost per pupil being Rs. 14-6-4, of which the cost to provincial revenues was Rs. 10-5-9. In 1893-94 the total expenditure on middle schools was Rs. 62,765, and the total cost and the cost to provincial revenues of each pupil Rs. 14-14-11 and Rs. 10-15-6 respectively. Only 21 boys passed the Matriculation examination, and that low down on the list.

Primary public schools for boys under public management.

193. Primary schools for boys under public management have increased from 589 to 609, and the number of scholars on the rolls from 32,150 to 32,464. The average daily attendance, however, has fallen from 22,972 to 22,091, schools under the Amraoti District Board and in the Ellichpur Municipality alone showing any increase. The number of pupils examined increased from 19,489 to 22,212, but the number passed fell from 13,314 to 11,333, and the percentage of passes from 68·3 to 51. Expenditure in primary schools generally has fallen from Rs. 2,01,850 to Rs. 2,01,023, but the total cost per pupil has risen from Rs. 6-5-4 to Rs. 6-6-0, and the cost to provincial revenues from Rs. 2-8-6 to Rs. 2-9-7.

Further statistics relating to primary schools for boys under public management for the years 1893-94 and 1894-95 are given in the following table :—

Education of Europeans and Eurasians.

195. The Catholic School at Amraoti is the only school in the province for Europeans and Eurasians. On the 31st March 1895 it had on its rolls 22 boys and 33 girls against 15 boys and 33 girls at the close of the previous year. The average daily attendance was 44. The school was examined by the Educational Inspector in April 1895, when the highest standard taught to the girls was the sixth and to the boys the fourth. Out of the 15 boys examined 10 passed, and out of 23 girls examined 17 passed.

Education of Muhammadans.

196. The following table furnishes statistics of the Government, District Board, and Municipal Hindustani schools :—

Total No. of schools on 31st March.						Total No. of scholars on 31st March.						Total No. of pupils examined and passed under standards I to VIII.
1894.			1895.			1894.			1895.
Boys.	Girls.	Total.	Boys.	Girls.	Total.	Boys.	Girls.	Total.	Boys.	Girls.	Total.	Examined.	Passed.

											Total for 1893-94.	1,943	1,402

In the above table Muhammadan boys attending other than Hindustani or Anglo-Hindustani schools have not been included. If 48 Muhammadan boys attending the high schools, 22 attending the Training College, and 2,022 studying in the Marathi and Anglo-Marathi schools be added, and 200 non-Muhammadans in Hindustani schools be deducted, the total number of Muhammadan pupils in all classes of schools under public management at the close of 1894-95 will be 6,297 against 6,189 at the close of the previous year. The number of Muhammadan pupils in schools under private management on 31st March 1895 was 538 against 877 on the corresponding date in 1894. Thus the total number of Muhammadan pupils under instruction at the close of the year was 6,835 against 7,066 on the last day of 1893-94.

Education of aborigines.

197. There is only one school, viz., that at Chikalda, for the aboriginal races. On the 31st March 1895, the number of aboriginal pupils in the province was 123 against 119 at the close of the previous year. During the year under report 41 pupils were examined, of whom 21 passed against 38 and 23 respectively in 1893-94. Nine boys have passed in the first standard, 9 in the second, 1 in the fourth, and 2 in the fifth.

Education of low-castes.

198. The number of low-caste pupils in schools under public management has fallen from 1,798 in 1893-94 to 1,667 in the year of report, and in schools under private management from 647 to 265, the total decrease being 513. The number of pupils examined in standards I to VII was 597, of whom 318 passed, the corresponding figures for 1893-94 being 538 and 312 respectively.

Female education.

199. As will be seen from the opening paragraph of this section, the number of girls' schools, public and private, on the 31st March 1895 was 53 against 52 at the close of the previous year, and the number of girl scholars attending them 2,973 against 2,264 in 1893-94. Of these 1,042 were studying in various institutions for boys. The number of girls' schools under public management has increased from 46 to 47, and the number of girl scholars from 1,773 to 1,809. The expenditure has at the same time risen from Rs. 10,754 to Rs. 12,100, and the cost per pupil from Rs. 6-4-4 to Rs. 6-15-9. 548 girls passed examinations in standards I to VI.

Classification of pupils by race or creed.

Physical education.

201. The number of gymnasia at the close of the year of report was 505 against 487 in 1893-94.

Institution for training teachers.

202. The number of students in the Akola Training College was 72 against 77 in 1893-94, 56 were on the Marathi and 16 on the Hindustani side, besides 5 pupil-teachers attached to the Anglo-Vernacular or Vernacular schools. Of the total number of pupils (77), 27 passed the first year's course and 10 passed the certificate examination. The number of passed students who obtained employment during the year was 29 against 24 in 1893-94.

Drawing.

203. The two high schools at Akola and Amraoti and the Training College at Akola sent up 86 candidates for the 1st grade examination of the Bombay School of Art, of whom 18 obtained certificates as compared with 9 in 1893-94. In addition to the above, one boy from the Akola High School passed in the 2nd grade Art Examination in Model, Perspective, and Geometry, and another in Drawing and Geometry.

Industrial training.

204. There is only one industrial school in the province, viz., the one at Akola belonging to the American Mission. Eleven pupils, 7 Christians and 4 Muhammadans, were taught the trade of black-smiths and carpenters.

It is reported that a class has been attached to a Pressing and Ginning Factory at Akola where practical engineering is taught. Particulars regarding this class are not available.

Instruction of candidates for patwariship in land measuring.

205. On the 31st March 1895, 142 candidates for patwariship were under instruction in land measuring, and 18 passed the test.

School fees and popular contributions.

206. The total amount of fees collected in all classes of Government schools and in Local Board primary schools was Rs. 58,141 as compared with Rs. 58,193 in 1893-94. Of this Rs. 7,419 were realized in high, Rs. 14,248 in middle, and Rs. 36,474 in primary schools. Popular contributions amounted to Rs. 9,133 against Rs. 9,632 in 1893-94.

Expenditure.

207. The total expenditure on education in the province during the year of report amounted to Rs. 4,32,957 as compared with Rs. 4,51,155 in 1893-94. The following statement furnishes details of this expenditure:—

Excluding the cost of direction (Rs. 20,452) and inspection (Rs. 34,534) and sundry miscellaneous charges, the expenditure on high schools amounted to Rs. 23,583, on middle schools to Rs. 56,902, and on primary schools for boys and girls to Rs. 2,13,124, while Rs. 16,717 were spent on grants-in-aid and Rs. 38,128 on new buildings.

SECTION III.

Literature and the Press.

Work done by Text Book Committee.

208. At the beginning of the year the Text Book Committee had 11 books on hand for review, and 4 books were sent to the Secretary during the year.

He reported on 6 books, the rest being still under consideration of the members of the Committee.

Book depôts.

209. There has been no change in the number of book depôts during the year under report, the number consisting of one central depôt at Akola and 29 branch book depôts attached to Government or Local Board schools in towns and villages in all the districts. The stock account of the depôt for 1894-95 is shown below :—

Literature.

210. The number of books registered under Act XXV of 1867 during the year of report was 19 against 20 in 1893-94. Eight of these were issues of the Berar School Paper and seven were the issues of Dnyán Sangraha, a monthly literary magazine. The other publications which were registered during the year were Bhayankar Suda (Adaptation of Edward Young's Revenge), Life and Teachings of Gautama Buddha, and Bal Niti, Parts I and II. The Berar School Paper was printed at the Akola Shuddha Varhadi Press, and Dnyán Sangraha, Bhayankar Suda, and Life and Teachings of Gautama Buddha at the Amraoti Pramod Sindhu Press. Part I of Bal Niti was printed in the Shri Samarth Press, and the second part in the Vyapari Press at Poona. The last four books have been registered for copyright.

Public libraries.

211. Four libraries or reading rooms were opened and four closed during the year, the number open on the 31st March 1895 being 39.

Printing presses.

212. The number of printing presses remained the same (viz., 10) during the year as in 1893-94—5 in the Akola district, 3 in the Amraoti district, and 2 in the Ellichpur district.

"Berar Vaktrutwotejak Sabha," Amraoti.	The object of the institution has been to encourage and foster the habit of delivering public lectures on popular and current literary and scientific subjects, and thereby to revive and to improve upon the rather neglected or forgotten art of speech among the native societies.	Not stated ...	Not stated ...	1	1874 ...	This sabha or society has been established in connection with the Amraoti City Library, and is considered a part of the institution. The balances, if any, after deducting the expenses, are carried to the library's account. But when the expenses exceed the income, they are paid from the library fund.
"Suhrit Samaja" ...	At Amraoti there is an association of young men called "Suhrit Samaja" or assembly of friends. This has been founded with the object of effecting mutual educational improvement. The members subscribe to some newspapers, and meet every morning or evening for reading. Essays on various topics are frequently read and discussed, and sometimes lectures are delivered at their meetings at the old house formerly occupied by the Native General Library in the town. The Suhrit Samaja was established on the 1st March 1891.	do ...	do ...	...	1891.
Do. ...	The ex-students of the Berar High Schools meet at Akola and Amraoti in alternate years during the Holi holidays. At this gathering lectures on literary and social subjects are delivered by some old students of the high schools.	do ...	do ...	...	...
"Jalsai-Imdad-i-tahsil-i-Ulum-i-Mussulmani Berar."	At Akola there is a Muhammadan association called "Jalsai-Imdad-i-tahsil-i-Ulum-i-Mussalmani Berar" which has been established in order to encourage English education among Muhammadans. They annually give four scholarships of Rs. 4 each, tenable by Muhammadan pupils in the Amraoti High School and in the Anglo-Urdu schools at Akola and Amraoti.	do ...	do ...	...	...
